MRS. RUSSELL HARDING
MATRON OF HONOR
STRAUSS PHOTOGRAPH

Barracks in full regalia came in shortly before the arrival of the Prophet. In the party were Colonel and Mrs. C. H. Rucker, Lieutenant and Mrs. C. H. Morton, Major and Mrs. F. A. Edwards, Major and Mrs. F. A. Shunk, Colonel and Mrs. Joseph Lockett, Captain A. G. Hammond, Captain Sawtell, Captain F. A. Winter, Lieutenant and Mrs. B. H. Dorcy and Captain John O'Shea and Miss Susie Holcomb.

Major Emmett Newton, Quartermaster of the National Guard, was one of the early arrivals. Another National Guard officer in uniform was Captain Ernest E. Wood.

Chris Kehoe and Miss J. J. Kelly attracted attention in the promenade that preceded the arrival of his Royal Highness.

Justice R. B. Haughton had a party in charge, consisting of his cousin, Mrs. Frank L. Norton of Marshall, Tex., and the Misses Hampton, formerly of Aberdeen, Miss., but now of St. Louis.

Frank L. Tettemer and Miss Genevieve Fuss and F. G. Cunningham and Miss Mae Robinson formed a separate party that arrived after the Prophet's entry.

Charles H. Dietering was present, with Miss Emma Breidenbach.

Doctor and Mrs. Boyce brought with them Mrs. Holcolm Ellis of Boston.

Another couple present was Alphonse O'Halloran of St. Louis and Miss Julia Wathen of St. Paul.

Tim Jerome Kavanaugh had a party of four in charge.

H. C. Townsend, general passenger agent of the Missouri Pacific, brought John Sebastian, passenger traffic manager of the Rock Island road in Chicago, and Colonel G. A. A. Deane, general land commissioner of the Missouri Pacific in Little Rock.

Justice and Mrs. J. H. Greensfelder were on hand, as usual. The marrying Squire says he would rather miss a Sunday dinner during Christmas week than one of the annual balls.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Reeves were early arrivals.

Among the beaux present were R. T. Browning, P. S. Hairston, Manton Davis, Patrick Henry Aylett, a great-grandson of Patrick Henry of Revolutionary fame; O. F. and F. E. Bausch, George Meckler, W. Clarkson Thompson, Oliver Niedringhaus, Robert Kalme, Ray Carter, Clarence Gamble, Leslie Dana, Fred Parimore, Horace Rumsey, Bob Walsh, M. P. Olden, J. K. Stephens, Joseph Kirkbride, G. J. Decker and George Janis were seen in the crowd.

Harry B. Hawes, Tom Hennings, John Leahy, Colonel Emmett Newton, Colonel Moses Wetmore and K. P. Smith were on the floor when the dancing commenced.

Carlos Daughaday, John McCluney, Joseph Drew, George Davis, Fred Chopin, Dave Gamble, Charles Hunt, Charles Clark, P. Loiseau and Edward Reaves were among the promenaders.

Doctor R. H. Hyatt was the center of a congratulating group. He received numerous compliments upon the choice weather he produced for the reception of the Veiled Prophet.

Mr. H. R. Overman was with a party on the floor.

Mr. Reeves Holt of Palmyra was seen on the floor.

Major L. M. Rumsey, Captain Horace Rumsey of the First Regiment and Captain George B. Webster entered together.

Doctor Freeland J. Dunn and Doctor John M. Dean remained a short time.

Mr. Ashley Scott of Washington boulevard came late.

Brian McGeary, with Messrs. Turner and Whiteom, came on the floor about 11 o'clock.

Doctor H. E. Ferrell was on the floor most of the evening.

Doctor R. J. Hyatt of the Weather Bureau was also seen.

ELABORATE TOILETS OF LADIES IN ATTENDANCE AT THE BALL.

Handsome costumes in great profusion made their appearance at the ball last night, thronging the dressing-rooms at an early hour, and surging up and down the grand staircases accompanied by masculine escorts.

The warm night was probably responsible for the great number of elaborate toilets present, and not a few of these were worn by visiting ladies, who have been in town this week for the festivities.

As in former years, the matrons who dignified the ball by their presence were among St. Louis's representative society women and reached all expectations very fully in the matter of gowns and a display of jewels.
