REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Instead of beating the tail-enders by something like 10 to 1, as they should have done by playing a little baseball to-day, the White Stockings handed the St. Louis Browns a game by a score of 4 to 3, although it took ten innings and over two and a half hours to do it.

Not since a couple of newspaper nines fell over the Sox Park a couple of months ago in a far-fetched imitation of baseball, has anything been seen out there which would compare with to-day's spectacle, and Comiskey allowed that the newspaper men had something on his bunch at that, because they kept awake on bases.

The Sox used fourteen men in their futile efforts to win. Joe White, who started in on the slab, was batted off it in three innings, after the Sox had given an awfully poor start to him, with three successive hits in the first round. Smith relieved the dentist and got along all right until he was taken out to let Holmes hit for him and he up the game in the ninth. Then Smith was put in "cold" in the tenth and what the Sox did to him was a mess, three more errors being perpetrated in order to hand the game away for keeps.

Pelty held the Sox off well but in some mysterious fashion twisted his ankle so that he had to retire in the middle of the sixth, and Sudhoff finished victoriously.

After an exhibition which included errors and blunders of nearly every description, the Sox had the nerve to claim robbery by the umpire last decision, in the last regulation inning. Donlin had hoist Isbell out of first from Isbell, while Isbell had caught it on the fly instead of scooping it off the ground. It is a matter of fact that Frisk did not catch the ball on the fly, as his every action in doing it he left the infield to cut off possible runs proved. Not a man of the team left the field, although it was the third out, until signaled by Frisk that Connolly had called Isbell out, and to make a long story, Frisk was overheard to say as he came in to the bench:

"Well, there's one we pulled off on them."

Notes of the Game.

McFarland and McDougal, the Scotch end of the Cardinals, will do the heavy work against the Cubs this afternoon in a double-header at League Park. It will be McDougal's first work in a Cardinal uniform. "Chappy Charley" is about due for a good game, or 48 his debonnair nibs holding on for the Giants' Reulbach and Wolmer may do duty for the invaders.

The Cardinals advance to Chicago to-night and the Browns come back to Sportsman's Park where they tie up with the Detroit club to-morrow. The men of McAleer play two more games with the Chicago club in St. Louis and then start for the East. The Cardinals return from Chicago next Wednesday and open with Boston Friday. A weird schedule puzzle: Who will win the post-season series.

In the last nine games played by the Cardinals since their return from the East Smoot has made seventeen hits out of thirty-two times at bat. This record has hardly been duplicated this season. It gives him a batting average for the nine sessions of more than .531 per cent. Homer is well above the .300 mark at present and is the hardest hitting player in Missouri.

After seeking various abbreviated appellatives for Hoelsketter, including "Hoes," "Slim," "Skate," "Hoestetter" and others, it was noticed that the faithful were shouting "Hully." This will probably stick. Anyway, his playing sometimes produces the "Hully-gee."

Fielder Himes, a recruit from a Western league, is expected to join the Cardinals in Chicago. The lad is said to be a good slugger and a fast fielder. A young pitcher, who was playing with a great team in South Atlantic League, and whose name is Spade, is also awaited by Manager Robison the last of next week. Competent critics say the Robisons dug up a good one in this youngster.

There is one man in St. Louis who believes that some of the St. Louis players can hit. That man is Michael A. Cruak, under some time ago several players of the Cardinals were given Hockey Smith and Burke were in Mr. Cruak's place of business. Mr. Cruak politely referred to their inability to hit.

"Inability to hit, said Cruak, "but St. Louis merchants are behind the times. Other jobbers of a city of this size have my home run, and we will show you whether we can hit or not.

"You're on," said Cruak, "and I'll never go to bat pulling the bonus either."

It looked as though Jack Taylor had the merchant. "Within the week I had made four pairs of trousers for breakfast, three for Grady and two for Smoot. Now the players of the club have a company of tailors to make up a new suit or two pairs. I love them handing us that in the store. They do not take the trouble to call for them. Why, they almost hit me into bankruptcy."

Mr. Cruak said Bob Hedges, who was a Belmont pitcher, offer such a prize to the Browns. I will pay for every pair of trousers you have to make, and do it gladly if I save a whole suit to see one of my boys make a home run."

Dugan and Burns, Connie Mack's crack battery, Harry Gleason, first base, Miller Huggins, second base, Freddie Parent, shortstop, Doctor Powers, third base, Tony Ireland, catcher, Rube Waddell, pitcher, Monte Cross, Mike Donlin, Jimmy Slagle, Ossie Schreckengost, Willie Keeler and Jimmy Collins.

