[illegible] correct information. I am told [illegible] in the House that he thinks he sees [illegible] a change going on in the [illegible] sentiment of Freedom, and in favor of the Extension of Slavery. I [illegible] that the change in the Sen[illegible] is as complete that he sees his reelection [illegible] Congress [illegible] Constitution of 1787 an order [illegible] drawn by Jefferson, voted for by every Member of Congress except one, and which gave to the State of Michigan [illegible] Freedom, and will [illegible] make her one of the great States of the Union — [illegible] State [illegible] Democrat. No [illegible] party [illegible] Free Soil and [illegible] He is [illegible] and the representative of Eaton County [illegible] in this State by more than one hundred thousand votes.

He gazes upon the glittering walls of the White House, has obtained his reason, has best became dizzy and he mistook the [illegible] and change of scene for [illegible] He gave a dreamy look for the White House and [illegible] more [illegible] and hopeless of an and [illegible] but without [illegible]

The Senate is a little too fond of [illegible] by ruling. He assumes every one that [illegible] within his reach, and applies the whip and spur until the poor thing is full of the ground. Now he is mounted upon a [illegible] long-haired, long-eared shaggy pony, whipping spur, [illegible] and [illegible] in favor of Slavery [illegible] to the Presidential [illegible]

He [illegible] the whole for Slavery, [illegible] for Freedom. His compassion [illegible] and much after the [illegible] the same hobby [illegible] away some for half a mile [illegible] Dr. Dr. Dr.