IOWA AND ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY MEET IN BIG GAME OF YEAR TO-DAY

C. B. C. TO PLAY ST. CHARLES ELEVEN

Cote Brilliante Aggregation Will Be Outweighed by the Military Squad, but Hope to Win—Two New Players Will Be Tried.

Christian Brothers College and St. Charles Military College will meet on the college campus this afternoon. Play will begin at 3 o'clock and the halves will be 25 to 40 minutes.

The Cote Brilliante aggregation will be outweighed by the St. Charles team, but the former is confident of ripping up the Cadets' line. The collegians will send in two new players in Sherer at left, and O'Donohue at right guard. Both are rather light, but Coach Benero believes that in Sherer he has a coner.

The Easton avenue team is playing an improved game, besides having several new plays which they hope to use to good advantage, they are in the best possible physical condition.

St. Charles seems to have fallen back some in its playing since they meet Washington at the Stadium early in the season and held the myrtle and maroon to a 6-0 score. They report that they have again struck their stride and will play as good to-day as any time this season.

The Cadets have a fast back field, which the collegians will have to watch. Coach Benero has been drilling on defensive work and believes he has accomplished much in this department of the team's work.

FIRST REGIMENT TO PLAY BATTERY A.

One of the three big games to-day will be at League Park between the Battery A and the First Regiment of the National Guards of Missouri.

There is rivalry between the Battery, which represents the artillery, and the First Regiment, which is infantry, and the rivalry has extended to the football teams of the two organizations.

The Battery A team probably is a little better known as it has been playing the larger teams nearly all season and has made a fine showing. They played well against both Washington University and St. Louis University, and were beaten after hard games.

The First Regiment team was organized late in the season and not so much has been heard from them as from the Battery, but they have done some very good work against a number of the teams in town in practice games and expect to win the game to-day. The game will be called at 3 o'clock with Philip Hale as referee.

The lineup of the First Regiment will be about as follows:

Right end, Byers and Breathly; right tackle Mack Mayer and Klein, right guard, Halthis; center, Miller; left guard, Acton; left tackle, Ben Randolph; left end, Delpert and Greene; quarter back, Graham Byers; right half, Tyler; full back, Coulson; left half, Marsh.

The former members of the First Regiment and the Battery are expected to be out in full force, wearing the respective colors of the regiment, which are blue and white, and of the Battery red and white.

Thanksgiving Socker Game.

The Crescent Club and the reorganized St. James team of the Western Inter-Ward League will play an exhibition game Thanksgiving afternoon at Finney Park. Tamm and Clayton are the lineup. Game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Yesterday Our One Best Bet Was Withdrawn.

Last week, as usual, our one-best-bet clients added largely to their bank accounts. $100 flat bets placed on every horse in this series won $27,400 from June 10 to date. By adding 10 per cent of each week's winnings to the play of the following week the investor would have made over $60,000. Our one-best-bet-a-day series alone has stood the test of time. Since Jan. 1 we have only given four successive losers on two occasions, and positively never more than four, while four or more straight winners has been an ordinary accomplishment.

High School and Smith Academy will meet in their annual Thanksgiving Day game this morning at Sportsman's Park. The contest will be called promptly at 10 o'clock.

The same old rivalry exists between the scholastic eleven and while High is the favorite among those who have watched the teams work, the game is sure to be an interesting one. Smith Academy will not be without its backers as there are many loyal red and white followers who are willing to wager on Coach Chase's charges.

Smith Academy will have the advantage in weight. High, however, is a better team from a football standpoint, and despite the weight handicap will likely outplay Smith unless the latter has the better of the argument in the second half by tiring the red and black boys.

Coach Walker has developed a plausible team and his work as a whole has won the admiration of many well-versed football followers. The players possess team work that eclipses any squad in St. Louis including the big varsity eleven. They are also speedy and play well both on the defensive and offensive.

Smith Academy has not done as well as its rivals in the easier games this season. From the results of the games against teams with both have met, High looks as good as it is to about, but the fact that Smith Academy has been coming with the assistance of graduate coaches and hard work, has made them winners.

