Showing a Whig gain in these five counties since Nov. 1836, of 6509. The V. B. majority in the whole state last year, on the electoral ticket, was 28,272; on the Governor's 28,478. A much less ratio of increase in the other 51 counties would satisfy the majority and turn the scale in favor of the Whigs. We have no doubt the latter will be found to have a majority of votes in the state.

Complete returns have been received from all the four first of these Counties, but we consider the information we possess in regard to the remainder, warrants us in putting them all down as having elected the Whig Assembly ticket.

The whole number of members of the Assembly, when full, is 128. The Whigs had in the last Assembly 34

They have elected, positively secure 29

63

The, must gain two more 2

In order to have a majority 65

And this we have no doubt they will double, have some to spare besides.

The Whigs have also gained a Senator in Herkimer; which, with five in the fall Senate, makes 6 against 26 Van Burenites.

☞ LATER AND BETTER. Our EXPRESS is just in from up the River, (says a Postscript to the Journal of Commerce under date of Friday, at half past 3 o'clock A. M.) bringing the following cheering news:—

Here follows the returns in detail from the counties of Albany, Rensselaer, Orange, Saratoga, Dutchess, and Greene—all of which have elected Whig Representatives, except Greene, which is somewhat doubtful.—We subjoin the popular vote in these counties.

AGGREGATE

	Whig.	V. B.
Albany County (complete) Whig Maj. 331	1256	879
Rensselaer County (complete) Whig Maj. 235	517	672
Orange County (complete) Whig Maj. 551	506	305
Saratoga County (in part) Whig Maj. 293	494	190
Dutchess County (complete) Whig Maj. 1032	1029	297
Greene County (3 towns)	202	162
	3954	1981

The Journal of Commerce makes the net Whig gain in the above 6 counties 979 votes—and including the five other counties 14,771.

To the 37 Whig Assemblymen mentioned above as elected, add 2 in Saratoga, and 4 in Oneida, last year represented by Van Buren men. Making 43 Whig Assemblymen ascertained to be elected, and 20 Van Buren men.

The same Counties last year were represented by 8 Whigs and 35 Van Buren men. Whig gain 35.—J. of Com.

STILL LATER. Since the foregoing was in type we have verbal intelligence by a gentleman who left Troy on Saturday last, that returns have been received of the election of Seventy Members to the Legislature, of which SIXTY TWO were WHIGS—and returns of the Eight Senators elected—SEVEN of which were WHIGS. Our informant saw these returns in a Troy paper.

ELECTIONS.

New Jersey. William S. Pennington, Whig, has been elected Governor of this state by the Legislature. It is said Mr Southard will resign his seat in the Senate of the United States, and that his place will be filled by Mr Frelinghuysen, the former Whig Senator.—Mr Wall gives no intimations of resigning, though his state has gone against him, and all the Representatives in Congress are Whigs.

Georgia. Mr King has resigned his seat in the Senate. This is much regretted, as the popular vote of Georgia is Whig. The legislature however, is supposed to be (a bare majority) Van Buren. His letter of resignation says:—

"If I have mistaken the great principles of the party in this particular, it is obvious that I am not a fit representative for it. I shall, therefore, return home in a few weeks and surrender a trust, you say I cannot honorably hold. I have from our friends many written evidences, that they still consider democracy to mean the will of the people. But it is enough for me to know, sir, that some of my friends are dissatisfied; and I wish it understood, that I shall not embarrass them by being a candidate for re-election."

Tennessee. Mr Foster, just elected a Senator in place of Mr Grundy, is a talented lawyer of Nashville, and formerly Speaker of the House of Representatives in Tennessee. This state first recommended General Jackson, and for two terms gave him a unanimous vote. Now she condemns in the General's favorite measure—popular wing majority 19,000 majority—10 Whigs to 3 Jackson men, Representatives in Congress—a change almost unparalleled.

Rhode Island. The General Assembly is in session. George Curtis (Whig) Speaker of the House.

WHAT MAKES IT DONE. The following statement shows the result of the elections which have occurred this fall, in comparison with those of last year in the same States:

☞ We anticipate one day in the publication of our paper this week in order to give publicity one day sooner, the joyful result of the State Election in New York. Shall we not rejoice at such wonderful achievements as this? Our New York Whig friends say they never achieved more glory in three days. Ohio on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. They consider Mr Van Buren and all his hireling advocates as thoroughly overthrown; Loco Focoism Boreasism and all completely waterlogged.

