A Thaw.

For the first time in two months there has been this week a marked letup in the severity of the weather. For three days now the weather has been mild with some rain and some sunshine. The snow is settling much, and travelling, especially on drifted roads and roads not much travelled, is very clumsy and uncertain. This thaw will bring the much needed water into springs and small streams.

Personal.

A line from Atlanta, Georgia, dated February 17, reports Rev. Mr. Smithgate ill, having been confined to his bed for four weeks, the last week having been seriously sick with pleurisy. At the time the letter was written he was much better, and had sat up for the first time the day before.

A letter from Dr. Brooks reports him at Nassau, in as good condition as could be expected after a very rough passage and severe sea sickness.

The City of Brooklyn steamer, in which Mr. Jewett and party sailed from New York, arrived safely, but no intelligence has been received direct from them.

Ex-Senator J. W. Patterson was in town the past week. He has a son who is a student at the St. Johnsbury Academy.

The Religious Awakening.

This portion of Vermont is being stirred religiously as it has not been before in many years. From the day the committee of young men began their canvass, the first of January, until the present, the interest has not ceased, but rather increased. In almost every town this committee has visited there has been a revival, and the interest seems to be spreading into surrounding towns. Notwithstanding the protracted meetings held in this place now for three or four weeks, the last meeting on Tuesday evening was quite as fully attended as any for two weeks past and of marked interest. From Newbury, where meetings are now being held, glorious news comes of salvation to many souls. The same report teachers as from Ryegate, Barton, Lowell, Bradford; while Lyndon, Burke, Danville, Barnet and Concord, are reaching out their hands for a blessing. In several of these towns gospel meetings are now being held, and in others they are to be held during the coming weeks. Surely the Lord is doing great things for us as a State and as communities, whereof we are glad.

Gospel Meetings.

We learn that the gospel meetings will be continued in this place, continuing as nearly as may be to the following plan:

Sunday, 28th, Avenue Hall, 1:30 "

Monday, young converts' and enquirers' meeting, South Church. 4:30 P. M.

Messrs. H. M. Moore and F. O. Watson of Boston, and R. K. Remington of Fall River, are expected to be present and conduct the meetings through Sunday and Monday. All are cordially invited to come and hear.

MEETINGS IN OTHER TOWNS.

East Burke, Friday evening, Feb. 26, and through Saturday and Sunday following.

West Concord, Tuesday evening, March 2, and Wednesday and Thursday following.

Danville, Friday evening, March 5, and through Saturday and Sunday following.

Lyndon, Monday evening, March 8, and Tuesday and Wednesday following.

These meetings will be under the auspices of the Committee appointed by the State Convention of Y. M. C. A. and churches of Vermont, who work in union with the local pastors, and by their invitation.

Off the Track.

After the mail train came in from Johnson Monday morning, the big snow plow was sent up the road, to move or literally clear the track and widen out the road where it was drifted in. The plow was driven by two locomotives, and all went well until arriving some two or three miles beyond Walden Heights, the plow encountered a heavy drift upon one side only. The wings of the plow were out, and it is supposed the drift pressed so hard sidewise, as to spread the rails and throw the engines from the track. They were just coming to the trestle bridge near Dow's Crossing, and both engines run upon that trestle and there stopped, one of them partly breaking through the timbers. A force of men were set at work at once, but owing to the fact that the locomotives were elevated upon the bridge, all work had to be done at the end, and progress was slow. The weather was favorable, however, and work was prosecuted all Monday night. The evening train only run west to the Heights, and there was no through train Tuesday morning. Tuesday evening and Wednesday, though connection was made by carrying by the break.

Improved Gallery.

Mr. D. A. Clifford, photographer, has just completed some improvements in his gallery by which he claims he has now the most perfect arrangements to take pictures, regardless of the weather, to be found outside the large cities; and in fact he admits nothing superior to it in city or country. His improvements will be especially beneficial in the case of small children and other subjects who cannot bear long sitting. Mr. Clifford is constantly improving in his art, and is bound to excel.

A Pleasant Surprise.

On Monday evening Rev. D. L. Miller and family were invited over to Mr. Hopkins's to tea. This was not very surprising, to be sure, but what followed partook of that nature. About eight o'clock they were sent for—some people had called at the parsonage on urgent business. Like a faithful servant, Mr. Miller responded, wondering to himself who ther it was a wedding, or something less joyful. On reaching home, he found his house filled with neighbors and friends, and a right merry welcome they gave him, and a pleasant hour was spent. Before they left, the company put in Mr. Miller's hands a purse of some over $125. If he was surprised before, now he was astonished; and he expressed his thankfulness as well as he could. This little affair was gotten up so quietly that Mr. Miller had not the slightest suspicion of what was going on. After it was all over, he said it did strike him early in the evening that brother Hopkins's folks had considerable to attend to away from home for those who were entertaining company! One pleasant thing about the affair was that no denominational lines were known. Members of other societies entered as heartily into it as those of Mr. Miller's own church.

