☞Gen. Cass's body guard consists of Senator Allen, the prince of demagogues—Sam Houston, the Texas Indian—Foote, the man who would hang J. P. Hale—and Benton, a pretty fair man who wishes to be President in 1852. Judge Gen. Cass by the company he keeps.

TO GET RID OF FLIES.

Set several plates or parcels of lime in different parts of the store or house. In a day or two you will find yourself rid of these troublesome insects almost altogether. The lime should be renewed when the strength is lost.

If the Whigs are to elect their candidate, we should prefer the elect on of Zachary Taylor to any other man they could name.—Bennington Gazette, (Loco.)

GEN. TAYLOR AND MR. CLAY. A letter writer at Washington says that, "General Taylor wrote to Mr. Clay, the 30th of April last, a long, familiar letter, covering four manuscript pages, in which he assured Mr. Clay of his friendship for him, and that, situated as he was, he could not of himself, without appearing inconsistent, withdraw his name from the canvass; but if his friends at the Philadelphia Convention should find that some other man—either Mr. Clay, Judge Mc Lean, Mr. Clayton, or any good, capable and upright citizen—would be more likely to be elected than himself, then it would give him pleasure to have them withdraw his name, and he would give his hearty support to the nominee. The letter breathes the true Whig spirit, and shows that General Taylor does not Mr. Clay's friends to be his own friends, and it most effectually puts down the statement that General Taylor set up for himself, and resolved to be a candidate whether or no.

"Mr. Clay wrote back a letter in the same good spirit, assuring the old hero that he entertained none but the kindest feelings for him—that he approved of his political sentiments, and that, should his name be presented to the people by the Philadelphia Convention for the Presidency, he would give to it his cordial support."—Boston Atlas.

LETTER OF MR. FILLMORE.—The following letter was written by Mr. Fillmore, in reply to an invitation to attend the meeting of the Friends of Ireland, which was held in New York last week:

ALBANY, May 30, 1848.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter, inviting me to attend a meeting to be held at the Broadway Tabernacle on the 3d of June, for the purpose of extending aid and sympathy to Ireland, in the present eventful crisis of her fate; and I regret to say, that my official arrangements are such as to deprive me of that pleasure.

No man who has a heart can fail to feel for suffering Ireland. Her brave sons have fought the battles of the civilized world, but her own they have yet to fight; and why England continues to hold her in subjection, against her will and by mere force, is to me unaccountable. Is it from the mere love of dominion, or the fear, that if Ireland again resumes her stand among the nations of the earth, that her distant colonies may seek to sunder the frail tie that binds them to the mother country? Whatever may be the motive, it seems clear, that the Union is profitless to England and ruinous to Ireland; and I trust that the time is not far distant, when Irishmen will again breathe the free air of an independent and happy people.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
MILLARD FILLMORE.

Messrs. James H. Titus, Peter McLaughlin, Robert Hogan, William F. White, J. C. Devereaux, John T. Doyle, John A. McGlynn and Nelson J. Waterbury, Committee.

From the Vermont Agriculturist for March.

"If a farmer wishes to improve the quality of his wool, let him, when he shears, number his bucks and ewes, weigh each fleece separately, and attach the number of each sheep to its fleece (I used small bits of pasteboard) also put each ewe's number on her lamb. When his fleeces are stapled and assorted, his number will show what is the quality of each fleece; and during the season he can readily see what ewes raise lambs of good size and symmetry."

STRAWBERRY RUNNERS.—These should be treated as weeds, and kept hoed from among the regular rows of strawberry plants. They have precisely the same effect upon the crop as the same quantity of weeds, and cannot fail to lessen the amount, as well as to diminish the quality. A writer in the Gardeners' Chronicle remarks, "So convinced am I of the propriety of cultivating this fruit in separate and distinct plants, and of cutting off the runners, that I have this season taken out a plant between each of my plantations, thus making the distance between each plant your feet by three."—Albany Cultivator.

VERMONT LEAD.—A track load of lead, from a mine in Thetford, Vt., owned by Mr. Abel Stowell, of this city, was exhibited in State street, (Boston) on Thursday, and attracted much attention. It is said to be a very pure article, from a rich and extensive quarry. Mr. Stowell is now engaged in quarrying and melting the ore at Thetford.—Bunker Hill Aurora.

OBJECT OF THE PRESENT AGITATION IN CANADA. The ostensible object of the new agitation is a repeal of the Union between Upper and Lower Canada; but Mr. Papineau's leading supporters do not hesitate to proclaim that their real object is separation and a junction with the United States."—Montreal Pilot, 16th May.

HORRIBLE DEVELOPEMENT.

The fate of Sarah Farber, of Nottingham, the factory girl, who mysteriously disappeared from Manchester, N. H., has been ascertained. The Traveller states that she was the victim of seduction. She afterwards was under treatment by the father of her seducer, Dr. McNabb, of Manchester, and died in consequence. The body was then placed in a box while warm, brought to this City by the Doctor himself, and sold to a physician with the assurance that all was right. When the body was taken to the dissecting-room, it was ascertained by the surgeon from the appearance of the body that there was foul play in the matter, and he ordered Dr. McNabb to take it away immediately. The Doctor then went to the Porter of the Hospital and offered him five dollars to dispose of the body, and suggesting the expediency of doing it by cutting it to pieces and throwing it into the vault. To this he pretended to consent, but embalmed the body and informed the Police. Dr. McNabb, his son and a portrait painter, named Ingalls, have been arrested as implicated in the affair. The body was packed in a box two and a half feet square and sold for $7.

The porter has now in his possession the $5 bill paid to him by Dr. McNabb.

