MAY STARTED OFF BULLISHLY FOR GRAIN.

STRONG UNDERTONE SHOWN BY ALL GRAINS.

The Full Strength Was Not Maintained to the Close, Weakness Setting In Late.

The new month of May started off very auspiciously yesterday for grain bulls, and greatly encouraged those who have favored that side all along. The strength noted Tuesday, and which was particularly prominent late in the day, was plainly observable when the markets opened up yesterday, an all-round advance being noted right at the outset. For some time after this the bull fever was on and some good gains were made in values, some of which were maintained to the close and others were not. Throughout the day the pit on 'change was very well patronized, trading was heavy and some little excitement was shown at intervals. The weak spot developed late in the day cut down the earlier gains considerably, but not sufficiently to cause the markets to close lower, all of them, and especially oats, showing a fair improvement, wheat of ⅛@¼c to ⅛@⅜c, corn of ¼c to ⅜c and oats of from ¼c to a full 1c for the day.

The market for wheat yesterday was a bull one all the way through. A higher level of prices was established right at the start, which was further added to later and well maintained with little effort until shortly before the close, when a soft spot came to the surface and prices eased off a little, but not sufficient to wipe out all the previous gains, and the market closed higher. The early influences were strongly tinged with bullishness, and not only injected more strength into the situation, but brought about good buying support. Liverpool, which heretofore has been backward about coming to the help of the markets on this side, reported ¼d advance over night. The weekly Government report spoke favorably of winter-wheat condition, at the same time confirming insect damage in the Southwest and Texas. Another encouraging factor was the small receipts here and in the Northwest, and last, but not least, dry-weather complaints in the West. The opening here was ¼c higher for July at 74½c, and it soon sold up to 71⅝c, while May sold ⅝c higher at 74⅝c. The buying was so very good for some time after the market opened that July advanced and sold as high as 72¼c, but that option shortly after weakened on bear attacks and sold off to 71¼c. Liverpool closed firm and ¾d higher, but Continental markets were said to be easy by private cables. The clearances for the day in flour and wheat were large at 807,000 bu. During the remainder of the session the market was nervous and unsettled, though the clearances for the day proved to be 1,136,000 bu., and reports of hot, dry weather and insect damage were received. The small contract deliveries helped the market for awhile, and especially July, but the cash situation was so very poor that it weakened the market, and July sold back to 71⅝@⅞c, but closed still lower at 71⅜@¼c. May sold at 74⅝c, and 74⅝@¾c was asked at the close.

All the corn markets of the country were bullish yesterday, made so by the actions of the Phillips crowd in Chicago, where May was jumped up to 50c. There was no such bulge here, though the market was very strong. May opening ¼c higher at 44½c, and at once selling up to 44⅝c, July bringing 44⅝c to 44⅝c and later was bid 44⅝@¾c. The arrivals at primary markets were fairly large, but country acceptances were said to be light. The clearances were only moderate at 24,000 bu., but Liverpool was 1d higher. Delivery on May contracts amounted to 280,000 bu., and were well taken care of. After the early buying was satisfied there was an easing off in the market, and May went back to 44½c and July to 44⅜c. An extremely slow and uninteresting and quiet market was had during the last half of the day and both May and July finally sold at 44⅝c, at which they closed buyers. Very little was heard of in the way of a cash business.

A very strong and in a way an excited market was experienced in oats yesterday, due to the fact that there were no May deliveries in this market, and as something of a shortage existed, and as there was no way of satisfying it, the stocks here being almost nil, a strong and urgent demand sprung up and as high as 29⅝c was bid for May. Warm, dry weather had a bullish effect upon July, which sold at 26½ to 26⅝c, but 26¼c was asked at close.

Trade Gossip.

—How large the decrease in available supplies of wheat in this country and Canada has been of late is shown by Bradstreet's in its weekly reports on visible stocks. It reported during four weeks of April an aggregate of 11,878,000 bu. decrease in American supplies, this, too, only including points east of the Rockies, the Pacific Coast stocks not being given. During same month last year its report indicated 6,936,000 bu. decrease in these stocks. Especially large last month was the reduction in outside points, not included in the official visible, for where the latter decreased during the four weeks of April 5,471,000 bu., the decreases of outside available stocks was, according to Bradstreet's figures, 4,297,000 bu. The Chicago Board of Trade Bulletin in its report a year ago on available supplies of flour and wheat in this country and Canada, including stocks both east and west of the Rockies, figured the decrease for April as only 12,235,000 bu. The Trade Bulletin will report a much larger decrease for the past month.

—In its weekly weather crop bulletin the Department of Agriculture says that cold, wet weather was against vegetation and farm work early part of last week, but since then favorable to both. Corn and cotton planting progressing rapidly, with some replanting of both. In Texas, corn well cultivated and improving. Some cotton replanted by frost in Mississippi. Oat seeding finishing and doing well, except in Texas and the Territories, where badly damaged by insects. Winter wheat also badly damaged by insects in Oklahoma and Indian Territory, as well as Texas, and did some insect damage in Southwest Missouri, but generally doing well elsewhere. Danger of a fly damage lessened in Illinois.

—The private warehouse stock of wheat in this market is now 248,000 bu., against 563,000 bu. a month ago, and 41,000 bu. a year ago, when the decrease for April was 128,000 bu. Public and private stocks are now 1,223,000 bu., a decrease last month of 1,709,000 bu., but 224,000 bu. larger than a year ago, when the April decrease was 1,497,000 bu.

