BEARS CONTROL MARKET FOR SPECULATIVE GRAIN.

CASH AND FUTURES EASIER SATURDAY.

Lack of European Interest Chief Factor—World's Shipments Estimate Lighter.

Both wheat and corn were dull and easier in Saturday's local grain market. The situation here was influenced largely by Chicago, where the bears seemed to have things pretty much their own way, through Armour ceasing to support in the week-ends. Another factor was the weather (colder) and generally weak European and Canadian markets.

Estimates of the world's shipments were lighter and receipts in the Northwest more moderate. Weather in the spring wheat belt was unsettled, with rising temperatures. All authorities agree that corn has passed the stage where the weather can injure the crop, and bumper crops are conceded in nearly all States.