The Smith Academy team is playing a far better game than it did two weeks ago, and still better than a week ago, which shows that they are working earnestly in the hope of downing High. The back fields will be about evenly matched, but Smith will weigh more in the line.

Captain Campbell's left leg may also help Smith some as he has been drop-kicking well and Smith may score in this manner.

Smith probably plays a better game while on the defensive, but on the offensive the linemen do not afford the proper support in furnishing holes for the backs. This flaw may have been remedied, however, since the last game in which Smith played.

The probable line-up of the teams is:

High.	Position.	Smith.
Cornwall	Left end	Skinner
Hunt	Left tackle	Blackmer
Lincoln	Left guard	Barthge
Dyzer	Center	Nelson
C. Morton	Right guard	Leary
Magner	Right tackle	Hamilton
Brown	Right end	Kinert
Sherry	Quarter back	Hager
Knox	Left half back	Grant
Boettler	Full back	V. Campbell
S. Morton	Right half back	Kendrick

ST. L. U.-IOWA GAME BIG EVENT ON LOCAL GRIDIRON TO-DAY

Championship of Four States May Be Decided in Contest Between Blue and White and Hawkeyes at Sportsman's Park This Afternoon—Both Teams in Good Condition and Confident of Winning—Records of the Squads.

CAPTAIN "SILK" CAMPBELL, ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY.

Watch us play. Iowa is heavier and has played a harder schedule, but our boys are fit and will play the game of their lives. They want to win and we are going to win. However, Iowa may spring something on us, but, if we are beaten, rest assured that the Hawkeyes will know that they have been in a game and the game will probably be the hardest that they have played this season.

St. Louis 47, State Normal 0.

CAPTAIN McGOWAN, OF IOWA UNIVERSITY.

My players all appreciate the fact that in St. Louis they are meeting a strong team—beating all the big elevens of this part of the country. Iowa was roughly used in the game against Ames last Saturday, but I believe all are now in good shape. While we believe we will beat them with our weight and good team work, we will have no kick coming if we lose. On the other hand, we will doff our bonnets to St. Louis if they wallop us.

Iowa's Record.

Iowa 25, Coe College 0.
Iowa 45, Grinnell 0.
Iowa 44, Drake 0.
Iowa 0, Chicago 39.
Iowa 0, Minnesota 26.
Iowa 8, Ames 0.

St. Louis University and the University of Iowa will this afternoon at Sportsman's Park meet in the most important game that has ever been decided in St. Louis. The kick-off will be at 2:30 o'clock. Both teams are evenly matched and, being confident of winning, should furnish the best game ever seen on a local gridiron.

Iowa arrived yesterday morning and, after taking a workout on the Stadium gridiron in the afternoon, reported as being fit for the fray. The players were uniform in stating that if St. Louis beat them they would have no complaint to make.

St. Louis also limbered up at Sportsman's Park in the afternoon, and after the signal practice listened to a lecture by Coach Dowd. He and the players all said they were ready and would be capable of playing the game of the season, being in the best possible condition.

The visitors are not overconfident of winning. Nor is St. Louis, as their strength cannot be compared, neither having met the same teams or those by which the scores could be tallied. In the opinion of those who have studied the merits of both teams, neither will win by more than two touchdowns.

Both coaches gave out the probable line-ups and the weight of each player. It is safe to say that neither Dowd of St. Louis or Chalmers of Iowa are exaggerating the figures, but on the other hand, are holding back. When summed up, it can be proved that Iowa will average 172 pounds for the eleven men. According to Dowd's figures, his men will go on the field averaging 169 pounds.

That these figures are erroneous is evident from the appearance of the players on both sides. Both will average more, but Iowa will have the advantage of from three to five pounds to the man the better.

Coach Chalmers in giving out his line-up, said that Schwinn, his left tackle, was the heaviest man on the team. He gave his weight as 190 pounds. The lightest man, according to Chalmers, will be Kent at quarter back. Dowd says that Captain Campbell is his bulky player, tipping the beam at 190 pounds stripped. Hogs at quarter back will weigh 140 pounds.

