The Oberlin Slave Cases.

Some months since two Kentuckians attempted to kidnap a colored boy in Lorain county, Ohio, but they were prevented, and thirty-seven the rescuers, highly respectable citizens of Oberlin, were arraigned and bound over on their own recognizances.—The trial of one of the number took place last week at Cleveland, and resulted in his conviction. The local papers say that the jury was packed, and that every man was a Buchanan democrat. This case having been disposed of, the District Attorney called the name of James Langston as the next case, but the counsel for the defense said they were only ready to proceed with the case of Prof. Peck. The Attorney insisting upon Mr. Langston's case, the defense said they thought they could be ready by the time the new jury were ready to proceed, whereupon the Judge said that the same jury that had tried the first case would try all the cases. This ruling of the Judge was strenuously opposed by counsel for the defense, as a mockery of that justice which should prevail in every court. The Court announced that the ruling would be enforced, when the counsel for defense refused to call any witnesses, or appear before such a jury, and insisted upon the canceling of the recognizances of the accused. This being done, the Marshal was at a loss to know what to do with the company, and tried to get them to give their parole for their appearance, but after consultation they decided that they would give no bail, enter into no recognizance, and make no promises to the Court. Of course, nothing could be done but lock them up, but the jailor refused to put them in cells, and furnished the whole party, twenty in number, a large room in his own house. Here, at last accounts, they were making themselves as comfortable as possible. In the evening, a reporter paid them a visit, and found Prof. Peck reading the Bible, which exercise was followed by singing and prayer. The reporter adds that "such an honorable, conscientious, intelligent and good looking set of 'criminals' was never confined in that jail."—Boston Journal.

The following comments upon these cases, are from the Springfield Republican, and although severe, our readers will say they are just:

In order to make the trial a consistently partizan affair, the district attorney has entered a nolle pros in the case of two democrats indicted with the rest, so that the number destined to be convicted is reduced to 35.

There seems to be no doubt as to the facts in this case. The negro John was known to be a slave. Prof. Peck and the other good people of Oberlin turned out and rescued him from the U. S. officers, and sent him forward to Canada, with the knowledge that they were violating the fugitive slave bill. They acted from the impulses of humanity and in strict accordance with what Christianity requires of its professors. They do not feel that they have committed any crime; on the contrary, they believe they would have made a great wrong if they had not improved the opportunity offered them at their own doors to deliver a Christian brother, whom they knew and esteemed, out of the oppressor. At the jail, before retiring to rest, they read from the Bible, God's testimony against slavery and prayed and sung together.

What a mockery is it to trest them as criminals and undertake to punish them. They have done no wrong, and the suffering inflicted upon them brings only disgrace upon the law and the government that administers it, while it accomplishes no conceivable good. The suits were instituted for political effect to demonstrate to the slave power the continued subserviency of their political allies in Ohio. But all these outrages upon humane and Christian men, under the guise of law, react with terrible power against the institution in whose behalf they are made.

☞ Only those who have suffered as the inventor of Dyspepsia is by reason, can appreciate the value of a remedy for that disease. Such, we think, would hold a remedy, we say, by the Outgeneral Brown.

☞ Among the many compositions which nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity, there is a music favorite for a certain class of diseases—that is the "medicinal gum" of the wild cherry tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve, and to give a enhanced tone and vigor to weakened and paralyzed constitutions with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. This happy mingling exists in that

HOME TESTIMONY.

Boston, April 5, 1852.

Mr. Sayr W. Foster.—Dear Sir—I feel no hesitation in saying that I can truly say, that Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry has been the means of saving my life. My disease was pronounced by my physician, one of the most respectable in Boston, who had previously told me that there was no hope for me, to be a confirmed lung disease, and that I was fast wasting away, and advised me to go South immediately. I was induced to try Dr. Wistar's Balsam, and have continued to use it ever since, and have not been confined to my house a day since I first took it. I feel that I might yet live many years.

DENTISTRY.

DR. H. H. NEWTON,
OF ST. JOHNSBURY

WOULD respectfully give notice to the people of Caledonia county and vicinity that he will not leave St. Johnsburyville village, and will be ready to attend to all that may be found in his office as usual, ready to wait on those who may favor him with a call. He would also say that he continues to manufacture and insert gums, or full sets of teeth that cannot be excelled either for beauty of appearance, strength, or adaptation to the health of the mouth. He would call especial attention to the health, or want of health, resulting from the use of mercury, and would say that he has a new set of teeth, now in use, that he put in their mouth that will compare with any work done in New England, and for as reasonable a price.

Particular attention paid to children's teeth, to the correction of deformities and the treatment of diseased gums.

