CIRCULAR.

WACO, TEXAS, August 10th, 1887.—Glancing back to our cotton business for the season of '86 and '87, we acknowledge feeling highly gratified at the general expressions of satisfaction and the benefits our many friends say they derived from their consignments to us. We have always recognized this sterling fact, that any measure calculated to add to the welfare of our customers was alike beneficial to our interest, and to this end our highest ambition was always directed. It will at once be apparent that the successful interior merchant is he who handles the cotton raised in his community successfully, by which he is enabled to make the most satisfactory collections and best sales. In this position we were determined to place our friends, and while it has cost us a great deal of labor and a considerable outlay of money, we take great pleasure in informing you that our efforts were rewarded. Our Mr. M. N. Rosenthal has just returned from Europe, where he remained three months, visiting in person the largest mills and factories in England and France, securing us connections unsurpassed in the United States. We can safely say no house in the state of Texas has ever been placed in the position we are now to handle the crop of this country. It is indeed a source of gratification to know we can speak so confidently, not only because it enables us to offer you unexcelled advantages, but we add to the already well-earned laurels of our city as the great cotton market of Texas, a fact the most skeptical will be obliged to recognize this season. To be brief, we will ask you to bear in mind, first, that we have the means at our command to furnish you with all the money you will require to move the cotton in your community; secondly, in consigning your cotton to us you can always feel assured of getting the actual cash value of every bale. Your section will unquestionably make a fair crop of cotton. We have offered you the facilities to do well, and hope you will take advantage of every bale where you see the chances are good for your collections and sales. It would please us to know you captured every bale that came to your town. As heretofore, we make no charges nor ask commissions for handling your shipments. Our compensation will be the pleasure of knowing that our humble efforts have proved of vast benefit to you. In conclusion, we offer to the trade the most complete line of dry goods, furnishings, hats, clothing and boots and shoes ever shown in Central Texas. All departments are replete with novelties, carefully selected by our buyers. We bear no competition. Our prices are up with the times, and we guarantee to duplicate eastern markets. Prices will be cheerfully furnished on application. Sincerely thanking you for past favors, and pledging ourselves to still further merit your esteemed patronage, we are, yours truly

DYSPEPSIA

Does not get well of itself, it requires careful, persistent attention and a remedy that is known and reliable to do it. Of the many preparations offered, none stand so high in the estimation of the people as Dr. Benjamin Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has cured hundreds, it will cure you if it is given a fair chance.

Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co.:

Gentlemen—I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla from my wife, who has been troubled with dyspepsia and debility for several years, which had really reduced her feeble. . . . Before she had taken the first bottle her health commenced to improve. She is now taking the fourth bottle, and her health is steadily and permanently improved, and I may believe it is a valuable and entitled to the credit. GEO. W. BURSWORTH, Amherst, N. H.

Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six for $5. Sold by Druggists.
