Farm, Garden and Kitchen.

The Apple Crop.

While there is a considerable deficiency in the produce of apples in New England, the supply from Virginia and western and a portion of Northern New York has been large, as the crops in those localities have been, particularly on Lake Erie shore, where prices have not been so low, the Tribune says, for many years. In the interior of Ohio, and along the banks of the river of that name, crops of apples are abundant. In Indiana and Illinois apples are plenty, and in Iowa and Northern Missouri the yield is enormous. Northern Indiana and southern Michigan can furnish very large supplies, but high freights almost keep them out of northern markets in the green state. Concerning the decay of the apple culture in New England, the article whence we take the above statement says:

"It is melancholy to reflect that the orchards of New England, which formerly were so fruitful, and which first proved that America was capable of excelling the Old World, and which really laid the foundation of fruit culture in this Western World, now have fallen into decay. More than this, it is alleged that orchards recently planted, and which now should bear abundantly, not only are barren, but many of the trees blight and die. It is to be considered that the apples of New England, as a general thing, were of a poor quality, being merely seedlings; that one cause of disappointment is the natural result of old age, and that recent planting has been by no means general. Another cause reasonably may be looked for in the fact that by long cultivation, the soil of these states has been deprived of the elements necessary to bring orchards into a bearing state, or even to give vitality to the trees. It would be worth while for farmers to try the experiment of taking some eminence, or land which never had much cultivation, even if rocky, and test the question whether this soil will not produce fruit as well as all portions of the country did years ago. Last year, when the remains of Roger Williams, at Providence, were removed, it was found that the roots of an apple tree had descended into the grave, and absorbed the whole skeleton, and in doing so, the roots had unmistakably arranged themselves in the human form. Roger Williams taught an invaluable lesson to our people when he inculcated religious toleration, and led the way for its incorporation into our National Constitution; and now, though long dead, with the last remains of his mortal body we should be reminded that the phosphates and other elements common to animal organisms are required to make the apple orchards of the old state blossom and bear as in the happy days which are gone."

HENS.—A farmer in Newbury, Vermont, (A. B. W. Tenney, Esq.) had twelve hens, that number being reduced to ten in the summer, which laid from Feb. 5, to about Oct. 5, eight months, one hundred dozen eggs, beside hatching 60 chickens and several broods of turkeys. One pullet ten months old, hatched two broods of turkeys, and laid her portion of eggs. One turkey laid ninety-two eggs. The poultry were fed twice a day with corn meal made into dough; also, boiled potatoes, pumpkins and sour milk turned into bonny-clabber, with whey separated. There were forty-five turkeys hatched, the greater part of them by hens, and, together with the chickens give good promise for next Thanksgiving.

HOW TO MAKE MANURE.—Take every advantage to collect prunings of trees, roots, large weeds, &c; place them together and cover with earth, so as partly to char, and burn the remainder to ashes. To this heap should be brought all the weeds, &c., collected in the garden and surrounding grounds. There is nothing settles such things as well as burning them. Upon this may be placed sawdust and refuse from the wood yard, which will become charred. Such a heap will become most valuable for mixing with earth for potting plants, dressing the surface of beds for small seeds, &c. If a farmer gives his thought to this special work of the manufacture of manure and fertilizing substances, he will be astonished to see how much can be done to advantage and profit, that had not occurred to him before.

DID NOT LIKE THE WIDOWERS.—In endeavoring to take the census for the government, the officers occasionally met with such difficulties as to well nigh deprive them of their senses. The following colloquy is said to have taken place somewhere between an official and an Irish woman:

"How many male members have you in your family?"

"Niver a one."

"When were you married?"

"The day Pat Doyl left Tipperary for Amerika. Ah, well I mind it. A sunshinier day niver gilded the sky of ould Ireland."

"What was the condition of your husband before marriage?"

"Divil a more miserable. He said if I didn't give him a promise within two weeks he would blow his brains out with a crowbar."

"Was he at the time of marriage a widower or bachelor?"

"A which! A widower did you? Ah now go away wid your nonsense. Is it the likes uv me that wud take up wid a second hand husband! Do I look like the wife uv a widower? A poor devil all legs and consumption, like a sick turkey! A widower! May I be blessed if I'd not rather live an ould maid and bring up a family on buttermilk and praties?"

FRUIT TREES

At BRYANT'S NURSERIES,

STANSTEAD, C. E., AND DERBY CENTRE, VT.

Bryant's Horticultural Journal.

