GALVESTON.

Ex-County Treasurer Burk Stands Trial and is Acquitted.

GALVESTON, Nov. 25.—The trial of W. J. Burk, ex-treasurer of Galveston county, for the embezzlement of over $20,000 county funds, began today before Judge Cook in the criminal district court. It will be remembered when Burk returned from California, and at the time of his voluntary surrender in San Francisco, he repeatedly announced that he should plead guilty and thus quiet his accusing conscience. Since then it seems that Burk has at least modified his intentions, for Hon. Jas. B. Stubbs appeared as his attorney today, and the unfortunate prisoner looking pale and careworn, 25[illegible], and in a low voice, pleaded "not guilty." The witnesses for the state were the several county officials who swore to the payments of the various moneys to Burk and his bailiffs properly to count for portions of the same. Not until Sheriff Owen took the witness stand did it become apparent that the defense would set up insanity and mental irresponsibility. On cross-examination Owen said Burk's manners were peculiar. For several weeks prior to his departure he had many actions, was very excitable and abused the people, and was extravagant in his expressions. After he surrendered himself the witness thought he was crazy sure enough. The state rested its case late this evening. The defense was brief. Burk was not placed on the stand. His wife testified as to his excited and unnatural state of mind during the campaign for his re-election. A few other witnesses were introduced to show his mental condition and the defense rested. The court held a night session during which arguments of the defendant's counsel were made. Burk's attorney claimed that the state had failed to make the case against his client, and pleads Burk's temporary irresponsibility. The case went to the jury at 9:30 o'clock, and at 9:50 the jury returned a verdict of "Not guilty," and the prisoner was discharged. Burk, after receiving the congratulations of a few friends, left for his home, accompanied by his wife and daughter, who attended him throughout the trial.

The stock of clothing of the attached firm of Hincus & Rosenfield was sold at auction today to M. Schram for $11,000. The stock invoiced over $18,000.

THE CATTLE INTEREST.

Texas Cattle in Colorado Market Being Well—The Outlook Encouraging.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—T. T. D. Andrews, of Paris, Texas, and Henry M. Taylor, of the bureau of animal industry, arrived in the city today and leave tonight for Colorado. Mr. Taylor has just returned from Texas and reports that the drouth has not seriously affected the cattle in that state and that the present rains have removed all fear of future trouble. The Texas cattle which were sold in Colorado, owing to failure of the northern market, are doing well, and by spring will be in excellent condition. In Mr. Taylor's opinion, the depression in the cattle business has reached its lowest point, and a gradual revival may be looked for from this time.

WASHINGTON.

SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY FAIRCHILD PREPARING HIS REPORT.

[illegible] Dollar Slightly Touched The Tariff Not Touched Personally.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild has been anxious for the interruption to which he would be exposed at his office and has for several days past been working on his annual report, or letter. This report will be ready some time before the house meets and the president will have an early synopsis of it for incorporation in his message. It is understood that it will not be as long as the last report of Secretary Manning, and that it will differ in other respects from his. Mr. Fairchild will probably not devote so much space to silver as his predecessor, but he will, it is understood, speak upon it at the same ground that Mr. Manning occupied upon the question of enforced coinage of the silver dollar. Upon the tariff question he will endeavor to be plain and practical. He cannot be weaker or uncertain as he writes as he talks, and while he will certainly advocate strongly the retention of the customs revenues, he will also give reasons that have been forced upon him by experience for the amendments of the customs laws that will lighten the burdens of inspectors, appraisers and the courts, at the same time that they will remove the causes of grievous annoyance to merchants and to tourists. While Mr. Manning was secretary it was generally understood correctly or not, that parts of the annual reports which he signed and put before those parts which dealt minutely with silver and tariff in opinions were the work of [illegible] possessed of special knowledge. Mr. Fairchild's report will be his own in every sense. He devoted himself closely, to the study of the financial questions of the history of the country, and has become acquainted by contact with the service in divisions with the machinery of every department and office where the department was organized. His suggestions are therefore bound to be characteristic of a straightforward, earnest public officer.

THE STICKED MAN.

Walker the Eloper is Arrested and Charged With Attempt to Poison.

SHERMAN, Tex., Nov. 25.—Sam W. Walker, the man who eloped with Mrs. J. L. Stephenson, a prominent farmer's wife, who lives near Van Alstyne, last Monday night, was caught last night by Deputy Sheriff Jean Andrews, and brought to Sherman this evening, under charge of attempting to poison Bob Stephenson, a brother of J. L. Stephenson, with a solution of concentrated lye, the day he eloped with the latter's wife. Walker does not deny eloping with the woman, but refuses to tell of her whereabouts. His bond was fixed by Justice Hunley at $500, which he has failed to give up to a late hour. As yet no charge has been filed against Walker in the elopement case.

