Special to the Dallas Herald.

AUSTIN, May 15.

Nothing of importance occurs in the House, this morning, except the discussion on the private corporation act, which was amended so as to allow railroad companies to incorporate without special charters from the Legislature.

In the evening, the House passed a bill granting sixteen sections of land to the Corpus Christi Ship Canal; also, to the Buffalo Bayou Ship Channel.

The Senate was occupied in debating a bill licensing physicians, and making it a penal offence for practicing without a diploma. It is likely the bill will pass.

It is said that a compromise has been effected on the election bill, allowing but the election of two new Senators. If correct, you may look for a speedy adjournment. GUESS.

Special to the Dallas Herald.

BONHAM, TEX., May 15.

The northward bound mixed train on the Houston and Texas Central Railroad ran off the track between Hutchins and this place. Seven cars flew the track, three of which were badly smashed. One of the brakemen was killed instantly, and another seriously wounded. None of the passengers hurt. The track will be clear by three o'clock. S.

CAPTAIN JACK'S FORCES.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—A special from the lava beds states that Lieutenant Harris is dead, and Surgeon Herming recovering.

The Modocs are in another rocky fortress twenty-seven miles below last score, fortifying. The troops will not attack till reinforcements arrive.

Gen. Davis and Gen. Gillem narrowly escaped drowning in the late flood.

General Davis will try and hold the Indians where they now are until reinforced. The troops suffer for water. Willow Creek is the nearest, but the Modocs are between them and it. The Modocs have their families with them in their present stronghold.

CAPTAIN JACK.

It is hoped that the Modocs will remain in their present position until they provide for the women and children. In the meantime, General Davis expects reinforcements. The Modocs are hurrying forward. The Modoc loss, Saturday, was two killed, and most of their horses, ammunition and clothing. The Modocs entered the fight, stripped to breech cloths, but could not resist the Warm Springers, who ran them beyond their stores, and captured about two tons of provisions.

THE CARLISTS.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Brooklyn horseshoe bosses have canceled.

A special of the Herald reports a complete victory for the Carlists at Puerton, in Navarre. The battle ended with a grand charge, causing a total route. The Carlists captured one cannon, four Republican chief officers, and sixty four men. The Carlists numbered 3,000.

STOKES.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Stokes case comes up before the Court of Appeals within fourteen days.

The jury in the case of Robert vs. Ex-Collector Schell, for the exaction of a million dollars illegal duties, failed to agree.

DRUMMOND MINE EXPLOSION.

HALIFAX, May 15.—The fire at Drummond mine continues. Four men who attempted to descend were blown to atoms by another explosion. One was driven into the air 100 feet, and landed in an adjoining woods. Forty-five of the lost were married men. The manager, Mr. Dunn, lost his life by descending after the first explosion.

THE BENDER ASSASSINS.

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—It is reported that the Bender family, known as the Kansas Assassins, was captured thirteen miles north of Dallas, Texas.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—The metropolitans and infantry returned from St. Martinsville.

NEW IBERIA, May 15.—The following persons have been arrested by the United States Marshal on affidavit of W. Martinez, colored, charging them with intimidating certain citizens of African descent and on other charges left blank: Col. DeBlanch, Gen. Alex. DeClonet, Gabriel Fournet, Burnville Fournet, Seabury Fournet, Paul Fournet, Paul DeClonet, Lassaille Bryon, A. J. Peschar, and Eugene Bertrand. They leave tomorrow (Thursday) with the U. S. Deputy Marshal and an escort of United States troops, and will arrive in New Orleans Friday evening and appear before the United States Commissioner Saturday.

It is reported that the United States troops, two companies, now in St. Martinville will remain there several months.

The Picayune's interview with Kellogg closes as follows:

Reporter—Do you believe the Republican party represents a majority of the votes of this State?

Kellogg—Unquestionably I believe I am fully convinced that they possess at least 20,000 majority, if permitted to enjoy an honest expression of their views through the ballot box.

Reporter—Then why do you deny it to the people, and would you advise your associates favor, under any circumstances, a new election?

Kellogg—When the contest was being prosecuted last winter, several members of the Fusion Legislature having ascertained that no objection would be interposed by me to a new election, conducted under such authority as would insure its fairness, desired me to resign my seat to fit. They were opposed to a new election which because, I suppose they thought McEnery would be recognized as Governor and that they would thus gain control of the State. If my personal feelings only were consulted, I do not desire to be Governor of Louisiana, but believing that I was legally elected it is my duty to continue to exercise the functions of Chief Magistrate of the State until the party that elected me shall decide or Congress determine to order a new election, in such an event their decision will be promptly accepted and cheerfully acquiesced in by me. In expressing this opinion I can of course give only my own views, and not those of my associates.