It is a well known fact among dental practitioners and medical men, that nine-tenths of the human race suffer from neglect and improper treatment of their teeth, and that the ladies will more call for and use the spinning wheel and hand loom I will keep them too.

All which I offer and will be sold on the usually reasonable principle for produce or good credit, or on the double threepence scale for cash in hand.

Call in ladies, and see what I have not got, but ought to have, "Old Dues."

And much oblige, Yours to home,

SEWING MACHINE!

A Practical Family Sewing Machine, for the Astonishing Low Price of $5.50!!

THE construction of this wonderful machine is so perfectly simple that any person giving little attention to its parts, will in a little time become as familiar with its arrangement that they can readily see, and always keep it in good working order, without any technical or mechanic advantage, possessed by no other machine. It makes no noise, and can be attached like a Sewing Bird, to the work table, occupying very little room. It sews broadcloth, fell cloth, and cotton goods generally, in a most perfect manner.

The long wished-for period has arrived, when every family has brought within its means a sewing machine adapted to their wants.

The subscriber can refer to the best families in town, fully endorsing all that is said in praise of this wonderful machine, who she is constantly, and testify to its same worth "double its cost and more too." It will save the expense of a hired girl in many families. Extra needles always to be had.

Important to Farmers!

The Subscribers are Manufacturing the

PREMIUM, VERMONT

MOWER and REAPER.

(WILLARD & ROSS PATENT)

SOME of the points of excellence and peculiar advantage which this machine has over others may be enumerated as follows:

1st—In having the cutter bar hinged to the frame so as to adapt itself to the inequalities of the ground. 2d—Having two driving wheels to drive the cutters, if one slips the other does the work. 3d—The whole weight of the machine is on the wheels where it is required to give power to drive the cutters, and consequently you back away from obstructions without danger of breaking the knives. 4th—The machine cuts on the right, and is geared so that either man or horses can be used. 5th—The cutter bar can be raised 18 or 20 inches so that the farmer can rather leave grass uncut than be obliged to draw it to obstacles. 6th—The cutter bar is easily raised by a lever, which is very convenient when coming to the corner of the field. When raised, the machine can be turned as short as you please, or go over the mown grass. 7th—The machine is mostly iron, and very simple in its construction, a boy can manage it with ease. The knives are all Robbins, and the guards of Malleable Iron. 8th—It has no side draft.

We desire that every farmer wishing to purchase a mowing machine, should see the Vermont Mower, and test its good qualities. We are confident it will please them, and that there is none better. It is convenient to grass equal to the best mower in use, at less cost of money, or less of labor, by from five to ten dollars per day, with a large gain of time and a saving of grass.

We would be glad to get the address of every farmer intending to mow a mower this season, and will send them a cut of the Vermont Mower and will have a machine in the neighborhood early in the season, that they can examine it and judge for themselves of its merits.

We will comply with all the many certificates which we have in our possession.

SOUTH HARTFORD, Washington Co., N. Y., Sept. 20, '58.

Mr. Willard & Ross—I hereby certify that one of your Vermont Mowers has been in use for the last season in this vicinity, where I had constant opportunities for seeing its operation, and am willing to say that it is very draft, absence of side draft, ease and uniformity of cutting, capability of adapting itself to uneven ground, facility of raising and lowering cutter bar, are its prominent features, and I think it is the best machine of the kind I have seen in this part of the country.

At the Annual Fair of the Washington Co. Agricultural Society, held at Salem, the present month, the committee on Farm Implements, of which I am one, unanimously gave it preference over every other machine exhibited and in use in this county.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of PATENTS.

(Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)

76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE RELAY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other Foreign countries. Examines specifications, Assignments, and all Papers of Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered from elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is More Successful at the Patent Office than the subscriber, and as Success is the best recommendation, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that in no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The pioneer practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and his accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render his agency, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All consult Eddy, Solicitor of Washington, in preference, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.

Testimonials.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office."

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, February 4, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on the cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TALBOT.

From sent 17th, 1857, to June 17th, 1858, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made, on fees, he reported annuities, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

NEW ENGLAND AILMENTS

THE ONLY REMEDY!

THE Eastern States, including New York and that section of the Union which is most widely known as "New England," contain a thrifty, industrious, intelligent people, who have achieved an uncommon degree of prosperity; with a climate extremely trying to certain constitutions, and a soil of small fertility, they have contrived to surmount more favored communities in almost every thing that conduces to social comfort and happiness. Unfortunately, they are occasionally so absorbed in business and mental cultivation, that they neglect the precautions which are essential to bodily health. Dyspepsia and physical debility are prevalent among all classes. The first disease is produced by inatt
