Nice Carpets at McMullen's.

In a trial in the Court house yesterday one darkey said concerning another, "If dat darkey is turned loose, I shall be compelled to command a peace warrant for him, as dat nigger bas mity onsartin ways, any way." The darkey was turned loose."

We are pleased to learn that our friends from Philadelphia, Dr. Gatchell and Col. Donaldson, had a fine day's sport yesterday on the Swannanoa, quail shooting. They greatly admired the scenery, met a kind and hospitable people, and being good shots, made a fine bag of birds. Glad to hear they enjoyed the sport. Come and see us again, gentlemen.

A steady ram fell all Tuesday night, and continued unto Wednesday. We gave October in a late article a better feature than she deserved, fer she has been by turns as fickle as April, and as boisterous as March. It takes a heap of American weather to make an average: But oh, that October should deceive us.

Mr. Geo. W. Bright, of Green county, Tenn, went very extensively into the fruit evaporating business this year, and the Greeneville Bulletin says he has just returned from New York city, where he disposed of his stock of evaporated peaches at about 13 cents per pound, which will yield him a net profit of not less than two thousand dollars.

A sneeze, and a sneeze, and then another sneeze and then another sternutorian final. Where do they all come from? We are a quiet people, and dont like to be disturbed by the blast that rung from the nose of Sterne, or shattered the brains of the old snuff takers with their golden boxes laden with the brown Maccaboy. But still we sneeze and hope that the spirit of Lundy Foote will fall on us, and say what is the meaning of the sneeze.

Messrs. Clyde, Scott, and others, of the R. & D. syndicate, and a party of friends from New York, have been in this section for some days, hunting, with some of our local sports, and have enjoyed themselves very greatly. The railroad officers went as far as Murphy, in company with Col. Andrews and Major Wilson, on a tour of inspection of the Western line. Mr. Scott and others visited the Fair, and were agreeably surprised at the exhibits, and predict for this section a very grand future.

CORRECTIONS.

OUT WEST.

Mr. Rollins has bought a park lot in Highlands, and will build himself a house. Mr. Walden, from Metamar, Ill., has bought 11 acres of land north of town, and intends to improve and build thereon, and we understand will commence business in Highlands.——The gorgeous coloring of the master painters may seem to some people extravagant, as being beyond nature. They would not say so if they had the privilege of viewing the deep and rich coloring which garbs the woods at the present time in this mountain region.——Mr. White, our obliging postmaster, has fixed up in the postoffice, at his own expense, a very neat set of boxes and lock drawers. They are from the establishment of John McLean, Milford, New Hampshire, and are patented. Our post office fixings are now, by those who know, said to be superior to any other office in this State west of Asheville. [And better than Asheville for that matter —CITIZEN.]

GEMS.

Prof. C. D. Smith has presented each of the Editors of the Citizen with a bright jewel of the aqua marine out of the bergh of Macon county. Who can go up on the bright Tessentee and not come back loaded with the sparkling exhibits of that remarable county. Going up Tessentee he follows the bright waters of a very heavy creek, and then he is comforted with the great gash in the side of the Fish Hawk mountain: made by the rainfall of 1876: and then comes the development of the mines opened by the great water crash. the bergh and the aqua marines are laid open, and the caves of Aladdin, and exposed to view.

TWINS.

Our fair worked up some remarkable footings. Tom Stevens started a year ago with a pair of calves. Whether he was reaching forward he does not know, for he was ahead of all Fairs. But he is what may be called an advanced man and struck the key note long before the song was sounded. But of late just before the Fair came in double corn and double apple, until he concluded that twins were the rule. only in the human family was there a dearth or a modesty, and he can make no record of anything of this kind. But the west came in with a grand record of fertility that surely the human family cannot be left out. Let us hear.

DR. COHEN AGAIN.

The Morristown Gazette says Dr. Cohen, the North Carolina adventurer, who was arrested and confined in the Greenville jail on a charge of bigamy, was acquitted on the 17th, and turned up at Knoxville. He had a woman with him who "acted" as his wife. She swore last week in the bigamy trial at Greenville that she was not his legal wife, but they had lived together for a number of years and have six children.

