THE TOWN TALK.

Items of Interest Culled by Our Reporters.

—Lake Ice is solid.

—The coldest thing in town is lake ice.

—The Missouri Pacific was a little late yesterday.

—New corn is selling to-day for 30 cents per bushel.

—A new barber shop has been opened on Fourth street.

—The county commissioners will have a clock put in the courthouse tower.

—A. Herz remains as the popular leader for cigars and tobacco. Smoke and be happy.

—Conger's ice factory is supplying an excellent article of pure solid ice, as good as the best.

—It takes the lead and keeps it always. The Iron Front, where pure liquors can be found.

—Dr. S. B. Hamlett's popular drug store is where fresh drugs and the purest medicines are always kept.

—General Speight has purchased a new carriage, but he says it is not because he is getting proud in his old age.

—A man was arrested yesterday for selling cigars without paying his city license. He paid up and was released.

—John Powers and Mrs. Dona Johnson, Paul Miller and Mary Weinberger, were provided with marriage licenses yesterday.

—The hungry delegate found his way to the Silver Moon, and when he left it was with a fervent wish that it might shine forever.

—Messrs. Finks and Marshall were yesterday granted a permit to erect a one-story frame house on North First street, to cost $500.

—Smith Kellum was arrested by Deputy Mobley yesterday upon a charge of assault and battery. He gave a $25 bond and was released.

—Chaney Warner, a colored girl, was arrested and jailed yesterday morning by Deputy Sheriff Mobley, for cruelly beating a little daughter of Mrs. Dan Clark.

—It is reported that Hon. F. A. Sturgis will offer himself as a candidate for the mayoralty. He has filled the office before and has a good record to run on.

—The girls of Waco should investigate the reason for so many of the boys going abroad for wives. Probably it is because the demand here exceeds the supply.

—The county commissioners were again engaged on road matters yesterday. The road from the Dallas road to the Hill county line ordered to be laid out in 1881, was taken up and objections to it considered.

Deputy Sheriff Ross and Jenkins made a search through the old cemetery yesterday for an escaped convict who was reported to them to be concealed there. They failed to find the man after a thorough search.

—The recorder had a quartet this morning upon whom he imposed fines to the tune of $5 and costs, Dan Monroe and John Perry $2 each and J. Jones and Willis Weaver $20 each for converting themselves into artillery shops and carrying the tabooed "six-shooter."

—A young man who took out his marriage license on June 3d, called on the clerk yesterday for another one, a terrible siege of sickness having prevented his using the first. Father Dunmont was then called upon and united the young man and the object of his love.

—Yesterday morning Alderman Cameron, of the fire committee, and Superintendent Eagan, of the Water Works, made a thorough examination of all the hydrants in the city, and found them all right and ready for service, except one in East Waco, which workmen are now engaged fixing.

—A party of travelers passed through here yesterday that recalled to the old settlers the halcyon days of prairie schooners and mustang navigation. Three frontiersmen mounted on their mustang ponies and equipped with tin cups, coffee pots, saddle bags, slickers and other accoutrements of travel, and travel, stopped a short while and then pursued their way toward the setting sun.

—In Justice Evans' court yesterday nearly the whole day was consumed in hearing the case of G. Rosenthal vs. Schneider for $75.85, alleged damages sustained from water coming through the upper floor upon the Rosenthal stock, the land being with the defendant. After voluminous testimony and elaborate arguments from counsel, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the defendant.

Thirty Days More.

I continue my clearance sale, must replace stock. I am preparing for the best trade this fall I have had in Waco and my trade has been good all the time. I feel that I have earned my patrons' trade, can please without the least trouble, now is the time, notions at a trifle, parasols at cost, lace at cost, hair goods reduced 50 to wear, reduced laces, reduced gloves, reduced corsets, reduced hands, advice of a professional nature and how to make it free of charge.

Mrs. B. J. Dees,
South 4th Street.

A Reminder.

Again do we desire to call your attention to the fact that we are receiving a weekly invoice of Cape May ham hats, which we can offer to suit all taste. Do not forget the fact that all other goods in the millinery line will be sold you at your own price, as we must not carry over any stock but begin the fall season without any odds or ends of summer wear remaining.

Mrs. Lilly Coffey.

September Edition.

The EXAMINER calls the attention of its patrons and of the public generally to the fact that it is preparing to issue an immense September edition which will excel any previous issue. As an advertising medium it will be unsurpassed, and will be replete with interesting statistics and information regarding our city and county, showing the growth and improvement of the past year and comparing the results with those of former years. Space for advertisements is being rapidly sold, and those who desire to be represented in the mammoth issue should apply early.

