The Money Diggings at Whitehall—The Fools Growing More Foolish.

We stated some two or three weeks since that a number of men were engaged in digging for money on the "Picket" near South Bay, they being encouraged to such labor by the revelation of a certain pretended fortune teller of this village. We learn that they are still digging, although they have not yet found the first cent. Having found the "Picket" to be a fruitless field, they have removed the scene of their operations to the "Diameter," a high ledge of rocks on the west shore of the Bay. Tradition relates that somewhere at the foot of this huge wall of rock is a cave from which the Spaniards, soon after the discovery of this continent, dug out vast quantities of precious ore. Hence, like the "Picket," the "Diameter" has been repeatedly searched for the treasures it is said to contain. On consulting their spiritual guide, the gold hunters were assured of the truth of the tradition and told how to prosecute their labors successfully. They were to commence digging in a certain spot pointed out by the "medium," and to keep steadily at work. On the third day they would reach a large flat rock; a snake would then appear before them, but the reptile must not be disturbed, nor mention any of the company manifest fear or speak a word, lest the spell should be broken. If these instructions were strictly obeyed, the treasure would soon be theirs. Accordingly pickaxe and crowbar were put at work among the rocks, and sure enough on the third day, it is said, as they came to the expected flat rock, a small snake was seen to fall from an overhanging bush, directly into the hole; in a few minutes it disappeared in a blue flame, leaving nothing but a coiled streak of sulphurous ashes. At this supernatural sight, our credulous hunters, they somewhat terrified, were fully confirmed in the belief that the precious stuff was there, and they have since been digging, in accordance with this belief, with a perseverance worthy of success. If there is any money among these rocks, we hope they will get it.—Whitehall Chron., Nov. 1054.

HOW GUNS ARE SPIKED.—A correspondent of the London Herald describes how the Russians spike the guns:—"The spikes are four inches long and of the dimensions of a tobacco pipe; the head flat; a hole in the point acts as a spring, which is naturally pressed to the shaft upon being forced into the touch-hole. Upon reaching the chamber of the gun it resumes its position, and it is impossible to withdraw it. It can only be got out by drilling—no easy task, as they are made of the hardest steel, and being all loose in the touch-hole, there is much difficulty in making a drill bite as effectually as it should do. Its application is the work of a moment—a single tap on the flat head with the palm of a hand sufficing.

The New York Tribune,

Daily, - - - $6
Semi-Weekly, $3 Weekly, $2.
ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE commences its NINTH annual volume with the month of September—commences it with a circulation (115,000) larger than was ever before accorded to any general newspaper whatever. This circulation has been gradually and laboriously attained by concentrating upon THE TRIBUNE the best effort of many editors and correspondents and by a greater liberality of outlay in each department than was probably ever before risked on any journal. It has been attained, not by sailing smoothly in the current of Opinion before it, but by breasting it in the midst of bigotries, but by an earnest, fearless devotion to Truth and Progress as above all partisan exigencies, all temporary interests, all [illegible] illusions of popular [illegible] and sects. Its thorough advocacy of Temperance and Liquor Prohibition, of Justice to the despised and disenfranchised, and of the equal and inalienable Rights of the Human Race, irrespective of Sex or Creed or Color, have from time to time repelled many sunshine friends, whose prejudices or seeming interests were thereby contravened, but have combined to form a character which it will endeavor to maintain and assign its position among journals with the firm belief that it will be beneficent in proportion as it is fearless.

The leading ideas to which THE TRIBUNE is devoted may be briefly set forth as follows: Freedom, to do whatever is essentially right—not alone for white Americans, or Anglo-Saxons, or Caucasians even—not for one Race or Nation, whether they will or will not hold another Race in abject bondage—but for every Race and Nation, and every adult rational human being. This Freedom is rightfully absolute in the broad domain of Opinion, and involves the equal and adequate right to Political Franchises (Y Order, or the necessary right of the legally indicated majority to interdict in the sphere of Action all practices which it deems demoralizing, therefore prejudicial to the common weal; 3. Beneficence, or the wisdom and policy of supplying the resources and credit of the community to accomplish works of general and unquestioned utility to which individual means are inadequate or which, though eminently conducive to the public good, do not promise to reimburse to their direct issuers the outlay required for their construction; 4. Industrial Development, as the corner stone of a true and benignant National Policy, assuring the naturalization of a new and valuable art or product or the will as more important that the acquisition of a fresh region or island, and equally within the legitimate sphere of National concern and National effort. 5. Peace, as a vital condition of true Progress, to be cherished by the most anxious, assiduous study to prolong as widely as we are prone to neglect no chance for every wrong, and never to be surrendered except upon the call of endangered Liberty. Such are the chief landmarks by which THE TRIBUNE directs its course.

But a small portion of THE TRIBUNE is allotted to what is currently distinguished as light reading. Its Reviews of New Books include a goodly and choice extract illustrating their quality, are fairly given, while the great body of our space is devoted to a lucid and careful digest of the News of the Day, with editorial comments thereon. We have, relatively, more foreign intelligence than any other journal; nearly all the principal cities on this Continent and America, and their letters should our readers have a clearer understanding of the causes which are now gradually converting the Old World into one gigantic arena for the death-struggle of rival interests, passions and institutions.

