How to Advertise.

There are advertisers and advertisers. Our motto is "Multum in Parvo." We can afford to be brief, concise, sententious. Everybody has heard of the Fashion Bazaar. Every lady buys at least a portion of her millinery there. Everybody that does is pleased and remains permanently satisfied. Every patron of the Bazaar endorses the above.

A MAD COW.

How She Ran Through the Streets and Terrorized the People.

At about 11 o'clock yesterday morning while some butchers were driving several head of cattle across the square, one of the cows became unmanageable and made a rush among the wagons and people that covered that commercial court. It seemed that she became mad at once and every person she met an attempt was made to gore them. Her most freaks consisted the wildest excitement among those who stood on the streets and sidewalks. An old gentleman by the name of J. C. Moore, who lives at Robinsonville, was standing at Barr Moore's corner, when the mad beast rushed up behind and taking him upon her horns threw him out on the street, about thirty feet from where he stood, and then in attempting to gore him fell with her full weight on his body. Gentlemen standing near rushed out and picked Mr. Moore up and carried him into Tucker & Willis' drug store, where Drs. Willis and Curtis examined his body, but no fatal wounds could be found, with the exception of a bruised nose, but it was evident he was badly hurt internally. He complained of great pain, and laid down in Dr. Willis' office until late in the afternoon, when he was taken home. Mr. Moore despite an old man, and the injury was pronounced to be fatal to his bodily health.

The cow ran on down south Third street and made a dash for everyone that was on foot in the street or on the sidewalk. A negro girl was wheeling a baby carriage up the sidewalk and the mad brute rushed at her, but the timely arrival of men who had started on horseback after her prevented the animal from doing any injury.

The beast then ran down Jackson street to the Missouri Pacific bridge, then down the river and out to First street, causing consternation among the people wherever she went.

By this time a large crowd of officers and citizens on horseback had gathered and followed after the cow, and close upon her on First street, below City, where four shots fired from a pistol in the hands of Mr. W. W. Edwards killed the brute.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." It is also the price of perfect health—that boon which all seek. It is not possible to have perfect health if the bowels are not regular in their action. Diarrhoea and constipation are equally destructive of health and comfort. Dr. Peter Tracy, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "For constipation, when used according to your printed directions, I prefer Mandler's Herb Bitters to any other remedy."

An elegant line of bookcases and secretaries, just received. Call and see them.

Stephenson, Tibbs & Steiner.

Talmage Coming to Texas.

A rumor prevailed on the streets last evening that Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, the Brooklyn divine, would visit Waco in a few weeks in order to purchase a pair of the hand-sewed shoes at R. P. Sturgis & Co's.

Look Out for Thieves.

A gentleman just from Houston and who is conversant with crookedness and thieves, informed the EXAMINER that he recognized two famous bank thieves on the streets of the city last night. He thinks they are the advance guard of others, who will come here and probably are not a long land from some house or bank. These same men were seen in Atlanta, Ga., a short time ago, and perhaps they have centered on Waco for base of action. It would be well for every one to be on the look out and prevent these scamps from stealing anything.

We can recommend Riviere's Diarrhea and Cholera Mixture as a sure cure for diarrhea, flux and cholera. Price 25 cents. Sold by Riviere & Co., druggists, Franklin street, Waco, Texas.

Save 25 per cent buying cloaks this week at Sanger Bros.

Just received: another invoice of bedroom suits. Something new and novel.

Stephenson, Tibbs & Steiner.

To the Young Gentlemen of Waco.

If you need a tony shoe, don't take things for granted, but come to headquarters and see R. P. Sturgis & Co., the corner shoe store.

The Texas and St. Louis Road.

The wrecks were cleared on the Texas & St. Louis road yesterday and trains from the east and west are running all right now. Three freight trains and one passenger train came in from the east yesterday. It is hoped that everything is in good shape on the road now, and there will be no more delays caused by wrecks, or anything else.

When we say reduced prices we mean money in the pockets of our customers. Cloaks are reduced this week at Sanger Bros.

From the Ground Up.

We can fit the largest and smallest, the thickest and thinest, broadest and narrowest, richest and poorest, the meekest the wisest, the oldest the youngest—call it square, we can fit them all. Try us once and see. R. P. Sturgis & Co.

KING COTTON.

A Showing of What has Been Done in Waco this Fall.

The cotton market for the past week has been an active one, and the receipts are something over 1,000 bales. Prices have continued firm and the highest market values were paid for the staple. The total receipts for the season, that is cotton received by wagons direct from the farmers, are 28,521 bales. This much has been weighed in the different yards in the city and is shown to be a true statement by the books of the cotton weighers.

There has been shipped from the city, via the different railroads running here, 31,198 bales. This includes cotton that has been consigned here from other place adjacent the city and re-shipped after it had been compressed. A great deal of this amount has been purchased by Waco buyers at other points and sent here for re-shipment.

