FATHER PHELAN WILL SPEAK AT GOLDEN JUBILEE OF PASSIONISTS.

The Reverend Father D. S. Phelan, editor of the Western Watchman, received an invitation yesterday from the Reverend Father Michael, superior of the Passionists in Pittsburg, Pa., to speak at the golden jubilee of the order, which will be celebrated in Pittsburg, December 28, 29 and 30.

Cardinal Gibbons will speak on the first day of the jubilee, and Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia, Pa., the second day. Father Phelan has been assigned to speak on the third day. The Reverend John Baptist, assistant to the general of the order at Rome, will take part in the celebration.

The celebration will commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the Passionist Order in this country. It took place in Pittsburg, December 28, 1852.

Bishop Michael O'Connor had charge of the diocese of Pittsburg at the time. He rendered the order all the assistance in his power. It was due largely to his fostering care that the first efforts of the Passionists in the United States were crowned with success.

Bishop O'Connor afterwards became a Jesuit, of which order he was a member when he died.

Father Phelan wired his acceptance of the invitation, and will arrange his affairs to make time for the journey.

THE REVEREND D. S. PHELAN, Who will speak at the Golden Jubilee of the Passionist Order in Pittsburg, Pa., December 30.

NEWS OF THE CITY CHURCHES.

Sunday School Superintendents' Union Elects Officers.

The Sunday School Superintendents' Union has elected officers who will serve for one year. They are: President, A. E. Whitaker, of Wagoner Place Methodist Sunday School; vice president, J. I. McClelland, of Mizpah Presbyterian Sunday School; secretary, J. P. Sickfider of the Third Baptist Sunday School.

The Wagoner Place Methodist Sunday School has become so large that it is necessary to hold its meetings in the main auditorium of the church, instead of the Sunday School room.

The reverend D. Everett Standard, pastor of St. Luke's M. E. Church, will speak at the men's meeting of the South Side Y. M. C. A. to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. His subject will be "The Fight and Our Weapons."

The Lucas Avenue Cumberland Presbyterian Sunday School will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of its organization to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. The service will be led by A. C. Stewart, who organized the Sunday school, and who was its first superintendent. It is expected that many former members of the school will be present.

The regular business meeting of the W. C. T. U. will take place this afternoon at No. 1114 Locust street.

The District Nursing Association, which has its headquarters at the Epworth Evangelical Institute, No. 3019 Bell avenue, will start a class for the training of young women as nurses. The instruction will be practical and all lessons will be simplified by demonstrations.

The Reverend Louis Bowerman will deliver the fifth of a series of lectures on "Pilgrims' Progress" to-morrow night at the Immanuel Baptist Church. The subject will be "The Cross: Its Meaning and Glory."

F. W. Lehmann will speak to-morrow morning at 10:45 o'clock at Temple Israel on "Charles Dickens."

The Reverend Halsey Werlein, Jr., who has lately become assistant rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, will preach his first sermon in that capacity to-morrow morning.

A memorial service for Deacon George Daffern, a charter member of the Memorial Congregational Church, and other members who have died during the pastorate of the Reverend Frank Foster, will take place at the Memorial Church to-morrow evening at 7:45 o'clock. Addresses will be made by P. Allen, W. J. Turner, J. G. Hewitt and Mrs. Frank Foster. The pastor will conduct the service.

The Reverend Doctor A. L. Frisbie of Des Moines, Ia., will speak at the Hyde Park Congregational Church to-morrow.

Several baptisms will be made in the Lafayette Park Baptist Church to-morrow evening at the end of the service.

An illustrated song service will take place at the Lindell Avenue Christian Church (nonsectarian) to-morrow evening, conducted by the Reverend D. M. Hazlett. Among the songs to be rendered are "Bringing in the Sheaves," with six pictures from life; "Throw Out the Life Line," with eight ocean views; and "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," with eight historical and landscape illustrations.

The Reverend Joseph C. Hamilton of Peebles, O., will preach at the First United Presbyterian Church, Newstead avenue and Morgan street, to-morrow morning and evening.

The Reverend Josephus Stephan of the Mount Auburn M. E. Church, South, will preach to-morrow night on "Does Death End All?" It is the first of a series of sermons which he will deliver. The other subjects are: "Immortality Brought to Light," "Shall We Know Each Other?" "Between Death and Resurrection," "Relation of Saints to Earthly Friends," "What About Heaven?" and "Concerning Hell."

PRIZE OFFERED FOR BEST BOOK.

Lake Forest College Will Give $6,000 for Religious Work.

The trustees of Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill., have recently announced the offer of a prize of $6,000 to be given for the best book or treatise "on the connection, relation and mutual bearing of any practical science, or the history of our race, or the facts in any department of knowledge, with and upon the Christian religion." All manuscripts are to be in on or before June 1, 1905.

The award is to be made by a committee of judges composed of distinguished scholars to be announced at that time. The giving of the prize is made possible by Nathaniel Bross, who, in 1897, transferred to the trustees of the college a large sum of money for the purpose of stimulating the production of such works. The gift was a memorial to his son. The book receiving the prize is to become the property of the trustees of Lake Forest College and will be published as a volume for the Bross Library.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES.

Topic: "Our Fellowship." (Psa. CXXXIII, 1—3; I Cor. XII, 12—27.)