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—A Galveston dispatch says the fire yesterday at Calvert, Texas, destroyed half a block, with the exception of one warehouse. Loss estimated at from $60,000 to $70,000. The following are estimated losses:—John Irr, $18,000; Sawyer Bros., $20,000; A. C. Reed, $9,000; Sam. Gill, $4,000; Redding & Lumkins, $12,000; Monroe & Garrit, $35,000. Several boot and shoe shops, tailor and barber shops destroyed; a number of merchants sustained damage to stock by removal; the sufferers are partially insured.

VIENNA, May 15.—The Turkish Provinces of Bozonia are flooded. A large number have been drowned and the destruction of crops and property nearly.

Messrs. Augers & Bitten.

We take pleasure in referring our readers, and the public generally, to the card of these young gentlemen, in another column. The senior partner is the son of one of the most enterprising and successful business men of Dallas, the head of the extensive foundry of Augers & Nagle. Messrs. A. & D. have both passed a thorough apprenticeship in their trade, and we can recommend them as gentlemen of promptitude, experience and reliability. 35wdt

Freeman's Photograph Gallery.

Admittedly the finest photograph gallery in Northern Texas is that of Mr. Alfred Freeman of this city; and as an artist, he is head and shoulders above his fellow craftsmen in this State. He has recently received an invoice of the George Wood & Co. Parlor Organs, which for beauty of design, purity and flexibility of tone, are not equalled in the United States. Mr. Freeman favored us with an exhibition of their quality a few days ago, and we were charmed with the ineffable perfection of the capacity of each stop, from subbass to flute. These organs are for sale at astonishingly low figures, and we would advise churches or societies needing them to call and examine them before committing themselves to any other make.

Railroads in Texas.

The development of railroads in Texas within the past two years, is truly wonderful, especially when contrasted with the progress made previous to 1870. The following table will show the wonderful progress of the Empire State of the South in railroad building to April 1:

International	171
Houston and Great Northern	162
Houston & Texas Central	310
Austin Branch	115
Waco Branch	40
Galveston and Houston	58
Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio	347
Texas & Pacific	56
Gulf, Western Texas & Pacific	40
Tyler Branch	40
Total	1101

A few years ago Texas could only boast of about 200 miles of railway; now she contains over 1,100 miles, which bids fair to be increased to 2,000 by close of the present year.

An Inventive Experiment.

Kipp always had an idea that he could invent a self-acting sewing-machine, and he did. He procured a steel ribbon-string about twenty feet long, and of sufficient power to run a horse car. This he rigged on his wife's sewing machine with a lever, clockwork, and it appeared to him when he finished the job that evening that he had realized his hopes. If any sewing machine ever would go, that would; so he wound it up ready for use in the morning and went to bed. At four o'clock Mrs. Kipp roused him and told him to listen to the burglars in the house. He listened and heard a most terrific racket over this sitting-room. It appeared to him that there must be a million or more burglars refreshing themselves with a price-tight. So he loaded his gun, crept softly over, and peeped through the crack in the door. It was not burglars, it was Mr. Kipp's sewing machine. The peg had slipped, and that spring was having full play. It would rear the machine up on one end, and charge it three or four times, like a battering ram, against the glass front of the book-case.

Then it would wheel around and suddenly tear across the room and but up graciously against the mantlepiece, and it would lie down and roll over on the floor and hammer the sofa, and boost the center-table, and try to jam a hole through the wall, and endeavor to leap up on the chandelier. And as Kipp entered the room it flew at him, and tore in and out between his legs, the wheel revolving like fury all the time, and the spring gradually winding up. And then Kipp retreated and waked the family, and got the matters off the bed. Then they covered the machine and sat on it for a while, and finally pushed it out of the window into the yard, where Kipp piled boxes and oil barrels and pipe buckets and fence pailings on it to hold it still. But all night under the bedquilt kept up a continual buzz and snort and snort, so that the next door neighbor fired it sixteen times with the impression that it was cats. Kipp has since bought a new sewing machine, and his wife runs it with her feet. He has abandoned the study of mechanics for the present.—Alex. Adler.

Obituary.

