STATE OF VERMONT.

BY ERASTUS FAIRBANKS,

GOVERNOR.

A PROCLAMATION.

THE worship of God is the first and highest duty of every intelligent being. His universal providence pervades the earth, and His goodness extends to every living creature.

In recognition of the bounties of His providence, and the riches of His goodness and mercy, bestowed upon the people of this State, during the year now drawing to a close, and in accordance with long established usage, I do hereby appoint THURSDAY, THE TWENTY-NINTH DAY OF NOVEMBER, instant, to be observed by the people of this Commonwealth, as a day of PUBLIC THANKSGIVING, PRAYER AND PRAISE.

And I do earnestly recommend that, on that day, the people, with one accord, abstain from their usual avocations, and from whatever is inconsistent with the solemnities of the occasion—that they assemble in their usual places of public worship, and, with devout and sincere hearts, render thanksgiving and praise to God, remembering all His benefits, and the manifestations of His boundless goodness and paternal love.

Let us be thankful that during the year He has preserved us from fatal epidemics and wasting sickness. Let us be joyful in the rich profusion of His bounties, and give thanks that He has blessed the labors of the husbandman, causing the earth to yield an abundant harvest, and that He has signally prospered all our industrial interests.

Let us be grateful for the rich inheritance which has descended to us from our pilgrim and our revolutionary fathers, and for the preservation of our National and State Institutions, whereby are guaranteed to us the rights and privileges of freemen.

And above all, let us gratefully rejoice in that salvation which He has revealed to us in the Gospel of His Son, Jesus Christ.

And when, at the close of this anniversary, we surround the festive board, let us remember the poor, the afflicted and the destitute; now let us bless our individual homes for the blessings of the gifts of Providence, so liberally vouchsafed to our stewardship.

Let us, in our supplications, remember those who are in bondage, and pray for the accomplishment of the time when the principles of our holy religion, and the blessings of civil freedom, shall be extended to every people.

Given under my Arms, and the Seal of the State, in Executive Chamber, at Montpelier, this eighth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-fifth.

ERASTUS FAIRBANKS

GEO. A. MERRILL,
Sec'y of Civil and Military Affairs.

PLANS OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA DISUNIONISTS.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 5.

The Legislature met to-day. There is an evident disposition to act instead of talk. The Legislature organized and received the Governor's message. Therein he suggests that the Legislature should, in view of the threatening aspect of affairs, remain in session, and take action to prepare the State for the crisis. He earnestly recommends, in case Lincoln is elected, an immediate call of a Convention to determine the mode and measure of redress. He says he, individually, considers secession the only alternative left; that the indications show the secession of S. Carolina would instantly bring about that of the entire South; and that if the General Government attempts coercion, our solemn duty is to meet force by force; and promises to carry out the Convention's decision during the remainder of his term, regardless of hazard. He recommends military reorganization, and that every man in the State, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, should be armed by the State with the most efficient weapons of modern warfare. He recommends raising immediately ten thousand volunteers, to be in readiness at the shortest notice, with other preparations, conscious that we are contending for our firesides. We may, says the Governor, trust our cause to the keeping of the Supreme Disposer of events.

HOW THE NEWS WAS RECEIVED AT THE HOME OF MR. LINCOLN.

Mr. Lincoln spent most of election night in the Telegraph office, where he heard returns and received private dispatches with a most marvelous equanimity. Those who saw him at the time say it would have been impossible for a bystander to tell that that tall, lean, wiry, good-natured, easy-going gentleman, so anxiously inquiring about the success of the local candidates, was the choice of the people to fill the most important office in the nation. Even during election day and night, Mr. Lincoln was about town attending to his business as usual. Many of his Springfield acquaintances will long remember how he sat in a social circle at the Chenry House, while the returns were coming in, and indulged alike in pleasant chat and his propensity for story-telling.

Mr. Lincoln in the evening was captured by several of his friends who carried him to the Hall of the House of Representatives, where about three hundred citizens spontaneously collected and earnestly but vainly pressed him for a speech. They finally got him to the Speaker's chair, and speeches were made by Messrs. Swett and Orme of Bloomington, Farmer, Joab, Wilkinson and others.

Mr. Lincoln finally in, a jocular way, took advantage of his position as Chairman, to say that it was customary for the presiding officer to call some distinguished member to the chair. He accordingly called Mr. Kent to take his place, and retired through a side door, in spite of vociferous calls for him to speak.

