Why

Don't you give your heart the same chance you do the other organs?

Why? Because when any other organ is in trouble, it refuses to work, and you hasten to repair it.

The heart, the ever-faithful servant, never refuses as long as it has power to move, but continues to do the best it can, getting weaker and weaker, until it is past repair, and then stops. It is just as sick as the other organs, but because it will work you let it.

However, it's not too late for a "change of heart," so remember

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure

REVIEW OF THE IRON TRADE.

Uncertainty About Ore Prices Continues to Affect Market.

Cleveland, O., April 7.—The Iron Trade Review, discussing market conditions in its current issue, says:

The uncertainty concerning the exact outcome of the Steel corporation before producers of pig iron and finished products has been largely dissipated during the past week, and there is an appreciable improvement in the tone of the market. Pig iron sellers are quoting higher prices for prompt and future delivery, and there is a fairly good inquiry for pig iron for delivery in the second quarter. Pig iron is still the principal uncertainty, but with the uncertainty of the early organization of the subsidiary companies of the Steel corporation cleared up, it is thought that the steel companies will come into the market for pig iron in a much more liberal way than they have been doing of late.

Pig iron is still in a position that will permit of a very rapid advance in prices if the steel companies should decide to make large purchases. Pig iron is still comparatively cheap, and there is a good deal of it available at Cleveland and furnace points. The impression is that the steel companies will come into the market for pig iron in the second quarter, if they have to do so, in order to be in a position to meet the taking of the steel trade of that for that delivery, which by the companies is being shaping up for the second quarter. The fact that the Steel corporation is now in a position to make delivery of its products promptly, and the fact that the public has shown some activity at the also low prices, Pittsburg Reporter particularly in the East, Pittsburg and Chicago are quoted, and in Chicago there has been a good deal of comparative quiet in sheet and tin plate products, and the Steel corporation has made a good showing in the matter of orders. Pipe prices in the Chicago district report are that about 80 per cent of the capacity of Northern pipe foundries is active, and that of foundry buyers in the Central West, 75 per cent of them anticipate a recent circular not to have their orders kept in shape for shipment after July 1. The remainder expect to buy a little later.

Few of the city foundries forecast it is anticipated that a good deal of pipe will be placed in the spring of the season of the season of the year. The actual is reported to be in the main at a stand for some weeks so far as orders are concerned.

Some foundries in the Pittsburg district state that they have enough pipe to keep them busy before July 1. This pipe is mostly of 1903, but some is 1904. The effect of the possible turning of some market finishes to foundry iron is to be considered in this connection.