Victor Fakenburg pitcher, Frank Bowerman, catcher, Jake Stahl, first base, Napoleon Lajoie, second base, Jack Knight, shortstop, Bill Friel, third base, Jake Atz, second base, Harry Davis, first base, Jack Ryan, center field and Elmer Flick, left field—"Our Big Brothers." And it's a fortune to a fig that the short end would give the long end an awful whirl.

TRIPLE A CLUB GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP TO-DAY.

Good Scores Are Looked for in Match Play If Course Is in Fair Condition.

Triple A golf players will meet in the first round match play for the club championship on the links this afternoon. Four matches in the championship and Class A divisions and three in class B will be played. The rain and soggy course of last Saturday, during the qualifying round prevented the players from showing their true ability, but it is expected that the course will be in good shape today and good scores may be looked for.

Will Oliver, the promising young player, who led the field in the round last Saturday with 81 strokes, is selected by many to win the trophy. He will be opposed by Dick Jack to-day.

Homer Miller and E. C. Clark should put up a good match in the championship division. Miller is an old golfer on these links and plays a steady game. Opposed to him will be the player who made the remarkable feat of making the sixth hole in one Saturday in two strokes. There was some luck attached to this, but it also required a stroke.

Although playing in Class B, R. G. Campbell and Harry Eagles promise to play a game that will rival the championship contests.

The pairings are as follows: Championship—Guy Oliver vs. Dick Jack, F. C. Clark vs. Homer Miller, J. D. Harnett vs. H. Darby, Frank Carter vs. Moodie. Class A—Doctor H. Goetz vs. G. Stadel, A. Rosenfeld vs. R. P. Baker, Meyer Weiner vs. Frank Fitzgibbon, P. Benere vs. Peter Paine.

Class B—Doctor Higbee vs. J. Bonas, A. G. Cunningham vs. Paul Palmore, R. G. Campbell vs. Harry Eagles.

MIKE SULLIVAN OUTFIGHTS GANS.

Decision Is Draw, But Baltimore Fighter Is Badly Worsted.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 15.—Mike (Twin) Sullivan of Boston and Joe Gans of this city boxed fifteen rounds tonight. Referee O'Hara called it a draw, but it would have been difficult to find a man in the large crowd who agreed with him.

When the gong ended the fifteenth round Gans was hanging to his opponent, trying to save himself from punishment and from the knockout that seemed not far away. Sullivan showed scarcely a mar, while Gans was badly battered up.

All-Professionals vs. All-Amateurs.

A golf match between the professionals of the local golf clubs and the amateurs of the local golf clubs will take place on Forest Park golf links this afternoon. Captain Barnes will lead the professionals, while Captain Kavanaugh will lead the amateurs. The professionals will be represented by the best golfers in the city, while the amateurs will be represented by the best golfers in the city, who will compete for the honors of the league, which will be decided by the match.

Once more did night of Jack Taylor of the Cardinals prevail, and once more did the individuals connected with the scandal of last winter feel the lash in the "generals" hands. This time it was Chicago. The erstwhile Cub flinger got the verdict over his old pals in a closely contested and interesting game yesterday by a score of 4 to 3.

Taylor may now be content to take it easy the rest of the season. He has given Dreyfuss and Hart a strong reminder of his existence, and after all that is something which is calculated to soothe the injured feelings of almost any flinger when he has an ax to grind. Taylor did his work well and left no doubt in the minds of the fans that he is as good as ever and capable of pitching high-class ball.

The day was featured by a general display of fireworks, both clubs making long hits which figured in the score. Taylor and Briggs were found for some timely raps but were effective at all other stages. The Redbirds got plenty of work, Smoot and Maloney excelling. Both made difficult catches.

At the bat Smoot kept up his terrific hitting pace. Beckley's visit to the land of his fathers seemed to inspire the Sage to greater effort, and he smashed out two doubles and a single out of three times and ran bases like a Wagner.

The natives were first to break into the run column. Beckley's double, made possible by his fast base running, with Hoelsketter's suicide, and Arndt's rap to right, produced the first tally. Chicago took the lead the next inning, when chance whipped out his second double. Shulte drew his second pass from Taylor and Tinker advanced the pair by sacrificing. Maloney smashed the ball directly over Beckley's foothold, scoring the manager and Shulte.

