Rutland County Herald.

VOLUME 54. WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 2, 1848. NUMBER 31.

RUTLAND COUNTY HERALD.

By GEO. H. BEAMAN.

TERMS—PER YEAR

HISTORICAL INCIDENTS OF THIS VICINITY No. X

CREDULITY

[illegible]

DIGGING FOR CAPT. KIDD'S MONEY

[illegible]

A CONQUEROR

There resided on the [illegible] then owned by Isaac Harris, now by Isaac Manchester, a [illegible] man, who had served in the Revolutionary army, and was present when Arnold's traitorous attempt was made to deliver the fortress into the hands of the enemy. He was a man of [illegible] and was considered a good specimen of the hardy yeoman of the period. He was a man of few words, and was not easily provoked to anger. He was a man of great strength,