TABY TOSA MAY WIN THE HANDICAP; THE DON SHOULD PROVE VICTORIOUS

Burnett's Gray Gelding Seems to Have Found Spot Wherein He Will Be Able to to Score Over King Ellsworth.

Daniel Brothers' Entry Should Come Home in the Lead in Feature Race at the New Course.

On the showing of Delaughter in the fourth event at the Fair Grounds today will rest his chances for the St. Louis Derby of Saturday, to a great extent. Yet, despite the favorable outcome for the Los Schwarzwald in the big brother of Saturday, it appears as if at least two contenders should lead him home today.

One of these is the mare Taby Tosa, the little gelding who has run many good races in his best career and who appears to be the strongest candidate in to-day's feature, even if his record of this season has been below his mark of previous years.

Mightily weighted with the weight to his favor, and with a small field to oppose, where he will have less chance of being bumped on the first turn, the prospect for the honest entry is made good on many an occasion, which has chances looked bright, even to a big field, he has been bumped out of the circle in the inevitable crowding at the clubhouse turn. With a small field and a clear course if he would be able to get early into his stride, and then to come with a strong run down the stretch.

Nevertheless, it would seem that Taby Tosa, with the weight, should be a strong contender. Dawson is here at this game, and on the flat is much better than his field, and the only question that remains for him to answer is if he can take the jumps. If he negotiates the obstacles successfully he will take the prize. Jim Bowman won so with the other day that he should be well looked, although he picks up some pound. Jack Atwood should beat the other and be in the money. If Dumont is beat at any long odds he might be a good bet to-day.

The feature will open with a race at a mile and a quarter for 3-year-olds and up. The contenders are all unofficial lot. With the large pull that Ben Stark has in the weights he probably will win. Washington has a good chance to win the money if he can somehow into the lead, and Compass should be third. Dunmore ran good race yesterday, but he like the mud and cannot be labored in this money.

Twenty-one will struggle in the second race at five furlongs. Seven of them are dried to start, but there will double the same stakes. Dunmore Maiden would win. There is a legend among horse owners that 2-year-olds are indifferent to weight, and for that reason the four and one-half pounds which is given to Jack Gardner Davis ran in was yesterday with more weight up in most of his previous starts. He is well handicapped and he may run home.

A field of 14 is carded to face the barrier in the third event. Blumenthal will be ridden by H. Anderson, and as this boy is one best expert rider at the track, the horse will be a favorite at the hot. Mr. Kern, probably will be the combination. Blumenthal is also a contender in the Derby. He is also offered in this race, but he is up against better class than he was with yesterday.

Six furlongs is also at a mile and a quarter, and it seems to be an open stop. The recent form Lee King should be Bonsack is in with a light pack. If she was good as she recently showed forward to be, she should take the honors and trouble for supremacy. Gold Enamel should be third and a soft track Dr. Dale would probably beat this.

The seventh event is a difficult proposition. Prosecutor has only ninety-two pounds, up, and if she is to win a race it is the most she should overcome. High Jinks should be second, and Patronette third.

ERBE AGAIN IN CONDITION WINS FEATURE AT UNION.

Daniels Brothers' Chestnut Gelding Shows the Way to St. Resolute and Brooklyn.

The Daniels Bros' good chestnut gelding Erbe won the feature race at Union yesterday afternoon after a brisk rush down the stretch. Erbe avoided the early pace in this race and waited on St. Resolute until it latter tired, then Erbe shot to the top like a thunderbolt and won. It was an honest upset effort that the brave gelding made. He made good his challenge to St. Resolute, who fought it to the last home. St. Resolute beaten long enough to be second. Brooklyn lasted long enough to be third.

Laura Hunter, well ridden by Goodbilled, is a bright bay in the saddle, won the opening event at six furlongs. Laura Hunter ran well but hustled along early, made up a world of ground on the backstretch and led the run home and held in the last thirty yards and lasted long enough to beat Onyx Lad.

John H. Kirby was just beaten a none the place. This race afforded a brilliant finish.

Don proved the mortal clinch that appeared in the second race. He was in the pocket and lowered the track record for seven furlongs. Gov. Davis ran home second with more weight up than any other horse. Gov. Davis has no weight up. Dunmore Maiden was third. Dunmore ran good race yesterday and is well handicapped for today's race. Heron was handily weighted and she may run in the money.

A field of 14 is carded to face the barrier in the third event. Blumenthal will be ridden by H. Anderson, and as this boy is one best expert rider at the track, the horse will be a favorite at the hot. Mr. Kern, probably will be the combination. Blumenthal is also a contender in the Derby. He is also offered in this race, but he is up against better class than he was with yesterday.