Every smoker should try "Little Joker."

GRAND RALLY.

The Young Democracy and Their Friends.

Coke, Mills, Tyler and Others to Address the Meeting—Invitation to the Ladies.

The Young Men's Democratic Club will have the grandest rousing old-fashioned rally at the court house, tonight that has ever been witnessed in Waco.

The committee on arrangements have made every detail complete and special provision has been made for ladies and those accompanied by ladies. Everybody is invited and ample conveniences have been made to accommodate all who come. The excursion from Corsicana is expected to arrive about 11 o'clock, and Hon. R. Q. Mills and other visitors will be met by the committee of arrangements and conducted to the hotel, whence he will be escorted at night to the court house by the members of the club, headed by a brass band. The programme for the evening is as follows:

1. Introductory address by W. S. Baker, president of the Young Men's Democratic Club.
2. Music.
3. Speech from L. L. Foster.
4. Music.
5. Speech from G. W. Tyler.
6. Music.
7. Speech from R. Q. Mills.
8. Music.
9. Speech from Richard Coke.
10. Music.

All members of the Democratic Club will meet promptly at 8 o'clock p. m. in the hallway in the Sturgis block, up stairs, opposite the Pacific hotel, and form and march from there to the court house accompanying the speakers.

Special provision will be made to accommodate the seating of the ladies, and they are specially requested to be present. All the speeches will be short, except those of Messrs. Coke and Mills, who will be given the greater part of the evening.

Improvements on the Bosque.

Not at all discouraged about the result of the crops, Mr. Thos. Riggs, who lives out at the Bosque bridge, is preparing to put in a gin, and expects to have a full patronage. He sent his new engine out yesterday, and will put in two seventy saw gins, a fine press and fifty horse power engine. Such an addition to the scenery about Bosque bridge will be something of an innovation upon the old programme. The bridge has long been a popular resort for sentimental youths and fascinating maidens, especially during the progress of the camp meeting. Mr. Riggs has full confidence in the success of his new venture, and has our best wishes in that direction.

Off for Austin.

Mr. George A. O'Brien, deputy U. S. collector of revenue, and H. T. Keating, the colored man who so disturbed Mr. Blodgett's equanimity Saturday night, leaves this morning by the Missouri Pacific for Austin to attend the meeting of the Republican State Executive Committee. In conversation with Mr. O'Brien yesterday he informed an EXAMINER reporter that he was opposed to the nomination of a straight Republican ticket, and should favor Wash. Jones for the head of the ticket. He thinks the purpose is to put a straight ticket out. Among the notables who will be there will be Webb Flanagan, J. C. Bigger, J. C. Dectress and others, and a warm session is in prospect.

Prof. J. E. Strother.

It will gratify many friends of Prof. Strother and alumni of Waco University, to learn that arrangements have been made to retain Prof. Strother in the University. Prof. S. will be assigned a different position in the faculty, in which there will be less friction, and in which his peculiar excellency as a teacher will be drawn out. Prof. Wendemoyer, who attained eminent success as a presiding teacher and organizer in Baylor University, will be in Maggie Houston Hall. The whole preparatory department will be thoroughly organized. Special attention will be given to penmanship, reading, elocution and composition, and also to the smaller students, who will be assigned to a separate room and under a special teacher selected peculiarly for them. The faculty of Waco University is fully organized for efficient work in every department. Applications of students are pouring in every day. All that is now lacking is more room and the repairing of the building.

DIED.

The following notice from the Galveston News will be read with regret by the many friends in Waco of Mrs. Sykes, nee Miss Maggie Rowlett, of this city:

"On Sunday, August 10, George Mandeville, infant son of Dr. Geo. S. and Maggie Sykes.

Waco and Austin papers please copy."

Shooting pains in the limbs are cured by St. Jacobs Oil, the infallible conqueror of pain.

Congressional Convention.

The convention to nominate a candidate for Congress for the Ninth Judicial District will meet at the court house this morning at 10 o'clock (now) to-day. Delegates are due to that time. As there is no opposition to Hon. R. Q. Mills, the work of the convention will be brief, and that distinguished statesman will be renominated as a matter of course. Judge L. L. Foster, Judge A. W. Walker, Col. Dan Richards and other eminent lawyers will be there, and a delightful time is anticipated.

Free Advertising.

Every subscriber to the EXAMINER is entitled to advertise in the Want column, free of charge, articles worth not more than $5, and a reasonable number of times, unless otherwise specified.

