SOCIAL PERSONAL AND MUSICAL

George Peterson of Staten Island, was visiting friends in town last week.

A meeting of the Queen's Daughters is announced for Friday evening next, June 25th, at St. Augustine's chapel directly after the devotions to the Sacred Heart.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Burns of the North End, are rejoicing over the advent of a bright baby girl, the first in the family. Mrs. Burns will be remembered as Miss May Madden, a former successful teacher in our public schools. It may be added that Mail Agent Madden at the railroad station, bears the appellation of "grandpa" in a joyful manner.

Miss Irene O'Rourke spent the week end in Meriden, visiting Miss Bessie Luby.

The Misses Jessie and Mabel Spencer, the former stenographer at the City National Bank, and the latter with the John Hancock Insurance company, have in contemplation a delightful vacation trip abroad. They are booked to sail early in July for Southampton, and after a visit with relatives in London, will travel through the principal cities of the Continent, returning home late in August.

The Bridgeport girls away at college are returning to their homes by boat and train daily, for their summer vacation. The first to arrive were the Mt. Holyoke students, and Miss Sannie Bassett, Miss Celia Terry, Miss Ruby Burritt, Miss Helen Simonds and Miss Muriel Deane were among the number. Miss Burritt and Miss Deane will pursue their studies abroad next year.

"That simplified spelling ought to be made a law," said one man to another as they stood on the Stratford avenue bridge a few days since. He was studying the name "Psyche" painted on a trim little yacht anchored near by. "Look at that," said he, as he spelled out the letters, "p-s-y-c-h-e; isn't that an awful way to spell fish?"

Speaking of the "Thousand Islands," one must not lose sight of the fact that the actual count is very much more in excess of that number. Between Ogdensburg and Cape Vincent a distance of 65 miles, there are by actual count, 1,769 real, charted islands and among these islands is the motor boat metropolis of the world, no less than 5,000 being operated there during the last season.

John Cullinan and two daughters, Mrs. Catherine Sullivan and Miss Nellie Cullinan, leave the city tomorrow for a two months' vacation trip to the Pacific coast. They will visit the Seattle exposition and all points of interest en route.

Miss Edith M. Porter of North Main street, has resigned the superintendency of the C. E. Union, and Mrs. W. C. Bradley has been chosen as her successor for the juniors.

The ladies of Christ church are holding a delightful lawn festival on the spacious grounds surrounding the home of Mrs. Nelson Beach, on Fairfield avenue, this afternoon and evening.

The closing exercises of St. Mary's parochial school take place Monday evening, June 28th, and an elaborate musical and literary program has been carefully prepared by the earnest pupils.

A number of young ladies who will graduate from the local High School this evening have arranged to enter the State Normal School at New Haven in September. Their diplomas admit these candidates without examination, although any girl of sixteen who has completed the grammar school course may enter upon passing on the tests given in the ordinary English branches. The State school presents an admirable course in instruction and training, and graduates its students as finished teachers at the end of two years. Certificates from the State school are recognized in every part of Connecticut and the possessors will not be affected by the certification bill now receiving the consideration of the General Assembly.

The annual recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Susan Hawley Davis was held last evening in the Masonic Temple hall, which was completely filled with the many friends of the participants. Mrs. Anna Louise David, harpist, assisted. The program included selections from Mendelssohn, Chadwick, Donizetti, Martini, Wagner, Haydn, Handel and Gounod. Those participating were the Misses Sherwood, Pearsall, Bishop, Farist, Johnson, Bartholomew and Tuck, Mrs. Mannweiler, Mrs. Dorsey, Mrs. Warner, Mr. Hawley, and Mr. Mills.

Miss Muriel Deane, daughter of Dr. Deane, superintendent of schools, and Miss Ruby Burritt, daughter of A. W. Burritt, president of the A. W. Burritt Lumber Co., graduated a few days ago from Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass. Miss Sannie Bassett received her Bachelor of Arts degree this week at Syracuse University.

At the annual meeting of the Bridgeport Sunday School Superintendents' Union, held at the Y. M. C. A., the following officers were elected: President, Theodore T. Phillips, First Baptist; vice president, George S. Hawley, First Methodist; secretary, Miss Lela M. Wurm, St. Paul's Episcopal; treasurer, Alvin H. Hancock, First Presbyterian. Eddin D. Beach was tendered a reelection as president, but declined because of ill health. The union's existence dates from last October.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Stetson of Jewett City, Conn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Watie May, to Mr. William E. Meeker of Greenfield Hill.

