WHY WE MAKE SO MANY CURES

By the Great Electro-Medical Specialist,

B. F. TOLSON, M. D., Ph. G., LL. D.,
Of the State Electro-Medical Institute.

"On the eve of certain special diseases there can be no comparison between the success of the ordinary medical specialist and that of the Electro-Medical Specialists of this Institute, who are the only Electro-Medical Specialists in this city. Many other Electro-Medical Specialists use the powerful curative forces of both medical and electrical treatment, while the medical specialist uses only the first or medical part. It is a well-known fact that the medical specialist cures only a certain per cent of cases, while the electrical specialist also cures some cases treated by the medical specialist. The specialists of this Institute have scientifically and successfully combined the curative factors of both the medical and electrical treatment, by means of which they can cure promptly and thoroughly diseases that cannot be even benefited by the medical specialist or electrical treatment used separately.

"Many thousands bear witness to the truthfulness of the above plausible statement, who had tried the medical specialists without success. It is the favorite century treatment. There are two fundamental systems that make up the human body, namely: the nervous system and the muscular system, each of which is susceptible to various diseases. Diseases of the muscular system are best benefited by medical treatment, while diseases of the nervous system are most benefited by electrical treatment.

"There are very few diseases of the nervous system which are not sooner or later complicated with disease of the muscular system, and vice versa. In such cases a cure cannot be effected without the combined electro-medical treatment."

THE 20TH CENTURY TREATMENT

Has saved thousands of men and women from a life of despair, misery and woe to which they were fast drifting through neglect or failure of all other treatments to cure.

unto others as others do to you" has superseded the old rendition of the motto."

John Sumpter, an authority on scoring and baseball, a man who knows the game, says that when a batter fails to assist a base runner by hitting with him, said batter should not be given a hit should he make one after refusing to hit with the runner. Mr. Sumpter is a gentleman noted for keen baseball insight and a profound common sense and his suggestion is an excellent one. It would cure a lot of sickness if put into practice.

"There's a cut in that ball, ball-head," said Warner to Swartwood.

"Where is it?" asked Swartwood.

"There it is," said Warner, indicating a spot.

"That's no cut," cried Swartwood.

"Yes it is," remarked Gleason, "I saw Burkett bite it there."

Jesse had a fit right there. He was not in joking humor, anyhow.

Buck Ewing was asked why he did not get Lave Cross:

"Mr. Robison sold him to Brooklyn," said Ewing. "That is all there is to it. I would like to have him, but could not get him."

Manager Tebeau put Dillard in right field yesterday, vice Donovan. The latter player has not been hitting very well and Mr. Tebeau calculates that a Cincinnati rest will do his eye good. Dillard met one hard well yesterday, though he got but one hit. Considering that he was up against a left-handed pitcher he did very well. Dillard made a fine try for a short fly from Van Haltren's bat, for which he was given an undeserved error.

Mike Donlin thought he had a "roor" coming on being given an error on his bungle of Shockenon's fly on Tuesday. As Michael should have outpointed his ball team, pitched his test, set the table and eaten the fly up with a fish fork, instead of missing it, the kick looks bogus at a distance. While it is no cinch that Reidrich, Griffin, Cart, Welch and Hoy like Mike would have done any better than Mike, it is certain that it would have been an error just the same had they missed out. Donlin is about the best hitter in the league, a coming bidder, better than them all, but he has his faults. Then he makes a bad break kicking at the official scorer, for that autocrat is liable to quit shooting his hits. Talking back to the official scorer is worse than holding conversation with a newspaper man.

Owing to the potentiality of the counter attractions across the street, the races at the Fair Grounds, there will be no game today.

Jack O'Connor was out yesterday and warmed up some pitchers. Johnnie is needed in the game.

Robinson won yesterday's game for St. Louis with his hit-and-run play. He and Quinn used to play that game in Baltimore three years ago and have not forgotten it.

Beaneaters Keep Up Their Losing Streak in Quarrelists' Town.

Chicago, May 16.—Boston and Chicago met for the first time this season today, the locals winning by a shade the better play. Most of the late and runs came after back rain in the last half of the fifth, which rendered the ball and field very slippery. Attendance, 300. Score:

LATHAM IN TROUBLE.

Pittsburg and Philadelphia Players Did Not Like His Umpiring.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 16.—Arlie Latham, the famous old St. Louis third baseman and general all-round League clown, to-day umpired his first game in Pittsburg.