Revision of the Vermont Laws.

We learn that Governor Jenison, pursuant to a law of the Legislature, has appointed Robert Fitzgerald, of this town, Samuel Swift of Middlebury, John Smith of St Albans, Norman Williams of Woodstock and Lyman B. Peck of Guilford, a committee, to make a revision of the Statute Laws of this State.

Bank Convention. We understand that the proposed convention of the banks of the principal commercial cities, for the purpose of fixing upon a day for the resumption of specie payments, and for taking the necessary steps meanwhile to insure it, has been amended to be a large proposition of those institutions, and that the convention will be held in the city of New York on the 27th of November next.

For the prompt and efficient prosecution of this effort, under discouragements if not hostility from some quarters, the banks of the city of New York, and particularly their highly intelligent and capable committee, merit the public thanks.—Albany Argus.

Prices of Flour at latest dates. At Cincinnati $5.37; at Pittsburgh $6.87; at Louisville $6.00; at Winchester $7.65; at Fredericksburgh, Va. $7.80 a 7.90, at Georgetown, D. C., $8.50 a 8.62.

Deaths of Turpen. The Cincinnati Republican says:—"The vessel of democracy is on a lee shore—she is approaching the strand with a frightful velocity—breaker after breaker is sweeping over her—breakers from the East and breakers from the West, while on board a fearful mutiny is raging."

The U. S. ship Peacock, which arrived at Norfolk on the 26th ult. from a voyage round the world, has been absent two years and six months. In 521 days, during which she was actually at sea, she sailed 45,129 miles by log. She visited numerous ports in Asia, and also in South America.

The Utica Observer states that the Ithaca Bank has resumed the payment of its notes in specie.

Brown University. A catalogue of the officers and students of Brown University, for the academical year 1837—38, has just been published. It appears that the number of students attached to the University are Seniors 38; Juniors 51; Sophomores 53; Freshmen 38; partial course 19. Total 197.

Steamboat Explosion—Two Lives lost. As the steam ferry boat Delaware, Capt. Downs, plying between Berry's ferry, at the foot of Market street, in this city, and English wharf at Camden, was departing from the latter wharf yesterday afternoon, about the hour of four, her boiler collapsed, killing the engineer, Mr John Thorn, of Camden, and seriously injuring a person by the name of Day, a bell hanger, belonging to this city.

The boiler was torn from end to end, and the deck of the boat hoisted open above it, together with the larboard wheel house.

Flour at Dayton, Ohio, Oct 16th, was $4.87 a 4.90 per bbl. At Steubenville, $6 from stores; wheat, 90 cts. At Chillicothe, Oct 16th, flour $5.50 a 5.75; wheat, 90 cts. At Louisville, latest date, $5.50,—transactions trifling; at Cincinnati, $5.75 a 6, at the canal. At Pittsburg, $6.50 a 6.62. At Alexandria, D. C. $8.25.

At Columbus Ohio, Oct. 27th, the ground was covered with snow, two inches deep.

A Literary Legislator.

The following is said to be a correct transcript of a letter from a member of our late legislature to his friend in —— The honorable member resides not but a few miles from this place, and his constituents doubtless feel proud of his talents! We insert it as a literary curiosity merely, without attempting to palm the author upon any particular party.

Expunging. We learn that "the Expunger," "solitary and alone," has gone home. As he passed on, he was very careful to register his name in full, at every public house where the stage made the smallest delay. We are informed by those who followed after him, that the registers all along the road from Washington to Wheeling presented the following spectacle:

Hon. THOMAS H. BENTON. Expunger of his Honor. Expunger of His Honor.

At one of the houses in Wheeling, kept by a V. Buren man, a sentinel was placed over the register to prevent the "black line" operation. But late at night, when the sentinel slept, at last past the "dark deed" was done.—Lexington Ky. Intel Flower.

BRANDON, Sept. 28.

