☞ A [illegible] Sabbath School [illegible] Superintendent [illegible] "No," said he, "I was only afraid of a letter-bag."

"Sahm, will you take my arm?"

"No, you sir, and your too."

"Don't spare but the arm, Mam," hastily replied the bachelor.

"There," said Mam, "I can't take it, as my mother in, to go whole hog or none."

☞ Affection is like a wind constitution the life of every person, for whatever the affection is, early in the whole man.

ELEPHANT KILLED.—An elephant which had long been an inmate of Stupinigi, a summer residence of the King of Sardinia, was put to death on the 7th inst. This fine animal was of enormous size. He was killed by means of carbonic acid, all doors and windows being closed. Some time ago, the groom having ill-treated him, he fell into a fit of rage, seized him with his trunk and flung him to the air to a height of about 100 feet. Since then he had not been permitted to quit his stable. He had become extremely dull and heavy, and only allowed the wife of his former attendant to approach him. The King ordered him to be stuffed, and placed in the Turin Museum.

☞ One hundred and fifty men are at work at a place in the township of Artemesia, about thirty miles south of Orren Sound, Canada, where gold is said to have been recently discovered.

☞ The loss of life, by the explosion of the Buck-Eye-Belle, on the Ohio, was much more serious than was at first supposed. Twenty-two persons were killed or have since died of their wounds, and several are missing. Among the dangerously, and perhaps fatally, wounded are two members of the Ohio Legislature. Hon. C. C. Covey, member of the Senate from Marietta, has since died of his wounds.

☞ Emma Hodgman, the young woman who was recently arrested at a clothing store, in Boston, dressed in male garments, and who was properly re-dressed and taken home to New York, has again made her appearance in Boston, in gentleman's rig, and has again been arrested.

SUICIDE.—A son of Mr. Luther Cone of Dover, aged about twelve years, hung himself one day week before last, because he was not allowed to go to a "Turkey shoot." We presume he considered this the most effectual manner of showing "proper resentment."—Bratt. Eagle.

PURGATORY VS. MATRIMONY.—By the way, the "ghost of the departed" reminds me of Joe Kelly's ghost coming to his wife.

"Molly," said he, "I'm in Purgatory just at this present."

"And what sort of a place is it?" said she.

"Faith it's a sort of half-way house between you and heaven," said Joe, "but I stand it mighty aisy after leaving you."

AT IT AND THROUGH IT.—The following, although indicrous, is nevertheless a pointed illustration of that faith which would move a mountain:

"A negro preacher was holding forth to his congregation on the subject of obeying the commands of God. Said he, 'Brethren whatever God tells me to do in his book (holding up the Bible) dat I'm gwoin to do. If I see in dat I must jump troo a stun wall, I'm gwoin to jump at it. Gwoin troo it 'longs to God—jumpin at it 'longs to me.'"

A dangerous gang of counterfeiters were discovered in New York last week—a gang of French and Germans engaged in counterfeiting the United States and foreign coins, such as gold dollars, half eagles and English sovereigns, so handsomely executed as to puzzle the best judges to detect them. The police arrested Louis Levin, the chief of the gang, with two suspected accomplices, and the entire counterfeiting apparatus, together with several linen bags filled with the base coin.

DEATH OF HON. JOHN SERGEANT.—This gentleman died at Philadelphia, Nov. 23d, in the 73d year of his age. He was for many years a leading Whig member of Congress, and was a candidate for the Vice Presidency in 1832.

WALTER FORWARD, Esq., died at Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 24th, of bilious cholic in the 65 year of his age. He has filled many important stations. He was ill but three days.

A farmer, in Canton, Mass., has a cranberry meadow of twelve acres from which he has raked the present season, upwards of 1000 bushels of fine cranberries, for which he has realized $3000 cash.

☞ At "what time does the omnibuses start?" asked a Londoner, of one of the conductors. "Our 'busses," replied the functionary, "runs a quarter arter, 'arf arter, quarter to, and at!"—in English this means "every quarter of an hour."

The total extent of the telegraph in England is nearly 4,000 miles, representing an outlay of about £300,000. The total amount of wire laid down for the purpose is upwards of 4,000,000 yards, and the total number of telegraph posts somewhere about 100,000. The staff of employers may be taken at upwards of 800 persons.

ANOTHER LINE.—There is to be a railroad connecting Providence and Hartford with Fishkill, and intersecting the Hudson River Railroad at the latter place.