Having had thirteen years experience in raising FRUIT TREES in this northern climate, I find that they are but few varieties of Apples, Apples that are hardy enough to do well in this climate. My experience in Horticulture has been rather expensive, has cost me much labor and the loss of many thousands of trees that would not stand the climate.

I have selected a few varieties of English apples, native of Canada, which I now have the pleasure of offering to the public. Also, a limited supply of the celebrated Peach apple, a large, fine eating apple of excellent quality, very hardy, which has flourished in Canada for more than 50 years. Price, $1,00 to 1,50.

The best selection of Grafted Apple trees, from 50 to 1,00 each.

Persons who prefer to buy Southern or Western Apple Trees can have them for $50 per hundred.

My Fruit Trees can be bought as low of my Agents as at the Nursery. The above trees will be from 3 to 5 feet in height, all engrafted on native stocks, mostly Crab Apple stocks, from 4 to 6 years old. The trees are not large, but better for transplanting and are warranted equal to any; they are represented to be.

All the above named Crabs, excepting the Seedling and Siberian are good eating Apples, and are superior for Cider, Champagne, and all culinary purposes. They are very large, measuring from 4 to 7 inches in circumference.

TRAVELING AGENTS.—R. C. BRYANT, JAS. HUNTOON.

LOCAL AGENTS.—Horace Brown, Passumpsic, Vt.; Judge Douglass, Craftsbury, Vt.

All letters should be addressed to me at Derby Center, Vermont. R. BRYANT, PROPRIETOR.

N. B. Beware of purchasing Western New York or Lower Canada Trees, as they will not stand this climate. Beware also, of persons representing themselves as agents for Lower Canada Trees. Bryant's Nursery is the only Nursery of any account in Lower Canada, and he has no agents except those advertised on his circulars. All others are imposters! Beware of them! The representations made in regard to the Rochester Dwarf Trees are false. The trees will not endure this climate. They will not bear, when at their prime, more than 1-4 to 1 1-2 bushels, when now and then a tree survives the acclimating process, and are consequently of little value. 77-82

PARIS EXPOSITION.

GOLD MEDAL.

AN ADMITTED FACT.

It is admitted by all that ELIAS HOWE, Jr., President of The Howe Machine Co., was awarded a GOLD MEDAL at the Paris Exposition.

Also, it is admitted that the GRAND CROSS OF THE LEGION OF HONOR was conferred upon ELIAS HOWE, Jr., by the Emperor Napoleon. These were the highest honors ever awarded to a SEWING MACHINE MANUFACTURER.

THE ONLY QUESTION IS,

For what did ELIAS HOWE, Jr., receive these honors. He received the Medal as a MANUFACTURER of Sewing Machines, NOT as "INVENTOR."

He did not apply for or receive his Gold Medal as "Inventor."

The award speaks of Mr. HOWE as "PROMOTER" and "MANUFACTURER" of Sewing Machines.

Mr. HOWE (who is supposed to know) says the GOLD MEDAL was awarded to him for his SEWING MACHINES EXHIBITED, AND FOR NOTHING ELSE.

Now in all fairness we ask, Whose SEWING MACHINES took the FIRST PRIZE at the Exposition?

Let COMMON SENSE ANSWER, and we are content.

BANK OF LYNDON.

This is to notify all persons that the Bank of Lyndon, located at Lyndon, in the state of Vermont, will redeem its outstanding bills, at its office in Lyndon, aforesaid, for the term of one year from Dec. 18, 1866, that said Bank ceased to exist on the 1st day of December, 1866, and that the following is a copy of an act passed by the legislature of Vermont at its last session, viz:

An act relation to the redemption of bank notes.

It is hereby enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. After the expiration of the charter of any bank chartered by this state, or after the termination of the existence of any such bank, agreeably to the laws of this state, such bank may cause notice to be published in all the weekly newspapers of the county where such bank is located, for one full year, setting forth that said bank will redeem its outstanding bills the day of the expiration of its charter or the date of the termination of its existence, and a copy of this act. And upon due publications of such notice, neither such bank nor its officers shall be liable to any action for the non-redemption of any of its outstanding bills, unless the same shall have been duly presented and payment thereof demanded within the year aforesaid, at the banking house of said bank.

Sec. 2. After the expiration of the charter, or after the termination of the existence of any such bank as aforesaid, such bank shall cease to be subject to the operation, or liable to the provisions of the sixty-third section of chapter eighty-nine of the General Statutes.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect from its passage.

Approved Nov. 19, 1866.

This notice is given in compliance with said act.

Dated at Lyndon this 6th day of December 1866.
