MANY BANKERS IN NEW YORK FOR THE ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Walker Hill and Festus J. Wade of St. Louis Among Those to Attend Preliminary Conferences.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Sept. 12.—Several cars filled with bankers from all parts of the United States reached this city to-day. The purpose of the bankers is to attend the preliminary conferences of the American Bankers' Association, which is to hold its annual convention in this city Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Most of the large banks in the Wall street district were visited by the delegates to-day, and several institutions displayed large placards welcoming the visitors to certain rooms set aside for their special use.

Arrangements were made by six or seven banks to give dinners and luncheons for their friends. One bank set aside $10,000 for the entertainment of guests, and three or four more are expected to spend from $2,000 to $2,500 each. The banks that arranged these entertainments were careful not to give out the details in advance, so as to prevent their competitors from knowing just what they had in mind.

The local committees, representing the different sections of the association membership, were busy all day answering telegrams and arranging for the comfort of the delegates. All the large uptown hotels have their best rooms given over to the entertainment of the delegates, who, with their friends, are expected to aggregate between 3,000 and 4,000 visitors.

Among the prominent bankers registered to-day were: Walker Hill of St. Louis, Festus J. Wade of St. Louis, C. A. Fletcher of Indianapolis, J. A. Lombart of Milwaukee, J. A. H. Carson of Savannah, Ga., Ralph Van Vechten of Cedar Rapids and William A. Lane of Savannah.

The bankers' committee received word to-day that four special trains over the Lake Shore, the Wabash, the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, and the the Missouri Pacific Railroad, were on the way here and would arrive some time to-morrow.

ROENTGEN RAY SOCIETY ELECTS NEW OFFICERS.

Doctor Charles L. Leonard of Philadelphia Is Chosen President by the Delegates.

The American Roentgen Ray Society, in the third day session at the Louisiana building, No. 311 Vandeventer avenue, yesterday morning after hearing papers and discussions elected the following officers:

President, Doctor Charles Lester Leonard of Philadelphia; vice presidents, Doctors Weston A. Price, Cleveland, O., Henry Hulst, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Gordon G. Burdick, Chicago, Ill.; secretary, Doctor Russell H. Boggs, of Pittsburg, Pa.; treasurer, Doctor Levitt E. Custer, Dayton, O.

Yesterday's programme included the reading of the following papers and discussions: "Carcinoma of the Breast," by

F. W. L. PEEBLES, E. E.
Who will read a paper on plate development before the American Roentgen Ray Society this morning.

Doctor Charles L. Leonard, Philadelphia, Pa.; "Variations of Radiotherapeutic Technic," by Doctor Russell H. Boggs, Pittsburg, Pa.; "Summaries of Other Cases," by Doctors Johnston, Leonard, Smith, Scott, Burdick, Boggs, Johnson, Dunham, Morton, Kassabian, Pfaler and Williams; general discussion by members; discussion closed by readers of papers; "An Improved Wehnelt Interrupter," by Doctor Henry Hulst, Grand Rapids, Mich.

These papers involved the technic, manner and method of using the Roentgen ray in the treatment of certain forms of cancer. Doctor Mihran K. Kassabian illustrated his discussion with a series of views projected on a screen.

Doctor C. L. Leonard introduced H. E. Snook, E. E., the inventor of the first practical milliampere meter. This instrument is the only one of its kind that will accurately measure the current electricity which flows through the secondary coil to the Roentgen bulb. Heretofore the current was measured in the primary and the secondary current computed from the readings, which is an unsatisfactory method, as the degree of accuracy thus obtained rarely exceeds 30 per cent.

The instrument involves the Carpenter principle of hot-wire ammeters. In its connection with the current-flow through the X-ray bulb, it will put operators in possession of more accurate determinations of results than have ever before been obtained.

Among the interesting numbers on this morning's programme will be a paper by F. W. L. Peebles of St. Louis on "Radiograph Plate Development." Mr. Peebles conducts all of the Roentgen-ray experiments and the treatment of cases by the use of the ray at the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, the Missouri Pacific Hospital, and also for several prominent St. Louis physicians. He is the only scientist in his profession in St. Louis and one of four in the United States.

To-day's session will end the convention. The Executive Committee will publish the place of the next annual meeting at a later date.

HEART OF CITY WIPED OUT.

Seven Business Blocks Burned at Idaho Falls.

Idaho Falls, Idaho, Sept. 12.—Almost every business block in this city was wiped out by a fire that started in the Butte Cafe and burned seven hours. The loss will reach $300,000, with small insurance.

Fanned by a wind that blew with almost hurricane velocity, the fire swept down Broadway, the principal business street, destroying every building for nearly seven blocks. The Fire Department was utterly helpless, and the fire burned itself out.

The fire was confined to the district, no residences being destroyed. Preparations are already under way for clearing the ruins and rebuilding. Among the heavy losers are the Consolidated Wagon and Machine Company, $85,000; Goltman Lumber Company, $40,000, and O. K. Wilbur, clothing, $10,000.