P. & O. R. R.—Important Action.

Our readers already know that an effort was to be made by the several corporations of the P. & O. Line, to consolidate the entire line in one company, and retiring the bonds already issued, issue a consolidated bond covering the entire line. If this was done some English capitalists proposed to furnish money on these bonds sufficient to complete and equip the road from Portland to Montreal. At the annual meetings of the St. Johnsbury and Montpelier, and Essex County corporations, and at a special meeting of the Lamoille Valley corporation, held this week, this action of consolidation was taken. The Eastern Division have a meeting in Portland the 16th of March for the same purpose, when without doubt the same action will be had. This will give new impetus to this great enterprise, and its friends confidently expect an early completion of the road.

At the annual meeting of the two corporations in this place the following officers were elected:

MONTPELIER AND ST. JOHNSBURY R. R. CO.

Directors. Horace Fairbanks, Calvin Morrill, Wm. B. Hatch, Luke P. Poland, Franklin Fairbanks.

Horace Fairbanks, Pres't, Jonathan Ross, Clerk; A. W. Hastings, Treas.

ESSEX COUNTY R. R. CO.

Directors. Horace Fairbanks, Calvin Morrill, Wm. B. Hatch, Solon S. Goodell, John W. Hartshorn.

Officers. Horace Fairbanks, Pres't; Jonathan Ross, Clerk; A. W. Hastings, Treas.

Liquor Case.

Leonard Willard, who lives at the waiting trough half way between this place and the Centre, was on Tuesday fined $30 and costs for selling liquor to some boys at the Centre. Willard lives with John Lafleur and wife, and at first he stoutly denied having a hand in this business. Lafleur could not be found on Monday, but on Tuesday when the officer went to the house he thought there appeared unnecessary agitation on the part of the family, and notwithstanding the earnest protestation of Mrs. L., he insisted on investigating the cellar, and there in a potato hole he found Lafleur secreted. An examination of the books at the express office also revealed to no end pair Willard, and he finally owned that he had received nine gallons of liquor from Manchester by express within the past three or four weeks. The liquor was sold by Mrs. Lafleur, who acted as Willard's agent.

West Barnet.

On the 15th inst., Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Nutter celebrated the 33d anniversary of their marriage by what is known as a "variety wedding." A large crowd assembled to honor them on this occasion, and many valuable presents were made which were kindly received.

On the 18th inst., the people of West Barnet wishing to remind Mr. and Mrs. Moore (Lothian, 3d, that it was the 14th anniversary of their marriage, made them a surprise in the form of a "crockery wedding." Numerous gifts were made. It being a complete surprise to them they expressed their best wishes to all present.

Thomas F. Moore has bought the Mrs. Cutter house, price paid $1300.

The school taught by W. M. Thomas in this place, closed on Friday the 19th inst. Declamations, dialogues and music were the closing exercises of the day, in which the school all did admirably well. Mr. Thomas has taught a first class school.

Also Mr. Walter Bayley, Miss Shields and Miss Stoddridge, have all closed their schools, and have had excellent success.

The low water is interfering with Mr. Hastie's grist mill, making it impossible for him to run it on full time.

The long continued cold weather is causing severe colds and distresses in both people and horses.

Granby.

L. W. Jones and Andrew Doe having been connected with school district No. 4, of Victory, have requested to be joined with district No. 2, of Granby, and action will be taken at the annual town meeting.

Defects are reported in the dam across Granby Stream, at Mad Pond, which pond covers perhaps 20 acres, making it doubtful if it can stand against the spring freshet, if great. Should this break away it would try the foundation of several mills below.

East Hardwick.

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Underwood of East Hardwick, celebrated their golden wedding on the 17th inst. Ninety of their relatives and friends were present to offer their congratulations, and made them presents in cash of $265, a gold headed cane for Mr. U., and a gold ring for his wife; $108 in cash was the gift of two of the sons and the cane and ring from a third son. The ladies of the parish furnished an excellent repast of the various delicacies of cake, biscuit, beef tongue, &c., with tea and coffee. The table was beautiful to behold, and the large company manifested their appreciation of the repast, by "laying to" with a will, and when all were satisfied there were very many cakes, &c., that had not been cut. Letters which had accompanied presents from abroad were read and added to the interest of the occasion, and many left with a secret, if not expressed wish, that golden weddings might occur more frequently.

Lyndon.

Union meetings are being held at Lyndon Corner, and there are indications of the presence of the Spirit. An excellent union meeting was held at Lyndonville Sabbath evening, and considerable feeling manifested. Some Christian workers from St. Johnsbury have given their brethren here a helping hand. Men are thoughtful, and without doubt some are asking themselves at least, "What must I do to be saved?"

