Murder by a Runaway Negro.

On Wednesday last, the family of Mr Sweeney, who lives about two miles from Macon, on the Marion road, were aroused from sleep by a negro, who stated that he wished to purchase a pound of sugar. The daughter of Mr Sweeney opened the door, but immediately went back, telling her father that the negro looked like a runaway. Mr S. came forward and demanded his pass; this the negro refused to produce, and at once began to resist Sweeney, who had by this time seized him. At this time, Mark Sweeney, a young man about seventeen years old, ran to the assistance of his father, and he too laying hold of the negro, all three fell to the ground. The negro then disengaging one hand drew a knife, opened it with his teeth, and dealt Mark Sweeney a blow, which proved mortal in a few hours. He also inflicted a slight wound upon the elder Sweeney, and pursued him for a number of yards. Upon hearing Sweeney call out for his gun, he turned and fled to the river; there finding a bottom, he paddled down close under the east bank, but finding himself hard pressed by pursuers, he plunged into the stream and swam towards the opposite shore. The strange spectacle of a negro swimming the river, dressed only in a shirt and hat, with a knife hung to a handkerchief about his neck, aroused the attention of Mr Dain, who was standing on the west bank. The negro refusing to give an account of himself, and also to deliver his knife, Mr Dain would not permit him to land; after giving him one or two blows, however, he brought him to his senses, and the negro throwing his knife to Mr Dain, was allowed to come on shore, when he was at once taken into custody and lodged in jail. On Saturday morning he was brought before the justices, and remanded to prison to await his trial. He belongs, we understand, to a Mr Taylor, of Pulaski county. A more bloody murder it has never been our lot to chronicle.—[Macon Telegraph.

Shocking Accident on the Albany Northern Railroad.

About 11 o'clock Saturday morning a trussed work structure on the Albany Northern Railroad on the east side of the Hudson, about seven miles above this city, fell, carrying with it twelve persons who were employed upon it at the time. The structure was a sort of a cob-house affair, about 30 feet high, erected on piles, and the accident appears to have resulted from the greatest incompetency, or mismanagement, in removing the stays too soon. Some fifteen "beats" had been raised, which, although of heavy timber, were secured by only two spikes each; so that the slightest pressure, or the wind even, could push it over. The attention of the workmen and superintendent of the work had been directed to the fact that the work must fall, and they with it, if the supporters were removed, but was then being done. No heed was paid to the warning, and the accident accordingly ensued. As near as we can learn ten persons was injured, two of them mortally, and the eight others very badly.

There is considerable tressel work in the same vicinity, of the character of that which fell, apprehensions as to the security of which are felt by those residing in the vicinity, and who gave the warning that was so fatally disregarded.—[Troy Whig.

Railroad Accidents.

ONE MAN KILLED AND FIVE WOUNDED. We learn that the passenger car on the Macon and Western Road was thrown off the track near Van Valkenberg's, on Tuesday night last, by running over two cows, and was precipitated down an embankment and broken into pieces. One person attached to the train was killed instantly, and five passengers were seriously hurt. Among the passengers, was the Hon. Alexander H. Stevens, who was much injured, but was better yesterday morning. No blame whatever is attached to the company's servants.—[Savannah Republican, June 9.

ONE MAN KILLED.—We are pained to learn that a young man by the name of Lloyd, brakeman, was thrown from his post on the train up the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad, near Forestville, on Wednesday last—the train passing over him and injuring him so seriously, that he survived but a few hours.—[Raleigh (N. C.) Register, June 11.

TWO MEN KILLED.—The express train on the Carolina Road was thrown off the track, fifty-five miles above Charleston, last night, by a bar of flange iron, laid across the track, by some malicious miscreant. Four freight cars were crushed to atoms, Isaac Winter, an engineer, from Pennsylvania, and Samuel Willis, fireman, were killed, and W. F. Saxed and the fireman so dangerously scalded, that their lives are despaired of.—[Savannah Courier, May 31.

ONE MAN KILLED.—The Rochester American of Monday morning says:—"Mr. Moses Pettengill, of Ogden, who come on the train from Buffalo, which arrived here at half-past 4 P. M., yesterday, informs us that a young man, name unknown, was killed about forty rods west of the railroad station, in Churchville. Mr. Pettengill took train at that place. Another train had gone west a few minutes before, and it was uncertain which caused the fatal result. The body was found on the track with the head and one leg completely severed from the trunk. We have no further particulars."