The back fields will weigh about the same. Chalmers announced Captain McGowan at full back, Tupper at right and Chalmers at left. The latter is no relative of the coach. They will average 162 pounds, while Robinson, Irwin and Kinney of St. Louis will average 164 pounds.

The locals believe that they can easily allow this advantage in weight and if Iowa wins it will be because of their better knowledge of the game. St. Louis is well versed in the game and probably will show many new plays and features. Iowa can depend upon St. Louis being strong and playing as hard at the end of the last minute of the last half as in the opening period.

St. Louis was outweighed in the game against Illinois University in their second game of the season. They were beaten just as they were winning, from the fact that the last half was called with eight minutes remaining to be played. Had this time been consumed, the St. Louis team undoubtedly would have been returned the winner.

Iowa gave that its hardest game of the season was against the Ames College, last Saturday, which decided the Iowa State championship, and was won by the Hawkeyes. Chicago beat the Iowa team earlier in the season by a wide score, but the letters do not care to speak of this contest, as Iowa once furnished the star Western football attraction with the Maroons on Thanksgiving Day.

The winner may justly lay claim to the championship of Missouri, and Iowa has a right to challenge Nebraska if for the championship of that State. If Missouri trounces Kansas, which is improbable, the game to-day may decide the championship of four States.

Thorne of Northwestern and Jimmy Wear of Yale will alternate as referee and umpire. Charlie Stevens of St. Louis will be head linesman.

The following is the probable line-up of the teams, with the weights of the players:

St. Louis.		Wt.	Iowa.		Wt.

CHICAGO CONFIDENT DESPITE HARD LUCK

Absence of De Tray Will Weaken Maroons — Schulte Will Play With Michigan — Wolverines Are Heavier.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—With both sides confident of victory, the football teams of the University of Chicago and the University of Michigan will meet on Marshall Field to-morrow in what is believed will prove to be the greatest football game ever contested in the Middle West.

This year, for the first time in several seasons, the winning team to-morrow will have a clear title to the football championship of the "big nine."

At the close of the football season for several years, either Minnesota or Wisconsin has put in a claim for first honors, either one of these two teams having ended its football schedule with as good a record as that of Chicago or Michigan.

This year Wisconsin has been defeated by both Chicago and Michigan, and, in turn, Minnesota, the team that for years has made the strongest claims for participation in first honors with Michigan or Chicago, has been defeated by Wisconsin.

Chicago this year barely managed to gain a victory over Wisconsin, the final score being 4 to 0. Michigan was more successful against the Wisconsin team, winning by 12 to 6, and on this comparative showing has been installed a 2-to-1 favorite over the Chicago team in to-morrow's game.

Michigan will go into to-morrow's battle with its full strength. Shulte, the left guard, being in the game despite the report that he would be protested by Chicago.

The Chicago team has not been quite as fortunate, as De Tray, one of its strongest players, will not play because of injuries received in the game with Northwestern University two weeks ago. In addition to this, Boone, another of Coach Stagg's best players and the man depended upon to take De Tray's place, has been disqualified on account of having played football longer than the allotted time allowed by the rules.

Michigan is the heavier team of the two, its total weight being 2,090 pounds. Chicago's total weight is 2,041 pounds.

Coach Yost and his squad, numbering twenty-four players, arrived in Chicago this afternoon, confident of a victory to-morrow.

A brief signal practice was run through, the members of the team spending the rest of the day quietly at the hotel. The maroons also run through a short but sharp signal practice during the afternoon.

HOW THEY WILL PLAY.

KNOX LOOKS EASY FOR WASHINGTON U.

Lehmann's Team Should Run Up a Big Score on the Galesburg Eleven—Records of the Squads.

Knox's Record.