ROADS—A GOOD SUGGESTION.

One of our farmers called in yesterday and suggested that the attention of road overseers of this county be called to the roads, and that now was the time to put them in condition for the winter. As soon as this rain is over, and the leaves fall, the roads should be smoothed over, and the leaves removed from the drains. We call attention to this, and hope our overseers will heed the suggestion.

CONFERENCE APPOINTMENTS.

We are greatly pleased to learn that Dr. Bays has been returned to Asheville for another year; and that Rev. C. T. Carroll, some years ago the popular pastor of the Methodist church at this place. comes as presiding elder for this district. The congregations directly involved, and the community, will be greatly pleased at this announcement. Other appointments have not reached us.

GOING AHEAD.

LONDON.—In a recent trade mark suit it has been shown by evidence that over nine million bottles of St. Jacobs Oil had been sold here during the past few years. Leading chemists certify that the sale of this remedy exceeds that of all others; and that it is being recognized as the best pain-cure ever discovered. In serious rheumatism it has accomplish astonishing results.

Lesson from a Mastodon.

The tusks of a mastodon recently found in Illinois, weighed 175 pounds each. What a gigantic toothache that animal must have been capable of having! And such neuralgia! Neuralgia, or nerve ache, generally proceeds from a disordered condition of the blood. Brown's Iron Bitters enriches and purifies this and drives neuralgia out. Mr. W. W. Redman, Piqua, O., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters permanently cured me of neuralgia."

A GOOD IDEA.

TOBACCO.

The Washington City Health and Home, publishes the following very interesting article upon the above important subject:

"This most valuable plant, which, like many other commodities, has been sadly misused and abused, has come to the front as one of the most valuable members of the botanical kingdom. Until within the past two year or or two it was only employed in quieting the nerves of chewers and smokers the rich and poor, ers and smokers, the rich and poor alike becoming slaves to its influence. History informs us that Sir Walter Raleigh and his contemporaries made a decoction of tobacco and drank it daily for its nervine effects. Poets, philosophers, men of letters, generals, and even ministers of the gospel, have been and still are its patrons and devotees. But within a very recent period the "weed" has made rapid strides into the confidence of mankind. "The Clingman Tobacco Cure Co." of Durham, N C, have succeeded in making known to the people in the remotest part, the wonderful curative properties of tobacco. Thousands of lives are now daily being saved by its use, and untold human suffering ameliorated by its application. The honor for this great discovery is due to ex-U. S. Senator Thomas L. Clingman, of North Carolina, who rested not until this great remedy, in the most approved form, has been placed within the reach of all. Herafter it will not be popular to deride tobacco, which occupies as exalted a position among drugs as opium, camphor, or any other medicinal property. True men with vitiated tastes will still continue to chew and smoke it, just as they misuse morphine, calomel, chloral and other preparations. But the great good tobacco is doing in alleviating the sufferings of mankind will procure for it friends and defenders for all time to come."

Mr. R. B. Askew, late Assistant Postmaster at Baltimore, said some time ago: "Having had occasion to try Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, I unhesitatingly pronounce it the best remedy I have ever used. A small bottle relieved me of a severe cold."

THE LATE WESTERN BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Prof. J. H. Mills writes the following letter concerning the Convention, to the Raleigh Biblical Recorder. We thank him for his pleasant allusions to Asheville and the Asheville church. Prof. M. says:

"The general meeting of the Baptists living between the Blue Ridge and the Alleghany mountains was held in Asheville, and began on Wednesday, the 14th inst.

The attendance was very large. Some rode horseback from Georgia. Every mountain and valley seemed to be represented, even to the flag ponds of Tennessee.

The officers understood their duties and performed them faithfully. The pastor of the Asheville church had everything ready to prevent confusion and to promote quiet and pleasant enjoyment. The committee on hospitality had a welcome for all, and hospitality was overflowing. All visitors (Indian ministers among them) were received with distinguished courtesy.

The sermons were sensible, scriptural and full of tenderness. Dr. Tichenor was timely, appropriate and convincing. His sermon on Sunday was an hour long, and the people would have listened an hour longer.

