THEY WERE IN LUCK.

The Home Talent Beat the Senators in a Funny Game.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Although the Statesmen outbatted their opponents to-day nearly three to one they lost the game. The principal cause was their very shaky work in the field on one or two occasions when every inch of ground counted. Haddock's work in the box was first-class, and deserved much better support than it received. Staley, whom folks thought would be invincible, was no terror, and the home team hit him hard and often. The Senators ran bases in their usually foolish style, and lost several runs on that account.

Kuehne, the Teutonic Pittsburg player, played in great luck, nearly every foul going his direction. He made a pretty double play unassisted in the fourth, when, with Haddock off third, Myers lined a hot one at him which he caught neatly and then touched the bag.

KUEHNE'S GREAT PLAY.

Again in the fifth Mack sent a swift ball in the direction of left field, which Kuehne captured in circus style. As he showed the ball and the decision was given, Shoch, who was coaching, dropped on his knees on the bag and raised his hands in supplication.

There was a long and tedious delay in the sixth. Morrill and Haddock were on second and first and Hoy struck out, Lauer dropping the ball. Hoy was out at first under the rules, but Morrill and Haddock went ahead a base each. Fessenden was inclined to accede to Dunlap's claim and sent them back, but Honest John talked loud and long, and finally sent to the clubhouse for the rules. After much reading Fessenden allowed the runners to remain in their places. This availed nothing, however, for Wilmot and Shoch flied out.

THEY WENT AHEAD.

In the last half of this inning the visitors pulled ahead and practically won the game. Maul was out on a fly to Myers, and Dunlap hit safely. Kuehne shot a liner to Wise, who picked it up neatly and touched second, putting Dunlap out. He had a chance for a pretty double play, but he threw badly to Morrill and Kuehne reached second. Then "Pop" Smith lifted the ball over right field fence for a home run.

In the seventh the home team made a spurt and tied the score. Myers was out and Wise, Sweeney and Mack hit safely, the last for two bases. He scored on Lauer's error in dropping Morrill's third strike and throwing slowly to first. The Senators then proceeded to throw away the game in the latter half. Sunday went to first on Wise's error, Sam going over into Myers' territory for a hot hit ball. Sunday went to second by great sprinting, when Morrill dropped Haddock's throw. Then he started to steal third, and Mack threw too high and the ball went out into the field. Wilmot returned it quickly, but Mack dropped the ball just as he had Sunday at the plate. Beckley made a two-bagger, went to third on a passed ball and scored when Sweeney dropped Maul's fly. The home team had two on bases in the eighth and three in the ninth at once, but were unable to score. The score:

Thinks Well of Dunning.

President Nimick returned from Washington yesterday, where he saw the Senators and the local team play on Thursday. He speaks well of Dunning, but complains about Carroll's coaching of the young man. It is claimed that at critical times Carroll advised Dunning to pitch the wrong kind of balls. However, the fact remains that the local players only got three little hits off Fearson.

ANSON DOWNED AGAIN.

The Giants Win a Game Replete With Bright Features.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The Giants won their second game from the Chicagos at St. George, Staten Island, to-day. It was a lively battle and replete with interesting situations. Bastian played his initial game with the Chicago team and did good work, except at the bat. Score:

WASTED THEIR HITS.

The Phillies Are Downed by the Lusty Little Babies.

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—The Phillies outbatted Cleveland almost two to one to-day, but the majority of their hits were wasted, while every hit made by the visitors contributed to the run getting. Tee fielding of Stricker was the feature of the game. Score:

MEHAN WAS WEAK.

His Bad Arm Allows the Uniontowns to be Beaten.

McKEESPORT, PA., May 24.—The McKeesport ball club is in trim, and when that way will give the most of them a tussle, as it showed the Uniontown club this afternoon when the visitors put Mehan, the speedy pitcher, in the box. It was the finest game of the season, there being but six base hits made, and resulted in favor of McKeesport by 4 to 2. The visitors played their best, and put up a good game. Mehan is the most speedy pitcher who faced the local team, and he was hard to hit. The club did fine playing all around. Callahan, of the home club, pitched a good game. Quinn ran 30 feet out from first base, with the sun to his face and the ball coming toward his back, and nabbed a foul fly. It was a dexterous catch. It was a pitchers' game, and when the ball was slugged it always dropped into close hands. A good deal of money was wagered, and many persons witnessed the game. The home club and the Duquesne club play here to-morrow. Score:

They Expect an Argument.

The Emsworths will cross bats with the Athletics this afternoon at Liberty Park, and a good game may be looked for. The Emsworths have been considerably strengthened and promise to make it interesting for the East Enders. The former club will have Smith, a young brother of Elmer Smith, to do the twirling for them, while Donohoe will occupy the box for the Athletics, as Oliver is saving himself for Decoration Day. Smith is said to be a coming youngster, and he pitched an excellent game against Homestead last Saturday. Donohoe, the Athletics' new pitcher, is not very well known in local baseball circles, but is said to possess great speed, and with a man to hold is very effective. The following is the make-up of the two nines for this afternoon:

Athletics.	Positions.	Emsworths.
O'Donnell	Catcher	Pennington
Donohoe	Pitcher	Smith
Lauer	First base	Boggs
D. Barr	Second base	Courtney
Gray	Third base	Palmer

It Looks Blue.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., May 24.—St. Paul may yet be without a baseball team. The ministers of that city are making a strong fight against Sunday games with every prospect of success. President Thompson told the Associated Press representative that if the anti-Sunday game people secure an injunction he will sell his players and go out of the business, as the week day attendance will not support the club.

