NEW YORK, Oct. 23.

A Centreville despatch to the Times states that the correspondent of the Times arrived here to-day direct from Front Royal, Ashby's Gap and Upperville. He saw no rebel troops on the road except a picket near Ashby's Gap, but believes the rebels will make winter quarters south of the Rappahannock.

A party of negroes arrived to day from Culpepper. They report a large rebel force in the vicinity but saw no troops north of the Rappahannock. They report that all able-bodied negroes are being moved further South.

The Times' Harpers Ferry despatch states that a reconnoissance to Hillsboro by Gen. Geary captured forty rebel cavalry and thirty horses. Gen. Burnside is assigned to the general charge of the defences of Harper's Ferry, and the 24 and 12th army corps are placed under his orders for the present.

At the signal station on Maryland Heights the smoke this morning was so thick that the officers could see only eight or nine miles and that indistinctly. The rebel pickets are at Kearneyville. A great number were seen this morning.

The Times' Washington despatch says an officer of Gen. McClellan's staff writes that the army of the Potomac is prevented from making an immediate advance by the want of clothing.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.

Brig H Hallock from Matamoras reports rebel schooner Two Sisters, with rebel flag flying, entered the harbor at Matamoras thinking it was the gunboat Albatross there. The Albatross soon overhauled and captured her and sent her as a prize to Key West.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF POTOMAC, Oct. 23, A. M.

Yesterday Capt. Duncan made a reconnoissance to Hedgeville, with two squadrons of 4th Penn. Cavalry, numbering 140 men. Hedgeville is 7 miles north-west of Martinsburgh, and one mile from North Mountain, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Capt. Duncan drove the rebel pickets into the town and then charged the main body of rebels, taking 19 prisoners, including 3 officers. None of Duncan's men were hurt.

Refugees state that the rebels left Martinsburg on Tuesday. It is believed that a portion of them went to Williamsport and a part to Shepardstown.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 22.

On Sunday, Gen Forrest with a considerable force of rebel cavalry, commenced crossing the Cumberland river, whose advance 1000 strong, encamped on Gallatin Pike, 7 miles north of Nashville. General Negley immediately dispatched Colonel Miller with a detachment to intercept the rebels who attacked them on Monday at daylight, and drove them in great confusion across the river.—But few were killed or wounded.

A number of rebels including a Colonel were captured.

John Morgan was at Lichfield on Tuesday night.

There is no news from either Buell or Bragg.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27, 1862.

The correspondent of a morning paper writing from Berryville Heights 23d states that more than half the army is now under the command of Maj. Gen. Burnside.

The current belief that when the army of the Potomac moves it will be in two bodies one commanded by Gen. McClellan, the other by General Burnside one to take the enemy in front and the other on the flank is probably only an inference drawn from this arrangement.

A correspondent writing from Cherry Run, Va. Oct 23d, states that Gen. Doubleday with his brigade crossed the Potomac this morning at Cherry Run Ford and leads the advance to Virginia in this direction. He is supported on the other side a short distance off by the remaining brigade of Cutler's old division commanded by Gen. Newell.

Gen Vinton of Gen. Smith's division is also within call if the rebels retreat.

Appearances now indicate that we are all to have much to do within a very short time. Our Generals are becoming alarmed at the northern thunder heard from every pape that enters their camps and I have not heard for the last ten days a word said about going into winter quarters.

Last evening at the Washington House in Hagerstown, in reply to the question "when are we going into winter quarters?" Gen. John Cochran said "not till we have taken Richmond." Other Generals of higher rank have also returned the same answer to similar questions.

HARRISBURG, Oct 23.

Drafted men by thousands are arriving here by every train. These preparations will prevent a repetition of rebel cavalry raids. The militia will be armed and equipped at once.

JACKSON, Tenn., Oct. 24.

To Maj. Gen. Halleck:

A despatch just received says our cavalry under Major Mudd, ran into Hayward's partisan rangers, 7 miles west of Bloomfield killing one captain, captured about 40 prisoners, ten horses and a wagon load of arms, completely breaking up the party. I will send the prisoners to Alton.

U. S. GRANT, Maj. Gen. Com.

BOSTON, Oct. 24.

The 26th Maine regiment left here this morning for the seat of war.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct 24.

The difficulties with the coal miners in Schuylkill County, in regard to the draft, have been adjusted. All is now quiet. The men generally are resuming work which has been suspended for the last two days.

CAIRO, Oct. 25.

The steamer Emerald started for Vicksburgh this P. M. with 900 prisoners to be exchanged.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.

The following was received at Headquarters to-day.

ST LOUIS, Oct. 25.

To Major Gen Halleck:

Our armies are entirely successful again in Northwest Arkansas. Gen Schofield finding that the enemy had encamped at Pea Ridge, sent Gen Blunt with the 1st division westward and moved towards Huntsville with the rest of his forces. Gen Blunt by making a hard night's march, reached and attacked the rebel force at Mayaville, at 7 on the morning of the 22d.

The enemy were estimated at from five to seven thousand. The engagement lasted about an hour and resulted in the total rout of the enemy with the loss of all his artillery a battery of six pounders, a large number of horses and a part of their transportation and garrison equipments.

Our cavalry with light howitzers were still in pursuit of their scattered forces when the messenger left.

Our loss was small. Gen. Schofield pursued Gen. Hindman beyond Huntsville, coming close upon him when his forces fled beyond the Boston mountains.

All the organized forces of the rebels have been driven back to the valley of the Arkansas river and the army of the Frontier has gallantly and successfully accomplished its mission.

S. R. CURTIS,
Maj Gen. Com.

DUTCH GAP HEIGHTS, Oct. 24.

Contrabands from Stonewall Jackson's command report that after the utter destruction of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad west of Martinsburg, the entire rebel army commenced falling back yesterday morning, at the rebel officers believed Lee's intention was to winter near Gordonsville.

This reported falling back is corroborated by considerably strong pickets doing so yesterday and to-day.

This morning a squad of rebel cavalry dashed into our infantry pickets who were driven back. Considerable firing ensued on both sides. We had no casualties.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25

A special dispatch from Louisville states those who have hitherto styled the battle of Perryville a Union success, are sadly mistaken. It was a terrible and wholly fruitless waste of life and property. Official returns from all divisions engaged, show an aggregate loss of 8,000 killed, 2,535 wounded, and nearly 500 missing and prisoners.

The so my reported Hanson during the battle but abandoned them on reaching their retreat on Thursday morning.

After a careful investigation I have become satisfied that the rebel loss did not exceed two thirds of ours. Between six and seven hundred of their dead were buried by us, and about 1200 wounded remained in our hands. We took no prisoners during the battle.

PLEASANT VALLEY, Oct. 24

Orders have been issued in Gen. Burnside's command to issue no more new clothing than the men can carry comfortably on forced marches.

It is reported here that Gen. Hooker rejoins the army on Monday.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct 25.

Official majorities of 62 out of the 65 Counties of the State, and reliable estimated majorities of the other four counties, give Slenker, the dem candidate for Auditor General 2,535 maj.