☞ According to the returns published in the New York papers, the People's candidate for Congress in Delaware, George P. Fisher, is elected by one hundred majority. This, if confirmed, will be peculiarly gratifying.

PERSONAL.—Dr. Lyman Beecher, who cast his first vote for Washington, was taken by his son on Tuesday to the polls, that he might cast his last vote for Lincoln. As the venerable man, with flowing and silver locks, entered the rooms, the crowd parted right and left, and silently made way for him.

☞ The town of Newport, Kentucky, voted as follows:

Lincoln	268
Douglas	423
Bell	381
Breckenridge	64

QUERY for Mr. DOUGLAS.—Does your mother know you're Out?

A NEW IDEA, AND A GOOD ONE TOO.—Mr. Fred E. Smith, the enterprising Druggist of Montpelier, who has ever been up to the times in advertising his goods in the most attractive manner, has recently presented to each member of both Houses of the Legislature, and to each of the officers, and members of the Press, a bottle of "Swett's Infallible Liniment."

Probably a more profitable and sure way of bringing the article at once into every town in the State could not be adopted—and being a most excellent remedy for all manner of Sprains, Lameness and Pains, we cannot doubt it will meet a very great sale.

Fred E. Smith of Montpelier is the General Agent for the State.

COUGHS, COLD, SORE THROAT, BRONCHITIS, and the various diseases of the Lungs and Chest, are, when neglected, the sure precursors of CONSUMPTION—a disease to which the strong man is as liable as the weak, when these delicate organs, the Lungs, become affected.

However improved of late years the means of alleviating these diseases, yet there is none that has effected so great a revolution in this respect as the far famed "Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry," which in removing and curing disease is almost infallible.

Those, therefore, who are at all predisposed to Coughs or irritation of the throat should procure, and always keep by them a remedy so remarkably adapted to this class of disease as the Balsam.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.

The steamship Bremen, from Southampton 31st, has arrived.

The Neapolitan Royalists had again been defeated in an action with Garibaldi near Tessano. Many prisoners were taken by the latter.

Victor Emmanuel had joined Garibaldi at Sessa and was making preparations for a grand decisive battle.

Austria explains her immense armament as only a preparation for defense against aggression.

The vote in the province of Naples was almost unanimous in favor of annexation.

DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT.—Mr. Richard Nichols, was instantly killed on Friday, the 9th inst. by a tree falling on him while cutting timber on his brother's farm in Martowa. He leaves a wife and several small children.—Freeman.

☞ At Occoquan, Prince William County, Virginia, where a few months ago some hot-headed fellows cut down a republican flagstaff, Lincoln received 55 votes on Tuesday, Bell 48, Breckenridge 51 and Douglas 1.—Well done for Occoquan!

PRENTICIANA.—We advise the officeholders to take good care of their thumbs. They may have nothing else to suck after they lose the treasury teats.

☞ The vote of St. Louis is, Lincoln 8,222, Douglas 7381, Bell 3233, Breckenridge 501. Five precincts to hear from give Douglas a small majority.

FIVE BRILLIANT VICTORIES ACHIEVED.—The Eldorado has become the field of contest for Mechanical Art. The men Grover & Baker Sewing Machines are everywhere in the ascendant. To their long listed triumphs just achieved this side the Rocky Mountains they have added five signal victories, within the last month, in California, by taking the first premium at the Great State Fair in Sacramento, and four other great fairs held in the State, over all the heretofore popular Sewing Machines in competition.

Dyspepsia is known as one of the most distressing complaints which afflict humanity; and until the advent of the Oxygenated Bitters, had been considered incurable, requiring years to accomplish it. The Oxygenated Bitters perform in a few days, cures, which other medicines take years to alleviate.

From the Springfield Republican, August 22, 1860.

REMARKABLE OPERATIONS ON THE EYE.—Dr. LIGHTHILL, of Boston, is now in this city, and will remain a few days longer, as well as he has in places for skilled medicine to few coming here. We are happy to record two other successful operations performed by the Doctor yesterday. Mrs. A. P. Holden of Springfield, lost sight in one eye, some disorder of Mr. J. C. Burgess, 37 Walnut street, in this city, lost the sight of one eye in the prime of manhood and vigor, and the operations were perfectly successful. The other operation was upon the eye of Miss Cleary, of No. 37 Union street, in this city, for deafness. The eye before operated upon, was always perfectly dead; so much so that Miss C. could not hear the striking of a watch when placed on the ear, but immediately after the operation Miss Cleary could hear a watch at twenty inches distance. Had Miss C. been born deaf, she would not have heard the striking of a watch, or any other sound. Dr. Lighthill has performed many operations in this city, for the last two years, and in every instance, the patient has been immediately benefited, or perfectly cured, the last surgically for the lady Dr. Lighthill cured her ear entirely. Persons afflicted with diseases of the Eye, Ear, or with Catarrh, should not fail to consult Dr. L.