—Crop report No. 2, issued by the Van Duzen Harrington Company, says: "Wheat seeding in the Northwest has progressed without interruption this week and the great wave has now crossed the Canadian line into Alberta. Nearly all the seed has been put in under good conditions, and, speaking generally, the weather is now very favorable. We think that, speaking of the whole territory, the seeding up to this point has been done under exceptionally favorable conditions."

—Dry-weather complaints are beginning to come from the West and the Southwest and from the appearance of the weather map, drought conditions, with high temperatures, appear the possibilities for some time to come. There is no indication of a "low" in the Southwest. Heat and drought are precisely the conditions that bring out the best crop-killing work of insects, and increasing reports on that score are very likely to be forthcoming.

—A telegram from Jonesboro, Ill.: "Hot and dry. Fly affects growing wheat. Don't think will have half crop. Rain needed badly." The sender of this had previously written of dry weather and fly impairing wheat in Southeast Missouri and his own section.

—Liverpool stock of wheat increased last month 810,000 bu., and now is 3,670,000 bu.; corn decreasing 426,000 bu. and now 580,000 bu., and flour, 4,000 bbls. to 122,000 bbls. One year ago these stocks were 119,000 bbls. flour, 2,161,000 bu. wheat, 397,000 bu. corn.

—Deliveries on May contract in the St. Louis market to-day were 280,000 bu. corn, including 250,000 bu. by W. L. Green & Co., and 5,000 bu. wheat, but no oats.

—Wheat receipts at primary markets 599,000 bu., against 440,000 bu. a week ago, 448,000 bu. a year ago, and 362,000 bu. two years ago. St. Louis receiving 25,500 bu., against 12,800 bu. a week ago, and 11,850 bu. a year ago. Shipments from primary points 407,000 bu.

—Primary corn receipts 853,000 bu., against 494,000 bu. a year ago, including 69,400 bu. at St. Louis, against 20,400 bu. last year. Primary shipments 476,000 bu.

—Primary oats receipts 586,000 bu., against 572,000 bu. a week ago, 1,000 bu. a year ago, and 1,000 bu. against 32,000 bu. a year ago. Primary shipments 382,000 bu.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

Local Fruit, Vegetable, Poultry, Egg and Butter Quotations.

The markets were generally quiet and steady yesterday, as receipts of nearly all kinds of produce were moderate and there was only a limited demand. Prices were generally well maintained, however, as shippers were prepared to take any surplus offerings.

Potatoes were firm and in good demand, as fancy stock was scarce. Choice smooth Northern Burbanks were quoted at a premium. Sweets in dealers' hands are light and receipts are barely equal to the requirements, but owing to the lateness of the season buyers are taking only enough for their immediate requirements. Southern potatoes were quiet and somewhat easier. Receipts are steadily increasing, while the high prices tend to restrict the demand. The quality of the receipts, however, was somewhat better than it has been, and prices were unchanged.

Sweet potatoes were firm and in fair demand, as good stock was scarce; small and inferior stock, however, was dull and slow of sale.

Cabbage was again firm and in good demand. Receipts were fairly heavy, but were barely equal to the requirements.

Onions were quiet and steady. Fancy globes were scarce and in fair demand, but common, inferior, soft, damp and sprouted stock was dull and weak. Stocks in dealers' hands are comparatively light.

Cauliflower was in fair demand, but offerings were liberal and prices were unchanged.

Tomatoes were dull and plentiful, as offerings were heavy and there was only a limited demand.

String beans were plentiful and dull, but there was no change in prices.

Green peas were in fair demand and steady, with offerings about equal to the receipts.

Radishes were weak and lower, as receipts were heavy and the demand was slow.

Other vegetables were quiet and steady at unchanged prices.

Apples were quiet and steady. Fancy fruit was scarce and firm, but there is only a limited demand.

Strawberries were quiet and steady. Receipts were heavier than on Tuesday, but the demand was also better and prices remained unchanged.

Oranges were dull and weak, but there was no quotable change in prices.

Lemons were steady and unchanged. The warm weather has increased consumption to some extent, but prices were no higher.

Pineapples were dull and slow.

Other fruits were quiet and unchanged, as the recent order of the Mayor revoking licenses of fruit venders has had a depressing effect on the trade.

Live poultry was steady. Chickens were in fair demand, both for shipping and local account, but receipts were equal to the requirements. Ducks and young stock were slow of sale and heavy and rough stock was dull and easier. Geese were weak. Ducks were weak and lower, and turkeys were also dull and weak. Geese were dead dull. Large-sized spring chickens were in good demand, but small sized were not wanted.

Dressed poultry was dull and slow on account of the warm weather. Receipts were light, but the demand was also light. Light, smooth chickens, undrawn, with head and legs on, if properly iced, were salable, but no advance over quotations for live poultry seems to be obtained.

Veals were quiet and steady at unchanged prices. Receipts were heavy and the demand slow.

Game was quiet and steady, with both demand and receipts light.

Wool was dull and weak, at lower prices, as the receipts of new wool are generally of inferior quality, and the markets at other points are depressed.

Hides were in fair demand and steady, and there was no quotable change in prices.

Furs were dull and nominal, as the season is over.

Eggs.

The egg market was firm and higher yesterday, as there was a good local demand, but offerings were light. Shipments were heavier than the receipts. Fresh receipts sold at 10½c for nearby, but Southern stock sold for less.

Receipts at St. Louis were 3,450 cases and shipments were 3,820 cases.

Dairy Products.

Butter—The market was dull and weak yesterday, as offerings were excessive and there was little demand. Quotations: Creamery—Extra 15c; firsts 14@14½c; seconds 13c. Dairy—Extra 13@13½c; firsts 12@12½c; creamery, ladle-packed—Extra 12½c; firsts 12@12½c. Roll—8c for poor to 11½c for choice.