THE TRIBUNE contains reliable reports of the Markets. Our Cattle Market reports alone are more than the price of the paper to those who are engaged in raising and selling cattle.

No paper involving as great an expense as our Weekly and Semi-Weekly could be afforded at the price of these issues except in connection with a Daily, nor could our Daily be sustained at its rates without the aid of our country editions. Large as our circulation is, it would require an increase of less than one in twenty to overwhelm us. We believe that to THE TRIBUNE is realized the largest variety and extent of valid information concerning the events of the day which has been or can be combined with extreme cheapness; and to that truth we commend it to the favorable regard of the reading public. We offer no premiums to induce to attempt mere to take to or gambling promises of winning terms or membership in a lottery in which the prizes are furnished to its patrons, employ no traveling agents to importune people into taking it, and have none of our terms to coaxing our subscribers to pay.

Prepared by
DR. JOHN BULL,
Sole Proprietor,
No. 1 Pine-street, Louisville, Ky.

Price, $1 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $5.

It is a remarkable fact, that among the hundreds of patent nostrums which have sprung into existence within the last few years, not one has become in any degree popular, or continued to live, except those which have merit for their support. Hundreds have tried to introduce a spurious article, by imitating our bottles, wrappers, and pretending that theirs was the same article; but they have invariably failed, the public having learned to discriminate between the genuine article and the spurious imitations. The fact that the Sarsaparilla of Dr. John Bull has continued to increase in popularity for so many years, is the best evidence that it is the best article of the kind now offered to the public.

Although there are many physicians who feel no hesitance in having their names appended to the recommendation of any particular remedy, notwithstanding they may be well aware that, in the highest degree, there are others who frankly yield their support in favor of a remedy which they know is capable of doing so much good, and which, in their own practice, they find to be invaluable. Among the latter class will be found some of the most eminent, respectable, and honorable physicians of this and the adjoining States, and the majority of them residing in the community in which they live.

TESTIMONY.

☞ Testimony like the following renders superfluous any testimonial on the efficacy of Bull's Sarsaparilla. From Dr. J. J. Yandell, Professor of Chemistry in the Louisville Medical College, I have received the list of ingredients composing Dr. John Bull's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, and feel no hesitation in saying that they form a safe and judicious combination of the best vegetable alteratives, to which it is applicable. L. P. YANDELL, M. D.

Louisville, June 6, 1848.

What Dr. Dyer, physician by appointment to the Louisville Marine Hospital, says of Bull's Sarsaparilla:

Louisville, March 20, 1848.

I have examined the prescription for the preparation of John Bull's Sarsaparilla, and I believe the combination to be an excellent one, and well calculated to produce an alterative impression on the system. I have used both in public and private practice, and think it the best article of Sarsaparilla now in use. M. DYER, M. D.

Bardstown, Hospital—Louisville Marine Hospital.

Louisville, Ky., April 20th, 1850.

Sir—Permission to address you on a few lines, and to use the honor to reply to a request that I will make to the enclosure of this letter, viz:

If in a practice of twenty years, I have found Sarsaparilla of any benefit, I can only say, I have found it invariably a safe vital, and accordingly purchased a bottle of your medicine from Druggist, Mr. George P. Brown, about two weeks ago, and I must confess that the medicine has not disappointed me in its operation, that your preparation of sarsaparilla is decidedly superior to any other preparation now in use, and I have no hesitation in saying that I shall use it in my practice, and recommend it to my friends as being a powerful and efficacious remedy in curing all those diseases of diseases for which it is recommended, if used according to directions. I believe it to be a valuable alterative, and I shall use it in my family, and doubt whether in the most difficult and protracted cases of Syphilis, accompanied with Nodes Proper, to derive of the Bones whether it might not be productive of the most beneficial results. W. H. MONAGHAN, M. D.

Honorary member of the Medical Society, Philadelphia.

☞ Hear what Dr. Stapp, a physician who stands at the top of the profession, says of John Bull's Sarsaparilla:

I have long been in the habit of using Sarsaparilla in a great variety of chronic diseases, which have long defied other remedies, and I have no hesitation in recommending it to the public as a safe, reliable, and not unpleasant tonic and alterative. Yours, most respectfully, [illegible] M. D.

Louisville, Ky., April 6, 1850.

Rev. E. W. SEHON.—Rev. E. STEVENSON.

Cincinnati.—Rev. E. W. Sehon is widely and generally known as an eloquent and accomplished pastor of the Methodist Church, and Rev. E. Stevenson has been some time at the same station and many members that the Reverend gentlemen have spoken of Bull's Sarsaparilla as a most valuable medicine, and that extensively recommended it to the attention of the sick.

E. W. SEHON,
E. STEVENSON.

We personally know of persons who are suffering with any of the complaints that Bull's Sarsaparilla is recommended for, John Bull's Sarsaparilla, Bull's Bowel Regulator, Bull's Vermifuge, Bull's Cough Lozenges, we hope that a trial of these valuable remedies may induce those who are suffering to give Bull's Sarsaparilla a trial, after reading and considering the testimonials which are published in connection with the Sarsaparilla, and the testimony of some of the most respectable and honorable citizens of this and other States, and the testimony of numerous individuals, both in public and private life, who have been perfectly cured by using Bull's Sarsaparilla, and who are ready to testify to the efficacy of these medicines. Yours, respectfully, [illegible]

A CARD.

DOCTOR GEO. M. TIGHE, A STUDENT under Sir Ashley Cooper, late of the City of London, England, has taken up his abode in Burlington, Vermont, and is now prepared to practice upon Cancers, Tumors and Ulcers; Scrofula, salt rheum, Venereal Diseases, whether acute or chronic, and all Cutaneous Diseases of the skin. He pledges himself not to take any person under treatment whom he cannot cure, and makes no charge where there is no cure effected. Persons bringing certificates from the Minister of their Religion, of their inability to pay, he will cure without charge, and will forfeit a hundred dollars in every case of failure. This he feels assured will be sufficient to convince the public, that he does not belong to that class of persons called charlatans, or quacks, who live upon the sufferings and credulity of their fellow creatures.

SYMPTOMS OF CANCER.—This disease originates in the form of Pimples, Warts, Scales, Horny Protuberances, Preternatural enlargements, and Tubercular Elevations. Sometimes unusual heat, and very acute pain, succeeded by a twitching, and a sensation felt as if there were a fly or spider crawling over the part, and at intervals a darting, stinging pain, which becomes more frequent as the disease progresses.

It also originates from blows, bruises and the ordinary causes and states of inflammation produce Cancer; grief and anxiety are also the causes. Sorrow for the loss of relatives, also, often produces it. It is favoured by age and by the unmarried state in women; when it occurs in the married, the menses almost always cease first, showing a connection between them; it is apparent very commonly at the period when the secretion disappears. It appears even in subjects as young as five years, but most common in advanced life, and constitutes predisposition to it.

The Doctor will attend on patients in the country if called on to do so, to inform themselves whereabouts, that they may avail themselves of his services. His address is "Dr. GEORGE M. TIGHE, corner of Pine and Pearl streets, Burlington Vt."

Series for 1855,
THE HOME JOURNAL
MORRIS AND WILLIS, EDITORS

The first number of the new series will be issued on the first of January next. New subscribers can be supplied from that date; but immediate application will be necessary for such as desire to begin with the beginning. A home is hardly complete, we think we may safely venture to say, without the Home Journal, which, besides being a chronicle of the times, abounds in intelligence designed to be an American House. Its editors (Geo. P. Morris and N. P. Willis) devote their entire time, skill and experience, to the task of giving, each week, everything worth knowing. They particularly keep an eye on all the wants and wishes of the lady. The utmost pains are taken to present the facts and outlines of all news. In the literary department we aim at sketches and readable criticism, and in our condensations of the productions of the vast newspaper world of Europe, we endeavour to avoid the dross and the trash and transfer to our columns the pick of English information and brilliancy, while we endeavour to select with a true sense of pure morals, true wit, and genuine humor in addition to the above, we have made now arrangements for a feature that is always attractive in a family journal. From several different sources we are to be supplied with the news and gossip of New-York Society. In a metropolis like ours, centre the more sparkling elements of the life of our country at large, and collision and attrition bring out much which would else be dormant. What in society gossip, is a small world, will reflect the ordinary newspapers make no report, and of this we think we can promise amusing photographs. In announcing also, A new series of articles by Mr. Willis, in addition to his usual editorial labours, we claim the privilege of giving them to designate their own style and title as they appear. They are to be quite different from anything which has ever been published in the journal from its pen, and we are very sure that they will be no less attractive, to say the least. The graphic and highly-finished sketches, by "The Lady of Shalott," "Fanny Quince" and others, will be continued. We have also now numerous correspondents in London and Paris, who will send us much that could never reach us through foreign journals.

TERMS:—For one copy, $2; for three copies, $5; or for six copies for the sum, $10—always in advance. Subscribe without delay. Address MORRIS & WILLIS, 107 Fulton-street, New York.

Pianos! Pianos!! Pianos!!!

ATTENTION OF PURCHASERS IS RESPECTfully called to a new and elegant invention in the Piano Forte, now fully perfected and before the public. Room at HALL'S Celestial Piano-Forte Warehouse, No. 333 Broadway, Albany.

The peculiarity of the Celestial Piano consists in its capacity for accompanying with the single finger, an attainment hitherto unknown to the Pianoforte.

The most ordinary performer is enabled by the aid of this improvement to produce effects in playing that would confound a Thalberg or a Gottschalk, one of its chief excellencies is its capacity to be used at will as an ordinary Piano of the greatest quality of tone, and is instantly changed by the use of a common pedal to a combination so thrilling and majestic, as to equal and share the Organ. These instruments are superior in power to the ordinary Cottage Pianos, while for sweetness, purity, firmness, and richness of tone, they challenge the competition of the world.

This is the united testimony of Professors and Amateurs who have tested the Celestial Piano, Ordinary Pianos of all sizes, new and second hand for sale at reduced prices.