Passumpsic.

Rev. N. W. Alger of Lunenburg, will preach at the Baptist church, Passumpsic, next Sabbath.

Peacham.

On Thursday evening of last week, our citizens had the pleasure of listening to an address by our State Superintendent, Edward Conant. Subject: "Our Schools and School Laws." He unfolded the history of our educational progress from the first establishment of our schools to the present time, showing that we had adopted one principle after another as observation and experience directed, until we have come to, and are considering the Town System, so called, as opposed to the present district system. He advocated, at some length, the proposed system, calling attention to the fact that it is not new, but has been in successful operation for some years in several states of the Union. He quoted statistics proving that in those towns which have adopted the Town System the expense is considerably less, while the almost universal testimony of the people is that the schools are quite as good as under the old regime. The Superintendent advocated the teaching of good morals and gentle manners in our common schools, adding that this can be accomplished only as the parent shall assist the teacher.

He called attention to the fact that we need better school houses, more apparatus in them, and more taste displayed in all their appointments. Finally he asked his auditors to give more attention to this most important interest of public instruction, assuring them that whether they agreed with him or otherwise, the results could but be good.

Mr. Conant was listened to with marked attention, and left a very favorable impression upon the large audience present.

Vermont News.

The capital stock of the national bank at Wells River is to be increased from $150,000 to $200,000.

The annual fair of the Washington county agricultural society will be held at East Montpelier, September 29th and 30th, on the same grounds occupied by them last year.

Samuel Adams, Esq., of Cavendish, is now 87 years of age, and performs the duties of a trial justice in nearly all the lawsuits of that vicinity, a position he has occupied for forty years.

Albert Avellone of Alburgh, aged about twenty six years, who has been crazy for several years, was found dead in his room at his father's house about 12 o'clock last Wednesday night. He has had to be chained in his room for several years.

A son of Abner Spaulding, of Calais was seriously stabbed in a quarrel with a son of C. G. Hill of the same town a few days ago. Both boys were about 14 years of age.

Captain Pettengill, custom house officer at North Troy, recently confiscated nearly half a ton of butter, together with the team, making a very liberal contribution from one of our Canadian brothers toward the liquidation of the obligations of Uncle Sam.

The Central Vermont Railroad has established a line of propellers between New London and New York, and are now taking freight from New York to Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis, at lower rates than are charged by other lines.

Dr. C. W. Horton, for the past twenty years a resident and well-known practitioner of Brattleboro, and one of the oldest physicians in the State, died suddenly of pneumonia, Thursday, at the age of eighty years. He was a native of Sudbury, having represented that town in the legislature several times, and holding other offices of public trust.

Mrs. Towne, the widow of the late Mr. James M. Towne, of Londonderry, was burned to death in that town, on the 10th, by her clothes taking fire. She had been served with breakfast by an attendant and was soon after found completely enveloped in flames. She was eighty seven years of age.

It is understood that the cases of the United States against Edward A. Jewett and A. J. Crane will come on, at the approaching term of the United States District Court, to be held in this city early next month. Mr. Jewett's counsel, it is reported, will demur to the complaint, holding that it does not specify any criminal offence under the United States. Burlington Free Press.

As the stage from Johnson to Fairfax was passing a house in the latter village, Thursday, the horses became frightened, and turning out of the road, tipped the stage over. Among the passengers was Prof. Peter Collier, of Burlington, who was severely injured. Prof. Collier, however, was carried to the depot at Georgia in the afternoon, and reached Burlington in the evening. Ashley Cady, the driver of the stage, had one leg broken in two places.

Later reports say Professor Collier, was able to be dressed, and was about his house, Saturday. He was thrown upon his head, and received a cut in the scalp above the left eye, some two inches long which bled profusely. The muscles of his neck were also severely wrenched, in fact he apparently had a narrow escape from having his neck broken. He was stunned for an hour or more.

Charles Tisdale, about 11 years old, son of Joel Tisdale, of Barton, fell from the high beams in Wm. H. Martin's barn—about twenty feet—last Friday afternoon. He struck on the barn floor in a sitting posture, and escaped serious injury, although he was taken up so nearly unconscious that it was sometime before his play-fellow, Johnny Martin, could make him understand where he was and how he came there. His first question seemed to Johnny very appropriate, and was, "Does school keep to-day?" It had finished the day before.—Monitor.

At Glover, a cross bull shook his horns in Jim Walker's face, to which warning Jim did not take proper heed, when the bull undertook to give him a goring. After giving the matter a second thought, Jim concluded to get over the fence, which he did not succeed in doing till after the bull had given him one unsolicited hoist, which, fortunately injured him but slightly. Jim thinks he would rather have a bear after him, than an infuriated and unreasonable bull.

