HILEE TO REPEAT IN FEATURE RACE

Elliott Gelding Looks Best in the Six-Furlong Handicap Despite Weight.

OTTO STIFEL IS DANGEROUS.

Schreiber Colt and Commodore Should Fight Out the Battle for Place—Red Leaf Has Good Chance.

On the question of whether the venerable Hilee can run as well with 116 pounds to-day as he did with 106 last Saturday will hinge his chances in the Fair Grounds feature of this afternoon.

On his form of this year, there is nothing to go by save his race of Saturday. His previous outs were run when he was not in the best of condition and when his owner and trainer, W. W. Elliott, was laid up temporarily. Now, he seems to have been worked back into first-class shape.

Troxler is to ride him this afternoon and this boy is credited with ability to get more out of the gelding than any other jockey, who has yet had the mount on him. The ten pounds he picks up will prove a handicap in the high-class field he opposes to-day. But it does not seem as if it puts him behind his contenders.

To revert to his form of last season, the old gelding's races under high weight must be recalled. At Kinloch, he picked up more weight than he is carrying to-day, bore it for a mile and seventy yards and won with it. He is in far better company to-day, it is true. But on several occasions last season he handled weight in a manner to indicate that he can pack his impost of to-day to victory.

Commodore, Rebo, Otto Stifel, Folies Bergeres, Operator—how can one pick the place horses with any degree of authority from this field? Each and every one must be conceded a chance. The event is a typical Maginn problem of the most intricate variety.

REBO HAS THE SPEED.

Rebo will have the speed, doubtless. This may hurt Hilee's chances if the old gelding has reverted to his former habit of preferring to run in front, a habit of which he seemed broken at one stage of last year. But Hilee is just as apt to sicken Rebo of the early pace and the weight is more apt to tell on the Mulkey entry than on the Elliott gelding.

Operator has not run on tracks to his liking in his last outs. Yet he seems a bit out of it in this event. Otto Stifel and Commodore seem to be the dangerous contenders here. Stifel has a terrific flight of speed, himself, and with a strong boy up to-day, which his weight makes possible, cannot be ranked as other than a contender. It seems as if Commodore, with 103 pounds, must be conceded the better chance, however.

Even with the high weight set for the leading contenders, it seems as if great time can be looked for if a fast track prevails. That the distance will be run below the 1:14 mark, if the track is fast, seems almost certain. It ought to be a high-class race throughout.

The third race seems to have a fairly good betting proposition in the shape of Red Leaf. The Straus filly figures better than Woodlands, even counting the Schreiber youngster's great race on a fast track in the Homebred Stake. So it looks as if the contest should result Red Leaf, Woodlands, Dameron.

BUCCANEER MAY REPEAT.

Buccaneer may repeat the victory he scored on his solitary local out. Fenian seems his most dangerous competitor in the second race, and St. Agnes looks well for show position.

In the opening event, Lelia Hunter should come first. If she is ever to win, she should do it now. This may seem rather a slender basis on which to pick a winner, but it is about the best that can be offered in the field. Lady Lou and Matera look next best.

The last two races should afford good betting propositions, although Elie seems to have the fifth event won from Pretension right now. At equal weights, the Ezell gelding should beat the Civill colt. Light Opera looks well enough for show. Second Mate has been running good races over all kinds of tracks and should win the last event. Mindora and Tony Lepping seem the contenders in the order named.

OLD STONE WINS A HANDY VICTORY

Mattingley Colt Beats Lady Strathmore and The Regent in the Fair Grounds Feature.

That Old Stone can register fast miles on a pasteboard track as well as win races in slow going was proven at the Fair Grounds yesterday when the Mattingley colt beat a fair-class field of handicap horses over a mile of ground, running the distance in 1:41¼.

Though not a runaway race by any means, Old Stone was in front from start to finish. Taking the lead when the gate went up, outrunning Lady Strathmore and The Regent in the first three-quarters and holding on gamely enough in the final furlong to withstand the challenge made by the Hayes mare, he crossed the line a fairly handy victor.