Brother Herring went swimming in a large collection. His speech made a fine impression, and will not be forgotten by those who heard him. Twelve hundred dollars were raised for Home Missions and churches will be built at all the centres of business.

The Orphanage was kindly greeted with a collection of over two hundred dollars in cash, besides some papers to be paid in a few days. In fact, we were all surprised at the liberality of the people. Members of other denominations, and of no denomination sometimes, handed in ten and twenty dollar bills. But there was something better than money. The Lord seemed to be with his people. The grateful heart, the consecrated life, and the spirit of devotion was everywhere manifest. Not a single unpleasant word was uttered. As for myself, I was humiliated because everybody treated me with much greater kindness than I deserved. Shall we have such a meeting at Reidsville?

As the Eastern field is broader, so may the heart swell bigger, and the hand open wider. I cannot trust myself to name individually who compelled us all to love them in Asheville; but I must express the hope that all may have as much temporal prosperity as is consistent with growth in grace, and that whenever twilight drops her curtain down, the star that pins it may behold them wiser and better than they ever were before."

The Newsom Fund.

Editors Citizen:—Knowing the zeal with which the press of the country come to the rescue of all praiseworthy enterprises, I beg leave to call the attention of your readers to the effort in behalf of the Newson Fund. Mrs Trader, (better known as Newson) is now a resident of this City and she is a widow and in a destitute condition. In the late war she spent all her means (then ample) in serving the Confederate cause in the hospitals. Her sacrifices and noble conduct are attested by thousands of the survivors of the Lost Cause. Col. T. B. Roy, of Selma Ala. in a letter of the 12th says:

"As Ad't-General of Hardee's Corps, of the Army of Tennessee, during the war, I was personally cognizant of the sacrifices of Mrs. Ella K. Newsom, on behalf of our sick and wounded, and any return that Southern soldiers, or their descendants, or kindred, can now make, in her time of trial and adversity, would, to put it on the lowest plane, be but paying a tithe of the debt they owe her.

Yours very truly,
T. B. ROY

Many other testimonials of the highest character can be produced.

Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia have taken hold of this movement and we know that gallant old North Carolina, who sent her thousands of noble boys to the front, and furnished history with the name of Stonewall Jackson, will not falter in such a praiseworthy effort. Although twenty years have passed since the feats of Appomatox filled the South with the recollections of scenes without a parallel in modern times, we know the chivalrous defenders of the "Lost Cause" cannot, and will not, forget the noble deeds of her heroes and heroines. While the names of a Lee, a Jackson, a Hill, a Pender, will awaken the recollection of glorious deeds and acts of patriotic devotion, the name of Mrs Newsom will challenge the admiration of the world and kindle a flame of devotion in all true Southern hearts. Your bright eyed boys who led the charge on so many dark and bloody battle fields, and then sent bleeding and dying to the lonely Confederate Hospital, was met by this noble woman, who, standing over their hard pallets of straw, shed angel's smiles and administered comfort in the dread ordeal of pain, sickness and death.

And this unceasing vigilance began in September, soon after the ghastly scenes of the first Manassas had filled the world with astonishment at Southern prowes and continued until the last gun had rolled its dismal echoes into the indescribable distance to be heard no more. So time will not destroy the patriotic ardor of the Southern Soldier. As in the case of Napoleon, nineteen years after his death, the French obtained his body from England, all France was turned into a grand funeral procession, preceded by the booming of cannon, tolling of bells and strains of martial music. The banks of Seine were lined with thousands of people, while the air was filled with frenzied shouts and cries and sobs of joy and congratulation. This grand procession was followed by 150,000 soldiers But we do not pay tribute to the great warrior alone, the deeds of self-sacrifice and disinterested devotion should be remembered—if not in bronzed monuments—in the affection of the heart, more lasting than marble or stone.

Then remember, the object of this tribute is a woman—noble, angel-like woman. She ignored wealth, defied flattery, despised pomp and show, and by day and by night, stood around the couch of the dying soldier. Would a brave christian people let such a women suffer? No.

"Kind hearts are more than coronets
And simple faith than Norman blood."