Markets.

BOSTON MARKET NOV. 12, 1860.

ASHES—The market is quiet for Ashes, with sales of Pots at 5 1/2c, and Pearls at 6 1/4c 6 3/4c net.

FLOUR—The demand for Flour has been moderate during the week, the holders have been firm, and the general inclination of the trade to wait for the early receipts of the new crop of Western Canal Flour, which will be in good condition for shipping early in December, and which will be sold at a lower price than the old stock. The sales of Western Canal Flour have been quite large, and the market closes with a good demand for the trade, and 10@15c higher than last week. Sales from first hand, of round lots, have been made at $5 25@5 50 for common to good extra Ohio, and Indiana, and $5 75@6 for fancy brands. Western have been at $5 25@5 50, but the market continues almost bare of desirable extra. Fancy brands have been sold at $6 75@7 50, and are now very active at these figures, while a range from $6 50@6 75 is the range of good extra, with some extra sold at $6 37 1/2. Indiana and Ohio are quoted at $5 37 1/2@5 50, and Michigan and Northwestern at $5 25@5 37 1/2, but the latter grades selling in most demand.

GRAIN—There is very little activity to notice in the Corn market, but prices are held pretty firmly, and there will be no sale, and little offering, for the old crop. Late advices from Europe are considered favorable, and it is believed that considerable of the old Corn will be wanted for export. The sales of Southern and Western yellow have been at 67@69c, and Western mixed at 70@72c per bu, generally 69@70c. No white on sharp, and extreme high prices continue to rule in all the European markets.

PRODUCE—The market for Butter has been quiet throughout the week, but prices remain about the same as previously reported, closing with rather more inquiry. The sales of good, choice and extra Vermont and New York Butter have been at 17@18c, and common and fair grades at 12@16c per lb. Cheese remains about the same as previously quoted. The market is well supplied, but the demand continues moderate and the sales have been small at 8@9c per lb for ordinary common and prime quality.

WOOL—There is no material change to notice in the market for domestic Wool. The demand continues moderate from the manufacturers, but increased activity is soon looked for.

Special Notices.

THE GREAT CENTRAL AFRICAN PANACEA OR THE TOLU Anodyne is true development of the original natural opiate. In all cases wherever opium has be used and its baneful effects witnessed, no remark of ours can adequately compare the differences, and no decision is equal to a trial. The Anodyne contains not a particle of opium, and the most delicate constitution can use it with safety, and the perfect natural state it keeps and leaves the patient, should recommend it to physicians who have long sought this true development, and to patients who want natural results.

The basis of the Universal Cough Remedy is that freedom from all components, which, by the great error in compounding, produce complete inertia, instead of real cures. We place no restraint on its use every hour in the day, and ask all patients to make it the natural enemy of all Coughs, Throat, or Lung Complaints, by a perfect freedom of application. For Inflammatory Sore Throat it is a perfect remedy, and for Whooping Cough checks all the spasms and allows the Cough to have its run in a quiet way.

With the spirit that courts all investigation, and readiness to answer all inquiries, may we in turn ask all to be cautious to purchase only of those they can rely upon.—"Prices within reach of all." 22.23

☞ Thousands of females die annually for want of a remedy for the ailments to which they are incident. The only such remedy we know of is Dr James Clarke's Female Pills. They are well known to be the only sure and safe remedy for female diseases and obstructions from any cause. 21.35

P. K.

The call for Perry Davis' Pain Killer is increasing so very rapidly that I fear I shall soon be unable to keep pace with it. My object in writing now is to beg that on receipt of this you will kindly despatch another shipment, as ordered in my letter of June last.

J. L. CARRAU, Colonna, R. I.

Mr. Perry Davis—Sir: I have used, in my family, your medicine called "Pain Killer," for many purposes, and have found it a very useful and valuable article. Therefore very cheerfully recommend it to the public regards.

