TO CONFER WITH THE CITIZEN WORKERS

Gen. Torrance to Attend Executive Committee Meeting

THE G. A. R.'S CHIEF ARRIVES

Authority Granted to Place Floral Decorations in the Capitol Grounds. Chairman Warner Regrets the Introduction of "Free Transportation."

Gen. Eli Torrance is in the city, and is stopping at the Ebbitt House. He arrived late last night. This afternoon he and Quartermaster General Charles Burrows, of the Grand Army of the Republic, had a conference with Chairman B. H. Warner and Secretary Bulkley, of the citizens' committee, at encampment headquarters and agreed to remain over and attend the meeting of the executive committee tonight.

Written authority was received this morning at headquarters, over the signatures of W. P. Frye, the President pro tem. of the Senate, and Speaker D. B. Henderson, of the House of Representatives, suspending the act of July 1, 1882, and granting permission to the encampment committee to place floral decorations on the grounds of the United States Capitol on the two small lawns to the north and to the south of the center steps leading to the dome on the east front of the building.

Mr. Warner this morning discussed at some length the action of Senator Mason yesterday in introducing a resolution providing for free quarters and free transportation to members of the G. A. R. at the coming encampment. He said:

"I regret very much that Senator Mason of Illinois has introduced a resolution to provide for free quarters and free transportation to the members of the Grand Army who desire to come here in October and who are financially unable to meet their expenses. I think such a resolution will have a bad effect upon the general public. Many men have an idea that the Grand Army is an organization devoted to the development of the pension question and obtaining benefits for its members along various lines. This is incorrect. The Grand Army wants only what it considers justice along high patriotic lines and a careful analysis of its financial gains during the past ten years will make it the admiration of all high minded citizens. I am satisfied that the Grand Army does not want any such provision as Senator Mason so generously seeks to give. I know him well. He is warm-hearted and impulsive and wants to help everybody he can. This time, I feel assured, he is a little off the track; but I know him very well and feel assured that he will not press resolutions which the Grand Army itself does not want put into effect."

At a meeting of the subcommittee of the entertainment committee of the Grand Army of the Republic encampment held yesterday in the offices of Dr. Franklin T. Howe plans for the entertainment of the visitors at the encampment were formulated, and the chairman directed to make requisition upon the executive committee for an amount sufficient to carry their plans into effect.

The principal feature of the entertainment will be a grand reception to be held Monday evening, October 6, in Convention Hall. It will be tendered to the members of all visiting organizations, and will include a musical program with choruses on a grand scale, and everything in keeping therewith. The question of an excursion was also brought up for discussion, and it was decided that this feature of the entertainment would depend upon the amount of money placed at the disposal of the committee.

Important Meeting Tonight.

Exceptional interest is taken in the meeting of the executive committee tonight at the Riggs House, as it is proposed on that occasion to apportion the available funds among the several committees, thus giving them something definite on which to begin their work and greatly expediting preparations for the encampment.

Up to the present time many of the committees have been unable to take any action, owing to their inability to ascertain what amount of funds would be allowed them. On the other hand, the members of the executive committee deemed it wise to defer action until such time as they might be able to more accurately estimate the amount of money that would be at the disposal of the general committee.

Recently, however, it has been decided that it would be the better policy to immediately make the allotment of funds on the basis of what is already in sight. If the subscriptions shall thereafter warrant it these allowances may be increased.

Upon the stage of the Columbia Theater tomorrow night on the occasion of the Flag Day celebration and concert it is proposed to have representatives of practically all of the patriotic organizations in the city, including the Grand Army of the Republic, the Woman's Relief Corps, Union Veteran Legion, Spanish War Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Union Veteran Union, Sons of the Revolution, Sons of the American Revolution, representatives of the United States Army and Navy, the Marine Corps, principals of the public schools, the principals of the Central and Business High Schools, the Superintendent of Schools, the Commissioners of the District, and representatives of the Board of Trade and of the Business Men's Association.

School Children to Sing.

The school children who are to sing several patriotic songs have reached a degree of perfection in their work that is extremely gratifying to their instructor, Professor Tracey, who promises the most excellent results.

This afternoon they are being given a complete rehearsal on the stage of the Columbia Theater with the Marine Band, under the direction of Lieutenant Santelmann.

ALCOHOLISM AND SHOCK CAUSED WINTERS' DEATH

Inquest in the Case of Negro Struck by a Car.

Coroner Nevitt this morning held an inquest over the remains of Thomas Winters, the negro who, on the night of May 22 was struck by a car of the Capital Traction Company, and who died at 9 o'clock Thursday night in the Emergency Hospital as a result of his injuries.

The first witness called was Dr. D. T. Stewart, resident physician, Emergency Hospital, who testified that he responded with the ambulance to a call at the Chevy Chase loop, and that he brought the injured negro to the hospital, where, upon examination, he discovered the man was suffering greatly from the shock and a fracture of the thigh. The patient, Dr. Stewart, said, did well until last Wednesday, when delirium tremens set in, and early Thursday morning Winters died, as he thought, of the above-named illness. The patient, he stated, was under the influence of liquor when put in the ambulance.

Deputy Coroner Glazebrook then took the witness stand and told of the result of an autopsy, concurring with Dr. Stewart in the statement that the man had died from delirium tremens.

Edward S. Smith, the motorman of the car, next told the members of the jury of the manner in which the accident occurred. He said his car was running at about twelve miles' speed when he suddenly saw a man release his hold on a telegraph pole and stagger toward the track. The car was stopped at once and the injured man picked up and brought to this city. After hearing other witnesses the jury returned a verdict of death due to alcoholism and shock.