The Brazos compress has compressed 28,500 bales, and the Lone Star compress about 14,000, making a total of 42,500 bales compressed here this season. These such be and header are 2000 bales on hand, which makes a total of over 40,000 bales of cotton received at Waco this season. We can count on receiving 20,000 more bales, which will give a grand total of 60,000 for the season. Averaging this at $20 per bale it will make the traffic in cotton alone in and adjacent to Waco $3,000,000. By these figures it would seem that cotton is still king, and for it to make such a showing this year, when it is said only a third of a crop was made, is something unprecedented in any city in Texas. Competition in railroad freights has done this for our city, and situated, as we are in the heart of the great cotton region of the state, Waco will, in a good crop season, control more than 200,000 bales of cotton.

Persons suffering with weak or sore eyes can be cured by the use of Riviere's Magic Eye Water. Never fails. Strongly recommended by the best oculists. 25 cents a bottle. Riviere & Co., druggists, Franklin street, sole agents for Waco, Texas.

See our new patterns of carpets that have just arrived.

Stephenson, Tibbs & Steiner.

Astonishing.

Nevertheless true. We sell you better boots and shoes for less money than any house in the trade. Why not? We have to sell and are going to sell them. R. P. Sturgis & Co.

Found—Gold Watches.

A member of the EXAMINER's staff found a nice lot of ladies' and gentlemen's gold watches, chains, etc., while walking Austin avenue last evening. They were at Ragland's jewelry store.

Marriage Licenses.

During the past week marriage licenses have been issued to the following named parties: John H. Grider and Miss Lucy E. C. Starr, G. C. Brown and Miss Cora M. Hagde, J. M. Yates and Miss M. C. Norton, H. R. Roddey and Miss Mary Moore, A. H. Storts and Mrs. Mattie Foster, Lawson C. Black and Miss Alice Rogers, J. W. Latimer and Miss Emily Sloan, W. L. Frazer and Miss Laura E. McMichael.

A well known physician writes that Nature's Own Cough Syrup is the most reliable and effective remedy known to him for coughs, colds, whooping cough and incipient consumption. "I never know it to fail." Price 50 cents a bottle at Riviere's drug store, Franklin street, Waco, Texas.

Cleveland and Reform.

They may all talk of the new administration of the democratic party, but never has such reform been seen in Waco as R. P. Sturgis & Co. are making in the boot and shoe trade.

The people of Waco are not slow to appreciate it, either.

W. P. Martin & Bro.

Will sell you a real nice French dresser suit, full marble top for $25.

We invite everybody who expects to buy carpets to look at our stock and learn our prices.

Stephenson, Tibbs & Steiner.

Will Bear Watching.

If you want to see a nice stock of every grade of furniture, carpets and parlor brackets to select from go to W. P. Martin & Bro., corner of Fifth and Austin streets.

Have you seen our five hundred dollar bed-room suite? If not, call and see it. It is a "daisy."

Stephenson, Tibbs & Steiner.

Scrap book pictures and Christmas cards now open at W. H. Watkins. Full stock of holiday goods en route.

THE COURTS.

What was Done in the Various Courts Yesterday.

DISTRICT COURT.

In the case of P. Dockins vs. Fagnent, Walker & Co., from Hill county, a judgment of $800 was given to the plaintiff.

The case of the La Belle wagon works, J. F. Gordon et al., is now on trial.

The grand jury brought in fifteen indictments, and adjourned for the term.

Hon. Don A. Pardee of New Orleans, judge of the ninth circuit, United States circuit court, will arrive in Waco next Thursday and open court.

JUSTICE COURT.

In the cases of Calvin Dawson vs. Jesse Dawson, and Helen A. Todd vs. Jay Todd, divorces were granted.

In the case of C. A. Reynolds, temporary administrator of the estate of B. A. Ford, deceased, an appeal from the county court, the decision of the lower court was affirmed.

The cause of Tribouy vs. J. K. Green was continued until the next term of the court.

The motion docket will be called Monday morning, and after the reading of the motions the court will proceed with the original docket.

The grand jury have found over eighty indictments, and it is thought will conclude their labors to-morrow.

COUNTY COURT.

Brownlee Brothers sued Lee Evans and William Lamb, $50 and costs each, for carrying concealed weapons. These are two of the men who did the shooting in Rogers' saloon at the time of the races.

COUNTY BOARD SITTING.

The county commissioners met yesterday and resolved to build a fireproof vault for the district clerk's office. The job was awarded to Mr. McNeal for $1,500.

Sheriff Harris received information yesterday that George Emerson, an old refugee from justice, and who had been indicted for theft of a horse, has been arrested and was in jail at Hillsboro. A man by the name of McSmith, wanted for theft of a cow, was arrested at Whitney, and the sheriff has sent for him.

A man named Dave Childress was arrested and jailed yesterday. He is charged with theft of a sewing machine, and will be kept in the jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Mrs. George Moore made bond yesterday, General George Clark becoming her surety.

Mr. J. C. Mix went down to Marlin yesterday after one John Lewis, who is wanted for stealing a yearling.

JUSTICE DAVIS.

Prof. R. H. Hill was tried yesterday for assault and battery and acquitted of the charge.

FLOOD ELEVATOR AND PURIFYING PUMP.

As indicated by the illustration this pump draws water without a valve or valve rod, every movement sifts the water from top to bottom and thus by the continuous introduction of fresh air prevents stagnation and keeps the water fresh and pure. It also purifies water already stagnant, destroys wiggle tails and makes the water as good as ever. Witness many prominent citizens now using this pump.
