L. M. Laggett, a Santa Fe machinist at San Bernardino, received a painful and serious cut on the forehead Wednesday by the slipping of a crowbar, which he was handling. Dr. Baylis sewed up the man's head.

The Santa Fe officials Wednesday suddenly found themselves without an agent at Alessandro station, on the Perris branch. When the Seventh regiment was ordered out, the agent at that station, Tom Scott, received a notice from the Anaheim company, of which he is a member, to at once report at the armory of his company. Scott at once gave the officials notice and a relief was sent to take charge of the station.—San Bernardino Sun.

SANTA FE CUTTING FORCES IN KANSAS.

Ottawa, Kan., May 11.—A report from the Santa Fe Wednesday states that twenty-seven men employed on the rip track were laid off indefinitely. Master Mechanic A. Mitchell was up from Chanute Wednesday and the announcement that the men had been laid off, occasioned little surprise among the men at the shops and around the Santa Fe, who had heard what seems to be more than rumors during the last few days. It is also stated that a few men were laid off last week.

The fact that the men laid off were from the rip track is significant when it is considered that the promise of the company officials last summer when the matter of the removal of the shops was being discussed was that extensive car repairing shops would be built up here, employing as many men as were ever employed here in the shops. Heretofore the reductions have been in the shops proper. The latest reductions take men from the department which was the main hope of Ottawa.

TICKETS PERCENTAGE HELD TO BE ILLEGAL

COMMISSION MAKES AN ADVERSE RULING FOR ALL SOCIETIES HANDLING EXCURSIONS.

St. Louis, May 11.—Sunday schools, church societies, labor unions, lodges and other organizations have received a knock-out blow from the Interstate commerce commission that probably will cause a big protest from every section of the country. The commission decides that the time-worn practice of allowing a percentage on tickets sold by these bodies for excursions they arrange, is illegal under the Hepburn law. The plan made it possible for Sunday-school children to earn a ticket, who could not afford to pay their way, and in addition the excursion was a source of profit to the organization. Now there can be no refund on condition that a certain number of tickets are sold.

Special rates may be made, of course, but the railroads must do the hustling, pay all bills for advertising, and receive full cash fares. If the ruling which was made in response to an inquiry by the Clover Leaf, is obeyed, many contracts already made for society excursions will have to be canceled, and unless a new and satisfactory basis is agreed upon the excursions probably will have to be abandoned.

SAN CRISTOBAL QUADRANGLE

A map of the San Cristobal quadrangle, Colorado, which embraces an area of about 944 square miles and comprises portions of Hinsdale, Mineral, La Plata, and San Juan counties, has recently been published by the United States geological survey.

This area is one of the most highly elevated regions recently surveyed by the government. It ranges in altitude from about 8,100 feet to 14,050 feet above sea level and only a very small part of it is below 9,000 feet. The Continental divide extends entirely across the sheet twice in an east and west direction, swinging around the head of the Rio Grande, the source of which is a short distance beyond the western boundary of this area.

There are a few mining settlements in the northwest part of the quadrangle and a number of hay ranches in the lower valleys, but the greater part of the area is uninhabited and contains some of the most rugged mountain country to be found in the United States. Portions of the San Juan and Cochetopa national forests are included in this quadrangle.

Numerous mountain lakes are found in this quadrangle and from one of these the quadrangle takes its name. Some of these lakes are especially beautiful. Deer and mountain sheep are quite numerous and the streams abound in trout.

The triangulation and topography of the map are the work of J. F. McBeth. The map sells at the usual price of 5 cents a copy.

TAOS COUNTY DISTRICT COURT

The district court for Taos county convened on Monday with Judge John R. McFie on the bench and A. W. Bergere in his place as clerk. District Attorney R. C. Gortner and C. C. Catron with Sheriff Donaciano Graham were in attendance. Jose D. Sena, of Santa Fe, was appointed interpreter and H. C. Clancy, of Santa Fe, stenographer for the grand jury. Blas Salazar, Emilio Mondragon, Clemente R. Mascarenas and Samuel Quintana were made baliffs. Hugh Perry was appointed by the court as foreman of the grand jury.

The cases of Antonio Trujillo, charged with murder and Elmar H. Norris with violation of the gambling law, were continued as was also the case of Joseph P. Hayme, charged with allowing minors to frequent his saloon. The case against Jose Montanier, for criminal libel, was dismissed on motion of the district attorney.

Manuel Vargas and Santos Vialpando, both of whom were charged with murder, were arraigned and returned pleas of not guilty. The same plea was returned by Raphael Vigil, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. On motion the indictment against Jose I. Sandoval for assault with intent to rape was quashed. Another case of the same character against Feliz Sanchez received the same treatment.

In addition to the above a number of less important matters were before the court. The session promises to be a busy one.

THE DUNKARDS HAVE COME AND GONE

Two Trains Carried Six Hundred Observers of Saturday.

Six hundred Dunkards from the Dunkard colonies of Ohio, Iowa, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Indiana, passed through Albuquerque last night en route to Los Angeles, where the annual meeting of the Dunkard society is to be held next week. The pilgrimage was in two sections. The first section arrived at 9:20 o'clock, with eleven cars, and had over 300 persons aboard. It arrived here early this morning.

During the forty minutes that the first special stopped here, the men, women and children of the party wandered around the Alvarado, staring at the Indians, looking around the Indian and Mexican curio shop, and having a good time. The women reminded one of Quakers, with their little sombre hats and plain cloaks. The men, with a few exceptions, had long beards, with a space about the mouth kept cleanly shaven.