Knox	0	Illinois	6
Knox	0	Nebraska	16
Knox	37	Wesleyan	0
Knox	6	Moline	0
Knox	5	Monmouth	12
Knox	0	Northwestern	0
Knox	10	Lake Forrest	5
Knox	5	Beloit	42

Total points scored by Knox, 64; total points scored by opponents, 81.

Washington's Record.

Washington	0	Westminster	0
Washington	15	Battery A	0
Washington	0	Rose Poly	0
Washington	0	St. Charles	0
Washington	29	Hill's College	0
Washington	6	Arkansas	0
Washington	0	Indiana	29
Washington	0	Kansas	21
Washington	5	Drury	6
Washington	14	Missouri	10
Washington	22	Rolla	6

Total points scored by Washington, 161; total points scored by opponents, 92.

Washington University will close its football season this afternoon with a game at the Stadium, meeting the Knox College team of Galesburg, Ill. Knox's most notable achievement this season was its 0 to 0 game with the Northwestern University team. Knox has also beaten Lake Forrest, but Nebraska, Monmouth, Ill., and Beloit have beaten Knox, Beloit winning from the Galesburg boys last Saturday by the decisive score of 42 to 0.

Knox has little chance with Washington on the strength of its showing. It will have to show vast improvement to-day to hold the team that beat Missouri 14 to 10 and defeated Arkansas 6 to 0. Washington has shown constant improvement lately. Since defeating Missouri it has also added Rolla's scalp to its belt.

Coach Fairweather has whipped his men into fine shape the last three weeks of the season. The Washington team of to-day would give Kansas a stiff battle. Washington thinks it could beat Kansas easily on a dry field. It rained the day Washington played Kansas at Lawrence, and the game was played on a field ankle-deep in mud. Kansas won, 21 to 0.

Washington thinks it could reverse the verdict this afternoon if Kansas was to line up instead of Knox.

Captain Fritz Lehmann will get back in the game to-day, and spectators will have a chance to see St. Louis's champion punter at his best. Lehmann distinguished himself by kicking a nice goal from the field and won the Missouri game for Washington. Lehmann sprained himself in the Missouri game and could not play a game against Rolla. Manager Richardson of the Washington team says the great half back is now in excellent trim and will line up with his team against Knox this afternoon. The two teams will take the field as follows:

Washington.	Position.	Knox.
Jacobs	Left end	Kibler
Buck	Left tackle	F. Howell
Cornell	Left guard	Graham
Johnston	Center	Kidd
Stone	Right guard	Cashing
Sternberg	Right tackle	Sampe
Jamison	Right end	Carton
Johnston	Quarter back	H. Hiting
Lehmann	Left half back	C. Howell
Ryan	Full back	Savage
Martin	Right half back	Roberts

The officials will be Anderson and Dougherty.

SMITH WINS THE FIRST GAME FROM PETERSON.

Amateur Defeats Professional in the Billiard Match—Smith's Average More Than 11.

J. De Mun Smith, St. Louis's premier billiardist, distinguished himself by winning the first game in his eighteen-inch balk-line match with Charles C. Peterson, St. Louis's leading professional, at the Hauser last night. The score was 200 to 147. Peterson is giving to Smith a handicap of 400 in 1,200, and the match is being played in blocks of 200—400. Peterson was slow getting his stroke last night. Smith's wonderful safety play proved a big stumbling block to the professional. Peterson finally got going when it was too late, his last two runs of thirty-two and thirty-three coming when Smith had the game well in hand.

Smith's average of eleven and a fraction indicates that it was a fast game. The crack amateurs of the country, who are now playing in New York, are only averaging around eight. Peterson averaged nine and a fraction last night. This is Smith's first public match at the eighteen-inch balk-line game, and his high average is exceedingly gratifying to his friends. It goes to show that the little St. Louis player must still be ranked with the best amateurs in the country. Smith has fallen heir to the late W. C. McCreery's mantle as St. Louis's leading amateur. He has met and held his own with such crack amateurs as Cutler, Conklin and Poggenberg.