THE BEAN WILL.

A Son of the Legatee Appears in Bonham.

BONHAM, Tex., Nov. 25.—Mr. George L. Gee, of Caldwell, Burleson county, Texas, arrived in the city this evening. Mr. Gee is a son of Nancy C. Gee, the legatee of the will recently found of the North Texas land king, Colonel Thomas C. Bean. Mr. Gee states that he had a cousin named Thomas Bean, and thinks that Colonel Thomas C. Bean is the man, as the last time he heard from his cousin he was living in some part of North Texas. The last time he saw his cousin, Thomas C. Bean, was about 1881 or 1882. The man Amos Pearson, who, it will be remembered, is purported to have written the will, was a brother-in-law of Mr. Gee and has been dead about fourteen years. On being asked if he heard of the man who claimed to have sent the will to Colonel Taylor of this city Mr. Gee stated that he never knew of such a man. The will was shown to Mr. Gee this evening. He examined it and said he could not swear to any of the signatures but that if they were genuine the fact could be readily proved by numerous parties living in Washington county, who were familiar with all the parties. Mr. Gee said whether the will is a forgery or not I am going to employ legal talent and sift the matter. Mr. Gee is a respectable [illegible] gentleman of [illegible]

MASTER WORKMAN.

Richard Griffith Speaks Freely and Well of His Chosen Country.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—The general master workman has fully and finally made up his mind to resign. Mr. Richard Griffith refers to Mr. Powderly's letter, announcing his determination to decline re-election to the presidency of the Knights of Labor. Mr. Griffith ranks next to Powderly [illegible] and would become president if [illegible] Mr. Powderly [illegible] foreign [illegible] expiration of his term. [illegible] "I have [illegible] with great satisfaction," he continued, "he has devoted the best years of his life to self-sacrificing endeavor to bring about a better condition of the laboring people. Looking back upon the condition of the wage workers of this country a few years ago, I see wonderful improvements have been made in their conditions. They have acquired and are acquiring a better knowledge of the industrial affairs, political economy and general information. This is largely the result of Mr. Powderly's policy. The anarchistic element has assailed Powderly in every possible way, but the conservative element is in such an overwhelming majority that the disorganizing action can have no possible effect upon the order. Of course the element will endeavor to get some one in sympathy with them into the master workman's chair, but they can never succeed in doing that. The good sense of the nation will always prevail in the end, and the good sense of half a million Knights of Labor will make itself felt."

"Has any one been mentioned as Mr. Powderly's successor?"

"Not the time for all for that, everything in the order is serene and quiet and its affairs are in excellent shape. Mr. Powderly has simply caught up with the work which was neglected while attending the conclave at Minneapolis. He will not abate a particle of his interest during the coming year."

YELLOWSTONE KIT.

In the Wet and Dry Battle Kit Waves a Flag.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 25.—The wet and dry campaign has assumed a novel phase. For some time a traveling patent medicine vendor, known as Yellowstone Kit, has been in the city drawing large crowds of negroes. As the negroes in the old slave quarters Yellowstone Kit was hailed by both parties to drop a word favorable to their cause. Over prominent prohibitionists offers himself. Yesterday he would come out for the dry side. Ex-governors, senators, judges, ministers and leading business men crowed around the curly headed quack. Wednesday night Kit came out for the wet ticket and carried the negro sex with him. They took him upon their shoulders and carried him around. Yesterday the police, who are under the prohibition stopped Kit from his usual exhibition. This summary proceeding, coming in the juncture it did, has aroused the anti-prohibitionists, who denounced it as an attempt to suppress free speech. Kit has taken the field, and it looks as if he was doing the Moses of the anti.

The Defunct Fifth National.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 25.—Receiver Stephens, of the defunct Fifth National bank, will bring suit in a few days against the directors of that institution to determine their liability to the stockholders for the fraud in which the bank's money was wasted. The suit will be brought in the name of the comptroller of the currency. The question at issue between the subscribers to the new stock of the bank and the receiver, is in the hands of the attorney general at Washington. Steps will also be taken to have the trustees of different concerns indebted to the bank replaced by disinterested parties.

Anarchist Burying Place.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—The anarchist defense committee had a conference with the directors of the Waldheim cemetery in reference to the purchase of the lot in which to bury the dead anarchists. No objection was made to burying all the bodies in the plot of ground, and a suitable place was selected, containing about [illegible] feet of ground.

Pork Packing House Burned.

DES MOINES, Nov. 25.—Fire last night destroyed the pork packing establishment of the Des Moines Packing company in the outskirts of this city. Loss, $130,000.

[illegible] longer. We earnestly request all who contemplate purchasing a Wrap or Jacket for the fall or winter, to call and see our immense stock. We can save you at least 25 per cent on every garment. This is no idle boast, as a visit to our store will prove.
