METROPOLITAN CANDIDATES.

Fine Field for the Opening of the Eastern Season.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, May 4.—What may properly be termed the legitimate racing season of the East will begin to-morrow at Morris Park, and the Metropolitan Handicap, the first classic event of the year, is down for decision. Should the weather prove propitious, all records will doubtless be eclipsed for an opening day. The racing public is simply hungry for the "sport of Kings" in its true garb, and from every conservative standpoint the promise of the opening of the most brilliant racing season America has ever enjoyed is at hand.

"Are before beauty" will be the order of review of the twelve probable starters in the Metropolitan. Imp, the grand old black mare, with the staggering impost of 127 pounds in the saddle, has been doing her turns with her weight up in fast time, and, though none too leniently treated by the handicapper, with a dry track she should have a look in. When her winning of the Suburban and Brighton handicaps of last season in record time is recalled, the public will be more than pleased if the country's greatest mare again leads her field. Clawson will pilot her in to-morrow's struggle for supremacy.

Ethelbert, Mr. Perry Belmont's winner of last season's Realization, with Danny Maher up, is considered very dangerous. Joyner, and will go to the post with a host of friends. His load of 126 pounds is a sufficient steadier to throw doubt about the chances of the mighty son of Eolien, but so much class does the 4-year-old possess that many of the shrewd division of horsemen argue that the will, for the second time, move as a factor in the event.

Voter, without having a great penchant for a distance of ground, has such a world of speed that, under Spencer's master handling he should have an outside chance to finish in the money. He won the Metropolitan as a 3-year-old.

Box, with O'Connor in the saddle, if not kept at the post too long, and with fair sailing, can always be figured a factor in any race in which he takes part. This horse's ugly disposition in a large measure offsets his class.

Raffaello, with Jenkins up, has unquestionably shown his trainer, J. W. Rogers, something in private, or he would not be sent for such a trying affair. King Barleycorn, with Keenan up, may have a look in if the track is heavy. Half Time, with the hustling Mitchell as pilot, is backed by the Dwyer following. Kilmarnock, W. C. Whitney's recent $2,000 purchase, with Odom up, looks to have a royal chance if fast work goes for anything. Waring in his race at Aqueduct reeled off the first mile in 1:39 4-5, and with Turner up and fourteen pounds less weight in the saddle, figures to be in the first flight at the finish. The talent will not believe anything to the contrary until the numbers are flung up.

Survivor, with Henry up, is an unknown quantity, his Western record alone warranting his ambitious venture. Idrim, "Gene" Leigh's candidate, has shown great form in his recent work, and no more effort was made to secure Bullman for the occasion, his owner evidently thinks his chances second to none.

Contester, with Hamilton as pilot, is from the Walden stable, and as this trainer's horses are always ready in the early spring events, the colt deserves more than a passing notice. The fact of Mr. Walden having won the stake with Bowling Brook, Filigrane, both 3-year-olds, the last two seasons will insure Contestor a certain following.

C. C. MAFFITT'S HORSES.

Famous Racing Establishment to Be Sold To-Day.

The entire racing establishment of the late C. C. Maffitt will be disposed of under the hammer at the Fair Grounds this morning, commencing at 11 o'clock. The racing stable includes Sir Rolla, Gibraltar, Fireside and other meritorious performers.

It was reported last night that Sir Rolla would be offered at Brooks's sale, but the rumor could not be verified.

As is well known, Sir Rolla was named in honor of Mr. Rolla Wells of the American Steel and Foundry Company, who was a very close friend of C. C. Maffitt. Sir Rolla is said to have been presented to his namesake, who will retire the animal from the turf.

The race for the May Plate was won by the Minera colt, ridden by "Sheets" Martin; Pierre Lorillard's Lous, with L. Reiff up, and the Dolly Foolos colt were second and third respectively. Sloan won with Sandbag in a 2-year-old selling plate. Richard Croker's Immaha, ridden by L. Reiff, was second and None Like It finished third.

Vain Duchess, ridden by Martin, led to the "bushes," where Winifreda drew in front and beat out Inquisitive, with Sloan up, by three-quarters of a length. Two lengths separated the second and third horses.

The betting was 11 to 2 against Winifreda, 100 to 7 against Inquisitive, and 4 to 1 against Vain Duchess.

STARTER HANDED SINFI A STAKE.

SCHORR'S ENTRY WAS SECOND.

J. C. Cahn's Kentucky Oaks Candidate, Barrica, Finished Unplaced to an Ordinary Lot—Roland Riding Winners.

The start was a ragged one, and Sinfi, getting much the best of it, led all the way and won handily by two lengths in the fast time of 48 seconds. Menace, the favorite, was as good as left at the post, but closed a big gap and finished fourth.
