REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Boston, Mass., July 19.—Victor Willis, the elongated slab artist of the Boston team received one fine bumping from Jimmy Burke's St. Louis Cardinals at the South End Baseball Grounds this afternoon, losing the game by a score of 7 to 4, chiefly on account of his erratic and ineffective pitching.

At the beginning of the contest, it looked like three straight for the home team, as the long enough for Delaware was pitching a rare article of ball and was doing his best to win the game and square himself for the phony work of Saturday, last, when he was sent to the stable.

As the game progressed his work grew poorer and in the sixth and seventh innings, several things happened that made Victor feel like a defrauded King, but gave to the Cardinals all they were pitching for, an even break.

Charles McFarland and the pitching staff for the visitors had worked hard from the start, his work improving as he went along, while the support he received from his teammates was very good, barring a couple of mistakes, which, however, did not occur at very critical stages.

When the game began the sun was shining brightly, but along toward the sixth inning clouds swept over the grounds and the bleacherites were obliged to seek shelter in the grand stand, as the rain fell heavily.

Umpire Hank O'Day called time and the players sat up in the grandstand for about a quarter of an hour, when old Sol again came out from behind the bank of clouds and Hank called "Play."

Lefthrow passed out some sawdust to "Vic" Willis and it was then that the officials got in their nasty work, as the home players found the sawdust passage as a piece of hard luck.

McBride and Shaw did some fine work in the infield for St. Louis, a running stop by the former being one of the star plays of the game. Arndt, as usual, covered plenty of ground in right, pulling down one drive that was a corker. Delehanty, Hatfs, Beaver and Cantrell did the best fielding for the locals. Batts, despite seven chances without an error, Morgan did the best work at the bat, getting three for one a double, while Cecil Shaw walked the ball for the Cardinals.

Boston was the first to score, Delehanty doubling to left field in the second inning and scoring on Cantrell's single.

St. Louis tied it up in the fifth inning, when Shaw, the first man up, reached first on Tenney's fumble, going to second on a hit to left field by McBride, reaching third on Burke's safe hit and scoring when Willis made a balk.

In the sixth two more were added, when Willis went to the air. Arndt walked, Stroot got hit and Beckley walked, the first two scoring on McBride's single to center.

The crash came in the seventh inning, when Grady walked, taking second when McFarland beat out an infield hit. Shannon fanned, but Arndt's single sent home Grady, advancing McFarland to third on a hit by Stroot. Arndt taking third from where he scored on a long fly to the outfield by Beckley. Then Shaw singled, scoring Stroot.

Boston made their second run in the sixth, when Tenny reached first on an error by McBride, advanced on a hit by Dolan and a sacrifice by Delehanty and scored when Cantrell was being rolled at first.

In the ninth the Tomahawks made a rally, scoring two more runs. Cantrell singled, going to third on McGann's double and coming home when Lefthrow was forced out at first. Hatfs singled, sending Moran home and then Burke rounded a drive from Tenney's bat. Dolan was cheered mightily by the fans, who rolled for a homer, but Danny Shaw took care of the Red disciples. The Cardinals have completed three of the eight games they have played here so far, and left the grounds comparatively happy.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Cairo, Ill., July 19.—At the meeting held at Henderson, Ky., yesterday and last night it was decided after much discussion, to drop Henderson and Hopkinsville from the K. I. T. League, as Henderson, owing to an indebtedness of more than $50, could not continue in the league.

An effort was made to secure the necessary funds from the citizens, but only a small amount was subscribed, and it was decided to dismiss Henderson.

The league will continue with Cairo, Paducah, Vincennes and Princeton as members, and as they are all considered good ball towns, the schedule will be extended to October 30.

Hopkinsville refuses to recognize the Henderson meeting and will sue the league for damages.

That tall Machiavelli of the diamond, Cornelius McGillicuddy of Philadelphia Athletic fame, gave to a handful of baseball fanatics who braved yesterday's heat a rare treat at Sportsman's Park. He worked his German comedians, Waddell and Schreck, against St. Louis. They won the game, 7 to 3.

The spectators were obliged to do a sizzling stunt of twenty minutes' wait before Waddell appeared. Reuben was not obliged to exert himself at any stage of the game. His fellows of the Wolverines found Jim Buchanan of the Browns rather to their fancy after the fourth inning. Waddell pitching up an alley is a treat in itself. The spectators enjoyed it hugely.

After the pelting Buchanan sustained in the fourth inning, pitching was a mere jest for Waddell. Twice he did find himself in somewhat of a tight place. Each time he extricated himself by clean, hard pitching.

He struck out Van Zant and Starr when the bases were full in the seventh inning. Again in the eighth session he fanned Buchanan when the sacks were loaded with anxious Brown legs, eager indeed to score. Waddell evidently thought that he had Stone struck out in the fifth inning. He manifested what looked like supreme disgust when Mr. O'Loughlin called balls on him, and made some sharp remarks to the umpire when Stone doubled. O'Loughlin took Reuben's peroration in good part.

Schreck, the footballplaying, scrimmage, ball-catching, wooden-shod German, caught a game that was faultless. Once Waddell twisted him on signals. The result was a passed ball. For the mistake Schreck called Waddell roundly.

Buchanan, for the Browns, did not pitch to his best form. Probably the fact that he was up against the real thing demoralized James. In any event the Philadelphia bunch hit when hits meant runs. The Brown pitcher was in doubt after the second inning.

