BAD ACCIDENT.—As the mail train north was approaching White River Junction from Windsor on Thursday afternoon of last week, the engine was thrown from the track and down an embankment of some fifteen feet. Charles Hayden, the engineer, and R. Chamberlain, fireman, were both caught under the locomotive, and very badly injured. Chamberlain died that night, but at last accounts, strong hopes were entertained of Hayden's recovery.

ENLARGED AND IMPROVED. — The Stanstead Journal comes to us much enlarged, and in a new dress. The Journal is an excellent paper, and we are glad to notice that brother Robinson seems to make it pay. In his last issue he speaks a great deal of truth in a few lines, which we herewith transcribe: "It is a paramount duty of the people of a county to support their local press liberally, not as a charity, but as a matter of interest. A good local paper adds more to the respectability and character of a county or town than any other one enterprise or business, and thus adds to the value of property therein owned."

A MODEL PAPER. — The Watchman and Reflector of Boston, has an enviable reputation for ability and enterprise. With the new year it is to be greatly enlarged, and printed on a double sheet, one sheet devoted as heretofore to religious matter, and the other to literary, social and agricultural articles. We refer to the advertisement in this paper.

The Congregational Quarterly.

This periodical, as the name implies, is denominational, and to all congregationalists it possesses very great value. Each January number contains complete statistics of all the congregational churches in the country, for the year preceding. Each number contains a fine steel plate engraving of some eminent deceased clergyman or layman, together with a life sketch, often of great interest and value. Each number is also embellished with an engraving of some house of worship recently constructed, accompanied by an account of the cost, construction and other matters important to those who are building churches, or would keep up with the improvements in church architecture and the thousand and one modern conveniences introduced. Each number likewise contains a complete register of the ordinations, dismissions, marriages and deaths of clergymen during the preceding quarter, and a great amount of other matter as interesting as it is useful for all who would understand the usages and questions of interest pertaining to this important body of Christians.

The January number for 1867 will contain a portrait of Governor Fairbanks and sketch of his life, which will possess much interest, we doubt not, for many in this section.

This periodical, quite as large as the quarterlies whose terms are three and four dollars per annum, is offered for one dollar and fifty cents. From a long acquaintance with it we feel sure that whoever becomes a subscriber to it, will only regret, as we do, that it had not been known and sent for before. Address Congregational Quarterly, 23 Chauncy street, Boston.

Terrible Tragedy in Colebrook, N. H.

The beautiful village of Colebrook, in Coos county, N. H., was the scene of a terrible tragedy on Friday evening last. A young man named Taylor was shot by another young man named Horace Luther. The latter was employed as a teamster by a merchant of the town, and after he had put his horses up for the night, on Friday, Taylor came into the stable and was twice fired at by Luther. One of the shot passed through his side, and the other wounded his arm. Taylor ran into the house exclaiming, "I am shot! I have been expecting it for some days, as Luther has threatened to take my life." When asked he cause he replied, "he has been dismissed by a young lady to whom I have just been engaged." After friends and relatives had been called to the wounded man, the report of a pistol was heard a short distance from the house, and on going to the spot Luther was found dead, having shot himself through the heart. It is thought Taylor's wounds are mortal, and that he cannot long survive. —Transcript.

Hard Fire at Winooski.

The extensive dye house of the Burlington woollen company, at Winooski, was totally destroyed by fire Sabbath morning. The fire was discovered about five, and the flames were only prevented from reaching the main building through the persistent efforts of the Ethan Allen engine company of Burlington, and the use of four large force pumps in the mill. The dye house contained a large quantity of wool, and though fully insured, the loss is estimated at $60,000. Some slight casualties occurred by the falling of the dye house. These mills, which are among the largest in New England, and employed about 800 hands, will necessarily be obliged to suspend operations for a few weeks in order to repair machinery. The origin of the fire is supposed to be accidental.

