ZINC AND LEAD REPORT.

Advance in Metal Market Stiffened Zinc Ore Prices.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Joplin, Mo., April 8.—An unlooked for advance in the metal market stiffened the price of zinc ore during the past week. There were few advances, but the increase of demand for ore presages a firmer market and probably higher prices. The purchases during the past week of 6,296 tons of zinc ore was 1,396 above the average of the weekly sales of the first three months of this year and for the two past weeks the sales have exceeded the average 2,540 tons.

It is possible that the coal famine in Europe, reported as seriously crippling the manufacture of zinc products, has brought about the change in metal conditions in this country and may cause a resulting benefit to ore producers. It is certain that there is something affecting the market from the fact that heavy purchases were made the latter part of the week for this week's delivery. Not only are all the large lots of top grade ore sold, but a big hole was made last week in secondgrade and in several instances large quantities of silicate were picked up. With a big per cent of this week's product of the best grades already contracted for there is evidence of a scramble for top ore.

The Lanyon Zinc Company, the Edgar Zinc Company and the Matthiessen & Hegeler Zinc Company, the three largest smelting concerns in America, are the heaviest buyers and their agents are taking about everything in sight.

Zinc ore was higher than the preceding week, $23 being paid for only one lot, with the general top price at $20.

Lead ore brought $24 a ton all week.

Compared with the corresponding week of last year the sales are 619 tons of zinc and twenty-two tons of lead greater, but owing to zinc ore commanding as high as $16 a ton then the value is $34,541 less.

Following are the sales from tracts of land owned or controlled by companies named for the week ending April 7, 1900:
