at a minimum price; and when located, the lands to be subject to entry at a greater minimum than one dollar and a quarter per acre — The locater shall pay the difference between the value of it (a dollar and a quarter,) and the tract of land located on—Adopted.

The amendment of Mr. Felch, making the holder of the warrant bear the expense of the location, was also adopted. All other amendments were rejected, when, without concluding, the Committee rose, and the House adjourned.

The Decree in the Forrest Case.

NEW YORK, Saturday, Jan. 31.

After some discussion by the Counsel—

The Court said that it might as well give its views at once as to the decree. It has been objected that a decree might enable Mrs. Forrest to marry again. The Court does not understand that question has ever entered into an application where, if the verdict is reversed, the marriage would be a nullity. If, while the case last, Mrs. F. undertook to marry, she would place herself in great peril, as, if reversed, it would probably not be a decree at all; but that is a matter resting with herself. A decree so far as to dissolve the marriage must be pronounced. * * * * * *

The decree will settle alimony. I will award alimony from commencement of suit, and I do so because I do not mean to make any allowance for the expense of the suit, except as to taxed costs. There was an allowance made when there was no idea of legal controversy. It was an allowance for comfortable support in life. That would have enabled her, in one aspect, to live and carry on prosecution, as a single woman could live on a small sum, but the parties did not so contemplate. The amount does not properly fall within it. As the expenses have been large, and could not be contemplated, it is proper to make it the object of a special allowance, or retrospective, in this way. Since the decision that the allowance was sufficient, the greater portion of these expenses have been incurred; the expense of counsel has been necessarily greater than all before.

The jury have gone upon the principle that the estate of Mr. Forrest is worth $150,000; they have taken the income of that and allowed Mrs. Forrest one-third. In some States it is the rule that the husband is considered as dead on divorce; and this is on the principle of dower. I do not understand that Mr. Forrest asks for reference as to the value of his estate.

The Court has the simple fact that the estate is worth $150,000, but his income not worth $4,300 a year. Mr. F. might let the whole of his estate (as Pont Hill is) remain unproductive; but he cannot say to his wife, in consequence, that she shall not be entitled to her allowance. The usual way, in such a case, is to allow 6 per cent on the value of the estate.

I shall, therefore, make the decree, that the alimony be $3,000 a year, to commence from the entering of the suit.

As to dower, it is right Mrs. F. should be protected, but the idea is new as to dower. I saw in the Court of Appeals something was said as to alimony being during the life of the husband, but the law says it shall be during the life of the wife.

Suppose this is allowed, it would give her a double right. I propose to provide that Mrs. Forrest, on the establishment of the decree, being required to give up her right of dower, or some other mode by which to guard against double allowance.

All payments by Mr. Forrest to Mrs. Forrest, on the voluntary allowance, I propose shall be credited to him after the commencement of the suit. If Mr. F. gives satisfactory security as to the payment of the $3,000 a year, the decree will not be a lien upon his real estate.

Some conversation occurred as to the phraseology of the decree, &c. The Court thought the details of the decree had better be laid over till next Saturday, at which time the question of execution will be settled. In the meantime, a judgment of divorce will be entered.

MOVEMENTS OF KOSSUTH.

Kossuth at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Monday, Feb. 2, 1852.

Governor Kossuth was this morning escorted from his lodgings, at the Weddell House, to the American Hotel, in front of which some five thousand persons had assembled, to see and hear the illustrious representative of Hungary's cause.

The Magyar was welcomed by the Mayor of the city, in a speech of great length.

KOSSUTH'S REPLY.

In reply, Kossuth expressed his astonishment at seeing such a gathering where, a few years since, his name had never been heard. He was surprised to find so many populous cities where the Indian but yesterday, as it were, had removed with scalping knife and tomahawk. Gentlemen, said he, if somebody comes and asks me, "Why do you not pronounce your opinion upon this or that party question?"—"Why don't you rise to this or that standard?" "Why do you not volunteer on this or that field?"

I answer him, "I do not, because it is not my business; I do not, because he who is grasping too much will hold nothing; I do not, because my hands are already so full, that, should I try to grasp whatever standard more, all would fall down into the dust; I do not, because I respect your institution of self-government—that source of your freedom, power and happiness." Gentlemen, love independence, as Washington loved his country and countrymen; be energetic, as Jackson was; and remember Franklin, who brought help to your shores when your country was in need, and Washington himself almost despaired of victory—though he found no Russia to fight him, but France to help him.

Let the world not say that Republics have no memory for received aid. By being faithful to your past you can have the glory of becoming the first nation on earth. You will conquer the world to your principles. Sir, I thank you and the citizens of Cleveland for this generous reception. I pray to God to bless your country with the fairest gifts of happiness, and recommend to his mercy and your support my bleeding country.

The address was received with great enthusiasm.

KOSSUTH REFUSES FURTHER PUBLIC RECEPTIONS.

The following is an extract from a letter of Kossuth to the Committee at Cincinnati, with which Mr. Palczky will start to-morrow, to deliver and explain:—

"I decline in the most solemn way every procession, illumination, banquet and costly entertainment. Allow me to provide for my lodging and board; and whatever you may have resolved to bestow for those objects, let the amount be given to the Hungarian fund."

In the evening Kossuth addressed the ladies.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon, Kossuth delivered his great speech at the Melodeon to an audience of 1,050 persons, who had paid from $1 to $3 admittance, so he will not leave this section of the country without that material aid which is destined to supply the sinews of war.

He was met by deputations from Lake county who presented him with $500, as the measure of their sympathy for his country's cause.

To-morrow morning he will leave for Columbus, the capital of Ohio, where an enthusiastic reception awaits him.

It is thought a considerable amount of material aid will be realized here. All is enthusiasm.

☞ The Milwaukee Daily Advertiser thus sums up on the Hanging question:

"After a careful consideration of all the arguments for and against capital punishment, we have come to the conclusion that the 'debt of nature' should never be paid, if it can't be collected without an execution."

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1851, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D. in the Clerk's Office of the District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania.

Great Cure for Dyspepsia!
ANOTHER SCIENTIFIC WONDER!
DR. J. S. HOUGHTON'S

The True Digestive Fluid, OR, GASTRIC JUICE!

PREPARED from RENNET, or the fourth Stomach of the Ox, after directions of Baron Liebig, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. Houghton, M. D. Philadelphia, Pa.

This is a truly wonderful remedy for Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Constipation and Debility, curing after nature's own method, by nature's own Agent, the Gastric Juice.

☞ Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin, infused in water, will digest or dissolve Five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours, out of the stomach.

Pepsin is the chief element in Gastric Digestive Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, thus forming an Artificial Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice in its Chemical powers, and furnishing a complete and perfect substitute for it.—By the aid of this preparation, the pains and evils of Indigestion and Dyspepsia are removed, just as they would be by a healthy Stomach. It is doing wonders for Dyspeptics, curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline and Dyspeptic Consumption, supposed to be on the verge of the grave. The scientific evidence upon which it is based, is in the highest degree Curious and Interesting.

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE!

BARON LIEBIG in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice may easily be prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be softened, changed, and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

DR. PEREIRA, in his famous treatise on "Food and Diet," published by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 35, states the same gastric fluid, and describes the method of preparation. "Here are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira.

Dr. COMBE, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," also says that "a diminution of the due quantity of the Gastric Juice is a prominent and almost overwhelming cause of Dyspepsia." Combe states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, finding everything else to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomachs of living animals, which proved complete and successful."

Dr. GRAHAM, author of the famous work on "Vegetable Diet, says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomachs of animals, preserved in water, immediately after their death, are found to have lost the power of digesting their own flesh, while