The first special was in charge of Sam Larrimer, district passenger agent of the Santa Fe at Des Moines, Iowa. The most prominent elders with the party were:

D. W. Weedle, Troy, Ohio; Jesse K. Brambull, Troy, Ohio; I. J. Rosenbower, Covington, Ohio; Elder Gloughrour of Des Moines, Iowa and Elder Bluebacher, of western Iowa.

The Dunkards had planned to spend some hours in the city, but owing to the train being late they decided to continue on their journey, stopping at the Grand Canyon instead. To make preparations here for the welcome of the visiting Dunkards, several leaders of the church arrived here early yesterday morning, stopping over until noon, when they proceeded west on the limited.

While they were strolling around a party of six San Domingo Indians walked up. The old men adjusted their spectacles and immediately began to stare at the former aborigines. The Indians were equally as nonplussed to see such spry old men. Finally a young buck reached forward, grabbed the long white beard of the elder and shaking it back and forth, started to jabber in his native tongue. The old man thought it was great and he laughed uproariously.

One of the younger elders said:

"I did not suppose there was so much waste land in New Mexico. From the looks of it, it will never be worth anything. Some of our brothers are contemplating settling out west, but I hardly think they would care for any of your desert land. Out where we came from we have miles and miles of valuable farming land. We are farmers, you know."

"It will be the finest land in the country some day," spoke up a local resident.

"Well, we will have to be shown; I'm from southern Missouri myself," laughed the young Dunkard.

Territorial Topics

The National mines at Stein's Pass are looking well. Superintendent Harvey says there is a fifteen-foot vein at the 200-foot level, where he is working. He is raising from the 200-foot level to the 150-foot level. He is taking out some good ore in the upraise.

A bunch of 1,100 head of good grade Hereford firsts and seconds were shipped from Deming Wednesday by Uton, Boone, Yates, Foster and other ranchment up the Mimbres. Frank Benton, of Denver, was the buyer. The price was $14 and $17, we understand.

Clark Rodgers, owner of one of the finest fruit farms in the territory, at Lone mountain was in Silver City Saturday. Mr. Rodgers says he will not have a pound of fruit this year, as a result of the severe frosts during April. The same report comes from the Mimbres river valley, which is one of the finest fruit raising valleys in the southwest.—Silver City Enterprise.

It has been learned that during the past week the Tucson Chinese merchants, laundrymen and restaurant keepers have subscribed $1,000 and have sent this sum to a relief committee in China to aid in feeding the thousands of Chinese in their own country who are reported to be starving to death.

The May term of the district court of Sierra county began at Hillsboro on Monday. Judge Frank W. Parker is presiding with W. E. Martin as clerk. The most important case on the docket is the trial of Valentina Madrid, Alma Lyons and Francisco Baca, charged with the murder of Manuel Madrid, a prominent native citizen of the Hillsboro district. It is charged that Madrid died of rat poison administered by his wife, Valentina Madrid, the Lyons woman and Francisco Baca being accessories.

Attorney Elfego Baca, of Albuquerque, has been retained to conduct the prosecution.

The calf crop all over the range country is very fine. The range has been in good condition and the cattle are fat and healthy. Any estimate of percentage of the calf crop will at present be unreliable, for while an approximate figure may be obtained, it is doubtful if any of the cattleman could give accurate numbers.

At the meeting of the Penitentiary board, which convened on Wednesday of this week at Santa Fe, the most important business transacted was the consideration of bids and the awarding of contracts for penitentiary supplies. President Joseph F. Sulzer presided and Charles F. Easley, secretary of the board, attended to the duties of his position.

The contract for groceries was divided between H. B. Cartwright & Brother, of Santa Fe; Gross, Kelly & company, Browne & Manzanares company, and Charles Ilfeld & company, the last three firms being of Las Vegas. Leo Hersch of Santa Fe, secured the contract for furnishing flour and grain. The dry goods contract was apportioned between Seligman Brothers company, Adolph Seligman, Nathan Salmon and John Dendahl, all of Santa Fe. The Santa Fe Hardware and Supply company was awarded the contract for furnishing most of the hardware. Local firms also secured the leather contract.

The Armour Packing company secured the contract for furnishing meats, sausage and oleo.

The prison board adjourned at 2:30 o'clock this yesterday afternoon subject to the call of the president.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Engineer Kirk, of Raton, has received notice that his record has been charged with ten special merit marks for firing engine 1218 on No. 4.

"Anything doing today, Mr. Babb?" Well you can mention that Katie is still here," answered the genial steward of the Harvey hotel, referring to the popular cashier of the lunch room.

Four carloads of new, up-to-date furniture were received in Albuquerque yesterday morning—three for the F. H. Strong Furniture company, and one for the Futrelle Furniture company.

William Cislak, an old Swede, who acts as if demented, was arrested by the police last night. When arraigned this morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy and was fined $10. Upon his promise to leave town at once the fine was remitted.

"At last I have a satisfactory photograph of the famous fire place in the lobby," remarked Manager Pellow today as he exhibited a picture in sepia, of three figures sitting before the fire place. The picture is a fire light study; it was taken at night and the lighting and tone of the photograph is soft and beautiful.

The University of New Mexico annual, "The Mirage," volume III, is an interesting example of a college annual. In make-up the book is a work of art, being bound in leather, some volumes red and others green. The students have succeeded in producing a work to be proud of and which undoubtedly will excite favorable comment from other educational institutions. The contributions of verse, prose and drawings by the students themselves are clever and interesting, especially to those familiar with the life at the University. Cuts of the new pueblo-like dormitories occupy a prominent place in the book and numerous other photographs amply illustrate the text. The annual is on sale at the University, or can be purchased at the commencement exercises at the Elks' theatre tonight.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.