Jan. 28th, as Corlis Goff, and Joshua Lestourneau were getting sawdust at Catlin's mill, up to the river, from Richford, as young Le-tourneau was handing up a basket of sawdust, he slipped and fell into the gearing which was in motion. The gate was closed as soon as possible, but they had to unscrew the caps and pry up the shafting in order to extricate the unfortunate young man. His right arm was cut off by the cogs, all but a cord, which Henry Kellogg severed with his knife. Drs. Hamilton and Smith were summoned, and arrived as soon as the bad state of the roads would permit. They were obliged to amputate two or three inches of the bone in order to get a flap. The arm is cut off close to the shoulder. He also received a slight scalp wound.

Why not abolish the President and Congress, and govern the country by a commission of independent editors?—Springfield Union.

Ambrose Williams, the negro who attempted a revolting crime on the daughter of Judge Lowell some weeks since, was sentenced on Thursday to imprisonment for life.

Facts for Advertisers and Business Men.

That advertising in the columns of the Caledonian is the cheapest and best way to reach the people of St. Johnsbury and vicinity, we offer the following:

1. Advertisements are set in bold, attractive type, and are printed so they can be read.

2. The Caledonian is a live, local paper, read by all the household, and goes into nearly every family, as the following figures show.

3. There are 524 copies taken regularly in this town. Taking the common estimate of five readers to each paper, and it will be seen the Caledonian has over 2600 constant readers in St. Johnsbury.

4. While a circular or handbill may be at once thrown aside or destroyed, a local paper is usually preserved for days and weeks, and is frequently referred to, thus increasing the chances of seeing an advertisement many fold.

5. As we carefully exclude objectionable and doubtful advertisements, and intend to print only those of legitimate and respectable business parties who use our columns have the advantage of good company.

When to Advertise,

—AND THE—

BEST MEDIUMS!

Many advertisers have a theory about advertising. Some say that there is no use of trying to force trade when it is dull, others say that trade is good enough at certain seasons and that they only want more trade in such and such months. Hence they advertise at that time only.

Men who advertise only at stated times are liable to be disappointed in the time it takes to receive results from their advertisements. Some one has said that the first time a person sees an advertisement in his newspaper he pays little attention to it, the second week he reads it somewhat carefully, the third week he begins to talk with his family or neighbors about it, and the fourth week he goes and buys the article advertised.

Promising that this describes a large class of readers, articles for use in the spring should be advertised in the winter, while mowing machines and hay rakes should be advertised in April and May, instead of July, the usual time.

While in some things regard may be had to the season of advertising the fact remains that people read a local paper about as much at one time as another and if at certain periods an advertisement is not likely to be quite as productive, that but keeps competing advertisements out of the newspaper columns, and consequently gives the whole field to the man who does advertise at that time. Therefore we believe, that it is generally admitted that the best time to advertise is all the time.

THE BEST MEDIUM.

In every locality, the local newspaper is taken by the people. The newspaper is the only advertising media, that is bought and paid for by the persons whose attention the advertiser desires to attract. Every man thinks more of the paper for which he pays than of a gratuitous sheet or circular which is thrust in at his door. An advertisement in his own paper attracts his attention and secures his confidence without any officious solicitation, almost without his knowing it. The strong reason why the newspaper is the best advertising medium is because it is paid for by the recipient. The subscriber pays the cost of manufacture and distribution, the publisher can therefore give publicity to an advertisement at a lower price per hundred or per thousand than could be afforded under other circumstances. No other medium has ever competed successfully with the newspaper as a general advertising medium.

There are over five hundred copies of the Caledonian taken every week in St. Johnsbury alone, and no other medium compares with it for reaching the families in this town.

SEEDS THAT WILL GROW!

An experience of nearly thirty years in the Flower and Vegetable Seed business has convinced us that there are but TWO KINDS OF SEED in the world, viz: those that will, and those that will not, grow. The former are priceless—the latter worthless. The sale or utterance of worthless Seed, through rapidity or lack of business standing, raises and hatches with the business of legitimate Seedmen. For nearly thirty years past we have made the growth and procurement of NONE BUT GOOD SEED a study, until we are proud to say foreign or native seed growers from whom we procure much of our supplies as we do not raise upon our own farms, never think of offering as any but First-Class Seeds. To this one point we attribute our success, and the universal verdict of the Press and People is, that Seed procured of BRIGGS & BROTHER WILL GROW.

To give customers the benefit of our own actual experience, we issue an ILLUSTRATED Quarterly FLORAL WORK, which is sent to any address prepaid for the mere nominal subscription price of 25 cents, which amount is refunded to the credit of the customer on receipt of an order for $1 or upward worth of Seed. We send no seed that we have not first tested, therefore it is perfectly safe to buy such as we recommend. Our January Number containing several hundred Engravings and much useful information to the amateur or professional gardener, is NOW OUT. Send for it.