The Regent got off a trifle bad and showed none of the speed he displayed Saturday. He did not make up an inch of ground in the course of the race, but hung on behind Strathmore, who, in turn, trailed Old Stone for the first six furlongs. Then Austin sent Strathmore forward and endeavored to catch the leader.

Little Howell had the mount on Old Stone and he became vastly excited when Austin commenced to put up a strenuous sort of finish on the Hayes mare. Howell evidently believed something of the same sort was required from him and he fairly rolled all over the colt's back, lacing him with the whip, meanwhile. Though apparently surprised at this treatment, Old Stone kept on about his business and won nicely enough.

As the race was run, Old Stone was best and probably had something in reserve at the finish. Lady Strathmore seems to be getting back into trim, and will bear watching later on.

Argosy, from the Hayes stable, put a purse to her owner's credit in the fifth event, a sprint for 2-year-olds. The youngster was favorite in the betting and had no trouble disposing of her field. Picture Hat, whose early speed enabled her to make up considerable ground after getting off badly, was never a factor. Franco and Garrett Wilson finishing behind the winner in the order named.

Elie was many pounds the best in the last event, and proved the fact after getting almost knocked out of it on the first turn. Conundrum started off with Doctor Koer to make the early pace, only to be passed by Flyer, who went around his field in rapid style and straightened out for home with a couple of lengths advantage. Then Elie, who had gradually worked his way around the field, came strongly enough to get first money.

The opening race was a four and one-half-furlongs scramble for 2-year-olds and resulted in a victory for Dave Stahl, who stood a drive fairly gamely and won by a head from Alice Platt. Anadorco, the brother to Taby Tom, commenced a bit slowly, but ran a creditable enough race, getting show money.

Potter proved the surprise in the second event. The Gardner colt has generally been supposed to have predilections for heavy going, rather than for a fast track, and his price was unduly high, in consequence. He won rather neatly. Tristan Shandy was favorite, but presumably does not favor a hard track.

Pourquoi Pas won the third event after coming from third position in the last furlong. Buccleuth ran a fair sort of race and showed the way around the track until a furlong from home.

AMERICANO BEATS CLIFTON FORGE.

Cuts Off Favorite at the Rail in Garden City Handicap.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Americano, an added starter, won the Garden City Handicap, the feature of the opening of the Harlem summer meeting to-day. Clifton Forge, the favorite, was second and Gypzene, the extreme outsider, third. The stake had a gross value of $5,775.

It was a desperate finish between the first two, only a nose separating them. Americano had Clifton Forge pinned in on the rail, all through the final eighth, preventing the favorite from getting through.

LORD OF THE VALE AN EASY WINNER

August Belmont's Colt Beats Waterboy's Record in the Saratoga Handicap.

MILE AND QUARTER IN 2:05.

James R. Keene Shows a Speed Marvel in Sysonby, Winner of the Flash Stakes—Horsemen Amazed.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 1.—August Belmont's Hastings colt, Lord of the Vale, came home winner in the Saratoga Handicap here to-day, and as he flashed under the wire 12,000 persons cheered themselves hoarse.

The handicap was the feature event at the opening day of the race season of 1904 at the Saratoga track. The weather was warm, but thousands went to the famous course to witness an unusually fine card.

The handicap is the first big race Mr. Belmont has won this season and the big throng of society and clubhouse folk showed their appreciation accordingly.

The mile and a quarter, the distance of the handicap, was covered by Lord of the Vale in 2:05, which equals the track record for this distance, and beats Waterboy's time made last year in the same event by three-fifths of a second.

SHOWED PACE ALL THE WAY.

Mr. Belmont's 4-year-old went to the front at the start and showed the pace to the finish. A length and a half separated the Hastings colt from E. R. Bradley's Bad News at the finish. Hermis and Waterboy had been withdrawn.

The Picket ruled favorite in the betting, having 9 to 5 chalked against him when the field went to the post, but was beaten out of third money by Caughnawaga by a neck.
