Democratic State Convention.

Up to the hour of going to press we have not received the full proceedings of the Convention. Judge Nelson, of Cass county, was nominated for Lieut. Governor; John H. Coffroth, of Tippecanoe, received the nomination for Supreme Judge. The rest of the successful nominees are: Musgrove for Auditor, McMullen for Attorney General, Byrnes for Treasurer, Kruger for Supreme Clerk, and our fellow-townsman, Supt. Sweeney, was nominated on the second ballot for Supt. of Public Instruction.

The ticket is distributed among the various sections of the State, and its selection meets the popular will and has been generally predicted for a week past.

The administration of President Cleveland received the hearty endorsement of the Convention.

The Mexican Muddle.

Indianapolis Sentinel.

There is a screw loose that is not apparent to the looker on in the growing troubles between this country and Mexico. The reported resignation of Minister Jackson discloses that somewhere there is a diplomatic hitch, if not a positive disagreement on a policy. The reports themselves are conflicting, but it is certain that the complication seems to be increasing. We think Secretary Bayard's position is correct and one that should be maintained: "We cannot tolerate such a thing as the trial on foreign soil, by foreign courts, of American citizens for offenses, or alleged offenses, committed in the United States. We might as well not have any government if we are to suffer anything of the kind." If the crime, or alleged crime, had been committed on Mexican soil then the position of Mexico would be proper, but if it were committed on American soil Mexicans citizens or government should enter action in American courts. Otherwise, as Mr. Bayard says, "We might as well not have any government." There is variation in the reports as to the exact locality where the crime was committed. It would seem to us that were an American citizen to print a libel on a Mexican citizen and then personally circulate it on Mexican soil, he should be held amenable to Mexican laws; but if he did not personally circulate the libel in Mexico, he should not be held except under American laws governing acts of libel.

The expressions of the Mexican Judge indicate a desire to force an issue. There is an injudicious assertiveness in his decision that implies covert hostility, and, taking things as they appear on their face, the issue should be drawn by our government, which, no doubt, is aware of the exact conditions under which the crime was committed. We think there is more than a question of the dignity of Mexican law behind the Cutting case. There is an appearance of foreign diplomacy in the recent overtures for a Central American confederation that is likely to be inspired by the future of the Darien Canal. Europe, which in this case means England, Germany and France, will not allow us to control the approaches or the canal, nor permit us to acquire political influence with the Central American governments that would enable us to repeat England's programme in Egypt. France is supplying money for the canal, and it will be built, and as soon as it is built our long isolation from European interests will be at an end. England is sending new cruisers to patrol the fishing waters of Canada, and from all quarters there is a stubborn resistance to our influence that comes with so much unanimity as to be curious, if not threatening. There are parties in Mexico who would welcome annexation, and it is admitted that they have created the issues that have assumed the present serious phase. If they have contributed to the present they will not stop until they have succeeded, for the American people will not submit to many such encroachments as have developed in the past two weeks, and it is too easy to create a war on insulted dignity alone for the present complication to wear a peaceful aspect, especially as difficulties are doubtless added by European influence against us.

Not Lynched.

The Albany Ledger.

A special dispatch published in the Cincinnati and Indianapolis papers gives particulars of the hanging by a mob of one hundred men, of Thomas and Hiram Hobbs for the murder of Hiram Foltz and Daniel Walker, the murder occurring six miles south of Birdseye, Dubois county, on Saturday evening, July 24. The Ledger, this morning, telegraphed to Birdseye in relation to the reported lynching of the two Hobbses, and received in reply a dispatch that no such lynching had occurred. After the double murder Thomas Hobbs and his son Hiram fled and crossed the Ohio river into Kentucky between Rockport and Owensboro, and since then have not been heard from. It is believed that if the Hobbses are caught they will be lynched; but at present there is no probability of their capture, as no particular efforts is being made to secure it.

State Auditor Rice said to an Indianapolis reporter the other day: "It costs nearly $250,000 a year to make the assessment of property in Indiana. There are 2,200 townships, and the average number of Deputy Assessors required in each township is about ten. These men are employed about fifteen days. After the assessment is made it is passed upon by the County Board of Equalization, which are in session usually about fifteen days, at an expense of $2.50 a day to each member. Altogether, the aggregate expenses of making the assessment amount to about $250,000."

Dr. Kimball, director of the mint, has completed his report on the production of gold and silver in the United States during the calendar year of 1885. The production of gold is estimated at $31,500,000, an increase of $1,000,000 over the estimate for the calendar year of 1885. Calculations at the coining rate in silver dollars is estimated at $51,600,000, against $48,600,000 in 1884, an increase of $2,800,000.

Wheat Returns to the Agricultural Department.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The spring wheat returns of the Department of Agriculture for August 1 show an improvement in the condition of wheat in Iowa, a small decline in Wisconsin and Nebraska, and a heavy reduction in Dakota. The causes of the deterioration are drought and chinch bugs. The harvest is two weeks earlier than usual, and the quality is unusually good except in the section where a heavy loss from blight has occurred. The general average of condition is reduced from 83.2 to 80.1. There has been a heavy decline in the condition of corn since the first of July. The average, which was then 95, is reduced to 81. The heaviest decline is in Illinois, Wisconsin and the States west of the Mississippi. In the Eastern and Middle States the condition is well maintained.

