BUCCLEUTH SUFFERED FROM A POOR START

VERY BAD RACE FOR BACCHUS.

Favorite and Second Choice in the Last Event Ran One, Two Last—Kisme Went Over at Long Odds.

Racing was excellent at the Fair Grounds yesterday, though the poor starts vouchsafed Buccleuth in the fourth race and Edgardo and Bacchus in the last race broke up form towards the close of the day.

Buccleuth was an 8 to 5 favorite in his race, while Edgardo occupied a similar place in his affair. Bacchus was second choice to Edgardo.

In the Buccleuth race Schwalbe was off flying, ran a fine race and won unextended in 1:49⅘. Buccleuth was standing still when the field broke and never had a chance.

Bacchus and Edgardo ran a droll race. Though Edgardo had been recently sold to Mr. Hughes by Mr. Burrows, and though Mr. Hughes did not know his horse only while every one thought that little Houbre could not hold the brute together, he was heavily played. Bacchus was well liked to be second.

Orris got off in front and set a hot pace, with Urchin in close attendance. Lindenella trailed to the back stretch, then went to the leaders. Edgardo and Bacchus ran nose and check by jowl for a mile and one-eighth. They bumped each other at every stride, and both Houbre on Edgardo and D. Gilmore on Bacchus fought it out with great earnestness. As a rule, Bacchus is an inbearing horse, but here he seemed to bear out to Edgardo. Houbre was in no hurry to take Edgardo off Bacchus, and just bore in on him all the way.

When the track was heavy on the rail and good in the center, Bacchus was wont to bear into the bad going on the rail. He bore out yesterday, and the speedy six first and second choices finishing one, two, last was enjoyed by the spectators. Lindenella, well ridden by Scully, got up in time to win by a neck. Orris lasted long enough to get the place from Urchin, who ran a good race.

Lindenella, who was reputed a sulker and a sour old mare before Mr. O'Connell bought her, is wonderfully true since his purchase of her. She runs her race every time. Last time Bacchus met her she had less weight and the same boy up and ran her to a half length, and should have won yesterday. She beat him ten lengths. Bacchus is not so consistent as Lindenella.

The first race went to The Light, J. K. Hughes's good old sprinter. She had all her early speed and was backed from sevens to fours. Her bad foot is worse than ever, but Mr. Hughes stood a run-up of $200 over her entered price before and kept her in his stable.

Johnnie Powers put his good old mare Kisme over in the second race. She was at the nice odds of 7 to 1 and lasted long enough to beat Charles D. in a hard drive, which she endured in game fashion.

Happy Chappy landed the third race in a gallop from a bad field, while Bacchus showed himself a good horse when he won the handicap with 112 pounds up, giving weight to Hilee and other good horses.

AS A BETTING PROPOSITION.

Marco Polo Should Win First Race—Croix d'Or in a Nice Place.

Marco Polo's fine races from very bad beginnings make him look like a good thing in the first race to-day. He should win if he gets off. Russelton has run several good races on heavy and dry tracks. He has a chance here that is undeniable. Emily Oliver and Wine and Song both ran much improved races last time out, and should try-day. Light Opera's last race was such an improved one that she should be right there to-day. Her last effort was a good one. Pathos will go well, as will Nimble Nap.

Budweiser must not be overlooked. He has been running in hard luck. Henry McDaniel's speed should give the 3-year-old a time of it chasing him to-day. Pourquoi Pas is the only one he has to dread, and he should beat her. Fore and Aft will finish up well, but McDaniel's speed should carry him home a winner. He may tire in the last eighth. Geheimness is giving away a world of weight and her performance here will be closely watched with a view to her chances in next year's Oaks.

The third race looks like a good place for Dulela, though she is giving away a lot of weight. Tuckapaw's races entitle her to be second, with Trauer third.

Leenja should win the fifth event, though Brewer Schorr may be good enough to beat her. If he is at his best he will win. Lomar should be in the money, as Kitty Clyde has not been running good races.

Croix d'Or is very good now, has all sorts of speed and will win to-day if some one will hang to Icicle. Icicle is not a game horse. If Icicle can run free of contest he will probably win. Red Apple, Croix d'Or and Bill Massie should keep him busy. Croix d'Or is game, and should be best at the end.

RIVER PIRATE WAS DISQUALIFIED.

Judges Allowed Jockey Lyne's Claim of Foul—Placed Sergeant First.

New York, Oct. 22.—The seventeenth Castleton Stakes, the feature event at Morris Park to-day was won by Sparkle Esher, at 7 to 2 in the betting. Christine A. made the early pace, but in the stretch River Pirate and Sergeant went to the front, and, in a hot finish, won by a head, with Sergeant second and Mackey Dwyer third. Lyne, rider of Sergeant, claimed foul against the winner. The claim was allowed, the officials placing Sergeant first. Mackey Dwyer second and Injunction third. The time, 1:49⅘, was very fast.

HAIR-SPLITTING FINISH AT WORTH.

