DAILY EXAMINER

Local Intelligence.

Ball Programmes
Of the latest styles at this office.

Mr. Simpson Dyer,
Of Towash, bought goods in this city yesterday.

Thanks
To W. B. Motes for favors as agent in Hill county

Many Hill County
Farmers were in the city yesterday buying supplies.

Four Hundred Bales
Of Cotton went to Liverpool yesterday from this city.

The Remains
Of poor Frank Stephens were buried in the city cemetery at 10 a. m. yesterday.

W. H. Easham,
Of Hyco, Hamilton county, was in Waco yesterday selecting a stock of goods for his establishment.

Business
Of all kinds is unusually good for this season of the year, in this city.

An Immense
Amount of hides were received yesterday in this city.

We are Glad
To welcome many hearty hale young Georgia farmers, who are settling in this country, and opening farms. Success to them.

The New Engine House
On Bridge street is nearly complete. It will be a handsome building and a nice place for the "fire kings" to while away an idle hour.

The Bremond
Troupe folded their tents and quietly departed to other scenes. We commend them to the press and people of the State, as a combination every way worthy their respectful consideration.

We Have
Heard of the "voices of night," "the voices of spring," and "such like." They have been used as designating something unusual of late, but we'll be hanged if we can say as much for this a certain auctioneer sings under our window at times.

A Train
Of immigrant wagons from Missouri for Hamilton county passed through the city yesterday. We were glad to see them coming in some fine horses and milk cows. Hamilton county is being rapidly settled up by immigrants from the Western States.

Fire.
On Wednesday night, about 11 o'clock, the alarm of fire was given, but it was found that it was only a lamp upset at Richey Hall. It caused this much fatigued local to turn out in rather too much hurry for comfort, as well as in an excessively bad humor, at his failure to get the expected "item."

It is a Pretty
Thing to see such actions to elicit genuine disinterested sympathy shown to the helpless and unfortunate, as was the case the other day when poor Stephens died. The people of Waco generally expressed their kindly feelings by deeds of unaffected sympathy. The hostess of the McClelland House (Mrs. Skinner) and her son, deserve the warmest praise. No doubt the widowed mother's prayers will bless them.

The Advance.
We understand that Col. Gerald has purchased the interest of Mr. Tomlinson in the Advance, and is now sole proprietor. We tender him our warmest wishes for his welfare, and trust that the visible evidences of prosperity may crowd his coffers in the shape of hard dollars.

We hope for his early conversion on the Senatorial question, and then we can lock shields with him in his manly devotion to the interests of the Democracy, and of the glorious young commonwealth that is our common home.

Burnham's XXXX Again.
The irrepressible Burnham has made within the last few days a large shipment of the XXXX to Austin. Maj. Hay thinks to this fact is due the character of legislation had, under the new regime. Pure whisky and pure Democracy are powerful adjuncts to pure legislation. Now, we think if our county officers were to use it liberally, they would improve the odors that offend the nostrils of the devotees of justice while attending to the upper courts. Come gentlemen, try the famous XXXX; it never yet has failed, and we have the utmost confidence in its efficacy in this case.

Dentistry.
An elderly gentleman and former resident of this city, while calling at our office yesterday, exhibited to our view a full denture of artificial teeth, which he informed us were the handiwork of Dr. S. K. Smith. We have never seen a more substantial and beautiful piece of dental mechanism, combining in perfection both the science and art of this modern invention, and clearly indicating the fact that Dr. Smith has but few equals, and no superiors, in the line of his profession. Those of our citizens who may desire to avail themselves of the latest improvements in this art, by calling at the elegantly furnished office of Dr. Smith, on Austin street, cannot fail to be pleased with his work, as he is equally skillful in both the operative and mechanical branches of dentistry.

Personal, Etc.
Introduced by Rev. Sam P. Wright, Mr. Kittrell, late President of Pennington College, Trinity county, Texas, yesterday gave us a call.

We are pleased to welcome Mr. Kittrell, quite an intelligent, affable gentleman that he is, particularly as he brings with him to one of our city schools, the Female College, three young ladies or misses from the East, to complete their education at that excellent institution of learning.

