MME. YALE'S HAIR TONIC

For Children and Adults

ANTISEPTIC AND HYGIENIC

A Hair Invigorator—Just what its name implies. It supplies nourishment, the elements of growth, which, when absorbed by the hair, strengthens and beautifies it in the same way that sap glorifies the foliage of a tree. Even when the follicles are seemingly dead, if the scalp is massaged daily with Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic a vigorous growth will be produced. It has honestly earned its title of "the great hair grower." It stimulates the most stunted growth and makes the hair magnificently healthy and beautiful.

Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic is prized equally by men and women particularly when the hair begins to weaken or fade. Cures baldness, gravices, splitting of the hair, dandruff and all diseases of the hair, scalp and beard. One application stops hair falling. A nursery requisite, no mother should neglect to use it for her boys and girls. When the hair is made strong in childhood it remains proof against diseases and retains its vigor and youthfulness throughout life.

Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic is a colorless, fragrant, delightful hair dressing, neither sticky, gritty nor greasy, makes the hair soft, fluffy and glossy. Contains no artificial coloring, would not soil the whitest hair; restores original color by invigorating the scalp and re-establishing normal circulation and proper distribution of the live coloring matter. Beautiful hair redeems the plainest countenance, and anyone can secure it by using Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic. Now in two sizes. $1.00 size for 75c, 50c size for 38c.

SHE ATTEMPTED SUICIDE ON BELOVED SON'S GRAVE.

Lowell Woman Spends Night Weeping for Dead Boy and Then Takes Laudanum.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Lowell, Mass., June 24.—On the grave of her son, with her arms clasped around the headstone, Mrs. Anne McGowan was found dying from the effects of laudanum poisoning.

She pleaded that she be allowed to die when she recovered consciousness at the hospital.

It was dark when Mrs. McGowan went to the cemetery. She was not noticed by the keepers. She made her way to the grave of her son, where she spent the night in weeping, and in the early hours of the morning she took the laudanum.

Not until some hours later was she found there. To the grave of her son came the ambulance from the hospital and the mother was carried away.

"I want to join my boy," she said, when she recovered her senses.

The physicians say that Mrs. McGowan cannot recover. She is fifty-five years of age and was dependent upon the son, who recently died, for her support.

SANDBAGGED RICH MERCHANT.

Victim Found Wandering Aimlessly About by Policeman.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, June 24.—William Walton, a wealthy merchant of Eighth avenue and Fifty-first street, was sandbagged and robbed near Fort George, while on his way home. He was found by a policeman wandering aimlessly about, and when taken to the J. Hood Wright Hospital he said he was struck from behind by a blow on the back of his head.

He remembered nothing more until he found himself lying on the ground, robbed. His diamond scarpin had been wrenched from its place, his fine gold watch and chain had been taken, as well as $75 in cash he carried in his trousers' pockets.

After he had recovered sufficient strength to arise, Mr. Walton said he had tried to find his way to a settled district, but being blinded, could only wander about aimlessly.

At the hospital Doctor Dwinling, the surgeon, said Mr. Walton had received a severe blow in the back of the head (only the form of his hat saved him from a fractured skull or concussion of the brain. It was necessary to put six stitches in his scalp.

The district in which the robbery occurred is lonely and unfrequented. It has been the scene of several highway robberies, and the police work at a disadvantage because of the many routes by which the highwaymen can escape.

BORE LOVE LETTERS IN SATIN.

Contracting Couple Knelt Upon Missive After Ceremony.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Lynchburg, Va., June 24.—When Miss Bessie Lietch Wyatt and John W. Jenks were married in Floyd Street Presbyterian Church they introduced a distinct innovation. All the letters written by the pair during their courtship were borne up the aisle before them by a small boy and girl.

The letters were incased in two white satin pillows, the size of which indicated the epistolatory industry of the lovers during the wooing.

The little carriers were pretty well winded when they reached the floral altar and deposited their burdens in front of it. Upon these the pair knelt while receiving the blessing of the pastor, the Reverend J. A. McMurray. After the ceremony the pillows were placed in a position of honor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jenks. The bride's father has been principal of the Lynchburg High School for many years.

SUMMER RESORTS AND THEIR DOINGS

MASSACHUSETTS COAST.

Boston, June 24.—The North Shore summer season is now on in full blast. Cottagers have arrived in large numbers all the week, and now practically all the houses are opened. The social life is becoming more on a par with midseason, and the week-end feature of the score itself, which usually predominates in the early season, is fast giving way to social activities and smart functions as daily routine.

Among the early Magnolia arrivals are the Claude Kilpatricks of St. Louis, who are now occupying their palatial cottage. Mr. Kilpatrick has brought his stable of handsome horses, and his turnouts are among the finest on the shore.

The Misses Kilpatrick are well known by the summer contingent, and are universal favorites.

Mrs. Clay Arthur Pierce of St. Louis is already at her Pride's Crossing villa for the summer. Neither the Henry Clay Pierces nor the Eben C. Richardsons will come to the shore this season, both having decided to go abroad. This will be a matter of much regret among the large circle of friends of Miss Violet Pierce, as she was one of the most popular of the younger set.

NEWPORT.

Newport, R. I., June 24.—Tradesmen are in the doldrums on account of the action of the tax assessors, who have unmercifully scrubbed the rich people, who support the place as a summer resort. In many cases legal redress has been sought by the millionaire cottagers.

In contrast thus far 178 leading cottagers have ordered their meats, fish, vegetables etc., sent from New York markets in bed boxes.

The cottagers have engaged a society woman who knows vastly better days to be their agent in New York and who is to visit the markets and buy the stuff for Newport cottagers. She is paid $30 a month and is not allowed to accept a commission.

Miss Emily Wickham and Miss Nellie Wickham of St. Louis have arrived at their cottage on Shoreby Hill, Jamestown, for the summer.

Lord and Lady Cheylesmere are coming to add to the circle of distinguished people who are to summer at Newport. They will arrive July 1 to visit Mrs. Francis C. French. Lady Cheylesmere's mother is at Harbourview. It is their plan to also visit Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, the latter Lady Cheylesmere's sister, at Oakland.

Though almost every year since their marriage Lord and Lady Cheylesmere have expected to visit Newport for a season, it was not until this year that the arrangements could be made. Many entertainments will be given for them.

Walker E. Hodges, purchasing agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway, is the guest of Grant P. Taylor, his brother-in-law, in this city.

NARRAGANSETT.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., June 24.—There is already plenty of gaiety at Narragansett Pier, and the hotels are rapidly filling up.

Justice White of the Supreme Court of the United States, whose family arrived from Washington on Saturday, will be the dean of the bench coterie here, while Judge F. D. Hobson of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, whose family has also arrived, will be one of its most notable members. Judge White has Needwood, a very attractive villa, and Judge Hobson is located at Kirkler, one of the prettiest places at the Pier.

There is to be a new electric line to Point Judith this summer.

The bathing-houses are now all open, and great crowds flock to the beach during the hour for the dip.

WEQUETONSING.

It has been many years since the prospects at this time in the season promised so fair for a prosperous and enjoyable season at Wequetonsing. In fact, Wequetonsing leads all its sister resorts this year, especially as to the number of St. Louis people. For twenty-five years the Wequetonsing Resort Association has numbered among its members many of the leading people of the Southwest, and its popularity has grown with the years.

A large company came up yesterday on a through train over the Pere Marquette, and after breakfast at the Hotel Wequetonsing scattered to the cottages which had been prepared for them by efficient care-takers. Among the number were Mrs. C. L. and Miss Judith Hodgzelle, who will spend the summer at West Wequetonsing; A. L. Prewitt, Mrs. T. F. Prewitt and Miss D. P. Pillot, who have opened their cottages at West Wequetonsing; and Mmes. K. M. Howard and C. B. Robb.

Miss Clara H. Leete arrived to-day, a few weeks in advance of the rest of the family.

Mrs. J. C. Orwick and Miss Florence Orwick arrived to-day and are guests here for the season.

Mmes. J. N. Dixon, W. W. Matheny and Noah M. Dixon have arrived with their maids and opened their cottages for the season.

The golf grounds have been greatly improved this year and are in most excellent condition.

Several fine new boats have been put on the course, and the outlook for lively times on the water is the brightest for years.

Mrs. George Blackman and Miss Caroline Blackman are among the earliest arrivals this year.

Mrs. George B. Spear, accompanied by Miss Gladys and Masters Jean and Jim, are at the clubhouse for a short time preparatory to opening their cottage.

PETOSKEY.

Petoskey, Mich., June 22.—Petoskey and her summer suburb, Bay View, are in gala attire ready for the reception of the summer visitors, whose contributions to the local exchequer is the chief source of wealth and local prosperity. All the big hotels are concluding their final "fixing up" for the season. The Arlington, as usual, is taking the lead and its advance engagements are the most promising. As soon as the city has settled down Mr. Harold O. Henderson, late of the Chicago Beach, formerly of St. Louis, has taken the big Imperial, which has remained closed the past two seasons, and has thoroughly renovated it, and will make it the social leader of it once was. This means the revival of the Jim Lewis Fishing Club, that picturesque association of St. Louis story-tellers which has been homeless for the past few years. John P. Sturm, the St. Louis real estate man, who is perpetual president of the club, will be here in a few days with all his numerous following to plan their raids on the tiny inhabitants of the waters of Crooked Lake. One of the greatest attractions Petoskey has ever offered to summer visitors will be the Indian play of "Hiawatha," which will be given from July 4 to September 4 at Round Lake. Yaway-ma-sa-ta, three miles northeast of the city on the suburban line. This outdoor play with seventy real Indian characters has been given for years at Desbarats, Ontario, and has attracted large numbers of tourists to that out-of-the-way place near the Canadian Soo. Last year the management decided on a change of location and after very active efforts Petoskey succeeded in landing it.

Mr. T. H. Rockwood and family are the first St. Louisans here this year.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Healy are also here. The Misses Gertrude and Nettie Scarborough have come on in advance of the family and have taken a cottage at Bay View.

CHARLEVOIX.

Charlevoix, Mich., June 23.—"Charlevoix the Beautiful" holds an enviable place among North Michigan resorts. Lying between Lake Michigan on the outside and Pine Lake, a beautiful sheet of inland water, it is always swept by cool breezes, tempered by the high bluffs, which rise terrace upon terrace on each side of Pine River, the outlet of Pine Lake. To the northwest are located the Chicago Club resort and Lindsay Park, in which Storm & Parson, the St. Louis real estate men, are heavily interested. On the southwest, touching both Pine and Round lakes, is the Belvedere resort, the summer home of the St. Louis colony.

Only a single family has arrived at the Chicago Club, the family of John P. Wilson, the Chicago lawyer. On the St. Louis side, however, there have been numerous arrivals and there is apparent an activity far in advance of that usual at this season of the year. William H. Miller, the superintendent of the resort for the past eleven years, and Landlord Foley of the Belvedere, are busy looking after improvements and attending to the wants of the early arrivals.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Burkam are pleasantly located in their cottage on Round Lake. They are accompanied by Miss Mary Burkam, their daughter, and by R. G. Burkam Jr., known to his St. Louis friends as "Toad." Robert Burkam, who graduated last week from the Washington Law School, will join his parents this week and spend the summer here.

George J. Charlton of the Chicago and Alton Railroad is building a new cottage near the Belvedere.

Doctor Charles is making extensive repairs in his cottage and will be joined by his family next week.

H. P. Edwards and family are occupying the Hearn cottage on Promontory Point.

Louis Rosenbaum and family arrived this week and are occupying their fine new cottage on the terrace.

Mrs. L. J. Heaton and Miss Heaton are also here for the season.

S. M. Crisy and family are expected to-morrow to spend the season.

Mrs. George Von Weise, who spent last summer at the Belvedere, has arrived with her family and have taken a cottage for the season. Mr. Von Weise will join the family later.

Mrs. Nicholas H. Wall, who is always an early comer to Charlevoix, arrived a few days ago with the young people to spend the season here.

Other cottagers already here are James I. Dissette, A. C. Clement, Judge J. R. Haven and Mmes. F. V. Privis and J. M. Travis.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Steiner of St. Louis are at the Elston for a few weeks pending the completion of their cottage on the second terrace.

MACKINAC.

Mackinac Island, June 21.—For fifty years Mackinac Island has been the mecca of pleasure seekers, and has been known as the summer home of more distinguished people than any other resort in the Northwest. Vice President Fairbanks has a summer cottage here on the broad bluff overlooking the straits, where he and Mrs. Fairbanks spend as much of the summer time as he is able to spare from the demands of public life. They are expected here next week for a short stay, and after the Vice President has filled a few speaking engagements he will return here for the season.

Michael Cudahy, the Omaha packer and millionaire, is completing a new home at the East End. His cottage will contain twenty-five guest chambers, and magnificent ballroom, parlors and reception rooms. Situated on a plat of twenty-two acres, it will be a model country home. Ample stables will accommodate his carriage and riding horses; flower and vegetable gardens of generous dimensions are laid out, and cows and poultry are all provided for in the general plan of the grounds, which are the most extensive on the island.

The home of the Reverend J. Meade Williams of St. Louis is being opened this week in preparation for the coming of the family, which will arrive in a few days. Mr. Williams is known as the "historian of Mackinac Island," on account of the deep study he has made of the history and traditions of the island, and on account of the books and pamphlets he has written on the subject.

Mr. A. F. Nagel and family have occupied their cottage on the west boulevard, where they have already spent fourteen seasons.

A large force of decorators and employes under the direction of Henry Weaver of the Platters is at work preparing the Grand Hotel for opening, which will occur one week from to-morrow.

E. D. Walden of Elgin, Ill., arrived with his family to-day to open his cottage on the bluff.

S. A. Cilley and family of Jefferson City, Mo., have taken the Fisher cottage for the season. The Fishers are traveling in Europe this summer.

Judge Batton of Omaha and Doctor Hugh Patrick of Kansas City, with their families, arrived this week and are occupying their cottages at the West End.

The Manitou will reach the island tomorrow from Chicago, and it is expected that it will bring a large number of St. Louis people.

MANITOU.

Manitou, Colo., June 23.—The cool weather of the past week has somewhat retarded the influx of tourists, but has not a horseback riding and vigorous outdoor sports an endless delight. An unusual number of brides and grooms are spending their honeymoons in Manitou and relishing the hearts of the hack drivers by taking countless long rides to no-where-in-particular, with the result that the horses are put over the same easy drives time and again without the fact being discovered by the happy ones in their blissful absorption.