Referring to the many enthusiastic notices from the press for the benefit of East Waco, we feel justified in making a prediction that when it is generally recognized that "it would be a paradise" for East Waco to secede. The prominent men in the movement are all in the same boat upon the most prominent footing for the place.

The prospects for a big crowd are good and looked upon quite favorably by the good people who make things lively around the court house corner. These gentlemen have been repeatedly warned to be more orderly, but persist in making loud and vulgar talk and are seriously a nuisance to the many ladies who have to pass that corner.

Mr. Clay Clark wrote yesterday to the Calvert (Tex.) Cook that rather than have this match only a paper can the Waco Gun Club would accede to the proposition to send ten men and the other points of their letter. If the Calvert club would pay trade satisfactory to the association and increase the purse to $100 a side. The match to take place Friday, September 12.

DOMESTIC.

ARMY REUNION.

Lake Minnetonka, Minn., August 13.—The members of the Army of Tennessee assembled in the parlor of the Hotel Lafayette and were called to order by Gen. Sherman, who read a brief letter from Gen. Grant, expressing his regret that his health would not allow him to be present. Gen. Sherman, before reading the letter, said: Nineteen years after the close of the war we have reason to be thankful that so many survive in health and strength to assemble in accordance with the promise of 1865 at Raleigh, to keep alive the cordial ties of friends which which brought us together during the war. I deem it proper to explain the cause of a change of programme. At our last meeting Gen. Grant was chosen orator. He accepted and all arrangements were made for his presence. We all know that in December last he had sustained a fall, but we had hoped his vigorous constitution had long ere this repaired the damage done, we all know he had been overtaken by a financial hurricane, blizzard, a very cyclone, so common in New York, the result of a false system of finance, but he sooner believed that General Grant, personally, was in the remotest degree responsible or censurable. Great applause.) Rather we hoped all the more that he would enable us, by his presence, to manifest for him our intense love and respect he had won on the battle field, and which will survive long after Wall-street shall cease to be held synonamous in which grabbing in gold and credit are the features. General Sherman read a brief letter of regret from General Grant, after which he said he hoped his bodily affliction would soon pass away, and that the clouds which now lower over his house may in the deep bosom of the ocean be buried.

SEEKING AN INVESTIGATION.

New York, August 13.—The rumor that Chas. B. Henry, of the Greely expedition was killed and a portion of his body eaten, caused much excitement in the neighborhood of Cypress Hill Cemetery. Application was made to coroner Robinson by persons not related to Henry, to have the body exhumed and an investigation held.

BRITISH GOLD.

New Jersey, August 13.—A million and a quarter dollars arrived today from England, in British gold coin.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, August 13.—For the Western Gulf states, slights warmer and fair weather, with winds generally from the south and east.

READY TO GO HOME.

Washington, D. C., August 13.—The chief signal officer has received a telegram from the surgeon in charge of Greely and party, at Portsmouth, saying the survivors would be ready by Saturday next to proceed to their respective homes.

PROMINENT ARRIVALS.

New York, August 13.—Thomas Sexton and Wm. Redmond arrived this morning and left for Boston to attend the Land League convention. Sex on states that his relations with Parnell and Dwyett were friendly, and that there was no estrangement between the two latter.

WATKINS REGATTA.

Watkins, N. Y., August 13.—In today's race of the National Association Regatta, the first heat in the junior singles will be between Cummings, of Boston, Nowlan, of Albany, Strickland, of Petersburg, Canada and Mulcahy, of Albany. The latter is the favorite.

CATTLE DISEASE.

Chicago, Illinois, August 13.—It is reported that pleuro pneumonia has broken out at Elm Hurst, a suburban village sixteen miles out on the Galena division of the Northwestern railway, and that the herds of John Boyd and Seth Wadhams are those afflicted. Dr. Salomon has gone to investigate.

FOREIGN.

SEVERE STORMS.

London, August 13.—Later reports indicate that the thunder storms which swept over the north of England and Scotland yesterday was almost unexampled in severity. Many buildings in Edinburg, Leith and other cities were partially demolished by lightning. Dundee was enveloped in dense darkness for an hour and traffic suspended.

THE DISABLED STEAMER.

St. Johns, N. F., August 13.—The steamship Hanoverian just arrived from Halifax, passed the Allan Monarch three miles off Cape Race, at 7 o'clock this morning, moving slowly. It was then seventy hours since the Lydian Monarch left St. John, and she was averaging three quarters of a mile per hour.

MAIL ROBBERY.

