Price, McCormick & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, April 5.—Price, McCormick & Co. have to-day issued the following circular:

The cotton market closed artificially weak today, a group of bears making a vigorous attack upon it within the last ten minutes. They were unopposed by the bull leaders, who prefer to encourage the creation of a short interest when it can be done at lower prices.

Cables from Liverpool advise us that the market is not likely to decline there as long as the statistical position continues to develop strength as at present. The present indications are that the visible supply of American cotton at the end of the season will be smaller than at any time in the past eighteen years; in fact, smaller even than in 1890, when cotton sold at 13c in New York. Since 1890 the world's consumption of cotton has increased nearly 50 per cent.

LONDON MARKET HEAVY UNDER PROFIT-TAKING.

PENNSYLVANIA STRONG IN NEW YORK.

Keene Was Credited With the Greater Part of the Buying—Squeeze in Sugar.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, April 5.—The London market was heavy and inclined to sell off, and a good deal of profit-taking took place in American stocks. Consols held well, and all indications pointed to easy money, but apparently the snap had gone out of the market. No fresh news was recorded on the South African or European situation.

In the local market the strength of Pennsylvania was again conspicuous. Mr. Keene was credited with the greater part of the buying, and the selling was, in all probability, on behalf of inside interests, to pay for the recent purchase in Norfolk. London transactions throughout the list were small, and foreign houses sold stocks on balance. B. & O. common, after showing strength in the morning, eased off, but on any attempt to force the market down the Speyer interests seemed willing to take stock. It is known that the Pennsylvania and New York Central interests represented on the board are strongly opposed to the payment of any dividend at present, and without some sort of pledge of this kind it is hard to see how the bull pool will be able to keep the price of the stock up long enough to unload. Perhaps the most disappointing feature of the market is the decrease in public interest in stock movements, and it looks as if the large bull interests were keeping prices up to revive it. People's Gas was strong on a reported settlement of the Ogden gas difficulty, unconfirmed.

The shorts experienced a little squeeze in Sugar, but after the buying from this source was over the stock eased off again. Tractions held fairly well, with a very limited business. The close was weak on traders' selling, and, in the absence of outside support, they found no difficulty in punching holes in the market. The decline was helped by the selling of weak bull pools in Pacific stocks, and the catching of stop orders. One or two stocks held well, notably Sugar and Rubber common. The latter company declared the regular 1 per cent dividend.

Northern Pacific common was conspicuously strong all day, and has now reached the highest figure since the reorganization. It is very confidently expected that the management will put the stock on a 4 per cent basis, and the Morgan people are very bullish. The prospects of the road are satisfactory, as there is a large rush of immigrants into the Northwest, and the growth of industries along the line is quite a feature. Although it would be too much to say that the attempted assassination of the Prince of Wales had a direct influence upon the market, indirectly it had some effect. It was taken in London as an evidence of the extremely anti-British feeling existing on the Continent, and will make the British attitude in the South African dispute more uncompromising than ever. Except for a check in the bullish attitude of the public in London, the effect was not great, but foreign bourses were distinctly dull.

It is early to talk of the presidential election, but the street is already beginning to, and the candidacy of Admiral Dewey is a distinctly disturbing feature. Whatever flag the Admiral sails under, he will take a good many votes which would otherwise go to McKinley.

New York Market Gossip.

The following synopsis of the gossip in regard to the leading features of the New York markets was received by D. R. Francis, Bro. & Co. yesterday:

London cables reported the market on the other side as irregular, with several stocks below parity with quotations here. These stocks were sold heavily by arbitrage brokers, the largest selling in Northern Pacific common and Pennsylvania. The purchases of other stocks were of only small amounts, and the sales in all exceeded the purchases by about 20,000 shares.

The trading in the Trans-Mississippi and Coal stocks was the special feature of the market during the day. F. W. Savin & Co. were again heavy buyers of Pennsylvania, and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. were the largest sellers. The buying was accompanied by positive statement in the Stock Exchange that dividend rate would be increased at next meeting and that stock privilege would also be offered by the company. The advance in both Reading firsts and B. & O. common were apparently for the same interests that were active in Pennsylvania. Halle & Stieglitz took a block of Reading firsts preferred, and tra