Peterson pulled off one of the prettiest and most difficult shots by making a force masse on the short rail, an almost impossible shot. Following is the score by innings:

Smith—6, 20, 3, 5, 11, 12, 20, 2, 0, 27, 5, 5, 29, 0, 0, 28—200. Average, 11 15-17; high run, 28.

Peterson—0, 5, 0, 2, 7, 0, 2, 1, 0, 16, 16, 12, 10, 23, 2, 7, 32—147. Average, 8 11-17; high run, 32.

Gundaker won from Wilson in the three-cushion tourney by a score of 25 to 22. Winner's average, 67; high run, 5.

To-night Peterson vs. Smith, second block at 18-inch balk-line, three-cushion, Miller vs. Wilson.

MISSOURI IN GOOD SHAPE FOR KANSAS

McLean's Men in Fine Trim on Eve of Battle—Some Ticket Speculation — Hetherington-ism Is Recommended.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 29.—Coach McLean of the Missouri University had his football team up at 5 o'clock this morning, and after a short period of "getting-up" exercises the players were taken to breakfast prepared under orders from the assistant coach, "Izzy" Anderson, who has charge of the training table at Columbia.

The men were permitted to take a walk around the downtown section, but were ordered back for practice, which was held in one of the Midland Hotel parlors.

After luncheon the men were taken out to the park by Coach McLean and spent most of the afternoon in practice.

The men are unquestionably in good shape. Childers and Anderson, both of whom have been reported to be in poor shape since the Purdue game, look to be in fighting trim.

Teh police force at the game will be ample, the Chief of Police having detailed fifty patrolmen for the side lines.

SOME TICKET SPECULATION.

The first evidence of ticket speculation in connection with the annual football game between the Missouri and Kansas universities was brought to light this morning.

At a Main street drug store a block of tickets was placed on sale at $2.50 each. The regular price of the tickets is $1.50.

The tickets on sale were in the Kansas section and the clerk in charge at the drug store said that he had received them from a student at Lawrence with instructions to dispose of them at $2.50 each.

Mr. Daniel Macfarland, press representative for the two colleges, said that the sale had been great at Lawrence. He says that the students who bought blocks for speculation purposes were evidently trying to make Christmas money.

If the weather comes up to the Weather Bureau's expectations, the speculators are likely to have plenty of seats to mourn over Friday morning, as zero temperature is predicted. The sales in Kansas City this morning exceeded $2,000.

"IZZY" RESENTS STORY.

"Izzy" Anderson, assistant coach of Missouri, resented as unjust and unsportsmanlike the story that Coach Kennedy of the Kansas team had been forced to the "signal" task of revising his men a new set of plays and signals because Anderson had learned the Kansas signals when he was officiating between the Jayhawkers and Kansas Agricultural College at Lawrence.

"The statement is untrue," said Anderson at the Midland this morning. "I did not study the Kansas signals. I did not tell anyone I knew them. I don't know them. It seems to me a pity that statements of that sort are made."

Coach McLean said: "Anderson doesn't know the signals, and Kennedy is well aware of that. If new signals are being used, and I doubt it, they have been working on them for months. Anderson doesn't know the Kansas signals and didn't try to learn them, and Kennedy knows he doesn't know."

FAVORS HETHERINGTONISM.

The action of Columbia University in barring football as at present played from the list of sports in which the students may engage is viewed by Walter Williams, chairman of curators, and Doctor C. W. Hetherington, director of the department of physical culture of the Missouri State University, as one of great and far-reaching importance.

"Columbia is one of our great universities. It ranks with Yale, Harvard and Princeton," Mr. Williams said this morning. "Its action can neither be sneered at nor laughed down.

"It is not a declaration against football, but it is a dramatic and well-justified protest against the game as it is played at present.

"If they would all only adopt 'Hetherington-ism,'" Mr. Williams concluded, "there would be no need for protests of any sort."

"What is Hetherington-ism?"

The physical director of Missouri University answered the question readily.

"It is a new name for an old spirit," he said. "It is taking into our games and athletic contests the honorable code of a gentleman and the fine spirit of sportsmanlike fair play."