Vienna, August 13.—A great sensation has been caused by the recent robberies of the Austrian mails. Not long ago a letter containing 4,000 florins was abstracted, and now the whole mail bag is stolen. The bag contained only valuables and registered letters, in some of the latter were checks amounting to several florins, sent by the savings banks in Perth.

SKETCHING UP THE SUN.

Disparagers of the Dudish Young Men at the Fountain.

"Just let a young man or two in some good summer resort play long at lawn tennis or the Walton, and there will be scores of young men who in their private here drinking soda water, but let some such love sick play or lounge, and dudes lie on the beards, and the dudes who their girls pass right by. After a play like that they always go round to an ice cream saloon and eat ice cream and talk."

The speaker was here interrupted by the arrival of three slender, beardless youths, who came in pell mell quarreling in gulch fashion as to which should have the privilege of treating the others. "Charlie" at last took the lead, and two "strawberries" and a "pineapple with cream" were ordered. The young men eyed their glasses with the air of connoisseurs and sipped them off as a dragon. "Set 'em up again" said No 2, with a pretty swagger, and before they went away each had drank six glasses.

"Now that's what I call independency," said one of the fellows, "and I'm all right. I'm sorry to see those young fellows go on that way. Why, would you believe it, they came in the other night with two others, and the whole was treated! They talked just as if they were a lot from home. Of course it don't do them as to go there, but I don't like to see a good thing abused, even when it's by my own gain."

A Monkey College.

"The latest thing in scientific news," said a naturalist to an Enquirer writer, "is the college of monkeys in London. Half a dozen evolutionists and naturalists of the very advanced school are attempting to teach monkeys to talk or express their wants. The method is at first by letter blocks. A block alphabet, in which the letters are all distinctly colored, is arranged before the monkey student, which is first taught to select some simple word, as pie, and when he picks out the letters and forms the word he is given a pie, so there is a common incentive to learn, the prizes all being bread and butter so to speak." "And what are the results?" asked the visitor. "They have not been divulged yet," was the reply; "but one of the authors of the scheme states that there is to be a public exhibition when the monkeys can be heard for themselves. If a pig can be taught so many wonderful things, I see no reason why a monkey should not. It is acknowledged that ants have a language and talk to one another, and that the light of some insects is used as a means of communication between them, so why not other and higher animals?"

FREE BRIDGE.

Some Points on this Important Question.

It has become an absolute necessity to the people of Waco and McLennan county to have a free bridge over the Brazos. Her growing commerce and increasing population demands this step, and the time has arrived when it must be seriously considered. The old ford at the foot of Jackson street has become useless and impassable, and those whose business or necessities calls them from one side of the river to the other, must per force pay tribute to the suspension bridge. Now it may be argued that the sum exacted as toll is small but the bridge is doing well, and those who own stock in it realize handsome dividends, and capital to that amount is yearly absorbed from what legitimately belongs to Waco. Again, a farmer crossing the river with his wagon and team has to pay (for both ways) fifty cents. This sum the party who buys his produce has to pay in the increased price demanded. Wood costs the consumer an additional half dollar per cord, for the same reason and examples might be multiplied ad infinitum.

The question of cost of erecting another bridge is nothing when the benefits are contemplated. From reliable estimates and figures in the possession of the EXAMINER and made by parties who have erected a bridge over the river at this point, it appears that a new bridge can be built for a moderate sum.

A bridge on the same general plan as the Narrow Gauge railway bridge can be built for from $30,000 to $35,000. Such a bridge would have two sidewalks and a roadway eighteen feet wide in the clear. The walks would cost about $2,000, and may be left off as desired. The outside cost would not exceed $35,000. The plan suggested would be to span the stream with three long spans, which would place the shore piers further up the banks and leave off the short spans as in the case of the Narrow Gauge bridge. The Narrow Gauge bridge cost about $25,000, but the proposed structure for passenger traffic would be no less strong and equally durable. As we said above, the hour for action is come and a city of Waco's wealth and importance can no longer afford to be restricted in its commerce and trade by an incubus in the form of a toll bridge. There is something suggestive of the old frontier days and village proportions about it that is disagreeable. Our merchants when they consider this matter cannot fail to realize its importance.

Mrs. Edison Dead.

MENLO PARK, N. J. August 13.—Mrs. Thos. A. Edison died yesterday aged twenty-nine, of congestion of the brain.

Miners Resume Work.

SHAWNEE, O., August 13.—The miners at Read's Mine, New Straitsville, began work this morning at the old price of seventy cents per ton. The miners have decided that any mine that will pay that price can begin work.

Workingmen's Convention.