He almost had his clothes torn off. Latham was appointed yesterday. To-night he says he is sorry he spoke. It is rumored to-night that he has resigned. The game of to-day with Philadelphia developed better feeling between the two Pennsylvania teams, and, while Philadelphia was never dangerous, each player on both teams took at least one fall out of Latham, who early in the game developed what seemed a case of blind staggers. Both sides suffered frightfully from the decisions. The old St. Louis king made trouble early by refusing to umpire from behind the bat. This almost caused a riot in the fourth when he called Ely's double along the left line foul. In the trouble following this decision Wagner was fined. Later Latham called a strike on Thomas of Philadelphia when the ball shot foul fifty feet over the grand stand. Thomas had apparently swung on the ball, but Latham said that he had tried to bunt. Park policemen here moved out to break up the bench of Quakers who insisted on getting at Latham.

Dick Cooley, the old St. Louis left-fielder, was robbed of a second triple by one of the most sensational catches ever perpetrated in Pittsburg. In the third he hit on a line to deep right center. Flick, running like the wind, got the ball on the tips of his left hand and held it.

No visiting player ever received a greater ovation than did Flick for this catch, and in the following inning he made a similar right-hand catch of Phillips's drive to the fence.

PITTSBURG 8, PHILADELPHIA 3.

Quakers Met Their First Setback in the West.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 16.—Philadelphia's winning streak was checked today by Pittsburg batting out a victory. Flick's sensational fielding and fast work by the visitors' infield saved Donohue a severe drubbing. Attendance 4,500. Score:

GRIESEDIECK WINS THE LEMP MEDAL.

Local Crack Carried Off the Prize on the Shoot-Off From a Good Field.

GREAT WORK OF DANIELS.

The Republic Trophy, the Feature of the Tournament, to Be Contested for To-Morrow—To-Day's Events.

The principal event on yesterday's card at Dupont Park was the shooting off of the ties in the Lemp medal contest, which was shot Tuesday. Seven contestants tied in the match on Tuesday, namely, Creig, Sperry, Allen, Daniels, Powers, Griesedieck and Linkmann. Allen withdrew and the race between the remaining contestants was intensely interesting and resulted in a victory for Griesedieck. The shooting of all the contestants was remarkably good, Daniels giving a splendid exhibition of marksmanship.

Besides the big event there were six target contests on the card. All were at fifteen targets, $150 extreme fee, with $25 added, and the conditions proved attractive to the best class of marksmen on the ground. Every event filled well and the contests were in the main close and exciting. Owing to the system of traps in use at the park, there was no delay in the shooting, the men being divided into squads of five and the targets being thrown from the mechanetraps in rapid succession. Each man shot in turn and moved up one place at the fifth shot, thus giving no contestant any advantage in position. Two mechanetraps were in use, enabling ten contestants to two squads of five to fire practically continuously, and there was, in consequence, no lack of interest for the spectators. The traps are under the control of Louis Erhardt of Atchison, Kas.

A special duty of one of the officials is to keep the various contestants posted when their turn comes to shoot and this duty was performed by Charles Noel. The rain of yesterday had no effect on the target contests or on the audience, as the shooters stood under the shelter of curved stands erected for the purpose near the traps, while the clubhouse and tents furnished ample protection for the spectators. The arrangements are as complete as have been seen at any journey in this country.

The same outfit of shooters contested in many of the events, and the meetings of the various marksmen for the second and third time caused much interest, the result of the previous shoot being often reversed in the second meeting. One of the most consistent shots on the grounds is Daniels, who has also one of the most graceful poses while standing at the traps. His record yesterday was good throughout. J. A. R. Elliott attracts more attention than any other shooter while at his place, and his work is generally uniform. Parmalee of Omaha is a picturesque shooter at the traps, his habit of throwing both the left shoulder attracting a good deal of attention. In contrast to his large figure are Jap and Holmes, both being men of small stature, and marksmen of great ability. Holmes is one of the best shots at targets on the grounds.

The score in the shoot-off of the Lemp medal was as follows:

A sweepstakes at live birds was shot off, with twenty-nine marksmen participating. Ten birds were shot at, and at the end of the contest, there were sixteen with clean scores. The result in detail follows:

Linkmann 2 2 2 2 2
Allen 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
Sperry 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1