With Shannon down in the fourth, Smoot clouted the ball to the right center of the lot, and took second, while Shade and Maloney were doing a Cotton and Alperman stunt. Beckley poked a grounder almost over second, and took second as Shade threw poorly to nail Homer at the plate. Young "Hully," as he is being dubbed, landed safely in left field, and the "Sage" tallied, giving to the locals a lead of one run.

In the seventh Tinker's bobble allowed Arndt a life. Grady's sacrifice placed Hartman on second. After Moriarty fanned Taylor lifted the ball above Shulte's head, took two bases, scored Arndt and eventually won his game by the hit.

Chicago threatened in the eighth with two down. Tinker doubled along the first base line, and Maloney smashed a triple between Shannon and Smoot, scoring Joe. Taylor bowled over Evers and saved the day. The same clubs meet tomorrow for a double-header.

DATES FOR CANOE CLUB REGATTA.

September 30 Set for Event—Tilting Tournament Will Be a Feature.

Members of the Meramec Canoe Club met last night and set the date for the regatta for September 30. While it was not definitely settled, it is probable that the programme will consist of six events, open and closed. The races will be short-distance events and are to take the place of the annual forty-five-mile paddle from Pacific, Mo., to Valley Park, Mo.

Committees were named to make arrangements for the events, entry and prizes. It is expected that the entire membership roll of the club, which numbers 100, and all the unattached enthusiasts will compete in the closed and open events. A tilting tournament was named as one of the novel features, while another "freak" contest will be put on.

The course will be laid out between Valley Park and Fern Glen. Most of the races will have turns.

Members of the Programme Committee of the St. Louis Horse Show Society met in their offices at the Century building yesterday and transacted much business in the way of pushing affairs along. The Committee on Programme did good work. Many of the old stereotyped classes were abolished and new and interesting events substituted. The prize money has been largely increased.

Gentlemen and ladies who own nice horses and runabouts had better be furbishing them up for the Horse Show. The Horse Show Society yesterday resolved to offer a $50 prize for the best turnout, horse only to count. This is a very large prize for such a ring.

Runabout horses should not be high actors. They are really trotters, docked, carry light shoes, not step too high, display a nice turn of speed, stand quietly and back well. They should not pull hard on the bit or need a check-rein, though reins are permissible.

An idea is extant that a runabout horse must be a high actor. This is a mistake. A high actor will toss mud and gravel into the vehicle. This makes him an undesirable runabout horse. In effect, the runabout horse is a smaller, lighter type of the roadster.

Gaited saddle horses, always a most popular class where Missouri and Kentucky come together, will find $50 hung up in one ring. This should bring out the Parrishes, Barnetts, Stifels, Gadsbys, Pottses, Lees, Ramseys and other Missourians, while the Bells, Bailleys, Hathcocks and the Kentuckians will come along to contest honors between the great saddle-horse States of the Union.

Another great ring will be that of $50 for roadsters to speed wagon. This event should bring out the greatest ring of the show. Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and several Western States will meet head-on in this class.

Owners of horses suitable for storm buggies had also better get busy. The Horse Show Association will offer $50 for one of the storm buggy rings. Horses must be kept for storm buggy purposes and used on the streets. The committee recognizes that the old reliable American vehicle is the most comfortable of driving equipage and has resolved to cater largely to it.

There will be many rings for children's ponies and their young owners. There will be a ring for Shetland ponies driven by boys under 14; one for Shetlands driven by girls under 14; one for boys and girls under 14, and one each for Shetlands ridden by boys and girls.

The programme is not completed, but will be finished to-day. As far as the committee has gone it has increased prizes and made some new and interesting classes. The runabout and roadster and storm buggy classes should excite great local interest.

CHURCHILL DOWNS MEETING OPENS TO-DAY.

First Fall Meeting in Ten Years Over Historic Kentucky Course.—Track Promises to Be Fast.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 15.—All is in readiness for the opening of the first fall meeting in ten years at Churchill Downs here to-morrow afternoon. The course has been put in good order and the clubhouse and grand stand present an attractive appearance.

A force of workman is now busily engaged in harrowing the track, and it is thought that by the time the bugle sounds calling the horses to the post for the Louisville Handicap the track will be fast. The trains of the early part of the week left the course in bad condition, but hard work by a large force, under the direction of Secretary Davis, has improved matters greatly, and it would not be at all surprising to see the mile run in almost track record time.
