NET ADVANCE RESULTS FROM ERRATIC TRADING.

EXTRA HOLIDAY UNSETTLES MARKET.

General Run of Weather and Crop News Favors the Selling Side.

Conflicting foreign news and the approach of two holidays had an unsettling effect in Saturday's local wheat market. There was some selling at the opening, but the professionals saw a good chance to scalp and they took advantage of the early decline to work an advance on which later they realized fairly good profits. Only a portion of the initial gain was wiped out and the market closed with a moderate advance.

Corn was dull and featureless. July closed easy and Sept. barely steady.

Wool.

New York, July 1.—Wool steady; domestic fleece 29@36c.

London, July 1.—The arrivals of wool for the fortnight ending at the close of auction sales amount to 4,425 bales, including 4,000 forwarded direct to spinners. The imports this week were: Victoria 112, New Zealand 3,345, Cape of Good Hope and Natal 2,972, Brenos 642, various 1,940. The fourth series will be opened on Tuesday, July 4. During the first five days 19,000 bales will be offered.

San Angelo, Tex., July 2.—The local wool market was again active yesterday. A sale of about 100,000 lbs. being recorded, although of mixed quality, over 100 per lb. was realized, only about 70,000 lbs. remain unsold in local warehouses.

LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

Native Supply Moderate—Beef Cattle Steady—Sheep Hold Firm.

NATIVE CATTLE—There were 300 cattle reported all for the quarantine side. No natives were available whatever outside of a few odd head of holdovers, on which no attempt was made to transact business. The Friday basis was the actual close of the week.

Quarantine receipts embraced 399 head, besides a load of common Mississippi mixed carried over from yesterday. Four loads of good 1,060-lb. grass steers sold at $3.85 and 6 cars of fair at $3.65. A few fair to good cows sold at $2.15@2.75 and fairly good heavy calves at $5.50@6.

The usual Saturday weakness prevailed and, while about steady for the time, were a trifle lower than yesterday.

Fair to good calves, per head	6.50@8.50
Choice veal calves	5.00@5.25

SHEEP—The supply was fair considering the lateness of the week and good sales of lambs were obtained for the several loads available. The estimate called for 10 head with little over 200 here, a load being back which would not arrive in time for the market.

Several bunches of good to choice lambs brought $5.50@5.75, calls at $5, with some good mutton and yearlings at $4.50@5, which was about the extent of the supply.

HOGS—The buying force was limited, about half of the packers being called off, while scarcely any Eastern demand prevailed and butchers took very few. This naturally took about half of the cutter away and the market was not near as active as it might have been. However, general conditions in all markets were firmer and owing to the fact that the supply was only fair, offerings sold strong to be higher.

The strength of the market was shown more on the fair to good kinds and while the common grades were not considered much better the general trend of the trade was stronger and most sales of all grades were as previously indicated.

A few good to choice heavies sold at $5.40@5.45, the top with most offerings; fair to good light and mixed medium weights at $5.40@5.45, while but few common pigs, lights