UTICA, N. Y., August 13.—The State Workingmen's Convention was called to order in the City Opera house at half past eleven to-day by George Blair, Chairman of the Executive Committee. Gawl y, of Buffalo, was made temporary chairman, and the Convention adjourned.

Crop Prospects Abroad.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 13.—The London statistical agent for the Department of Agriculture reports to-day by cable that the weather of the first ten days of August has been hot, forcing an improvement in the wheat prospects as noted in all European countries. It is magnificent harvesting weather.

Workingmen in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, KY., August 13.—The Post's Frankfort, Ky., special says: John Wall, a prominent Logan County farmer was fatally shot by a farm hand.

The Trades and Labor Assembly had a celebration in Louisville today. Five thousand workingmen paraded the streets.

Cincinnati Thugs.

CINCINNATI, O., August 13.—At an early hour yesterday morning James Wright of No. 13 Kossuth street, staggered into the house with his mouth and cheek bleeding from a horrible gash which he had received at the hands of some person who is yet unknown. Wright's tongue was frightfully cut, rendering him unable to talk. While passing the corner of Fifth and Broadway he was attacked by a gang of toughs, who knocked him down and cut him in a frightful manner. His head was beaten with a club, and his face, tongue and neck cut in a most brutal way. He was then robbed of his money and all articles of value and left. His condition is extremely critical.

Because It Is True.

are in the thoughts of all at this time of the summer. To be entirely comfortable it is also necessary to think of a cooling regime; a vegetable diet, easily digestible, and a mind at ease. No mind can be at ease without health. One of our friends says: "Hop Bitters Cordial Extract is worth its weight in Gold." It conquers all kinds of Inflammations, while for all sorts of Inflammations and Hemorrhages of every sort. I would not be without it for the world."

Notice.

In another column will be found an article in which all (whether they will or not) are interested. Neglecting to read it may prove a very serious as well as an expensive affair. We refer to the advertisement of Prickly Ash Bitters. A knowledge of its merits and the benefit you or your family may derive from using it will save not only health but many dollars otherwise expended in "Doctors' bills."

"I Never Saw Anything like it" said good Mrs. Powers, who had just rescued her "wickedest" from a nest of hornets, and was pouring "Pond's Extract upon his wounds. "I didn't mean the hornets" she added, turning to her friend Mrs. Goodwin, "I mean this Pond's Extract just see how it acts, and by to-morrow all this swelling will be gone. It's just the same, used internally, and always cures. Inflammations and Hemorrhages of every sort. I would not be without it for the world."

LAGRANGE, GA.

Dr. J. Bradfield, Atlanta, Ga.

DEAR SIR—I take pleasure in stating that I have used, for the last twenty years, the medicine you are now putting up, known as Dr. Bradfield's Female Regulator, and consider it the best combination ever gotten together for the disease for which it is recommended. With kindest regards, I am, respectfully,

W. B. FERRELL, M. D.

Saved Her Life.

RIDDLE, MCINTOSH CO., GA.

Dr. J. Bradfield.

DEAR SIR—I have taken several bottles of your Female Regulator for falling of the womb and other diseases combined, of sixteen years standing, and I really believe I am cured entirely, for which please accept my heartfelt thanks and most profound gratitude. I know your medicine saved my life, so you see I cannot speak too highly in its favor. I have recommended it to several of my acquaintances who are suffering as I was. Yours very respectfully,

MRS. W. L. STEVENS.

ATLANTA, GA.

Dr. J. Bradfield.

DEAR SIR—Some fifteen years ago I examined the receipt of your Female Regulator, and carefully studied authorities in regard to its components; and then, as well as now, pronounce it to be the most scientific and skillful combination of the really reliable and remedial vegetable agents known to science to act directly on the womb and uterine organs and parts sympathizing directly with these, and, therefore, providing a specific remedy for all diseases of the womb and of the adjacent organs and parts. Yours truly,

JESSE BOOKOO, M. D. D. D.

Nothing Like It.

Mr. J. R. Elynn, 876 Sixth Avenue, New York, was cured, he says, of rheumatism of long standing by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, the great pain cure. For scalds, bruises, cuts, etc., he thinks it has no equal.

GOLD IN OUR OLD FIELDS.

When we consider the health to be better than wealth, then must we consider the old field mullein better than gold—at least the medical world so recognize it, and attest its merits over cod liver oil for lung troubles. Made in a tea and combined with sweet gum, it presents in Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein, a pleasant and effective cure for Croup, Whooping-cough, Colds and Consumption. Sold by all druggists at 25c and $1.00 a bottle.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a receipt that will cure you FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. Joseph T. Inman, Station D, New York City. 3-29dwly