TWO FORMER MAYORS TESTIFY FOR HART

TELL COMMISSIONERS THAT JIM JACQUES' PLACE IS SUITABLE TO BE A SALOON—WOULD-BE SUCCESSOR TO JACQUES SEVERAL TIMES ARRESTED.

Two former mayors of the city of Bridgeport, appeared before the County Commissioners yesterday afternoon, to testify that the place formerly conducted by Jim Jacques is "suitable" to be a saloon. These were Hugh Sterling and H. H. Pyle, whose places of business are adjacent to the premises operated by Jacques.

The opposition to the license is conducted by the Law Enforcement League through Judge E. . Nicholson, its counsel. Jacques is serving time in jail. William Hart, the applicant, was for some time manager for Jacques. He claims now to own the place. Under examination he said the balance due Jacques on the purchase was $1,500. It appeared that Hart has been arrested and convicted upon a number of occasions of a number of offenses. Samuel W. Gledhill and John F. Murphy, who do business near Jacques' place, appeared in favor of the application.

The witnesses for the Law Enforcement league were Patrolman Daniel J. Weston, Police Sergeants Phil Blansfield, Bert Hazel and Officers Beamer and Hall.

They testified that Jacques' place was a brothel. Attorney Paul Chapman was called for the purpose of offering the long list of Jacques' arrests.

GERMAN CATHOLIC SCHOLARS ARE TO ENTER HIGH SCHOOL

Sisters of Notre Dame Have Prepared Attractive Closing Exercises.

GRADUATE HAS APPENDICITIS

FEATURE OF CLOSING EXERCISES TO BE A PRETTY LITTLE OPERA FROM THE GERMAN—THE PROGRAM IN FULL.

St. Joseph's R. C. school closes for the summer vacation Wednesday, June 30, elaborate exercises having been arranged by the Sisters of Notre Dame, who have charge of the work of the school. At the exercises seven diplomas will be awarded, there being but six to be handed out, Edward Andres, one of the graduates, at present being confined at the Bridgeport hospital where he has recently undergone an operation for appendicitis. The others who are to receive the awards and who will enter the Bridgeport High school in the fall, are Herbert Kaesmann, William Andres, Florence Lacher, Clara Stackmann, Eulalia Vorschmitt and Elsie Herb. Rev. Herbert Dahme, pastor of St. Joseph's church, will be present to speak of the work of the children and what is expected of them in the future. He will also distribute the diplomas.

The children of the eight grades in the school will combine their exercises on commencement day, the following program having been arranged: "Sun Bonnet Dears", song and recitation, by the girls of the primary grades; "Playing Soldiers", by the boys of the primary grades. In this little skit a number of kitchen utensils are used. German piece, "Weisse Lielie", a recitation combined with a lily drill by the junior girls; "Rock of Ages", pantomime, senior girls; and "The Bell in the Forest", an operetta in two scenes, by the senior boys. This last number is a real difficult piece, but the boys have gone at it with a will and under the skillful direction of their teachers have succeeded in mastering the hard places in the act.

The operetta tells a pretty story of life in one of the small municipalities in central Europe, where the Prince's word is law. "Prince Percival" on the event of having a hunt conducted with a number of guests accuses his game keeper, Old Forster, of being in league with the poachers who have been committing petty thieveries on the Prince's property for some time. Young Alexis, son of Old Forster, overhearing the remarks of the Prince and his guests toward his father, resents the insults and is struck in the face by the Prince. Karl Krag, a notorious poacher, sees Alexis struck and persuades the young man to join his man so that he might get revenge on the Prince. Alexis is about to adhere to the advice of Karl when the bell in the forest starts its tolling. There is a legend connected with the bell, that when anything wrong is to be perpetrated the bell will toll of its own will. Karl decides not to join the poachers and goes his way.

The scene ends with the crier and police commissioner reading a proclamation from the Prince to his people to aid him in getting rid of the poachers. The second scene opens with the police commissioner starting out on his hunt for the den of the poachers. He does not go far when he is attacked by Karl, and is bound and gagged. Karl warns him to go away on the threat of his life. Franz Staub, a wanderer, happens along in the forest and being fatigued lays down to rest. Here he is found by Alexis, who being hunted by the Prince and starving sees a ring glittering on his finger and decides to steal it. He is about to detach the ring when the bell in the forest tolls. Karl Krag happens along and seeing the incident, threatens to expose Alexis unless he joins his band. Alexis refuses and is struck down by Karl. Karl robs Staub and is about to depart with his plunder when the Prince, his guests and the villagers who have heard the tolling of the bell appear on the scene. Krag endeavors to implicate Alexis, saying that he has seen him rob the sleeping man. Alexis is searched and the sleeping man's wallet is found upon his person. Krag is so loud in his condemnations that the Prince suspects him and orders him searched. The ring and the watch of Staub are found on him. The play comes to an end with a powerful climax of justice triumphant and innocence rewarded. Yesterday afternoon for the benefit of a Farmer reporter the boys went through the operetta without a hitch, singing the lines in unison aided at the finish by the senior girls.

MORE ATTRACTIONS FOR STEEPLECHASE ISLAND

Mrs. A. E. Payne, who recently came to this country from Yorkshire, England, where she won a reputation by her ability as an expert swimmer and life saver, has been placed in charge of the bathing pavilion at Steeplechase Island. She has a medal from the Royal Life Saving Society of Yorkshire and a certificate from the London Professional Swimming Instructors' Institute. She is on duty daily from 11 o'clock in the morning.

Today Shetland ponies and a donkey team were added to the attractions at the island, the privilege having been let to Andrew Mowcci. He intends to add goats and camels later. The ponies will be on the trail for the amusement of the children and the number will be added to as the business warrants. King and Queen, the high diving horses who perform at 4 and 8:30 daily, and Dare Devil Dash, in his thrilling aerial act, which is given at 5 and 9 every day, are pleasing the crowds.

FUNERAL OF ELSIE SIGEL

Held Last Night Only Relatives Attending—Girl's Mother Critically Ill in Connecticut Sanitarium.

Arrest of Chinaman in Canada Today Who Tallies With Description of Missing Assassin — More Details of Trunk Mystery.

(Special from United Press.)

New York, June 22.—With Chung Sin, roommate and chum of Leon Ling, in whose room Elsie Sigel's body was found packed in a trunk, under arrest as a material witness, the police today are more confident than they have been since the discovery of the body that they will ultimately succeed in apprehending the girl's murderer.

They expect Chung Sin to prove invaluable as a source of information concerning Leon and as he arrived here this morning from West Galway, N. Y., where he was arrested yesterday, Captain Carey of the Homicide Bureau, began a careful examination which may last throughout the day. Up to that point Chung Sin had consistently denied that he knew anything of the whereabouts of Leon, or that he knew anthing of the death of Elsie Sigel. At first he denied his identity but later admitted that he was the man wanted. When arrested he had about $59 in his pockets, supposed to be the remainder of the $260 given him by Chu Gain, the Chinese restauranteur. In his suit case was found a police circular bearing his picture and that of Leon.

Chung Sin said he was 35 years old and had been in the country ten years. He admitted having a wife in Canton, China, but denied that he had more than a passing acquaintnce with American women. He said he knew the Sigel family, had called at their home, but had not seen any of them for a long time.

The police of Revelstock, about 300 miles east of Vancouver, have under arrest a Chinese whom they think is Leon Ling, according to dispatches received to-day by the police. The Chinese was arrested on a west bound train and answers the police description of the fugitive. From all parts of the country the police are receiving news of arrests, thought to be the man wanted. The widespread indignation at the nature of the crime, has aroused every police force between the two coasts and race feeling against the Chinese is running very high.

In the eastern states especially, every Mongolian resident is under close surveillance. Every Chinese whom the police suspect of concerting with white girls is being locked up, largely as a matter of precaution, as in several instances excited citizens have threatened summary violence in such cases.

From the undertaking rooms where the body had been taken from the morgue, the funeral of Elsie Sigel was held last night. Only her father and brothers and a few of her other relatives saw the ceremonies. The girl's mother is in a serious condition in a sanitarium in Connecticut. In the continuation of their search of the byways of Chinatown, the police are uncovering the sordid details of the murder of Elsie Sigel.

One of the missionary workers in Chinatown says he has known the girl from the time she was 8 years old and he says that Leon came on the scene about six years ago. He was typical Chinatown Beau Brummel and with his well learned prayers he set himself to win the girl. For a time she accepted his attentions. Then she learned of his habits, both his doings with other women, his gambling games and repulsed him, returning to her "big brother," Chu Gain.