Died, at the residence of his father, in Dallas county, Texas, May 7, A. D. 1873, Thomas Elihu Corcoran, aged 21 years, 6 months and 29 days.

The deceased was born October 8, A. D. 1849, in Barren county, Ky. His father emigrated to this county in 1851, and located on Duck Creek, where the deceased lived until his demise. He was a young man of fine natural ability, considerable literary attainments, and possessed an indomitable will. No obstacle could daunt him, his perseverance, independent and lofty bearing won the admiration of all who knew him.

But aside from these sterling traits of character which made him a young man of brilliant promise to the country, a more noble, generous and magnanimous spirit never animated a human form, and now that death has prematurely taken him may those heavenly virtues be perfectly developed under the golden sunbeams of perennial glory. He had been a member of the Methodist Church since the summer of 1864, and during his final illness, when interrogated as to his prospects for future happiness, he replied "all is well with me."

The deceased leaves to mourn his untimely death many relatives and a large circle of admiring friends. T.

"The Life of the Flesh is the Blood."

This being the fact, it is very obvious that when the blood becomes corrupted the whole system becomes corrupt also. To relieve this, the true policy undoubtedly is to direct the remedy to the source of the disease. It is in this manner that Dr. Tutt's Sarsaparilla and Queen's Delight acts. Its specific effect is on the blood; it purifies it, vitalizes it, and expels all distemper from the system.

Being free from violent minerals, it is adapted to general use. The old and young may use it; the most delicate female, at any time, may take it; the weak and enfeebled will be strengthened by its use, the tender infant, who may have inherited disease, will be cured by it.

For Syphilis, and all its trains of evils, it is a sure antidote.

Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills are a mild and gentle purgative, possessing the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving congestive or torpid liver. They have no equal.

Dr. Tutt's Hair Dye is the best in use.

LAGRANGE, Ga., March 23, 1870.

BRADFIELD & Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Sirs:—I take pleasure in stating that I have used for the last twenty years, the medicine you are now putting up, known as Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, and consider it the best medicine ever put on bottles for the diseases for which it is recommended. I have been familiar with the prescription both as a practitioner of medicine and in domestic practice, and can honestly say that I consider it a boon to suffering females, and can but hope that every lady in our whole land, who may be suffering in any way peculiar to their sex, may be able to procure a bottle, that their sufferings may not only be relieved, but that they may be restored to health and strength. With kindest regards, I am respectfully, M. S. PERRIN, M. D.

LYONS STATION, Ga., March 23, 1870.

Messrs. Wm. Roche & Sick.—Dear Sirs: About one year ago I bought a bottle of Dr. Bradfield's Female Regulator of your agent, and have used it in my family with the utmost satisfaction, and have recommended it to three other families, and they have found it just what it is recommended. The females who have used your Regulator are in perfect health, and are able to attend to their household duties, and we cordially recommend it to the public.

Yours respectfully, Rev. H. B. JOHNSON.

We could add a thousand other certificates, but we consider the above amply sufficient proof of its virtue. All we ask is a trial.

For full particulars, testimony of diseases, and testimonials of the wonderful cures, the reader is referred to the wrapper around the bottle.

The Career of a Great Remedy.

Twenty summers have elapsed since it was briefly announced that a new vegetable tonic and alterative, bearing the name of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, had been added to the list of preventive and restorative medicines. The modest advertisement which invited attention, to the preparation stated that it had been used with great success in private families as a cure for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation and intermittent fever. It was soon discovered that the article possessed extraordinary properties. The medical profession began to use it as a stimulant, preventive and restorative, and found that its effects more than fulfilled their hopes and expectations. From that time to the present its culture has been upward and onward, and it stands to-day at the head of all medicines of its class. American or imported, in the magnitude of its sales and its reputation as a safe, reliable, and potent invigorator and restorative for nervous and debility, lack of appetite and gastro-hepatic stress, so common during the summer months, it is universally indelible. Indigestion, biliousness, dyspepsia, constipation, nervousness, periodical fevers, and all the ordinary complaints generated by a vitiated and humid atmosphere, vanish under its penetrating and regulating influence. This is the record, established by the testimony of intelligent testimony, extending over a period of a little or a century, and comprehending the names of thousands of well known citizens, bringing to every close and calling. In Europe it is thought a great thing to obtain the patronage or royalty for a popular medicine, but Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have been spontaneously appointed to the office of King against all other stomachics, and its patent rights are in their possession.
