LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

Native Supply Liberal—Beef Cattle Easy—Sheep Close Lower.

NATIVE CATTLE—Beef Steers—When reports this morning showed that 8,000 cattle were in sight the selling side was ill at ease, and as it happened that this was the first excessively large run since last Sept., they were all predicting a sharply lower market, some looking to see a decided break in values.

The opening was slow, both sides sparring for advantages, with buyers having the best of it. However, the bids at this time in no place were more than 10@15c lower, though there were a considerable number that had received no bids.

Later developments were better, buyers seemed more eager to purchase, and a fairly active trade prevailed, sellers were inclined to accept the lower ranges, and business was more than fairly lower, and this decline was more prominent on the half-fat steers, of which quite a few were available, the whole thing giving the good to choice cattle were reported irregular, that is, cattle selling from $5.40 and up, and, while some called them 10@15c lower, other sellers claimed they were steady, if not nearly so, while buyers were calling only half-fat and common lots lower.

Toward the close several lots remained unsold, as buyers were pretty well filled, and bids were not very satisfactory.

Butcher Cattle—There were plenty of heifers to meet the requirements of the trade today, still buyers were free takers at a general decline of 10@15c, but some of the common and medium kinds sagging lower than the latter end of last week, 10@15c lower.

Good cows were in light supply, and sold fully steady, though some late sales were a little lower. Medium cows sold mostly 10@15c lower, canners and cutters stock moving about steady.