The topic universal for the young people's societies to-morrow evening is: "Our Fellowship," which is founded on two scriptures; Psalm cxxxiii, 1—3, and I Corinthians xii, 12—27.

Both of these scriptures bear directly upon the topic in hand, though differing somewhat in their viewpoint. The Psalmist refers to the joy and fitness of fellowship between those bound together by common religious ties, and the Apostle Paul deals rather with the philosophy of this relation, introducing a familiar illustration. Together they give us a rounded view of Christian fellowship, its character and influence.

JOY OF FELLOWSHIP—The Psalmist expresses this in truly Oriental language. Says he: "Behold, how good and how pleasant a thing it is for brethren to dwell together in unity. It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garment. As the dew of Hermo, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion, for there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life forevermore."

There is certainly no more lovely sight on earth than to see those who are brethren in Christ dwelling together in unity. It has not always been so, but perhaps it is more so to-day than at any time in the history of Christianity. There have been times when one branch of the Christian faith would be intolerant and even hostile toward other branches of the same faith; when even the sword and the torch were called into requisition, and the blood of martyrs flowed like water. When disputation and dissension ran high, when each had his own little Jerusalem, and the Pharisee made broad his phylacteries as in the time of Christ. When the walls between different Christian bodies were builded high and strong, and were crowned with towers and embattlements. But, thank God, that day is past, and we are beginning to see that "in every nation he that feareth God and worketh righteousness is accepted of him." We have come to realize that it is even as the Lord said: "They that worship the Father must worship him in spirit and in truth."

Such fellowship is declared by the Psalmist as like the anointing of Aaron, when the anointing oil ran down his beard and even to the skirt of his garment, an overflowing of the divine blessing. Or, like the copious dews of Mount Hermo or Mount Zion, which lay as moist and fertile as after the gentle rain. Certain it is that this divine spirit of fellowship fertilizes all the graces of the spirit, and enriches the soul as nothing else can. In our own city, this delightful fellowship abounds, and it is no uncommon thing to see the ministers of different denominations exchanging and uniting in evangelistic work. The same is eminently true of the laity of the church, which is even in advance of the ministry in this respect. Truly, there the Lord commandeth his blessing, even life forevermore.

PHILOSOPHY OF FELLOWSHIP—In the verses selected from the epistle to the Corinthian Church, the apostle declares that the basis of all true Christian fellowship is the unity of the spirit. "For by one spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have all been made to drink into one spirit." Where this spirit of baptism does not exist there can be no real fellowship, no matter what ecclesiastical relation may exist. This is why it is that often in the same church communion there exists little or no fellowship, and it also explains the delightful communion and fellowship found in connection with union evangelistic efforts. In the last analysis it is a question of kindred spirits, made so by the immediate presence and power of the divine spirit.

The familiar illustration used to impress this truth is that of the human body. Says he: "For as the body is one and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body; so also is Christ." He then proceeds to call attention to the different members of the body, showing their mutual dependence and ministration. The eye, the ear, the hand, the foot, all are mutually dependent and helpful. So it should be in the body of Christ, which is Zis church.

There should be no schism there. There should be a realization of interdependence, and this should awaken a desire to aid and assist those who are joint heirs with us through Jesus Christ. This means sympathy and love, a willingness to lift up the fallen and relieve the oppressed. Such a spirit is the dawn of heaven upon earth, and causes a thrill of joy amid the angelic hosts. Would God there was more of this spirit manifested than there is. Then might we hope for the fulfillment of the prophecy concerning Zion: "Thy watchmen upon thy walls shall say eye to eye; they shall lift up their voice together, and with the voice together they shall sing."

Be filled with the Spirit! Oh, have ye not heard it?
Our hearts for his blessed indwelling were made.
The comforter promised abides us abiding,
Whose mind and whose soul on Jesus are stayed.

Be filled with the Spirit—be filled to overflowing—
That others through you this salvation may know.
The beautiful Christlife that dwelleth within you
His power revealing wherever you go.

RECITAL GIVEN AT A MISSION.

Beethoven Pupils Play at Niedringhaus Memorial Hall.

Five pupils of the Beethoven Conservatory of Music gave a recital last night at the Niedringhaus Memorial Hall, Seventh street and Cass avenue. This was one of the series of entertainments provided for that quarter of the city.

The many children who attended the recital were enthusiastic in their applause of Harry Baer, a boy of 12 years, who played a violin solo. Miss Reu Livingston who recited "La Zingarella" was also well received. Others who took part in the programme were: Miss Katherine Groschke, Miss Laura Frank and Miss Julia Pesold.

Will Lecture on Mexico.

A. R. Verdier will address the Men's Club of the Second Presbyterian Church Monday evening on "A Trip Through the Tropics of Mexico." It will be illustrated by stereopticon views. The scenes shown are from photographs taken by Mr. Verdier on a recent trip through tropical Mexico, and include a large number of views taken in the San Luis plantation, the Jumapa plantation and on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.

New Worker Among Jews.

Mark Lev has decided to remain in this city and assist the Reverend A. Lichtenstein in the Jewish-Christian Mission. A location for the mission is being sought on Franklin avenue. Mr. Lev was until recently the superintendent of the Immanuel Mission in Cleveland, O.