Orders have been sent by the cable to Admiral Goldsborough to send one of the fleet under his command in the Mediterranean, direct to Alexandria, to bring John H. Surratt to Washington, thus avoiding all possibility of his escape or of his release on habeas corpus. He may thus be brought here before the end of this month. As Mr. Hale has Surratt's photograph, there can be no doubt that the man arrested is the culprit.

Only one of the old revolutionary pensioners is now living—Samuel Downing of Edinburg, Saratoga county, New York. He is more than a hundred years old. Of the widows of revolutionary pensioners who were married before the close of their husbands' military service, only two are living.

At a wooden wedding in Detroit, a would-be guest, who was unable to be present, sent his regrets, written on a shingle.

The new 6 per cent. bonds of the Connecticut and Passumpsic rivers railroad sold in the Boston stock market on Saturday at 1 to 2 per cent. premium.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11. The Herald's Dublin correspondence chronicles the serious aspect which the Fenian agitation maintained in Ireland on the 28th ult. The English government offers a reward of £5,000 sterling for the body of James Stephens, dead or alive.

Silas L. Chamberlain of Randolph committed suicide a few days since by throwing himself before a train of cars, which ran over and instantly killed him. He was a returned soldier, and took his own life during a period of intermittent insanity, resulting from the effects of an old wound.

☞ Nothing is more convenient or useful at this time than BILL-HEADS, neatly ruled and printed. Every merchant and business man should have them. The money expended for them is well invested and pays. Business Cards and every variety of Job Printing promptly executed at this office. Send in your orders.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 10—12:30 P. M. A very heavy snow storm has prevailed here since 4 o'clock this morning. The ground is now covered to the depth of 18 or 20 inches, and is still snowing and blowing hard. No trains on the Lake Shore or Grand Trunk railways have gone west to-day. The Lake Shore road will send out a train this afternoon.

We are sorry to learn that Hon. Lucius B. Peck, of Montpelier, had a serious attack of paralysis, on Friday last, at Lowell, Mass.

AN ITEM FOR THE POOR.—The old information still stands good that two or three thicknesses of unbroken newspapers upon the bed are equal to a thick blanket in keeping the person warm.

From every portion of the country come fresh reports of the commencing of revivals, in all denominations, though the Methodist church seems to be especially favored.

Horace Greeley seems to have extinguished his chances for the U. S. senatorship by his article in favor of universal amnesty and any kind of suffrage that could be got or might be promised some time or other by the ex-rebels. The republican press of New York has generally declared against him. But the probable winner of the prize does not yet appear.

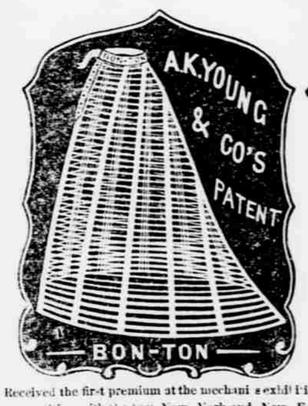
BON-TON,

The Most Graceful, Elegant, & Serviceable

HOOP SKIRT

IN AMERICA.



Received the first premium at the mechanics exhibition, in competition with the best New York and New England makes.

This invention entirely dispenses with the old and imperfect manner of fastening by gum or glue and spangles, and consists of a new and perfect manner of securing the tapes and wires together, by means of a braid passing under and through the tape, and through and around the covering of the wire, thereby forming a knot, rendering it the most perfect fastening yet discovered.

The wire used in this Skirt is made from the best refined watch spring steel, covered with a fine double-thread cotton yarn, the tape, a two inch extra heavy solid edge, the pads, or covering of the ends of the bustle springs, are of the finest enamelled kid—and with our new application for lacing the front, rendering the bustle springs, when worn, the same as a whole or continuous spring, thereby keeping the front of the skirt fitting closely and neatly to the form.

These Skirts have been adopted by Messrs. A. T. Stewart & Co., of New York, for their retail trade, to the exclusion of all other makes; also by Messrs. Field, Palmer & Leiter of Chicago; John Shillito & Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio; Hudson, Fuller & Co. of St. Louis, Mo.; S.