On the other hand, Waddell was unhittable, yea, even unbeatable, when hits meant runs. The Browns, save Gleason, did not support Buchanan any too cleverly. "Snappy" accepted a trio of hard chances. Stone, too, batted in fine form. He was on bases thrice in four times at bat. His double over Hartzell's head in the fifth inning, after Waddell thought he had him fanned, was one of the bright spots of the game from a St. Louis standpoint.

Seybold, Waddell and Hoffman did the bulk of the hitting for the Athletics. Seybold smashed a terrific drive into the left-field bleachers in the second, scoring Cross in front of him on the home run. It was one of those "longest hits of the season," which occur every now and then.

Philadelphia secured its first run on Harry Davis's triple. Starr's fumble of Davis's infield hit. Starr for Davis's error. Hartzel tallied. In the second, Murphy got a base on balls, took second on Knight's tap to the infield, but was forced by Shreck. Waddell, however, came up with a single and scored the boy winner.

The next run came on Waddell's triple and Hoffman's single. Singles by Murphy, Seybold and Schreck scored Murphy in the succeeding inning.

The seventh session was murder for the Browns. Hoffman popped over Gleason's head, when the Kid was playing in for a hunt. Davis struck out trying to bunt. Lave Cross rapped a single over second. But Koehler's rattling return caught Hoffman trying for third. Then Seybold broke up the game with his home run to the bleachers.

St. Louis scored in the second. Wallace walked, took second on a passed ball, tallied on Koehler's and Jones's red on Jones's tap to Knight. In the fifth inning Jones singled and Gleason walked. Both went up a peg on Gleason's grounder to Murphy. Buchanan forced Jones at the plate, but Stone came up with a wallop to the left-field fence, which scored both runners.

The seventh boded trouble for Waddell. He gave to Gleason and Buchanan bases on balls. Stone drew a life on Knight's miscue. Tony filled the bases with one out. Waddell let the runner stay there. He fanned Van Zant and Starr.

After two were out in the eighth inning, Jones, Gleason and Stanley scratched out singles, but Waddell struck out Buchanan and ended the game.

AMERICANS WIN GREATEST POSSIBLE NUMBER OF POINTS

Larned and Wright Defeat Australasians in Last of Singles for Davis Tennis Cup.

London, July 19.—The only interest in the third day's play in the Dwight F. Davis international tennis cup competition was with regard to the possibility of the Americans gaining the maximum points against the Australasians, which they did, both W. A. Larned and B. C. Wright winning their matches.

Larned beat Norman E. Brookes, the Australasian champion, three sets to love, and Wright accounted for A. F. Wilding by two sets to love.

The Australasian players were not eager to play, as the American team had already won three points out of five, proving their right to meet the holders of the cup, but the rules made it necessary for the teams to play out the three days' programme. Wright and Wilding arranged to play the best two out of three sets, instead of the best three out of five, and Wright won.

The first set of the match between Larned and Brookes was one more of endurance than a display of brilliant tennis. After that the game was without feature, except for the regularity with which each won his service. The American won. The second set fell easily to Larned, Brookes showing signs of fatigue. Larned took matters easily in the third set, and won without effort.

The American team has improved wonderfully since arriving here, and has established beyond doubt its right to challenge for the cup. The Americans have not selected the team for the challenge round, which will be played at Wimbledon, July 21, July 22 and July 24, but it is probable that Ward and Wright will play in the doubles, and Clothier and Larned in the singles.

After the match the American team will return direct to the United States to take part in the championships there. They are trying to persuade the Doherty brothers to accompany them.

WADDELL WINS GAME BY LAMP LIGHT

Eccentric Twirler of Athletics Outpitches Howell of Browns in Contest Played Under Indoor Baseball Rules.

More than 7000 persons saw "Rube" Waddell win his second game of the day at League Park last night. St. Louis's club of the Sodality League were easy for the weird delivery of the massive indoor baseball wielded by the eccentric twirler.

Women and girls crowded about the diamond, laughing and cheering Waddell on to victory. He was in his glory, answering the smiles of the fair ones with renewed efforts to win the contest and covering the infield at times.

Five innings were played, Connie Mack's great gunner being batted rather freely by the Sodality club in the first inning. After the second round "Rube" settled down and shut out his opponents. Harry Howell's luck changed. His chimneys went up in the air and enabled "Rube" a bunch to put four runs across the plate.

Schreck caught his second game of the day and distinguished himself at bat by whacking out a two-base hit. Snyder caught his first game of the indoor kind and the veteran liked the frolic so well that he proposed to adopt the scheme to keep in practice in the winter time.

Players used the regulation indoor baseball, which is four times as large as an ordinary baseball and soft, none of the players using a glove. The bats are the ordinary variety. The diamond was contracted to one-half the regulation size and the straight indoor baseball rules prevailed.

The field was well lighted with a series of gasoline lamps suspended from iron poles along the base lines back of the infield and outside the fielders. A big cluster of these lamps near the home plate provided light for the battery work.

The contest was extremely amusing. Waddell and Howell keeping the big crowd in continuous rounds of laughter. "Rube" was all about the diamond, coaching his players and disputing the decisions of Umpire Congressman John T. Hunt when his side was at bat. The stands were crowded. In the bleachers were several hundred more, all in merriment as "Rube" drew the humor from the game. The line-up:
