LILY SYRUP.

An unparralled remedy for Diseases of the Lungs, Consumption, Coughs, Influenza, Colds, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, Hooping Cough, &c. &.

TO THE PUBLIC.

In presenting to the public a new remedy for diseases of the lungs, it may be proper to say that, judging from the many certificates and recommendations of other specifics contained in the newspapers of the day no new remedy was called for or required. But if the popular remedies had materially lessened the bills of mortality, or any one of the many preparations possessed those virtues recommended, so that after a fair trial, the patient could depend upon its healing powers, and rationally hope for a speedy recovery of health, this humble attempt to arrest the progress of Pulmonary Consumption would not have appeared.

But that the victims of this destroyer are daily increasing, needs no proof and the large scales of the Druggists show that the remedies of the day have been fairly tried, and failed in their object, if that object was the restoration to health of persons suffering from diseases of the Lungs. While one remedy dries up a cough that should be properly aided to throw off the viscid phlegm collected upon the lungs and throat the harbinger of disease, another, by a bad selection of an expectorant, is indeed enabled to dispossess the present tenant, but leave a worse one to occupy the shattered premises; and by it, the work of death is the sooner accomplished.

The LILY SYRUP is now believed to be the best remedy for lung complaint, that has ever appeared. To cure Pulmonary Consumption after the disease has done its last work, or become established upon the vital functions, and tubercles are formed and broken, and atmospheric air is inhaled into the broken parts, is not among the pretensions of the thousand and one popular nostrums, (notwithstanding).

This medicine has restored many who were supposed to be beyond cure, by men standing high in the medical profession; but their restoration to health only proved that great and good men may be mistaken, in the stage or progress of the disease. Hence, let no person despair of relief, until he has made a fair trial of the Lily Syrup.

This medicine operates by promoting a free and easy expectoration,—thereby freeing the lungs and throat from vissed phlegm, and strengthening the parts and freeing them from inflamatory action which constitute the disease of Pulmonary Consumption. The Syrup is entirely free from any mineral substance, and purely vegetable; and may be taken with perfect safety by the most delicate constitution.

It is highly recommended to those who have weak lungs. Teachers or performers of vocal music will find it of invaluable use to them, by giving great strength and sweetness to the tones of music, and enabling the person to perform with great ease. Public speakers and debaters will find it of invaluable service to them.

This medicine has been thoroughly and successfully tested by able physicians, and by their advice is now prepared and offered to the public, to speak for itself in the cause of afflicted humanity. And may he who blessed the instrumentality of clay to open the eyes of the blind, make it a blessing to the human family, and the great object of the proprietor will be accomplished.

All medicine should be given according to the situation of the patient; and, if much relaxed, a smaller quantity than where there is considerable strength. The directions on the bottle may be taken as a general rule; but if taken for a long standing cough, it may be necessary to take a much larger dose for some one or two days, and even oftener until an expectoration is produced that will be free and easy. When there is much tightness of the chest, it will some times increase the cough for a day or two; in which case, the patient should take the Syrup more freely, even until it should produce light nausea of the stomach. He need not fear any harm from such a sensation. I would say to all who purchase this medicine for use, that they can have but little hope of being benefited by it, unless it is taken steadily when it is commenced with. Some have taken it once a day, then twice, then not any for two or three days. I cannot say that such will be likely to receive much benefit from it; but if taken regularly, it is eminently calculated to uproot the disease, and to restore to good health. It is the earnest desire of the proprietor to have every one that uses at least one bottle of it, steadily according to the directions, to communicate the result to the person of whom he purchased the medicine.

The proprietor is privileged to refer to the following persons who have used the Lily Syrup, and who will be happy to give information of its superior healing powers, to any wishing to know more about it.

HEADACHE.

CERTAIN CURE FOR SICK HEADACHE, which has been used in families, every member of which has had sick headache from infancy, as a constitutional family complaint, and has cured effectually in every instance yet known, amounting to many hundreds. It is not unpleasant to the taste, and does not prevent the daily avocations of one using it—it must be persevered in, and the cure is gradual, but certain and permanent. Instances are constantly multiplying where the distressing complaint is completely relieved and cured, although of years standing by the use of Dr. Spohn's celebrated remedy. One decided preference is its pleasantness, having none of the nauseating effect of common drugs.

It is so perfectly satisfactory, that the proprietor has given directions for his agents to refund the price to any one who is not pleased with, and even cured by it. He hopes also that this may secure its great benefits to the distressed sufferers who are laboring under Headache. E. SPOHN, M. D., inventor and Proprietor.

Peck & Co. where he has a general assortment of Cooking, Box and Parlor Stoves, Caldrons, and Hollow Ware of the superior Brandon Castings; also Buck's Hot Air Cooking Stove, which he is manufacturing in this place. The construction of this stove is such that the first and sharpest heat comes directly under the boilers and then passes round a spacious and equally heated oven, and requires but comparatively little fuel to put it in operation, and bakes equal to a brick oven. There might be a List of signatures procured as long as the recommendation of a country P. M., from the highest sources in the sections where it is in use; but a preamble about this stove or the Yankee Notion useless, and if money continues scarce you must use the less of it, so don't do without on that account, but call and try the new Stove.

MOFFAT'S VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES.—These medicines are indebted for their name to their manifest and sensible action in purifying the springs and channels of life, and enabling them with renewed tone and vigor. In many hundred certified cases which have been made public, and in almost every species of disease to which the human frame is liable, the happy effects of MOFFAT'S LIFE PILLS AND PHŒNIX BITTERS have been gratefully and publicly acknowledged by the persons benefitted, and who were previously unacquainted with the beautifully philosophical principles upon which they are compounded, and upon which they consequently act.

The LIFE MEDICINES recommend themselves in diseases of every form and description. Their first operation is to unload from the coats of the stomach and bowels, the various impurities and crudities constantly settling around them; and to remove the hardened fæces which collect in the convolutions of the smallest intestine. Other medicines only partially cleanse these, and leave such collected masses behind as to produce habitual costiveness, with all its train of evils, or sudden diarrhœa, with its imminent dangers. This fact is well known to all regular anatomists, who examine the human bowels after death; and hence the prejudice of those well informed men against quack medicines—or medicines prepared and heralded to the public by ignorant persons. The second effect of the Life Medicines is to cleanse the kidneys and the bladder, and by this means, the liver and the lungs, the healthfulness of which entirely depends upon the regularity of the urinary organs. The blood, which takes its red color from the agency of the liver and the lungs, before it passes into the heart, being thus purified by them, and nourished by food coming from a clean stomach, courses freely through the veins, renews every part of the system, and triumphantly mounts the banner of health in the blooming cheek.

Moffat's Vegetable Life Medicines have been thoroughly tested, and pronounced a sovereign remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, Heart-burn and Headache, Restlessness, Ill-temper, Anxiety, Langor and Melancholy, Costiveness, Diarrhœa, Cholera, Fevers of all kind, Rheumatism, Gout, Dropsies of all kinds, Gravel, Worms, Asthma and Consumption, Scurvy Ulcers, Inveterate Sores, Scorbutic Eruptions and Bad Complexions, Eruptive complaints, sallow, Cloudy, and other disagreeable Complexions, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Common Colds and Influenza, and various other complaints which afflict the human frame. In FEVER and AGUE, particularly, the Life Medicines have been most eminently successful; so much so that in the Fever and Ague districts, Physicians almost universally prescribe them.

All that Mr. Moffat requires of his patients is to be particular in taking the Life Medicines strictly according to the direction. It is not a new-paper notice, or by anything that he himself may say in their favor, that he hopes to gain credit. It is alone by the results of a fair trial.

MOFFAT'S MEDICAL MANUAL; designed as a domestic guide to health.—This little pamphlet, edited by W. B. Moffat, 275 Broadway, New York, has been published for the purpose of explaining more fully Mr. Moffat's theory of diseases, and will be found highly interesting to persons seeking health. It treats upon prevalent diseases, and the causes thereof. Price, 25 cents.—for sale by Mr Moffat's Agents generally.

Consumption and Liver Complaint!

As a general remedy for these diseases, I am fully satisfied, from long experience, there is no medicine equal to Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort. Being purely vegetable, it can be used with the utmost safety by all persons in every condition. It cleanses the lungs by expectoration, relieves difficult breathing, and seems to heal the chest. There can be no question but this medicine is a certain cure for chronic coughs and colds. I have used it four years in my practice, and always with success. A. F. ROGERS, M. D.

Tickling in the Throat.

I know Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort to be a certain remedy for this complaint, as I have used it myself and found its effects an immediate. I was much troubled until I made use of this medicine.

M. L. HENSHAW. 211 Mangin st.

Hoarseness—Cured.—For the cure of hoarseness I can strongly recommend Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort. I have not only found great benefit myself, but many of my congregation by my recommendation have received great benefit from its virtue. It is a once mild, efficacious and harmless.

REV. AZ. LEWIS.

Severe Coughs and Colds.—I have had a most severe cold and cough, for a long time which I could not get rid of. After using many useless things I tried Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, and it cured me in a few days. JAS. B. KERRINOCK.

Raising of Blood—About two weeks ago I had a fall, which caused me to spit large quantities of blood which nothing could cure until I tried Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort. This medicine gave me immediate relief and in a very short time effected an entire cure. Let all persons try it.

HUGH MC GARVEY, 21 Cannon st.

Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort—This superior remedy for diseases of the lungs and liver has obtained a reputation never before equalled.

Remarkable Cure of Consumption.

. . . was so near her death with this disease, that my friends sent for a priest to confess me ere I died. He in his mercy, told me not to give up until I tried Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort. I sent immediately for this medicine, and although the contest for a few days between this medicine, and my disease was severe, the medicine conquered, and in a few night I was restored to health. I had a cough, raising of matter, loss of my voice, pains, weakness, &c. I refer to Doctor Wilson, in the Carlton House, for the truth of my statement. MARY DILL, 16th street cor. 3d avenue. Summer Complaint.

The Balsam of Liverwort, in several cases of this disease, where all other remedies applied by physicians have proved ineffectual, has produced a perfect cure

Surprizing Cure of Consumption.

Mr. R. Gladdin of Delhi, N. Y., of a naturally consumptive constitution, has been saved from an untimely end by the use of Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort. A severe cold brought on an attack of Pleurisy, and this ended in general debility and consumption. A constant cough, hectic flush, restless nights, quick pulse, and continual loss of flesh, argued a speedy death; but as soon as I commenced the use of this Balsam I grew fast and was fully restored to health.

Shortness of Breath.

For this disease, I have always found Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort an excellent remedy. It is a once so safe and so effective, that I always use it in my practice, and recommend it to my friends. I have used it in some hundreds of cases within the past four years, and I have never had it fail. In many cases of asthma, I fully believe it to have been the means of saving precious lives. Let all try it.