Unprecedented Murder. On the night of the 23 a most unprecedented murder is the record of crimes was committed in Simpson county, Miss. Samuel Brown, at the age of 98 years, and his wife, aged 80 odd, were both murdered, in their house, together with three negroes. Mr Brown was a prudent, saving, economical old man, and had the reputation in his neighborhood of having on hand a large sum of silver; and on that night some fiend in human shape approached the house, and, from appearance, with a light wood knot and hatchet broke the skulls of both the old persons, in a most frightful and lacerated manner—and when the same fiend partially killed the three negroes, and threw two men on the floor, and left the negro woman weltering in gore on her bed. All Mr Brown's silver, as his neighbors say, in the amount of $8000, was taken out of his chest; $350 paper money in the same chest was left.

One negro woman on the place, not murdered, says, at a late hour of the night she was waked from her sleep by a noise; that she ran out and saw her master and mistress lying on the porch, murdered; and some one with a torch in his hand forcing a negro man into the house, as was tho't, to show the money—the same man was afterwards murdered and thrown on the fire. The women, fearful to stir, gave no alarm until morning, when the neighbors assembled to behold this awful sight. No evidence has yet been discovered that would give the slightest clue to the murderer. From the $350 paper money being left some suspicion rests on the negroes; but the public eye is rather turning to a certain individual well known in that neighborhood. The hand of justice will overtake him.

Treasury Notes. Fifteen hundred dollars of these Government rags were sold on Saturday at five per cent. below par! Yet this is the cash in which public creditors are paid, while members of Congress are paid in gold.

The process is very simple. A creditor goes to the Treasury, and asks for his due—the Secretary says to him, "Gold and silver I have none, but promises to pay, rags, inconvertible paper money, according to the Loco Foco Tammanies, I choose to. You must take these at specie par, or you must wait." The creditor, pressed in hard weather, for convenience, takes the rags, brings them into market, and can only obtain 95 dollars for what the Treasury forced upon him at a hundred.

Thus, then, the hard money Government robs the public creditor of five dollars in a hundred, and yet exacts in the interest farming from its debtors.

Truly, this Government is divorcing itself pretty fast from the people.—N. Y. American.

Beauty and Death. The National Intelligencer publishes this striking extract from the letter of a young man, who continued to reside in New Orleans during the late fever there:

"It would astonish you to witness the beauties of this climate during the season of the epidemic. Nature is the same to every modification—as fascinating in the pestilential air as in the poisonous reptile. In New Orleans the heavens are glorious; the atmosphere delicious. The breeze from the North is full of invigorating freshness, though laden with deadly miasma; the sun shines with genial effulgence, and when he sinks to rest, like the dying dolphin, he gladdens the views by the brilliancy of his tints. The fluttering orange, sing along with the deep azure, forms a tint more accurate than that of the emerald; while the purple, the vermilion, and the amber, glow along her expanse with his retiring beams.—'All is beauty, all is death.'"

Why is a young lady like an indelicate man? Because she encires to be engaged.

TO WOOL GROWERS AND DEALERS.

THE Subscriber has opened a Depot for the reception and public sale of AMERICAN and FOREIGN Wool, in the City of New-York. The first sale will be opened as early as practicable, and afterwards continued at regular periods as may be deemed expedient.

The extent to which the growth and manufacture of this article has arrived in this country, forming as it does one of the staples of production, as well as of extensive importation, renders the establishment of a regular market, where the Farmer can avail himself of the full price paid by the Manufacturer, and where Manufacturers may at stated periods find a full supply, and suit their purchases exactly according to their wants, not only desirable, but absolutely necessary for the profit and convenience of the parties.—To the Farmers especially it is all important that they should enjoy a regular market and the advantage of full competition, instead of being compelled to submit to the prices offered by speculators, whose intimate knowledge of the wants of Manufacturers, and whose more judgment in the article, has given them great advantages, and often compelled a great sacrifice on the part of the Farmer.

The City of New-York being by far the greatest market where Manufacturers find a sale for their fabrics, it is placed beyond a doubt, that, if the growers and dealers in Wool avail themselves of the opportunity of offering their wool for sale, it will bring together on the spot, all the principal manufacturers of the Northern States; and give, not only to the buyer and seller every advantage that can be desired, but a regularity and stability to the market which has not hitherto existed in this country, and which in other wool growing countries has been productive of the greatest benefit to all classes.

Satisfactory references given on application, and to those who desire it, sales will be made for a limited period with the trade. Persons wishing to hold their wool in store will have the advantage of a private sale in the best market of the country if public sale should not meet their expectations.

☞ Persons wishing to enter their wool for sale are desired to communicate early with the subscribers.