Always glad to welcome pupils from anywhere to any of our city schools, we are especially pleased to note the arrival of these, for the reason that we regard with pleasure every movement calculated to promote a feeling of amity and identity between the different sections of our great State. Also, for the further reason that Mr. K. says these are the precursors of more soon to come.

New School Books.
Attention is directed to the advertisement of F. H. Cushing, announcing "Familiar Lessons in Botany," by Mrs. M. J. Young, of Houston, a lady well known to the public from her varied achievements in the flowery walks of literature, and one who, we are glad to announce, has directed her attention to the inviting field of a botanical work on the flowers of Texas. The work is pronounced the best botany yet out, and here in Texas especially, it should be not only in every school but in every household in the land.

In the same connection Mr. Cushing announces, and we are pleased to mention, a work that we have received with great pleasure—Stephen's History of the United States. Such is the reputation and high character of the author as a writer, patriot and statesman that commendation would be superfluous. The work is especially valuable to the young, and as a book of references for historical data. Published by E. J. Hale & Son, 17 Murray street, New York. For sale by F. H. Cushing, Houston.

Sad.
We learn, with much regret, that on his return home from town, Tuesday evening, Gen. J. P. Harrison had another attack of paralysis, which, like his former visitations of the same kind, was very severe.

Our informants, Gen. Tom Harrison and Mr. Dacie Gurley, were with the old General in his office, and the scene is described as a melancholy beyond description. Dr. Richard Harrison was called, and all that science and affection combined could do was done. The patient was speechless for several hours, but at last accounts had partially recovered his speech, and was slowly recuperating again.

May the All-wise spare him yet a while to the many loving hearts of family and friends.

The Grange.
We are in receipt of applications from several sources asking information as to how to proceed in effecting an organization of the above name and order. We regret our inability to give the information asked; and therefore refer the question to the Master or other officers of the State Grange.

We Noticed
Goods marked for the following places yesterday, and being shipped by wagon to their destination: Comanche, Hamilton, Hillsboro, Gainesville, Stephensville, Cleburne, Brownwood, Towash, Fort Graham, Honey Creek, Station Creek, and Jonesboro.

It is a Bad
Sign to see an upper country farmer buying bacon. He should be selling it. There is two hundred per cent. in favor of the farmer who sells, over him who buys.

LUCKETT'S LINIMENT—LIVING WITNESSES.

FLAT RIDGE, Falls County Texas, August 16, 1873.

Mr. S. M. Lackland:

DEAR SIR—I have been sorely afflicted with Rheumatism for several years, so much so that at times I have not been able to walk without the greatest pain for two and three months together. I have tried every remedy, and been attended on by several good physicians, but have never experienced any relief until I was induced to try "Luckett's Liniment." After using three bottles I find myself entirely well, and I cheerfully give this to the public, hoping that others may see this and profit by my experience, and specially seek relief in this truly wonderful medicine. JACK PIERCE,

The auction man of the West, makes things lively on his side of the square, judging, as we do, from the amount of goods we see leaving his house, purchased at a mere song.

How Jack gets his goods is another thing, but we suspect him in some way connected with that class of merchants who get their goods in that mysterious way that enables them to sell for one half the price of the other merchants.

And but the fact that we have known Jack for lo! these many years, we might go a step further, and say he S—— them. No, we won't say it; but we tell you what we will say: Long may he wave that's whats what. DAWlf

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.

Absolutely safe. Perfectly odorless. Always uniform. Illuminating qualities superior to gas. Burns in any lamp without danger of exploding or taking fire. Manufactured expressly to displace the use of volatile and dangerous oils. Its safety under every possible test, and its perfect burning qualities are proved by its continued use in over 300,000 families.

Millions of gallons have been sold and no accident—directly or indirectly—has ever occurred from burning, storing or handling it.

The immense yearly loss to life and property, resulting from the use of cheap and dangerous oils in the United States is appalling.

The Insurance Companies and Fire Commissioners throughout the country recommend ASTRAL as the best safeguard when lamps are used. Send for circular.

For sale at retail by the trade generally, and at wholesale by the proprietors, CHAS. PRATT & CO., 108 Fulton Street, New York.