REV. HENRY CLARK

Sometime in December last, my children were taken down with scarlet fever, or canker rash—my only anxiety was Davis' Pain Killer and Castor Oil, the Pain Killer operating as a charm in cutting the canker, and throwing out the rash, so that in about five weeks my family were entirely recovered.

CORNELIUS G. VANDENBURG,

Having used Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer in my family during the winter past, I would say its general use for the purposes for which the inventor has recommended it. I think it invaluable, and would as soon be to be deprived of its advantages.

CATARRH.

Before disease can be cured, it must be understood.—Its nature, location, cause and symptoms must be known, or remedies will not remove it. Has Catarrh ever been understood? Was it ever cured? Those who have been the victims of it, and since the dupes of nostrums, and confirmed with medical trials, can best give the answer.

DR. R. GOODALE OF NEW YORK,

has the merit of having been the first that ever defined it truly in his theory of it, and the only one that ever prepared a Remedy for its positive cure. This Remedy, with directions for using, can now be had of FRED. E. SMITH, Montpelier. Its reputation, as a positive cure, requires no other commendation than what a trial of it will give. 20.23

PERSONAL.

I had been troubled for many years with Catarrh, and its ravages had been such that Consumption, as the result of Catarrh, seemed to be inevitable.

In October last, I heard that Dr. R. Goodale of New York was at Mount Vernon, and consulted him. He assured me that my symptoms were those of a case from Catarrh, and that, in about a week, the malady (Catarrh) must be cured. He gave me an Remedy, and, as he assured me, in two days I witnessed a decided change in symptoms and the greatest relief. At the time, one week from first trial, I was in every respect much improved, and hope for, and expect, a perfect transition of health through the whole system. I feel in full confidence to respond to the advice of Dr. Goodale, to cure Catarrh. JOHN A. S. WHITE,

Northfield, Vt., Nov. 1860. 21.23

MALIGNANT DISEASES.

Among the most so in our climate are Quinsy and Sore Throat, which are always distressing and frequently fatal, but it is a pleasure to know that an effectual remedy has been found. The worst cases of the kind yield readily to the wonderful properties of Dr. Sweet's famous Infallible Liniment, and we know of it has never been known to fail. A sure blessing, and should be widely known. Price 50 cents.

☞ Catarrh is the name applied to any of the ill effects of the Breathing Organs to relieve so to speak. The Rev. Joshua Leavitt, editor of the Independent, of New York, was had the Catarrh for more than twenty years, has been cured by using Dr. J. R. Shallard's Alkali Tar and Iron & Sulphur Fumigants which are advertised in this paper. Testimonials can be published to a complete extent, many others equally prominent who have been cured of chronic Throat and Lung difficulties, which will be sent free by mail. 20.23

The only object of the advertiser in sending the Prescription is to benefit the afflicted, and spread information which he considers to be invaluable, and he hopes every sufferer will try his remedy, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.

And, when she arrived at that maturity of age when character is established, there was the same Assiduous—a pleasant smile and a kind word for all. She had so far won the affections and good-will of all that almost the whole community came to mingle their sympathies with the afflicted, when she was laid in her narrow home, in the church where only two brief years before she had stood a blushing bride. Well may her bereaved husband mourn, for he has lost a wife who had his whole heart for her own, and who was loved by all, for she was worthy of their love.

GENTS—I received the package of Helmstreet's Inimitable Hair Restorative, and after using one bottle, can safely say it is the best article of the kind I know of—I will do all it claims to do, in restoring the Hair to its original color.

MESSRS. W. E. HAGAN & CO., Troy, N. Y.

GENTS—After having used large quantities of your Inimitable Hair Restorative, and hearing it so universally commended by many of patrons in the highest manner as to its "INIMITABLE" qualities, I was induced to give it a trial, having for some years been troubled with falling of the hair, dryness of the scalp, as well as the additional annoyance of a very scanty growth of hair being apparently discussed. After faithfully using one small bottle of the Restorative, and finding its good qualities apparent, I commenced the use of the second and my hair is now in better condition than ever before during my recollection. It has stopped falling out and the scalp has resumed its functions. I most cheerfully recommend your article as having all the virtues you claim for it. In addition to my own case, I can point out at least fifty persons in our city who have had the same experience as the one as myself. You are at liberty to use this letter as you may see proper, and I will be happy to recommend your article personally on any and all occasions.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES STEWART,
Of the firm of Stewart & Butler.