Then came the threats of Leon, both to the girl and to Chu Gain. Chu Gain bought him off as he thought with $260 of the fnuds of the Chinese Reform Association which was given Chung Sin. But nothing was gained. It simply gave the fugitives funds for their flight. But the girl had already been killed and her body lay in the cramped trunk in Leon's room.

LIBRARY BOARD NAMES ITS OWN MEMBERS NOW

First Nominees Confirmed by Council—Teams' Hire Ordinance Tabled.

The first appointments made by the library board under the new statute which makes them a self perpetuating body came to the council, last night. The nominees of the board are A. B. Beers, Robert N. Blakeslee and Jerome Orcut, for three years from July, 1909. The nominations were confirmed. The ordinance relating to the sale of newspapers by minors was held for the purpose of making some changes in the text of it, one of which will be to reduce the age of the persons affected from 20 years to 16 years.

The ordinance making the hire of double teams used by the city $6 per day instead of $5, was tabled.

The claims committee awarded $1,125 to St. Vincent's hospital for damages worked by change of grade.

YEGGMEN BLOW SAFE AND MAKE OFF WITH $3,800

(Special from United Press.)

Syracuse, N. Y., June 22.—Sheriff Jesse Ferris and Under Sheriff Walker are scouring the country at the head of a posse, in a search for Yeggmen who early to-day blew up the safe of the Citizens National Bank at Locke and escaped with $3,800 in cash and a number of securities, the value of which is not yet known. The noise of the explosion awakened nearly everyone in the town and shattered windows for several blocks around the bank. The robbers were evidently on the lookout for just such an emergency. They had men stationed on the corners of all the streets leading to the bank and as fast as heads appeared at windows shots were fired in their direction.

This terrified the inhabitants and kept away everyone until the robbers had had ample time to make their escape from the town.

While the fusilade was going on, someone telephoned to Sheriff Ferris at Auburn and a posse was at once organized and sent from that place. When the sheriff and his men arrived at Locke, the village was in a state of intense excitement. No one could tell in which direction the robbers had fled. The safe of the bank was completely demolished, it is thought here that the job was done by expert cracksmen because the vault was deemed burglar-proof. All alarm wires had been cut and the door filled as though with nitro-glycerine. Nothing of value was overlooked.

A Colossal Idol.

Two miles from Kamakura and about twenty from Yokohama, in Japan, on a terrace near the temple sits the most gigantic idol in the world. It is the brazen image of a deity and dates from the reign of the Emperor Shomu, who died A. D. 748. The dimensions of this idol are colossal. His height from the base of the lotus flower upon which he sits to the top of his head is sixty-three and a half feet. The face is sixteen feet in length and nine and a half feet wide, the eyes are three feet nine inches from corner to corner, the eyebrows five and a half feet and the ears eight and a half feet. The chest is twenty feet in depth, and the middle finger is exactly five feet long. The fifty-six leaves of the lotus throne are each ten feet long and six feet wide.

Burning of the Vanities.

Savanarolo once marked his strong condemnation of luxury by collecting a large number of articles which he regarded as vanities during the carnival to be burnt in the Piazza della Signoria, Florence, on Shrove Tuesday, 1497. In this "burning of the vanities" were included fancy costumes, carnival masks, false hair and rouge pots, cards and dice boxes, books and pictures, together with casts and valuable sculptures of questionable character. Built up into a pyramid of seven stages—signifying the seven deadly sins—the pile was burnt by lighting fagots placed in the center, while children standing round sang hymns before the assembled crowds.

Japanese Ladies and Suicide.

While Japanese ladies never committed harakiri, the honorable equivalent was death by a stab in the neck from her own dirk, a weapon which she generally carried in her girdle to be used in time of need.

Where a Roman dame would in ancient times have plunged her dagger into her own heart, a Japanese heroine preferred to thrust the weapon into her neck, and there is no record of either male or female in Japan ending existence in the fashion that is so often depicted in western novels and less frequently perhaps in real life.—Nineteenth Century.

Tides on the Great Lakes.

In theory there must be lunar tides on the great lakes, although they may be too small to be detected in bodies of water so much more affected by winds and by differences in barometric pressure. This latter influence is so potent that in Lake Michigan it sometimes causes disturbances resembling tidal waves when the surface of the water is otherwise quite calm.