ANOTHER DEATH BY THE CARS.—The morning train of cars for this city, on the 31st ult. (says the Hartford Times,) on the Willimatic, at Hayden's factories, ran over a girl about ten years of age, killing her instantly. The child was going to school, in company with two other children, when the cars came along and there being two railway tracks at that place, they all became somewhat frightened and confused as to what track was the one to avoid, and this one unfortunately took the track over which the train was running. She was knocked down and cut all to pieces, the remains presenting a most melancholy and dreadful sight.—[New Haven Register.

TWO MEN KILLED.—We learn that on Sunday, the 5th inst., two men jumped from the cars when in motion, near Lancaster, causing the death of both. On last Sunday evening, another man jumped from the train near Pembroke and was instantly killed. On Saturday night, a boy tending the switch at West Batavia was accidentally killed by the cars; the particulars we have not heard. Also, on Saturday at Darien, a man went to sleep near the track, with his legs across the rails. A train ran over him crushing both legs. They have since been amputated. A boy was killed on the railroad near Churchville, last week. It is said that he purposely threw himself on the track in a fit of madness, and was ran over by a train in the night.—[Batavia Times, June 14th.

Later from Buenos Ayres.

By the bark Leopold we have dates from Buenos Ayres to the 24th of April—three weeks later. Letters by this arrival state that "all attempts to accommodate matters have been utterly foiled, and the most formidable preparations have been made on both sides—one to save, and the other to capture the city."

The Buenos Ayrean government have issued twelve millions additional money—have proclaimed martial law—closed the custom house and other offices—and have required all able bodied men to bear arms in the army.

Urquiza, on the 15th, recommended to daily besiege the city, and on the 24th previous had become scare and in demand. He also threatens to blockade the port, but this the Buenos Ayreans hope to prevent, by means, probably, of the intervention of foreign powers.

Another letter says—"From the preparations made, we are likely to have warm work and much bloodshed."

CINCINNATI, June 15.

The steamers James Milligan and Memphis No. 1, were burnt at the dock last night. They had been laid up for some days, in consequence of low water.

Weather extremely hot here, and crops suffering from drought.

Whig County Convention.

A Convention of the Whigs of the County of Rutland will be holden at Rutland on Wednesday, the 28th day of June next, at 10 o'clock, A. M. for the purpose of nominating a ticket for County Officers, preparatory for the next September election, and to do any other business thought proper. Let every Town in the County be represented.

CHESTER SPENCER,
For County Committee.

June 16th, 1853.

SAMUEL T. WELLS was brought up before the Police Court, yesterday morning, on a serious charge, viz: passing counterfeit money, passing broken bank money, and forgeries to the enormous sum of eighty thousand four hundred and ninety dollars, ($80,490) in worthless bills upon the Wesauqua Bank, Ala., were found upon his person. This Bank is said to have burst up in 1836. He was committed.—[Cincinnati Sun, June 11.

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL.

(Reported for the Herald.)

The New York Courier of the 16th says: In our market, money does not appear to feel the influence of the rise in value in London, where at 4 per cent, there was at the latest dates a good supply.

This is a period of the year when there is a material decrease in the amount of mercantile obligations; based upon the improvement in the crops more particularly, which causes an accumulation of capital in this city. The amount of money for temporary employment, is thereby very large and is increasing, the rates ranging from 5 to 6 per cent, on call. In the Discount Markets, the rates for 1st class names are 6 and 7 per cent., and for those not so well known 7 and 9 per cent., with a good demand for paper and a scarcity of desirable signatures.

No HUMBUG.—A humbug is that which is not what it professes to be, and hence deceives the people. Moore's Compound Syrup of Yellow Dock Root is just what it professes to be—the best medicine now in use for curing those diseases for which it is recommended. All who have used it, and thousands more who are sorely afflicted may know of it in the same way. Only try it and you will be satisfied.

THE LABORS OF THE ARTIST are by no means confined to the departments of painting, sculpture and architecture, but find equally great opportunities for development in works destined for utility as well as ornament. The truth of this assertion can be readily verified by a visit to KNOX & LAWS' establishment, corner of Broadway and Spring streets, New York, and inspecting their fitting style of Hats, which for lightness, excellence of fabric and manufacture, and exquisite beauty of shape, rival, if they do not exceed, all previous efforts of the artists, for they are eminently deserving of such an appellation.

"I DIGEST." Such is the true meaning of the word "Pepsin," one of the two Greek words from which it is derived. This is the significant and appropriate title of the True Digestive Fluid, or Gastric Juice, prepared by Dr. J. S. Hoofnagle, of Philadelphia, from the fourth Stomach of the ox, for the cure of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. It is Nature's own remedy for an enfeebled Stomach. No art of man can equal its curative powers. It renders good eating perfectly consistent with health. See figure of the Ox, in another part of this paper.