A REMARKABLE STORY.

An Indiana Farmer Killed by a Bolt of Lightning.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 10:—Daniel Riley, a prominent citizen of Crawford county, Ind., was instantly killed last Saturday evening by a bolt of lightning. Mr. Riley was sitting in the front room of his residence, near Boston, mending a pair of scissors. A slight shower was falling at the time, but there was no sign of an approaching thunderstorm. Suddenly a huge ball of fire entered the window and passed apparently up the chimney. The family who were sitting on a veranda in front of the house, and noticed the phenomenon, ran in the room where Riley had been sitting, and found his body lying on the floor burned to a cinder and entirely unrecognizable.

A black streak was found on the carpet, passing within a few inches of the chair where Riley had been sitting, and thence toward the fireplace. A horrible odor, as of sulphur, filled the room.

The story is vouched for by a number of eye witness, and by a gentleman named Crawford, of Boston, who is at present in this city.

Johnsburg News.

ED. COURIER:—Seeing that you have no correspondent from this part of the world, we venture (though a little boy) to itemize a little for the people here.

Farmers are busy breaking ground for wheat.

The corn crop here is far above the average, and as a natural consequence the tiller of the soil is smiling his best smile.

It has been distressingly healthy in this locality this summer; so say our M. D.'s.

John Griffith, sr., is very sick with inflamation of the stomach, and it is thought he will not recover. He is one of the oldest men in Dubois county, and one of the best men in the State. He was born April 7th, 1793.

Miss Nettie B. Kemp, daughter of B. R. Kemp, (the old Surveyor of Dubois county,) after an absence of 15 years, in Shelby county, Mo., is here visiting relatives and friends.

William E. Kemp is erecting a beautiful two-story addition to his dwelling house, and when completed it will be an ornament to his farm and adjacent country. Bill is not only overseeing the workmen, but is pushing the plane, and to say the least he is a success.

George Williams and family go this week to visit relatives in Cincinnati. We wish them much pleasure.

W. F. Kemp owns a mule four months old that weighs 450 pounds, and it is thought to be the best mule in the county of its age. He offers $75 for one to match it. Hurrah for the mule!

The Mt. Zion Sabbath school boasts of being one of the best in old Dubois; the attendance is almost 100, and excellent Sabbath school work is being done. Good!

Mr. Thompson has sold his farm here, and aims to establish himself permanently in Sedgwick county, Kansas. His daughter Annie will remain here over winter, to teach the primary department in the Huntingburg high school.

A new paper is being talked of in Dale. The paper is to be christened, "The Spencer County Plaindealer." John Herr, of Dale, is to be business manager, and W. J. Kemp, of Johnsburg, editor and publisher. As soon as the "gas" subsides, the paper will be established. Success to the new enterprise.

The H. R. Independent is losing popularity in this section of country. A few more articles in that paper about Net Wilson's Jack, will start it rolling down hill with such rapidity, that its fleet-footed editor can never overtake it. If the citizens of Huntingburg can now dispose of the Ind. Ed. there will certainly be two donkeys less to bray in their midst.

O, how sweet from day to day,
To be rid of a donkey's bray;
We know this verse is quite a hinter,
For it brushes the back of the old tramp printer.

SPENCER.

"Blood Will Tell."

Yes, the old adage is right, but if the liver is disordered and the blood thereby becomes corrupted, the "bad blood" will tell in diseases of the skin and throat, in tumors and ulcers, and in sub-acute in the lungs (first stages of consumption). Bad "blood will tell" in eruptions of the skin, in Salt Rheum and Canker in Rheumatism, and in Growth; for all diseases caused by bad or corrupt blood, physicians prescribe Dr. Jackson's Blood and Liver Syrup. It is sold at $1 a bottle. Try it and your "blood will tell" the story of its wonderful efficacy. Sold by Mehringer Bros. 48

Brutal Nurses.

Indianapolis, Aug. 9: The brutality of some of the attendants employed at the insane hospital near this city, has led the superintendent to put a lady in each ward to report such cases and investigate complaints. Several attendants have been discharged within the past ten days, and a reform has been commenced. The posts of the G. A. R. have entered upon an investigation, and one old soldier who was in the hospital has declared his readiness to give testimony as to the cruelty of attendants. The complaints of patients were not believed by the superintendent, and only brought down more complaints and still greater torture. One of these was taken into a room and the door locked when he was kicked and stamped upon until he promised never to complain again. Another patient became somewhat refractory one day, and an attendant named Amsher whipped him and threw him face downward on the floor, jumped astride of him, grasped him by the ears and beat his face on the bare floor until the blood came plentifully. A third patient became restless one day and talked somewhat loudly to himself, an attendant took him into the bathroom and beat and choked him almost into insensibility. When he came out the blood was still flowing freely from his mouth and nose.

Pulmonary Consumption.

DEAR SIR:—I received the trial bottle of your White Wine of Tar Syrup which you sent to my address. My wife has been troubled with a lung disease for more than eighteen years, and was pronounced to be last January in the last stages of Pulmonary Consumption. She commenced taking your valuable medicine and received relief at once. She has used three bottles since and is now using the fourth, and her health is better than for many years. We cheerfully recommend it to all afflicted with any trouble of the throat or lungs. We now get our medicine through John Potter, our merchant at this place.
