CHINESE SITUATION AFFECTED STOCKS.

AMERICANS WERE WEAK IN LONDON.

Depressing Northwestern Reports Gave a Weaker Tendency to the Grangers.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, June 8.—American stocks in London were rather inactive, but showed a fairly good tone and closed at a fractional advance on the day. The general market was heavy and stocks a shade lower. Europe generally regards the Chinese situation as disquieting. Berlin, after coming very near a panic in the industrial shares on the previous day, showed more strength and the situation, financially, was reported to have cleared considerably. The money position all round was pretty much the same, with, perhaps, a little less stringency in Berlin. The South African position shows no important change. From Sir Alfred Milner's proclamation, it seems unlikely that the gold mines in Johannesburg will be in full working order in a couple of months.

In the local market the depressing crop reports from the Northwest gave a weaker tendency to the grangers. Atchison issues were less affected, as the drought seemed to be confined to the Northwest. Northern Pacific, St. Paul, Rock Island and Burlington all surged. The meeting of presidents of the Western roads was understood to have resulted in a better arrangement on the question of rates and gave fair strength to Union and Southern Pacific. A raid was made upon the bull pool in Missouri Pacific, and a good deal of stock came out. Baltimore and Ohio common stock was also weak for similar reasons. The further cut in steel products kept the steel stocks heavy, especially Tennessee Coal and Iron. The trading in Sugar was almost purely professional. The traction stocks were inclined to be heavy. Yesterday's statement for Monday was not a favorable one. The stock was depressed, although three officers from the Northwest in search of the money went to the prospects of the spring wheat. With the exception of Rapid Transit, the late interest stuff, Brooklyn, was heavy and lower for the most part on Brooklyn heavy issues.

The market in other positions to expect extensive. The Pacific certificates had the good personality [illegible] that the amount of Pacific certificates [illegible] to be issued for any [illegible] of the Pacific. [illegible] Pacific certificates continue good, therefore at a premium of 50c for the month of May. There seems to be no doubt, however, that the Pacific certificates will be issued, in view of the large earnings of the Pacific, if warranted. The advance in the price of the Pacific certificates is due to those who have given strength to Atchison [illegible] the manage to the spring crop. [illegible] shows a decided scarcity of stock. [illegible] Pacific [illegible] Union Pacific [illegible] Northern Pacific [illegible] Rock Island [illegible] through the falling off in the earnings of the railroads in the month of May, which is very significant. The last report of New York Central covered a decrease [illegible] reported, and the figures in the other roads have been good, although not quite [illegible] expectations.

New York Market Gossip.

The following summary of the gossip in regard to the trading features of the New York market was received by G. H. Chapin, Bell & Co., from their office in New York: Stocks seemed to be on the rebound in the first hour, foreign news was good and a small advance in the prices of the leading issues was made. Later, however, the market became very dull and heavy, and the gains were all lost. The Grangers were the most active and heavy. Rumors were circulated that the dividends on the stock would be reduced 1 per cent per annum, but these rumors do not cause any enthusiastic bulling for the stock.

A reported attack was made on the Granger stocks in the last hour, and some of the bear traders tried to influence the market by wagers [illegible]

NUN DROVE PROWLER AWAY.

Sister Doloretto at Florissant Showed Her Bravery.

Sister Doloretto, an instructor at the Loretto Academy in Florissant, is the latest woman to join the conference with tramp prowlers who have invaded St. Louis county during the last month.

Although she is the youngest nun in the institution, having not passed her twenty-second birthday, Sister Doloretto has demonstrated to her superiors that she is possessed of a fair share of nerve. The demonstration was made late before 12.

The gates of the academy are locked promptly every evening at 8 o'clock. After that, if the weather will permit, the sisters march up and down in front of the convent, chanting a litany or saying their beads in chorus. Incidentally they keep a sharp lookout to see that none of their boarders have retreated in forbidden places. While thus engaged Sister Doloretto saw a man prowling around under cover of the shrubbery on the convent lawn. She waited until the prayers were finished and then started toward the place. The mother superior and the other nuns in the meantime went into the convent.

"What are you doing here?" inquired the sister in a sharp tone. The man would not answer at first, but finally said that he was looking for old clothes.

"It is a queer time of the evening to be looking for old clothes," she replied, "and you had better get out of here immediately."

The man walked quickly away, and Sister Doloretto followed him to the gate to see that it was securely locked.