Scarlet Lily, John McGurk, Homestead and The Lady as Named.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The Scarlet Lily, John McGurk, Homestead and The Lady engaged in a hair-splitting finish in the third race at Worth to-day, finishing in the order named. While Scarlet Lily had half a length the best of it at the wire, the other three horses were in such a tight fit that it was impossible for any one to separate them but the judges.

Scarlet Lily went to the front at flagfall and was never headed thereafter. The Lady was second to the eighth pole, where Homestead and John McGurk joined her, and a desperate fight down the homestretch commenced. Homestead seemed to have the place until the last few jumps, when John McGurk got his nose in front and stayed there. The Morris colt only had a head advantage to spare over The Lady. Weather clear and cool; track fast.

SULLIVAN TO BOX SHERLOCK TO-NIGHT

Men Will Meet Before the West End Club in a Twenty-Round Bout.

BOTH ARE IN GOOD CONDITION.

Billy Trueman and Jim McVicker Will Go On in the Preliminary, an Eight Round Affair.

Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan and Joe Sherlock of Chicago will meet to-night at the West End Club in a boxing contest scheduled to go twenty rounds.

Sherlock reached the city yesterday morning in company with Jim McVicker, who is to meet Billy Trueman in the preliminary, the two men being under the care of Jake Chain, their handler.

Sherlock has a lengthy list of victories to his credit and is regarded as a coming fighter in Chicago, where he has won several of his battles. He has been in the game but a year and a half, so his name is not as well known as that of his latest opponent, Kid Hermann, whom he defeated in six rounds. It was his victory over Hermann that secured him his match here. Hermann having been originally designed as Sullivan's opponent.

One of Sherlock's victories, scored about six months ago, was over Kid Farmer, the unmainly fighter who appeared in a preliminary at the club recently. He defeated Morris Rauch on two occasions within the last fourteen months, these battles having been fought at 118 pounds. He also scored two victories over Jack Gill and one over Danny McMahon, and got verdicts over Mike Barrley, Dick Fitzpatrick, Marty Cannon, Jack Galligan and Billy McMahon.

Jim McVicker's last bout was with Johnny Clark at the Gulbanks carnival. He knocked out Clark in the sixth round, after an interesting bout, and should put up a good contest in the preliminary. Billy Trueman, his opponent, has been working with Tommy Sullivan and has defeated Johnny Regan to his credit. The preliminary promises to afford a good contest and is an eight-round affair at 124 pounds.

McVicker believed that the preliminary was to be at 122 pounds and came to the city at that weight. He will weigh about 123 when he enters the ring. Sherlock stated that he was well within and would also fit the scales at 123 pounds when he faced Sullivan.

Tommy Sullivan is well known here and has fought twice before the West End Club. On the first occasion he lost to Kid Abel through stepping back against the ropes and permitting Abel to reach him, although he had outsparred Abel for the fourteen rounds the bout lasted. In his second appearance here, he knocked out Eddie Santry in the third round of their contest. He has been working at the West End Club and is in good shape.

Harry Sharpe will referee the events of the evening. The preliminary will go on about 8:45 and the main event will start shortly after 9 o'clock.

Mike Tuthe, the McKenna candidate for middle honors, will challenge the winner of the Sullivan-Sherlock match this evening. Tuthe is anxious for another bout and states that he has time to spare, it probably since his fight of two weeks ago.

PRIZE HORSE SHOW FEATURES COMING FROM KANSAS CITY.

Important Entries Are Secured for St. Louis Exhibition, Which Will Open on November 3.

The representative of the St. Louis Horse Show who attended the opening of the Kansas City Horse Show has returned with a good number of entries which he received there.

Every of 75 days, who visited Kansas City in the interest of the St. Louis Show, counsels that the opening there marks far the best that has taken place. The class of horses was outstanding, and the decorations of the hall extremely beautiful.

All the boxes were sold in advance for the week, and the club membership is very large, assuring a successful showing for the week. On the opening night there Dog Hall was packed with a fashionable and enthusiastic dressed audience, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

The business houses about the city are now very generously engaged in the work of decorating their establishments in the colors which are to be used in the show, just like the merchants of St. Louis do during the week of the Fair. The Horse Show committee is expected to be held in the Coliseum during the week of November 3 to 8, inclusive. The doors will open. The design contract will be for more elaborate and expensive one anything ever seen in the Kansas City Coliseum. It will be the grand display of fashion in the horse world, and the art of street parading, and in addition there will be elegant tigers, lions and dog-vehicles with horses' heads and tails of brown and black.

The committee were the directors of the Horse Show Association, having invited one of all the equine societies in St. Louis to be their guests at the matinee Wednesday afternoon. This will be a great treat for the little ones.

The programme to-night was the best that has yet been given. The show began. Among the first turns were the Wolf Brothers' Jackal for single roadsters, purse $100, and the Montgomery Ward challenge cup for the best six horses, offered by Montgomery Ward of Chicago, Vionela, owned by G. H. Ryan of Denver, won the Wolf Brothers' Jackal, and many good bids, including L. T. Shipherd's Allie Zilo, the celebrated prize winner at Madison Square Garden and at Chicago last year. Commander Barker, owned by son Miles of St.