At Toronto, Ohio.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

TORONTO, O., May 24.—The Falls and the Lens, of this place, crossed bats to-day in a very interesting game, resulting in a score of 31 to 11 in favor of the Lens. Parr was pitcher for the Falls; his support in the field enabled him to keep the runs down. Rev. Ruttledge did fine twirling for the Lens, striking out ten men.

The Drummers Won.

ERIE, May 24.—The game between the Resolutes, of Cleveland, and the Drummers, of Erie, was an interesting one, but very loosely played. Score:

Drummers.....3 2 0 0 1 5 0 0 0—11
Resolutes.....2 0 2 1 0 0 0 1 2—8

KEEPING IT DARK.

A Case Which the Parties Decides to Settle Out of Court—Sensational Disclosures Connected With the Death of Richard Webster—Valuable Property Involved.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Sensational disclosures connected with the mysterious death of Richard R. Webster, at Burgoyne, Canada, November 30, 1886, would have been made in Judge Tuley's court had not the Webster family arrived at an agreement to settle their litigation out of court. Richard Webster owned a livery stable at 220 North Clark street, and other valuable property, and when he died a will was turned up, in which he made his son, William E. Webster, his sole heir, cutting off his widow, Ann Webster, and Annie and Lizzie Webster, and other children.

Charges were at once brought in court by the widow and daughters against the son William. In the bill to set aside William Webster's will, the contesting heirs charged that William exercised undue influence on his father; kept him almost continually under the influence of intoxicants and spirited him away to Northern Michigan and Canada, where he was kept out of the reach of his wife and other children until he died. William was alleged to have finally taken him to Burgoyne, a little out of the way hamlet in Canada, where he was placed in charge of an innkeeper. Here through neglect and ill treatment he died. When his body was found by the authorities it was covered with repulsive sores and the bed on which he died was infested with vermin.

The innkeeper and one of his assistants, after a lengthy investigation by the Dominion authorities, were arrested, tried for manslaughter and sentenced to penal servitude, one for three and the other for five years. The suit to set aside the will has been on Judge Tuley's calendar for over a year. Yesterday it would have been reached for trial, and a sensational case would have been made of it, when Mr. P. S. Grosscup, representing the contesting heirs, and Mr. Kretzinger, representing William Webster, stated to the court that a compromise and a division of the deceased's property had been agreed on, and a trust trial of the case probably averted.

The settlement of the terms occupied all day, and Judge Tuley was closeted for six hours with the parties in his chambers. When the Judge left for his home the matter had not yet been settled, though the prospect was good that it would be. When the terms are agreed on they will be incorporated in a decree.

LATONIA RESULTS.

The Bookmakers Again Have the Public as Victims.

CINCINNATI, May 24.—It tried hard to rain to-day at Latonia, but did not succeed, although several little sun showers kept the large attendance in an uneasy state of mind. The card was the poorest of the meeting, and patrons are kicking that so few of the cracks showed up in any of the races. There was no stake event on the programme, and very poor horses were entered in a sweepstake with $600 added, it taking the place of a stake. It was a hard day for the betters and the books made money for once during the meeting. The bookers held their books on the air tight plan, offering small odds on anything seeming to have a chance to win. The following is the result:

First race, selling, for 3-year-olds and upward, three-quarters of a mile—Myerna was in front when the flag fell, with Kedar Khan second; at the half it was Myerna and Lakeview; after passing that post Lakeview took the lead and never gave it up, winning by a length from Kedar Khan second, Festus third. Time, 1:17¼.

Second race, purse, for 2-year-old fillies, half a mile—Gibson got off a length in front of the bunch and led the first quarter; entering the stretch Lottie S was first, May A second; Samantha came through the bunch and won by a neck from Lady Ali second, Lottie S third. Time, 51¼.

Third race, purse, for 2-year-olds, half a mile—Dilemma got the best of the start, with Daisy F second; Dilemma led the first quarter, when Daisy F went to the front, winning by two lengths, Teddy Venture second, Dilemma third. Time, 50.

Fourth race, selling, for 3-year-olds and upwards, fifteen-sixteenths of a mile—A good start was made when the flag fell. Chestnut Belle was in front, Cheney second, who soon went to the front and held the lead past the half-mile post, where Castaway went to the front and won by a length in a gallop from Cheney second, Clamor third. Time, 1:30¾.

Fifth race, sweepstakes, $20 each, half forfeit, $600 added, for 3-year-olds and upwards, one and one-eighth miles—Maori got away in front with Unlucky second. The two ran the entire distance under the wire. Maori won in a gallop, Unlucky second, Calienth third. Time 1:56¼.

Sixth race, purse, for 2-year-old colts, five-eighths of a mile—Harvester got the best of the start and led past the half, where Lord Peyton collared him and led to near the wire. Phœnix came out of the ruck and beat the favorite out half a length, Lord Peyton second, Mayor Nolan third. Time, 1:01¼.
