TWO GOOD FIELDS AT FAIR GROUNDS; THE MESSENGER LOOKS BEST AT UNION

Handicap Horses Will Have Their Inning at the Old Course This Afternoon and Taby Tosa Seems the Logical Winner of the Fourth Race—Bellew's Entry Looks Wellin Cote Brilliante Handicap at Carmody Track.

AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

With good fields carded in both the fourth and fifth races at the Fair Grounds this afternoon, promise is for a couple of high-class contests. But the outcome of this same pair of races is far from certain.

In the fourth event the gray Taby Tosa will have his hands full with the field against which he is matched. In the fifth a first-class bunch of handicap contenders will be asked to settle the question of superiority at the weights.

In the latter event, which has drawn out two or three animals of stake caliber, the question of Miss Mae Day's fitness to be considered a candidate will depend entirely upon the state of the track. The Elliott Stable has a following around the Fair Grounds which will be willing to back its entries against Irish Lad or Hermis. But, leaving these enthusiasts out of the question, it seems that the mare's chances to-day will depend upon the footing that will be presented.

From the appearance of the course yesterday it looks as if the track will be cuppy to-day, assuming that the weather prediction of fair conditions for the morning hours is made good. On a cuppy track it does not appear as if Mae Day would be very dangerous, while a sloppy or holding track would redound rather to the advantage of Ancke than to that of the Elliott entry.

Assuming that the weather prognosticator is correct to-day, it looks as if Mae Day can be passed up temporarily. And Bas d'Or looms up as a formidable contender. Prior to his runaway of last Saturday, when he circled the track three times in his morning workout and had to be withdrawn from the stake, the rail birds were exhausting their vocabulary telling how good he was. Authentic reports of his workouts seem to indicate that he is the logical choice here. And he can be picked, on that account, for first position.

First Mason will be favorite and will have a strong following. But the deadness of the track, if fair weather holds this morning, will count against him more than the rather soft footing of Saturday. He looks easily second best however, and would be picked for first place were it not for the reports of the good form shown by Bas d'Or.

Ancke ought to get third money, and Charley Thompson and Operator should make things lively out in front for the early stages of the journey. Thompson can run on a sloppy track or a fast one. Whether he can do well on a cuppy or holding course is uncertain, but reports on this point are in the negative.

Whatever figures may tell of the fourth race, there is one thing that form and personal observation put forward strongly, and that is that Taby Tosa is the legitimate contender for first place in the fourth race. The gray gelding has never run a bad race yet, save when some jockey of more strength in the arms than in the brain had the mount, and if he is handled properly to-day will surely be a contestant.

Flying Torpedo ought to like the track to-day. Old Stone will scarcely be favored by it, but his light weight and early speed should help him. Moreover, he ran a reasonably good race Saturday and was beaten for the place more through going wide than through any ability of Never such. On this account it seems best to pass up the Hughes gelding for show to-day.

On account of the distance, Roaster will have his following. The Regent will be coupled with his stable companion, but it hardly seems as if the pair should be favored here. Taby Tosa looks like the winner and, with a good boy up, will be a good bet.

In the third race, Red Leaf, Zinda and Darthula seem the contenders. Darthula beat Zinda July 15 with but three pounds advantage in weight. Zinda seemed to be eased up a trifle at the close, but for which she might have been third. But with fifteen pounds advantage in Darthula's favor, the latter looks the winner. After Red Leaf's indifferent showing under high weight Tuesday, it looks as if Darthula had the best chance for first money. Moreover, when she beat Zinda for show money she was coming fast and from behind. The extra half furlong today should help her. Ameliana, on her Chicago form, looks well. But running close up in races at five furlongs in the city by the lake in 1:01½ does not necessarily mean she can do it down here.

One More and First One look best in the second race, with chances in favor of the former. Jerry Hunt would be the choice if the track was soft.

In the opening race, the weight off Fred Priesmeyer makes him look slightly better than Franco. Miss Betty may win the last for Barney Schreiber, with Larry Witt and Misanthrope close up.

The last race will afford a comfortable field for individual opinion to be exercised, as sundry contenders seem to have almost an equal chance with those named.

AT UNION TRACK.

The track at Union to-day will be nearly fast. The sandy clay dries out fast, but it may be a little lumpy.

The fourth race will be the feature, the Cote Brilliante Handicap, at a mile and one-sixteenth. The Messenger looks good. With only 110 pounds he should gallop home. His last races have not been good, however, and he may be training off. But, with this weight, he looks plenty good enough to win.

Bad Penny should be second and W. B. Gates third. With only 85 pounds up, Red Light has a chance to be in the money. Lord Hermence merely galloped yesterday, but as it is well known that he cannot run in the mud, he may figure in the feature to-day on a dry track.

The fields are large in all of the seven races to-day. They average ten horses to a race.

The 2-year-olds in the first race to-day will go five-eighths. The event should be won by Arthur Stillwell. He is much better than his company, and, with seniceat up, should have no trouble in shaking off Brown Study, who looks to be the only contender. Midnight Minstrel should get the short end of the purse.

Virgie d'Or has had about enough races to be fit and ready to-day. She should win the third race. False, with a good boy up, has a smart chance and should be as good as second. Little Pirate has the call for third place.

Several horses are entered in the third race that will likely be scratched for the handicap. The Don, with top weight, should win. Yesterday he showed his dislike of a muddy track. If the going is good to-day The Don should win. Pronta will be second and Yo San third. Don Alvaro may be ready and surprise them all.

Tiomaine is the natural selection to win the fifth race. She ran a bang-up race her last out. A Convict is the only one she seems to have to beat. Anzeiger may brace up a bit and at least get into the money.

With only 101 pounds, and every horse in the race giving him weight, T. G. Scarborough looks the winner of the sixth event. Budweiser's last race was a good one and shows that he is in form. He looks the best for second place and Erbe third. The latter has not been out in several weeks, but may be good enough to win.

Neko will be the favorite and should be the winner of the seventh race. Sabinal will be the contender and Henry Luehrmann, Jr., should get the show money.

CREOLIN WINS THE STEEPLECHASE.

Only Two Favorites Land First at Hawthorne.

Chicago, July 20.—Clifton Forge and Creolin were the winning favorites at Hawthorne to-day. First money in the other four events went to second choices. Weather clear and cool; track good.
