KITTLEMAN'S MYTH BEAT LORD NEVILLE.

Exciting Finish Between the Pair in the Fourth Race at the Fair Grounds.

HORSESHOE TOBACCO SCORED.

Alard Scheck Had Nothing to Beat and Found Also Struck a Soft Spot—Maydine Is Consistent.

The horses had a bad track to run over at the Fair Grounds yesterday, but notwithstanding the unsatisfactory condition of the going, well-backed favorites scored with a regularity that became decidedly monotonous to the bookies, who had to work overtime paying off. Overwhelming odds on choices went through in the first three events. Then Myth, a 12 to 1 shot, came along and beat Lord Neville in a driving finish by a head. This was the only race of the day that the betting public failed to beat.

The best class of horses that performed in the afternoon went to the post in the fourth event. Laureate appeared to be the best, but Hood's Brigade, Lord Neville and Leo Planter were all backed more or less. It was a mile dash, and the start took place directly in front of the stand. The field lined up promptly and broke all in a row, like a bunch of cavalry horses, but Mr. Brown for some reason or other called them back.

Then he proceeded to make about the worst start he has been guilty of at the present meeting. The six horses got away in two divisions, with Laureate and Hood's Brigade in the rear section. Neither had a chance from where they got off, although the boy on Laureate persevered with his mount in the face of the bad start and secured third money. Myth, Lord Neville and Leo Planter composed the front division. Lord Neville and Leo Planter hooked up at the start and ran the first quarter like a team. Lord Neville then drew away from Darden's horse and opened up a gap of eight lengths on his field in the run down the back stretch.

Leo Planter backed up steadily after his brush with Lord Neville, but the boy on Myth laid in third position until Laureate became dangerous at the head of the stretch. Then he sat down and commenced to ride the Kittleman horse, who responded gamely. Lord Neville was still eight lengths in front an eighth out, but eight lengths in front an eighth out, but he collapsed like a punctured balloon at the sixteenth pole and fell an easy victim to Myth's game effort at the end. Laureate, who was running over his horses at the end, finished a strong third, and would have nailed Lord Neville in another jump. Hood's Brigade got an easy ride.

John Huffman's fast Buckmaster Found outclassed her field in the third event, and won as she pleased by a length from Greenock, after making her own running. Greenock is the Bramble colt that captured the Brewers' Stakes at the Fair Grounds last year for John W. Schorr. He is a right handy horse in heavy going, but it takes a first-class mudlark to beat Found over a track like that of yesterday. Found almost always ruled favorite at odds on. Guide Rock and Greenock were both well backed to the second. Guide Rock's failure to defeat Greenock was a surprise. From the stand it look as though Vitatoe, who was riding Greenock, framed up a pocket for Guide Rock at the stable, and Dowell took his mount into it, as innocent of danger as a fly alighting on a spider's web.

The result was disastrous to Guide Rock's chances, as the horse was cut off and thrown out of the race. After the race the officials announced that Jockey Dowell had been set down for incompetency. Guide Rock has suffered more from bad rides than any horse that has been campaigned at the local track in recent years. His owner ought to take a tumble to himself and put up a good race rider the next time he starts his horse.

Leigh & Jordan's old cripple, Horseshoe Tobacco, limped home before his field in the first race. The "plug" should have won with something to spare, but his rider took things easy until Powell brought General Lake up with a rush at the finish. Then he called on Horseshoe Tobacco, and the "dinky" legged son of Fonsulane responded like the game race horse that he is, winning by a length. After the race the horse limped back to the stand, and his trainer, Frank Leigh, says he expects to retire him after his race to-day. Mr. Schorr's stake colt Alard Scheck had nothing but a lot in the second event, and won as he pleased, with three lengths to spare, from Cogswell, a youngster from Paul Miles's stable. Frenchie, a St. Florian—La Misere filly, beat Rosrys for third money. Cogswell was ridden by the boy he was named after.

W. F. Schulte's smart filly Maydine beat a fast lot of sprinters in the fifth event. Cathedral was the past favorite, but he had to be content with second money. Maydine was at home in the going, and led her field by three lengths at the head of the stretch. Cathedral came strong at the end, but Maydine had enough left to stall him off at the wire. Halton, who rode Maydine in Lou Marin's colors, showed a lot of speed. She tired at the end and finished third, six lengths back of Cathedral. It was Halton's first start.

Billy Boardman's breadwinner Ransom, who looks better than he ever did, and is running better, too, for that matter, romped home before an ordinary lot in the closing event. Mystery, Crossmolina and Rushfields were all backed to beat Ransom, but the old chestnut gelding went to the front at the start and beat his horses as they came to him. He won by a length, with Rushfields a length before Crossmolina.

TWO DISQUALIFICATIONS.

McMeekin Set Back for Not Carrying His Weight and Add for Fouling.

New York, May 31.—Two disqualifications and a dead heat were the somewhat unusual features of the racing at Gravesend to-day. Long shots continued to win, only one favorite getting the decision, and then only by being advanced by the disqualification of Add. McMeekin, who won the second race cleverly, was set back. On weighing out it was found that he had carried two and one-half pounds under weight, and there was nothing for the stewards to do but to disqualify him. He was easily ten pounds the best horse in the race. Add was the second horse disqualified. When drawing away from Mary McCoy in the last 100 yards, she swerved toward the rail, forcing Spencer to pull up.