The above we copy from the Boston Atlas. On Monday last John McNabb, and Horace McNabb of Manchester, (recently of Barnet) and Gardner Ingalls, of Andover, Ms., were brought before the Police Court at Manchester, charged with the murder of Sarah Furber. The facts elicited thus far in the trial are substantially as related as above. Dr. McNabb carried the body to Boston, in a box, marked "glass," on the 22d of May last, and while bargaining the body said the person had been dead only eight hours. It was also proved that the box was taken from McNabb's office in Manchester, on the 22d, the Doctor aiding in removing it, and that he went to Boston in the 11 o'clock train with the box.

The girl was 22 years old, and of attractive personal appearance.

The trial in the above cases was concluded before the Police Court on Tuesday. John McNabb was ordered to be committed till the next term of the County Court, (in a case decided by the Court not to be bailable.) Gardner Ingalls was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,500, and Horace McNabb was discharged on the ground of the insufficiency of the evidence.—Caledonian.

SHAKER SARSAPARILLA.
This preparation has been long before the public, and has by its undeviating and sign efficacy, secured to it testimonials from Physicians of the most distinguished character as to its worth, and also from those who have been restored to health by its virtues. At the recent exhibition of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, in this city, it received an especial commendation, which we beg leave to subjoin. Testimonials from Drs J. C. Warren, J. B. Wright, G. Hayward, Edward Reynolds, Jr., John Jeffries, J. V. C. Smith, and others of Boston and vicinity, have been freely given in favor of the same, and bring the most convincing proof that it is the best preparation of Sarsaparilla yet known. As possessing the exclusive right for its sale we submit your orders.
Extract from the Report of the Judges of Chemicals, at the fifth Exhibition of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, held in Faneuil and Quincy Halls, Boston, September, 1847.
"DAVID PARKER, Shaker Village, N. H. six Bottles of Compound Concentrated Sarsaparilla.
"The Compound Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as prepared by Dr. CORBITT, of the Shaker Society, Canterbury, N. H. the Committee have carefully examined, it comes and tried by the names of the most distinguished physicians in the country; and from a knowledge of its component parts, the Committee cannot but express their full belief in its efficacious qualities. The ingredients are thus late to compound are of such a kind as to be highly useful and alterative; and that the Committee willingly pronounce it to be the best preparation of Sarsaparilla they yet known, and such, think it deserving of a diploma."

16,000 IN ONE YEAR.
COLE'S AMERICAN VETERINARIAN, OR
DISEASES OF DOMESTIC ANIMALS,
A Book for Every Farmer!
AND a Book which every Farmer should own, and may own, by paying the small sum of FIFTY CENTS, which may be the means of saving the life of many valuable animals, and from which he may derive a vast amount of the most valuable information in regard to the Training and Breeding of Animals, as well as full rules for restoring and Preserving Health.
16,000 COPIES of this valuable work have been sold in ONE YEAR, and we have testimonials enough in its favor, from those who have purchased and examined it, to fill a volume. We publish a few only.
"No Farmer's Library is complete without Mr. Cole's Treatise on the diseases of Domestic Animals."
From Wm. BACON, Richmond.
This book is just what we Farmers want. The prescriptions are simple, always accessible, and harmless to the constitution.
From the Christian Herald, Newburyport.
It is truly "a book for every Farmer." We have been most astonished at the amount of important information and instruction which it contains, on the Training, Breeding, and diseases of domestic animals. It is compiled by one of the best practical writers in the country, from his own experience and observation, as a practical farmer and conductor of Agricultural papers.
From Wright's Paper, Philadelphia.
"Cole's American Veterinarian" is an invaluable Book. It is worth its weight in gold to any person having the care or charge of domestic animals. An agricultural friend, to whom we gave a copy, observed that it would save him a hundred dollars a year.
From the American Agriculturist.
The farmer will find much valuable information in this little work. By reference to its directions, they may be able to save a valuable animal, which otherwise might be lost.
From D. M. WEEKS, Vermont.
The American Veterinarian is the best book of the kind that I have ever seen.
From Levi HARTLETT, New Hampshire.
This Book should be in the Library of every Farmer.
From the Farmer's Visitor, by Guy BELL, N. H.
As the editor of that excellent agricultural paper, the Ploughman, and other kindred works, Mr. Cole has shown himself well qualified for the compilation of this work. We have known him for years, and he has proved himself to be one of the most practising and able of our Agricultural editors. We understand his new book has already had a free and extended sale. Many times its price to almost any farmer, may be saved in its purchase.

SOMETHING NEW!
AT THE Seed Store of Stacy Street!
LOBJOIN & CAMP have purchased the entire stock of LE. A. WEBB, Plan and Seed Merchant, and would respectfully solicit the continued patronage so liberally bestowed upon our predecessor.
We have made arrangements with the celebrated manufacturers, D. PROCTY & CO. for the exclusive agency for the sale of their PLOWS and other Agricultural Implements, in this place, an immediate receipt, and intend to keep a good assortment on hand.
We have also on hand a large stock of Hodges & Co.'s Farmers' & Mechanics' COOKING STOVES, so favorably known wherever tried, for which we are agents for this town and vicinity. Also, all kinds of Tin, Copper Sheet Iron, Lead Pipe, &c. &c. Also, other Stoves, Stove-Pipe, Oven and Arch Mouth, Well-Boxes, Coal Hodges, Pots and Kettles of all kinds and sizes, with other articles, too numerous to mention.
The above stock is worthy of the attention of Farmers, Housekeepers and others, and we are determined, by particular attention to this branch of business, to merit a good patronage.
