LOUREY HAS A HARD DRIVE.

Big Liner Brings Another Fine Cargo of Cypress From New Orleans.

The Valley Barge liner Henry Lourey, Captain Nicholas Beaver commanding, had an unusually long and hard drive hence from New Orleans, having taken sixteen days for the run and arriving in port late Thursday night.

The Lourey brought on her tow of five models one of the finest cargoes of cypress lumber ever received from the South, aggregating approximately 2,000,000 feet.

The lumber is consigned to a North St. Louis concern, and will be made up principally into furniture, for which the Southern cypress is coming more and more into use.

The barge liner encountered an intermediate high stage in the lower river, which made it necessary for her to stand out and fight the current to an unusual extent. Higher or lower she would have come along better.

LIVE-STOCK MARKETS.

Native Run Small—Beef Cattle Strong —Sheep Close Higher.

NATIVE CATTLE—Beef Steers: A light supply of native cattle was on hand. The receipts were principally Western calves and steers, with a few loads of native steers. The offerings in other departments were light and generally of an inferior character. The supply in the steer department embraced around 17 loads, 10 of which were good 1,126 and 1,166-lb. Westerns at $4.60, and pretty good 1,193-lb. natives at $5.40, a plain but well-fattened 1,365-lb. lot at $5.35, while medium grades sold at $4.75 and a few common steers on down. The market ruled firm, as the request was good and the supply was light, and included a very suitable kind of offerings, sellers had no trouble in securing fairly to the higher values.

The cattle market is closing the week in very good shape on good to choice grade of cattle, and the loss sustained Monday of 10c and 15c has been wholly regained and values now rule on such classes as good as at any time last week. Unfinished cattle, especially those showing too much greenness, have not proven good sellers this week, though the supply has not been large, but coming in contact with Texas grassers injured their sale and they are 10@15c lower than last week, or steady with Monday's market.

Following is a list of quotations based upon sales during the week:

Butcher Cattle—The butcher market ruled quiet, as the supply was light and generally below medium grades. Buyers showed about the same spirit as they have each day this week on such grades, and sold in line with Thursday. Bulls and veal calves were steady.

But a few scattering head of strictly good to choice cows and heifers have been available this week. The bulk of the offerings were fair to pretty good kinds, while the demand has been mainly for strictly good to choice, which have sold fully as good if not a shade stronger than last week. A liberal supply of Texas grass stuff is proving a great drawback to the natives on classes that are the strictly fat and at no time this week has there been the slightest activity on offerings, even at a decline of 10@15c, on which taste cow stuff is closing. Heifers that are not good are steady to a shade lower, butchers furnishing some outlet for kinds suitable for their needs, but where they lacked in suitability they have found a very limited market. Bulls, strictly sausage grades, are no higher, but where they display quality to meet competition from feeder buyers they sell a little higher, while fat bulls are bringing what they did the previous week. A few price veals have sold a little higher this week, but the general run of them are steady, while heavy calves, especially not good, are selling a shade lower.

Sales of butcher cattle during the week were based on the following quotations:

Deadened and unthrifty stockers and feeders always sell a fraction better than others.

SOUTHERN CATTLE—The quarantine market was particularly active and good on steer arrivals and values ruled easily 10c higher than yesterday, the supply embracing principally fair to pretty good steers. The cow offerings were few and showed but little change, while calves sold fully steady.

The supply was 22 cars and 2304 head against 46 cars and 1665 head last Friday and 16 cars and 2214 head two weeks ago.

The receipts this week show a small increase with last, while prices now rule on steers 10@15c higher, with cows 10c higher and bulls steady. Choice light-weight calves steady but extremely heavy, common and medium calves a shade lower.

The following quotations represent the condition of the market on various classes of quarantine cattle, based on sales during the week:

Good to choice fed heavy steers	$4.40@4.50
Gross steers, 900 to 1,050 lbs.	3.90@4.00
Grass steers, 750 to 875 lbs.	2.75@3.30

Choice calves, 140 to 185 lbs.	8.00@9.00
Fair calves	6.00@9.00

HORSES—The market was surrounded by very quiet conditions Friday. Arrivals were scarce and the number of buyers on the market was small. The activity during the previous days of the week has served to effect a good clearance, and the market was doing nothing but resting in a firm and quiet attitude in anticipation of the active work which is to come.

More strength has been manifested in the market in a general way during the week, but the most pronounced improvement has been on the Southern classes, which have experienced the best demand so far in several months. The demand was not heavy, but it was good and liberal, and more than sufficed to make a good clearance of all on sale. A fair business transpired in the Eastern department and several carloads were purchased during the week, but the tone remained stationary, with recent conditions, which go to show that it was steady with the decline of about $10 per head, which set in a month ago. The bulk of the demand has been coming from and is expected from Southern sources, and smooth, good-shaped offerings of this class are now selling comparatively the best.

A few mules came in for the Friday market, but the previous clean-up was so good that they did not cut much figure in the market. The supply was small. There were a few offerings still on the market, which had been received during the early part of the week, but upon which sellers and buyers could not come to terms. They were bought in the country out of line with the market, and hence could not be sold without loss, which accounted for their remaining so long on the market. Otherwise the trade presented no bad symptoms, and no hindrance remained in the way of the coming week. Still, the market has not been much better than last week, at least not in the matter of prices. There was some trade from both the East and South, principally the latter, but it was not so large as to have had any beneficial effect on the market, considering the liberal supply which is held in
